STOCKS BOOM ALL ALONG LINE IN ACTIVE DAY

New York, Dec. 21 —The stock market closed the week today in a rousing demonstration of strength that carried Chrysler to its highest level since 1929 and sent aviation shares up 1 to more than 3 points.

Trading gained momentum as the close approached. Blocks of 1,000 to 15,000 shares appeared. The largest was in Consolidated Oil at 11 up ¼ and its high for the year. Dozens of issues made new highs.

Aviation shares were outstanding, aided by outlook for a general world-wide airplane building program. United Aircraft soared 3¼ points to a new high at 28. Douglas reached a new top at 43½ up 3¼. Wide gains in active trading were noted in Curtiss-Wright issues, North American Aviation,, National Aviation, Sperry, Bendix and Boeing. Wright touched 58 for a gain of 5½ points.

As stock after stock in the aviation and motor divisions was bid up the whole market developed a strong tone. Trading increased until tickers could barely keep pace. Steel shares were lifted higher. Oils were active with the heaviest dealing in blocks. In addition to the Consolidated oil block there was one of 8,000 shares in Socony Vacuum which sold at 14, up ⅛.

International Nickel turned active in a higher copper division, indicating return to the market of European buyers who lately had taken profits. Nickel rose more than a point. Anaconda and Kennecott were up small amounts. Silver shares also were firmer.

Railroad issues came back from the early levels which were slightly lower. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, New York Central and Northern Pacific made fractional advances. Just before the close Union Pacific lost its gain and ended the day unchanged.

Utilities followed the rails in rallying and they closed unchanged to slightly higher. Demand was noted for building issues, some of the chemicals, motor equipments, and a long list of special issues. Some of the latter had gains ranging to more than 4 points, the latter in Cluett Peabody.

Volume approximated 1,100,000 shares compared with 670,000 shares last Saturday. Curb sales were 192,000 shares compared with 153,000 shares last Saturday.

Dow Jones preliminary closing averages showed Industrial 140.19 up 0.69, Railroad 39.76 off 0.01, Utility 28.33 up 0.20.

MODERATE SALES OF HOPS IN WEEK

Portland, Ore, Dec. 21 (AP)—Pacific coast hop markets again displayed some irregularities during the week ending December 18, but for the most part were about steady to slightly firmer, the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today.

Moderate sales of 2,053 bales brought from seven to nine cents a pound net to growers for 1935 clusters, traders reported.

Lack of any selling pressure from growers, light remaining supplies of strictly top grade new crop hops and continued fairly steady demand were the principal steadying market influences.

DAIRYMEN WILL MEET JANUARY 6-7

The Oregon Dairymen's association, one of the oldest agricultural organizations in the state, will hold its 43rd annual convention in Tillamook, January 6 and 7, announces Roger Morse ,extension specialist in dairy husbandry at Oregon State college and secretary of the association.

Improvement of quality in dairy products, improved breeding practices and control of disease in dairy herds are among the main program features to be considered in the two day session, according to Morse. George Fullenwider of Carlton has been president of the organization for three years.

NO CHANGE IN BUTTER PRICES

Portland, Ore., Dec. 21 (UP)—There was no change in general butter market conditions for the weekend. Holiday buying caused quite a fair increase in sales volume but as a rule trade was below normal for the season.

Trading in the egg market in general was without change in either price or sentiment for the weekend. Price spread is rather wide locally as a result of mixed quality and lack of law enforcement.

Live chicken market continues to reflect a slow tone with everyone too busy with turkeys to bother with them. All killers have their full immediate requirements and therefore are not interested.

Very strong call is showing for dressed ducks with receipts quite moderate during the last few days. Prices are not changed because of the competition of turkeys. Geese are in call with a fair supply.

Local cabbage is moving well. Some unusually good stock is coming from Oswego. In fact considerable of the local cabbage has not been damaged. The trade in general feels there is no need to purchase inferior Californian.

There continued a rather steady tone generally in the market for turkeys with receipts on a fairly liberal scale but quality getting more badly mixed. Prices in the main were unchanged at the week end but hens held their lead well over the toms while the spread was even greater at other points.

LUMBER BUYING CONTINUES HEAVY

Seattle, Dec. 21 (UP)—Unusual lumber buying activity noted during November has carried through into the first two weeks of December, report of the West Coast Lumbermen's association indicated today. Continued December activity extends the six-week volume record to the highest point in two years.

American markets are active because of actual and projected building. Foreign markets are lagging, with the bulk of business being taken by British Columbia mills, the association reported.

A total of 201 Oregon and Washington mills produced 103,594,725 board feet of lumber during the week ending Dec. 14. This was an increase of 1,700,000 feet over the preceding week.

New business reported last week was 101,873,431 board feet against production of 103,594,725 feet and shipments of 80,138,464 feet. Shipments were under production by 22.6 per cent and current sales were 1.7 per cent less than production.

