

LAST TEST HOP FOR BIG PLANE SLATED TODAY

San Francisco, Nov. 21 (AP)—Roaring its defiance of time, space and elements, America's greatest commercial airplane, Pan-American Airways' huge, four motored China Clipper, was to make its last test hop today before embarking on the first scheduled trans-Pacific air mail flight.

The great Martin flying boat will take off at its Alameda airport terminal tomorrow afternoon, bearing a crew of nine men and approximately 2,000 pounds of mail—100,000 "first flight" letters—to the Philippine Islands and way points at Honolulu, first stop of the clipper's ocean spanning route, the ship will pick up 14 passengers. The passengers will include two sea scouts, two cooks, en route to Wake Islands, third of the airbase chain, and 10 company employes en route for duty at Wake and Midway islands, the first stop west of Honolulu.

The ship's passenger list will be the largest ever to make a Trans-Pacific flight when it departs from Honolulu.

While Capt. Edwin C. Musick and his crew of eight men were preparing for the takeoff, San Francisco and other bay region cities were making final plans for a huge celebration of the event.

The San Francisco junior chamber of commerce will honor the crewmen at a luncheon downtown tomorrow noon. Postmaster General James A. Farley will be the principal speaker. The crew was feted at a banquet last night by the San Francisco Press club.

Earlier in the day, Farley and Postmaster William H. McCarthy of San Francisco will join other postal officials in ceremonies attending loading of the first Trans-Pacific airmail.

Deadline for mail was 6 p. m. tonight, when all letters must be in the San Francisco post office to have a chance of getting aboard the ship. Yesterday, 85,000 letters had been received.

Officials said 99 per cent of the letters were from stamp-collectors.

BRIEF OPPOSES PLEA OF BRUNO

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Attorney General David T. Wilentz of New Jersey filed a brief with the supreme court today opposing the plea of Bruno Richard Hauptmann that the tribunal review his conviction and death sentence on charges of kidnaping and slaying the infant son of Charles Augustus Lindbergh.

Filing of the brief today would permit the tribunal to act on the petition Monday but attaches of the court were of the opinion that it would not be submitted until the court recesses Monday.

This would permit action on December 9 when the court returns.

Hauptmann, in attacking his conviction, charged he was not given a fair trial and the proceedings were turned into a "circus maximum."

He also charged Judge Trenchard who presided was unfair in his charge and that Wilentz had made unfair and inflammatory remarks in his summation.

The brief asked the court not to review the case because it presented no question of federal rights. Because Hauptmann had a fair trial and is now being held in custody "having been convicted in accordance with due process of law."

If the court refused to review the case, an action believed more than likely, the trial court which originally sentenced Hauptmann will re-sentence him. It has no alternative but to re-impose the death penalty.

Following such a procedure his

DISCERNING FAN MAKES SUGGESTION

Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Ed Brands, a discerning football fan, suggested today that the football official to whom incoming substitutes report be dressed differently to avoid confusion and speed substitutions.

"Give him a green coat," she said (mercilessly), "or a red arm band (that's better), or something to make him stand out."

"Repeatedly this season I've noticed that the subs always go to the referee, who shoots them to another official, the umpire, whom he has apparently designated to keep track of substitutions."

"It takes time and creates delay that could easily be prevented."

WRITERS PREDICT DEFEAT OF BEARS

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Two of the nation's seven undefeated football teams will be toppled from that division Saturday, United Press sports writers predict.

mouth will lose to unbeaten Princeton.

Texas Christian and Southern Methodist, the Southwestern Giants, will win and set the stage for their clash next week.

Minnesota will close its second straight all-triumphant campaign by subduing Wisconsin, New York university, the other team with a perfect record, is idle until Thanksgiving, when it closes the season against Fordham.

Sunnyside—The Ladies' Missionary society of the Friends church is holding its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Christianson in Sunnyside.
