FACTORY SUBMERGED BY FLOOD WATERS

This industrial plant at Paw Paw, Va., bore the brunt of high water as the rain-swollen Potomac river swept through the town. The Potomac was only one of many eastern rivers which caused the worst floods in many years throughout the East in which Pittsburgh and Johnstown, Pa., scene of the famous flood of 1889, were among the cities hardest hit. Many lives were lost, thousands made homeless and millions of dollars of damage done. (Associated Press Photo)

DALLAS LEGION POST REPORTED IN GOOD SHAPE

Dallas—Carl B. Fenton post No. 29 of the American Legion met Thursday night with Bill Blackley, post commander, in the chair. Fred Stinnette, chairman of the post membership committee reported that his recent drive had carried him over the top and that the post had 83 paid up members or three more than the quota for the year.

An amendment to the post constitution was presented to the members by R. S. Kreson calling for the election of all officers in June and for their installation at a meeting in September to be known as the annual meeting of the organization, was presented for its second and final reading and was passed.

Dale Smith, Boy Scout chairman, review the work that had been accomplished in this activity and outlined some of the plans for the future. This includes the formation of two more troops in the community and the acquisition of a permanent home for the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire girls.

Jack Eakin told of the entertainment committee's plans for the month of April when the post and auxiliary will hold the annual fun night and the post will hold an all-veterans meeting with particular emphasis on having present all veterans who have moved into the community recently.

Bill Blackley, post junior league chairman, reported that registration had started and that prospects of a good season were indicated. S. E. Whitworth went into the matter of the annual school award Certificates, medals and lapel buttons will be awarded in four schools of the county this year as the members voted to include Perrydale in the number. Dallas, Falls City and Rickreall are the other groups participating.

Jack Eakin, service officer, reported 136 applications for the "bons." The post voted $5 as the first contribution to the fund which will help send the high school debate team to San Francisco to compete against California's champions. A special committee was appointed to go into the matter of life memberships with instructions to report back in one month's time. The committee is composed of R. S. Kreson, Bill Himes and Jack Eakin.

Frank Davis reminded the members that the city ambulance had now been used for one year and that it was accomplishing a great deal of good particularly in view of the fact that the members of the fire department who form the operating personnel are being trained in first aid work.

Three silver stars were awarded for work in the membership drive, each of the three recipients have brought in ten or more members. The stars went to Fred Stinnette, Jack Eakin and John Cerny.
