FEAR 3 YEAR OLD CHILD KIDNAPED

Willifantia, Conn., Jan. 21 (AP)—Silas Tibbets, father of Dale Tibbets, three, Medfield, Mass., today said the disappearance of his boy was being investigated by the department of justice as a possible kidnaping.

Tibbets came here to consult with police after it was reported a man, who appeared to be a woodsman, visited a news store here Sunday and told the owner, Ruel M. Hyde, he was the father of the child. He was roughly dressed, and wore an army overcoat and carried a pack.

Hyde said he asked for a Boston newspaper of last Friday, saying he was anxious to read the story of the child's disappearance, "as I am his father." Hyde was unable to obtain a copy of the paper and the stranger left the store and has not been reported since.

Tibbets told police Captain Grant Bombria he believed the boy had been abducted and federal agents had been assigned to the case from Boston. Bombria said he obtained a description of the stranger from Hyde and it would be broadcast.

SALEM SWIMMERS DEFEAT LONGVIEW

Longview, Wash., Jan. 21 (AP)—Slithering through the water like eels, members of Salem high school's swimming team propelled to six first places in the season's initial meet against the Longview Lumberjacks and won, 42 to 32, last night in the YMCA pool.

The Oregon youths also grabbed two second places and tied for another. In actual competition, Longview was able to win only one first place—in the 40-yard free style event—although the Lumberjacks won the fancy diving by forfeit.

Hoffman, captain of the Salem squad, swam the 220-yard free style race in unofficial record time. The official Washington state record for the event is 2:43, and Hoffman cut 12 seconds from this time, gliding through the water in the rapid time of 2:31.

Reversal of Earlier Case Seen by F.D.

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Shortly after agreeing on a new two-year program to replace AAA, President Roosevelt termed the supreme court's refusal of rehearing in the processing tax case an apparent reversal of an earlier leading case in constitutional law.

Mr. Roosevelt offered no final conclusion on the supreme court decision except to say in response to questions by reporters at his press conference that the ruling apparently reverses the stand taken by the supreme court in upholding the right of congress to levy taxes without restraint under the act of 1867.

VETS SEEK TO HALT RELIEF PROJECTS

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—A suit seeking to halt federal works relief projects all over the United States was filed in the district supreme court today by Benjamin T. Stang, disabled World War veteran of Philadelphia.

Stang asked for an injunction against Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, to restrain payment of all relief workers. He stated veterans were not given preference in the distribution of jobs.

He cited an executive order which prohibited the employment of any person on government projects who is not on relief. This, he said, is in disregard of the law which gives preference to service men in government work.

Stang said similar suits would be filed in every federal court in the country wherever there are WPA projects. He said he was filing this suit in behalf of all World War veterans, their wives or widows. The reason for his action was that he was refused a job when he applied for work on a relief project in Philadelphia.

Hell Week Cause of Furore at College

Fullman, Jan. 21 (AP)—A "Greek row" furore swirled about the ancient fraternity "hell week" at Washington State college today. Sigma Chi announced yesterday the abolition of the rigorous initiation week custom. While Dr. E. O. Holland, college president, lauded the action as the discard of a "type of barbarism," student president Ed Goldworthy, of Sigma Nu, defended the modern "hell week" as a "fraternal proving ground."

NEUTRALITY TO BE EXTENDED

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Assurance of the enactment of neutrality legislation "substantially" in the form desired by the administration, was given President Roosevelt today by Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the senate foreign relations committee.

Senator Pittman predicted the committee would report the legislation to the senate within two weeks. He said he did not believe the cessation of hearings by the munitions investigating committee would interfere at all with enactment of permanent neutrality law.

"We do not lack for facts," he said, "our problem is purely one of adopting policies and finding language which is not difficult of interpretation."

Prior to Pittman's call, there was talk of extending the present neutrality law for a year to permit more deliberate consideration. While administration leaders continued to forecast early action on the permanent policy, other senators said diversity of opinion on the complex issue might delay it.