California Rejects Hop Control Plan But Oregon Voting Goes On

While the tri-state plan for a hop production control program suffered a severe setback by its rejection by California growers at San Jose yesterday, votes for the plan still are coming in from Oregon growers, reports Frank Needham, secretary of the growers' association in Oregon. He hadn't checked today the exact tonnage increase over the 40 per cent favorable votes cast at the recent meeting here but said he thought it quite appreciable but very far from the necessary 85 per cent. The deadline for voting in Oregon has been set at next Tuesday night and if the favorable vote doesn't reach the desired point by that time the plan will be ditched in this state and if ditched here it is good as ditched all over.

Washington, will hold its state meeting at Yakima next Friday, December 27.

About 30 of the proposed contracts have been sent to the McMinnville section to be circulated there and others will go into other sections in time for growers to pass on the question before next Tuesday.

In the meantime reports came in today that efforts were being made yesterday to sign growers up on 12 cent contracts for next year and one report said a few growers had signed. This is an indication of how reaction is had toward the present setup, indicating it is thought if the deal goes over hops are apt to go up materially.

Californians are understood to have a counter plan of a flat 25 per cent reduction in the three states. Word of this just reached here today and there hasn't been time to get a reaction as to local growers on the plan.

Santa Rosa, Calif., Dec. 21 (UP)—California hop industry leaders today advocated a flat 25 per cent reduction in the state's 1936 crop production after turning down a proposal to join Washington and Oregon growers in a "tri-state" curtailment program under the AAA.

One hundred representative growers from northern and central California turned down the tri-state plan, approving instead the so-called California plan for market stabilization.

Adopted by 80 per cent of the state's growers to become effective for next year.

Although not defeated by a clear majority vote of the delegates, the tri-state program was rejected automatically when it failed to win a two-thirds margin.

DOWN TRENDS IN WHEAT PRICE

Chicago, Dec. 21 (AP)—July wheat, which represents the 1936 domestic winter crop harvest, led a downward movement of wheat prices today.

Notwithstanding that December and May wheat contracts, which stand for wheat already available displayed at first comparative firmness, they soon succumbed to weakness shown by the July delivery. Selling of July was attributed chiefly to enlarged acreage figures contained in the latest official report issued after yesterday's trading was ended. The total acreage thus given was 47,529,000, with a condition of 78.2 per cent.

Competent unofficial experts said today that unless there is a heavy bombardment of acreage of domestic winter wheat and a severe drop in condition between now and harvest, the probable yield will be considerable more than the government's estimate of 533,000,000 bushels. It was also pointed out the area sown to winter wheat is of almost record proportions. The total has been exceeded only by the years 1919 and 1928.

Corn, oats and provisions, unlike wheat, held about steady.

Influenced by bearish aspects of the United States government crop report, Chicago wheat prices averaged lower early today. The report indicated that the seeded area of domestic winter wheat is 2,000,000 acres larger than the estimates of private experts a few days ago.

Opening ¼ cent off to ⅜ up, May 99-99¼, wheat soon underwent a general sag. Corn started unchanged to ¼ higher, May 59¾, and for the time being altered little.

CLIPPER SHIP ON FLIGHT TO GUAM

Manila, Dec. 22 (Sunday) (AP)—The Philippine clipper seaplane took off for Guam island at 2:39 a.m. today (1:39 p.m. Saturday E.S.T.), on its return flight to Alameda, Calif.

The great plane carried a crew of nine, four passengers and thousands of letters and Christmas parcels.

It is due at Alameda Christmas day after an 8000 mile journey via Guam, Wake and Midway islands and Honolulu.

LONDON FAILS TO SET SILVER PRICE

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—The unsettled silver market quieted down today, but only because of the failure of London brokers to quote a price for the bar metal.

Due to the half holiday abroad the London dealers set no price and in accordance with this, Handy & Harman, bullion brokers, who fix the market for New York foreign silver, likewise posted no quotations.

TOWNSENDITES STAGE STREET FIST FIGHT

Aberdeen, Dec. 21 (AP)—Police, called to a downtown corner here by a report of a fist fight, saw two aged men exchanging furious blows. One gave his age as 74, the other 70.

The older claimed it was his first fight. Because both are "fine old gentlemen," their names were withheld. They were released after first aid treatment.

The fight started after an argument over the merits of the Townsend plan.

RECORD OUTPUT OF LUMBER CONTINUES

Seattle, Dec. 21 (AP)—Unusual activity in lumber buying in November held through the first two weeks of December, the West Coast Lumbermen's association said today.

For the week ending December 14, 201 down and operating mills in Washington and Oregon produced 103,594,725 feet of lumber, about 1,700,000 feet over the previous week, 27,000,000 feet more than the 1935 weekly average so far and almost 37,000,000 feet more than the 1934 weekly average.

Shipments were 22.6 per cent under production and current sales 1.7 per cent under production. New business totaled 101,873,431 feet and shipments 80,138,464 feet.

The mills reported orders to date in 1935 of 4,041,998,000 feet compared with 3,223,803,000 for the same period in 1934, an increase of 25.4 per cent.

