LOCAL LAWYERS APPOINTED TO COMMITTEES

Portland. Nov. 30-Salem attor-neys received several important committee appointments on the new Oregon State Bar, which will regu-late the practice of law in this state, under the act of the 1935 le-

Dwight Lear, John A. Heltzel and Edward K. Piasecki, all of Salem, were named on the grievance com-mittee for Linn and Marion counties. This committee also include: Edward Sox, Albany, chairman, and F. D. Mayer, Lebanon. The griev-ance committee will investigate all complaints lodged against lawyers in the two counties. Ray L. Smith and Custer Ross were named on the trial commult-tees for the first congressional dis-trict. There are 16 members in this group.

E. M. Page and A. A. Hall were named on the unauthorized practice of the law committee, and Roy M. Lochenour on the committee on legal education. John Carson is on the examination and admissions to the bar; John Bayne on necrology, Justice George Rossman on cooper ation with American Law Institute, Carl T. Pope on cooperation with local Bar associations, and Avery Thompson on public relations com-

The appointments were made by Robert F. Maguire of Portland, president of the Oregon State Bar, and approved by the board of gov-

The money would come from the following sources: a bond sale of $150,000, $30,000 now on hand, an estimated $100,000 from water works revenues, and the rest federal money in an unestimated amount. The committee members were agreed that all-important is the necessity of pro viding labor, and they believed that amount of money would meet that

There was much discussion of cost figures as between the Little North Fork and the Willamette sources. Reference to reports showed that Baar & Cunningham estimated it would cost $985,000 to build a dam and supply line for the Little North Fork, $208,000 for a 20,000,000-gallon reservoir in Waldo Hills, and an annual operating cost of $61,520, Against this it was submitted that continued use of the Willamette,

SHIELDS SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

Authorities here are wondering if Justice of the Peace Hiram Overton of Woodburn has exceeded the legal authority of justices of the peace by sentencing a man to the state peni-semencing a man to the state peni-tentiary.

State police have been informed that Overton gave a six-months' state prison sentence to Raymond Shields, 17, former umate of the two sources until such time as the city uses a minimum of 15,000,000 gallons a day. After that, said Kowitz, they believe the Little North Fork would be cheaper.

Shields first got into the limelight here about two months ago when he was one of two youths who took two Salem girls to Vancouver where they were married. An automobile theft case — not the one in the Woodburn court—followed shortly after they returned to Salem.

The songs were written by Gus Kahn and Walter Donaldson, with an added ditty by Harold Adamson and Burton Lane. The sentimental, tambourined rhythms of "Mandy" still belong to Irving Berlin, but the famous old ballad has a new spiendor in its fresh revival. Dances that are innovations in screen technique as they skip from a Brooklyn barge to a ministrel show to a Mississippi tiver steamboat to shimmerins beauty in the garden of a desert harem, were created by Seymour Felix.
