The message stated that since original flood relief fund quotas were assigned, the flooded area and the number of victims has been doubled and to meet these obligations to those who suffered from the flood, it is imperative that we ask you to make every possible effort to secure relief contributions exceeding your original chapter quota.

TOM HART HAS 75TH BIRTHDAY

Independence—Tom Hart, a resident of Independence since 1879, passed his 75th birthday in life this week, and was celebrated by friends upon that occasion. A dinner was given in his honor at his home and Tom with his wife and sister, Mrs. Mary Roberts, was the center of attraction. His brother, Ezra Hart, and family of Rickreall, came over in the afternoon and visited with them, and numerous callers during the day wished him many returns of the day.

Mr. Hart was born near Clarence, Cedar county, Iowa, March 25, 1861, and came west when 18 years of age, arriving in Independence July 10, 1879. His father, William G. Hart, later moved to Oregon and settled in the Salt Creek country, purchasing a farm there.

Tom has made his home in or near Independence all his life, and until a few years ago operated a large threshing outfit in the county, employing upwards of 25 men.

In reflecting upon the past Mr. Hart says that in about 1900, independence was a city of nearly 2500 persons, with two grain mills and two sawmills. Men were paid about $2 a day for 10 hours, but flour cost then only 65 cents a sack, bacon was 7 cents a pound, and ham about 10 cents.