The association said while lumbermen were pleased there is still a long way to go to reach the 1929 figures when more than 10,000,000,000 feet of lumber were produced.

CASE 30—How would you feel Christmas eve if you were in this man's place? He is too ill to work in WPA. His wife expects to be confined soon and he has not been able to make arrangements for the confinement. His three little boys and the seven year old girl can't understand why their daddy is worried and cranky when they ask what Santa will bring them. It's a pretty hopeless situation. Aren't you thankful you aren't this daddy? How about showing your thankfulness by sending a Christmas basket.

CASE 31—Remember when your children were little—Betty only two years old but she understands all about Christmas? Bob was three years old and all he could talk about was the drum Santa would bring. Jack at six was a real boy and wanted a gun. We know a Betty, Bob and Jack that have been told that Santa wouldn't be able to visit their old shack this year but that they might have a nice dinner. Mother and dad won't ask for a basket but Christmas is only a few days away and dad hasn't found a job yet.

CASE 32—Santa Claus was very much surprised to find a large envelope in his mail. In this huge envelope were letters from four brothers and their sister.

That of little Jerry, aged three, was almost illegible. The only thing that it conveyed was that Jerry was almost delirious with joyful anticipation of the nice things he would find in his stocking Christmas morning.

Ralph, eleven, and Lois, nine, asked for nice things too, but a vein of uncertainty ran through their letters—a fear that they might not be remembered. Wistfully they asked for things they would like to receive without much faith that their longings would be gratified.

Leon and Wayne, 15 and 14, also wrote letters. They don't really believe that there is a Santa Claus or that they will receive gifts on the good Saint's day, but Ralph and Lois and little Jerry insisted that they write too and in their hearts they secretly hope that they won't be forgotten on December 25.

Several companies having buildings in Ottawa, Kas., recently took out earthquake insurance policies.

POTATO MEN WILL GATHER NEXT MONTH

Oregon potato growers will be given opportunity in the next month and a half to file application for tax-free quotas under the federal Warren Potato Control act, according to arrangements announced by the Oregon State college extension service. Community potato meetings in Marion county are planned January 24, 25, 27, 28.

This act, which took effect December 1 and will apply to all new crop potatoes unless repealed by Congress at the forthcoming session, will be administered by potato growers themselves, but the extension service has been given the task of arranging meetings where the law will be explained and where applications for quotas will be made.

A state potato committee consisting of G. J. Hillyard, Klamath Falls; E. B. Eby, Redmond, and Robert Warrens, Forest Grove growers, has been appointed. Serving with them will probably be a member of the bureau of crop estimates staff in Portland and a member of the extension service. O. K. Beals, county agent at large, has been appointed to head the educational work in explaining the plan to growers.

Under a recent ruling the exemption has been raised from five bushels to 50 bushels This means that any grower whose average annual potato sales for 1932 to 1935, inclusive, were not more than 50 bushels, may apply for and receive exemption stamps for such an amount. It does not mean that every grower will have a 50-bushel exemption, but that if he can show average sales of 50 bushels or below, he will not need to make any reduction in order to sell all his usual crop, tax free. It is emphasized, however, that every grower who intends to sell any potatoes will need to apply for such exemption.

All other growers will apply for a quota for which they will be issued tax-free stamps. A national sales quota has been established which is still considerably above the total required to supply all of America's needs. In holding sales of table stock to this level, the growers will merely be removing the pressure from the market of excess potatoes which in years of large crops only rot in cellars anyway, according to those who have sponsored this means of adjustment.

There is nothing in the law to prevent any grower from planting as many potatoes as he wishes, according to J. L. Maxton, principle field officer for the potato section, who was in Oregon recently helping set up the plan here. It is quite probable, he said, that efficient growers in specialized potato growing sections will want to plant their usual acreage. Then in case their production of first grade potatoes exceeds their quota, it will still be profitable for them in many cases to dispose of this excess by purchasing tax stamps from other growers who have been issued them but who, through crop failure or other reasons, have not filled their quota.

RELIGIOUS FANATIC ATTACKS BROTHER

Huntsville, Texas, Dec. 21 (AP)—Clyde Cooper, 33, former inmate of a state insane asylum, was held today for a crude emasculation operation performed on his 35-year-old brother, Bob Cooper. Hospital attendants said the victim's condition was dangerous.

The attack occurred in front of Bob Cooper's home. He was knocked down and slashed with a long-handled knife while his screaming wife and two neighbors stood by—powerless to intervene, they said.

Sheriff Tom King said lunacy charges would be brought against Clyde, who was sent to the asylum at San Antonio in December, 1934, after members of his family found him attempting self-mutilation. He was released on furlough last April.

"Clyde is a religious fanatic," said Sheriff King. "He told me he saw a vision shortly before he attacked his brother. He said he thought it was the right thing to do."

Both brothers had been working in a saw mill.

"I don't know why he did it," said Bob Cooper.
