$7,050 WON BY DOWNS, FRAUD IN STOCK SALE

The Multnomah circuit court judgment of $7050 against the National Share Corporation for sale of 282 shares of stock to Samuel U. Downs and Mabel Downs, "predicated upon charges of fraud," was affirmed by the supreme court today in an opinion by Justice George Rossman.

Plaintiffs alleged they made the investment on representations that the corporation was safe and reliable, dealing in securities listed on the New York stock exchange. Further presentations made by the defendant firm that its stock was "easily marketable," were declared false.

In another written opinion the court held with the plaintiff in a suit against the city of Greenham for damages alleged caused to his property by surface waters by the defendant municipality. The opinion held that the action was a "direct injury" by the city of the property rights of the plaintiff for which the city is answerable in "damages."

The suit was brought by J. E. Metzger, and the opinion written by Justice John Rand affirmed the decree of Judge Louis P. Hewitt.

The opinions were handed down shortly before noon today after the members of the court had been in conference for more than two hours. The usual length of the weekly conference is one hour.

Other opinions handed down were: George A. Jensen vs. Louis Rosumny, appellant, appeal from Multnomah county. Action to recover money on contract. Opinion by Justice Bell. Judge Robert Tucker affirmed.

Werner G. Hantke, appellant vs. Harris Ice Machine Works and Paul Freytag, appeal from Multnomah county. Action to recover damages for personal injuries. Opinion by Justice Kelly. Judge Hall S. Lusk affirmed.

EXPORT FLOUR LOSSES REPAID

Washington, Feb. 18 (AP)—Comptroller General McCarl today approved a $450,000 expenditure under the agricultural adjustment act to indemnify exporters for losses incurred in flour shipments to the Philippines from the Pacific northwest.

Secretary Wallace had explained that the northwest millers had virtually lost the Philippine market because they could not compete with foreign exporters while paying domestic prices for wheat for milling operations. It was estimated that about 1,500,000 bushels of wheat could be exported, with an indemnity of not to exceed 35 cents a bushel.

At the same time McCarl turned down a proposed expenditure of $500,000 to aid peanut growers to divert their crop from normal trade channels into manufacture of peanut oil and by-products. McCarl held this was not diversion from normal channels.

MAPLE CONSIDERS ALBANY COACH JOB

Portland, Ore., Feb. 18 (AP)—Howard Maple, assistant football coach at Willamette university, said today he had not been approached about the Albany college head coaching job from which Joey Mack will resign in June.

"I don't know what their proposition is, so I have nothing to say," Maple answered to reports that Albany college students mentioned him as a possible successor to Coach Mack.

"I would look into the proposition thoroughly from every angle before making any commitment."

$40,000 LOSS IN HOOD RIVER FIRE

Hood River, Ore., Feb. 18 (AP)—Loss estimated by the fire bureau at $40,000 was caused here today when fire swept through four buildings in the downtown section.

Firemen, their clothing and hair frozen stiff and festooned with ice by the 10-degree weather, fought the flames for three hours before bringing the fire under control.

Eleven residents of an apartment house escaped safely through the dense smoke. They lost clothing and personal effects.

The destroyed buildings included the apartment house, a cigar store, clubroom and a cafe.

RITTEMAN SUED BY ACCIDENT VICTIM

A damage suit for $30,000 was filed in circuit court today by Lulu Brown against George W. Ritteman, because of injuries received by the plaintiff when she was struck by an automobile driven by Ritteman last November 24.

The accident happened on the 12th street cut-off where the plaintiff was walking when allegedly struck by the automobile. She claims that among numerous other injuries she received a compound fracture of the right leg and a fractured right arm, and that she is permanently disabled as a result.

Continuation of— Action of Council specific form such action might take those advocating it were not prepared to say at this time.

Among certain of the confirmed advocates of mountain water—a group which has consistently advocated the Little North Fork of the Santiam as a supply source—recall talk which has flared up from time to time being revived, and there were indications that these participants were even willing to go so far as to join forces with the proponents of wells on the Willamette river in a concerted movement to head off the majority plan of the council.

To support their contention they pointed out that the North Santiam had once been condemned by the state board of health as a contaminated and unsafe source of supply for the city of Stayton.

Almost to a man the opponents of the North Santiam supply drew mental pictures of 30-miles of 36 inch steel pipe, to be purchased and laid at an estimated cost of $675,000, and speculated—some of them out loud.

Disregarding the expense of enlarging the storage reservoir, which would be approximately the same under either plan, the $379,000 estimate for the North Santiam supply system was being critically compared with the estimated cost of a new intake, pumping and filter plant for utilizing water from the Willamette, placed at $213,500 by the city's former engineering experts.

The difference of $556,500 in capital outlay between the two projects loomed big, particularly when broken down into an amortization schedule of principal and interest.