A law now on the books, but expiring February 29, forces the president to lay down an embargo on arms and munitions shipments to belligerents, but does not empower him to curb the flow of other trade.

ICKES REPLIES TO TALMADGE CENSURE

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes today characterized Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia as "a chain-gang detective" in answering the new deal critic's attacks on the $4,000,000 work relief program.

Talmadge had said in a newspaper interview that work relief officials were "upsetting Georgia's wage scale by paying $3.20 for raking leaves and $1.40 a year for roadwork."

ICKES replied to the southerner with: "I don't pay much attention to what his 'chain-gang excellency' says. I learned I couldn't rely on his word."

"He kept running up here from Atlanta asking for PWA favors to which he wasn't entitled."

CARRIED A BIG STONE IN HIS STOMACH 20 YEARS; NOW PRAISES VAN-TAGE!

Mr. Yarger's Stomach Was in Awful Condition—Bowels Sore and Raw—Kidneys Got Him Up 15 Times a Night—Gets Quick Relief Taking Van-Tage!

Mr. Fred Yarger, of 1437 Delaware St., Denver, Col., is still another widely-known man who is publicly praising and endorsing the "Mixture of Nature's Medicines," known as VAN-TAGE, which is now being introduced to crowds daily here in Salem by the VAN-TAGE Man in person at our distributors, Mr. Yarger is a prominent member of the Utopians and has literally thousands of friends and acquaintances. What he has to say about Van-Tage is "Truly Amazing. We advise all suffering people to read his statement through and through. Find out what VAN-TAGE can do! This remarkable statement follows:

SUFFERED 20 YEARS
"I had been a recent victim of bowel trouble and chronic constipation for the last TWENTY YEARS," said Mr. Yarger. "My bowels were in a horrible condition and actually felt raw inside. Every night I had to take a strong physic. My stomach was upset, in fact, for 20 years in fact like I was carrying around a big stone inside my stomach and bowels. I had sluggish kidneys for seven years and had to get up 14 or 15 times every night. This broke up my sleep completely and made me feel terrible. I was full of poison from my constipated bowels and sluggish kidneys and as a result my body would break out all over with pimples, and my feet would perspire so much that it embarrassed me. I believe this was due to my kidneys not acting properly."

STOPS NIGHT RISING
"Now, as I said, this trouble had been going on with me for years and I didn't know if I would ever find anything to help me, but one day my wife read in the paper about Van-Tage and what wonders it was working for so many people. Well, I didn't think much about it at the time, but two weeks later I was down town one day and happened to run across the VAN-TAGE Man at the Drug Store, and I remembered then what my wife had read in the paper. So I talked with the Van-Tage Man and he was so earnest that I thought, 'Maybe this is what I need.' Anyway, something told me to get this medicine, so I bought two bottles and started taking it that very night. Will say that it was a revelation to me. I never saw anything like it. At the end of one week I stopped getting up nights. That's the way it acted on my kidneys. Have been sleeping soundly all night ever since. It also has a great cleansing action on a person's bowels and now they are regular and not sore or raw; and it straightened up my stomach and that awful feeling like a stone inside of me has disappeared. It worked so much poison out of my bowels and system that even my skin cleared up of all those pimples. My skin is clear now for the first time in over SIX YEARS. I'm telling all my friends about Van-Tage and many of them are taking it and getting the same results I got."

THIRTY MEDICINES!
VAN-TAGE contains more than 30 ingredients. So it is almost like 30 medicines in one. It helps you ALL OVER. Some of its herbs cleanse your bowels, others benefit the liver and kidneys, strengthen your blood. It invigorates the jaded, worn-out organs; cleanses the contaminated, impure system, and presents the former weak, headachy, constipated person is feeling like a different man or woman. Another thing—the cost of Van-Tage is SMALL. This is due to the immense volume in which it sells. So don't hesitate. Get Van-Tage—TODAY—and start taking it!