So far there has been but one outspoken criticism of the council's program, that of the Salem Taxpayers' league, which attacked it on the grounds that such extravagance could only result in greatly increased water rates to consumers, higher city taxes or both.

Accepting what it professes to be "top" figures for estimates of anticipated earnings of the system, based on the net earning of the old private company for the five years before 1930-34 inclusive, the league points out that operating profits to be expected during the next five years will be insufficient to meet annual interest and depreciation charges, and will leave less than nothing for a sinking fund to retire the $2,250,000 in outstanding bonds.

Net earnings of the private company during the past five years, as shown by the public service commission records, averaged $1,226 a year, including $7500 of revenue received from the city for hydrant service which the city no longer pays. Deduction of the $7500 leaves a net operating profit of $476,726 a year.

Elimination of the item of $25,861 a year in taxes, which the company paid but the city does not, would increase the ostensible annual profits to $450,865, but the subtraction of a 2 percent depreciation charge.

GALES MENACE ATLANTIC SHIP

(By United Press)

Mountainous seas, heavy fogs and blustering snow hampered shipping and endangered seamen along the Atlantic coast today.

The weather bureau ordered storm warnings displayed from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to Boston.

Fear was felt for the safety of the Greek steamer Stefanos Costomenis which reported itself in distress 400 miles off the coast of Maryland.

The S. S. City of Newport News and the S. S. Gateway City were near the last location given by the Stefanos Costomenis and three coast guard cutters were enroute and due to arrive late today.

The Stefanos Costomenis carries a crew of about 30.

The auxiliary fishing schooner Ingomar went aground on Plum Island, off Newburyport, Mass., in a heavy fog. Two of its crew of 21 were rescued by coast guardmen.

The others, who left the craft in dories, landed safely through high surf at Hampton Beach, N. H. Coast guard cutters had searched for them for 10 hours.

Four ships, including the Dollar liner President Hayes, went aground in Massachusetts waters. The Dollar liner pulled off in four hours and the others either were freed or were not endangered.

The Gloucester schooner, Gertrude L. Thebaud, winner of the International Fishermen's race in 1930, was towed into Halifax harbor by a Canadian cutter which answered the schooner's distress signals.

Vandenberg Not to Enter Primaries

Portland, Ore., Feb. 18 (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan does "not intend to enter the Oregon primary or any other primary," he informed republican leaders here.

He has been mentioned as a possible republican presidential candidate. "All I want at Cleveland (convention city) is the wisest possible decision... so that we may have the best possible chance in November to restore the republic," he said.

O. C. GRANT LAND TIMBER BOUGHT

Roseburg, Ore., Feb. 18 (AP)—Five sales of O. C. Grant land timber were announced at the local U. S. land office today.

TO BREAK ICE JAM COLUMBIA RIVER

Portland, Ore., Feb. 18 (AP)—United States army engineers are attempting to break up a big ice jam in the Columbia river at Garrison rapids, about one and one-half miles below Bonneville dam, by the use of dynamite. Major A. E. Kennett of the engineer corps announced.

The City of Newport News was one of a half-dozen vessels that turned to when the Stefanos Costomenis sent out word that it was leaking and in immediate need of assistance.

The Greek steamer carried a crew of approximately 30 men.

Radio Marine reported that the City of Newport News began lowering lifeboats at 3:05 p. m. and that the Greek master had decided to abandon ship.

A "SLIGHT COLD" IT WAS YESTERDAY Today He is Down with Pneumonia!

The Necessity of Treating a Cold Promptly and Internally!

The "Common Cold" is nothing to take lightly. It takes a greater toll in life, in health, in time lost from work and school and in medical expense, than any other affliction to which humanity is subject.

The U. S. Bureau of Public Health Service says the "common cold" is the most frequent cause of illness and that it is often the forerunner of bronchitis, bronchial pneumonia and other equally serious diseases.

One reason why colds turn out so seriously is that people are prone to take them too lightly and treat them too casually.

It is well to remember what a cold is—an internal infection. As such, a cold patently calls for internal treatment.

A cold, moreover, calls for a cold treatment and not a preparation only incidentally good for colds.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold calls for—first, because it's expressly a cold tablet—secondly, because it's internal medication.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine, working internally, does four things, all of them of paramount importance in treating a cold.

First, it opens the bowels, an admittedly advisable step in the treatment of a cold.

Second, it checks the infection in the system.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

These four effects are what you want in the treatment of a cold and in Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine you get them in the form of a single tablet.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is perfectly safe to take. Its harmlessness, as well as efficacy, is attested to by the fact that it is the largest selling cold tablet in the world.

When you feel a cold coming on, act quickly and act decisively. Go at once to your drugstore and get a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Start taking the tablets immediately, two at a time, every four hours.

Adopted promptly, this treatment will usually stop a cold the first day, and that's the action you want!

All drug stores sell Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine and the few pennies' cost may save you much in worry, suspense and expense.

Ask firmly for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine and insist upon getting what you ask for.