The VAN-TAGE Man is now at our Salem distributors daily, meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this remarkable compound.

On Sale at Fred Meyer Toiletory Shop, 170 N. Liberty St., Salem.

LISTOE ACCUSED OF BRIBERY ATTEMPT

Klamath Falls, Jan. 21 (AP)—A. C. Listoe, member of the Klamath county grand jury and a former candidate for mayor of Klamath Falls, was accused of attempting to bribe a public official in a complaint filed here today.

The information of a felony was signed by County Judge George Grizzle. Listoe, Grizzle said, threatened him with grand jury investigation unless he found employment for his son.

Grizzle was recently freed on an indictment charging him with appropriating county material for his own use. The indictment was quashed when Judge Hay of Lakeview ruled that the charge given the jury by Judge Ashurst at Klamath Falls had been inflammatory.

Continuation of—Capitol Board

"a pile of masonry." Sprague said he and the other members of the Salem committee were glad the commission's conception presented by Carl F. Gould, architect adviser, would preserve and expand the beauty of the capitol grounds and building group.

The commission decided against attempting at this time to build a state library, estimated by the planning board to cost approximately $450,000.

As now planned, the structure to replace the burned capitol will house the legislature, the offices of the governor, secretary of state, state treasurer and board of control, and such other departments as space may permit.

All members of the commission expressed recognition of need for a new library building, but held it could not be constructed until the legislature provides additional funds. The legislature left it optional with the commission to use allocated funds for both a capitol and a library building, or only a statehouse.

Judge Earl C. Bronough headed a committee of the state library board which pleaded for inclusion of a library building in the construction program, or at least contemplate use of a portion of the capitol by the library.

Strictly within the terms of the capitol reconstruction act, the new capitol must be set within the boundaries of the property now owned by the state, Assistant Attorney General Ralph E. Moody told the commission.

He added, however, that should the state obtain title to Wilson park, or any portion of it contiguous to the state property, he did not know who would be entitled to object should the commission decide upon which to place a portion of the capitol building, in order that it might center on Summer street.

The commission instructed Gould to prepare his program for the architectural competition so the capitol either could be erected on the exact site of the old, or could be moved a few feet to the west in order to come within the north frontage plan.

Gould recommended the north frontage plan as the most feasible and desirable from the standpoint of beauty and symmetry for future expansion of the grounds for additional buildings.

FARM FAMILIES TO GET RELIEF

Portland, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Needy farm families under the rural rehabilitation program will receive emergency grants of food, clothing, fuel, medicine and subsistence goods during winter months when employment is slack, Walter A. Duffy, regional resettlement director, announced today.

"State directors of rehabilitation have been instructed to put forth every effort to care for families falling in the new category that includes all families whose income when last employed was derived primarily from farming operations, whether as owner, renter, tenant or farm laborer," Duffy said.

"Fruit pickers, hog pickers, harvest hands and other agricultural workers will be included in the emergency phases of the rehabilitation program insofar as allotment funds will permit. Grants will be on a monthly basis and permanent rehabilitation will be undertaken for families able to qualify for rehabilitation loans."

Duffy is director of the Washington, Oregon and Idaho region.

ANTI-NAZI GROUP FACES COURT TRIAL

Portland, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Seven persons, five of them women, faced prosecution today for staging an unauthorized anti-Nazi demonstration when the training cruiser, Emden, first Nazi vessel to visit Portland harbor since Adolf Hitler ascended to power in Germany, docked here.

While thousands of other Portland citizens lined the west harbor wall and city officials extended the Emden official greetings, the 11 paraded adjacent streets, carrying banners denouncing Hitler and demanding American boycott of the Berlin Olympic games.

Three of those arrested said they were Reed college students. All were released on their own recognizance pending hearings on charges of parading banners without a permit.
