

30 WOMEN OF PORTLAND TO ATTEND MEET

Portland, Ore., May 21 (AP)—Some 30 members of the Portland Business and Professional Women's club will attend the state convention at Roseburg Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Officers will be elected Saturday afternoon and the chorus contest is Saturday night.

Miss Charl Ormond Williams, elected national president at Seattle last year, sent a message to Oregon club women saying she would attend the Roseburg meeting.

"I firmly believe that we have made definite progress toward our goal of 'effective democracy,'" she said.

"Without an educated and healthy citizenry, enjoying an economic security and security against discriminations because of race, sex or marital status, democracy can never be effective.

"We can see ahead a number of vital goals toward which we must strive to attain this high of civilization. Two stand out in my thinking: first, education and cultural opportunities for all, and second, universal peace."

She urged women of the federation and other organizations to work "for such goals as trained personnel for public service, health and recreational programs for every community, and better housing conditions for the poor."

SOCIETY

Hour convocation and the annual spring pledge banquet of Phi Kappa Phi were two of the large functions of mid-week activities. The convocation was held Tuesday morning and the banquet in the evening of the same day. Forty-one pledges of the society were honored. More than a hundred attended and heard Dr. Bruce R. Baxter, president of Willamette university, explain the value of scholarship. Ten students won awards and eight received honorable mention at the convocation earlier in the day.

Mrs. Harold Moe and Miss Alice Ingalls will entertain at a tea at the Pi Beta Phi house Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Eloise Bilyeu of Portland, who engagement to Earl Dibble of Seattle was recently announced. Miss Bilyeu being a member of Pi Beta Phi. Members and pledges of Sigma Kappa will honor Miss Mary McIntyre, who has been their hostess for many years, at a tea Saturday afternoon.

One of the big traditional events scheduled for Sunday morning is the annual Tri-Delta pancake breakfast, at which members of Delta Delta Delta sorority entertain all graduating senior women in college. Several engagements are usually announced at this affair when the co-eds walk under a colorful pancake arch.

Right in the thick and thin of the continuous round of activity during Campus Week-end we saw just lots of Salem students. We also saw several Salem high school students here who might be Oregon Staters next fall. On our list Dean Ellis, noted track man, is first. To him go congratulations for the wonderful exhibition put on at the track meet last Friday and Saturday. We saw Dorothy Keston the other night at the Mask and Dagger supper and she seemed to be having a very nice time. Ike Wintermute has also been turning in a good record for OSC—he pitched for the Alma Mater in one of the baseball games up north and did a good job, too! Dropped in at the Alpha Chi house Saturday night for a few minutes after the dance and couldn't help but notice what a perfect hostess Cleo Ritter is. She will make the Alpha Chi a good proxy indeed! Orville Varty can be seen most any day and most anywhere just tootin' around in "Maddie" . . . and in case you don't know what Maddie is, it's the latest model little runabout. Anyway, it seems to get Orville where he wants to go. Marvin Wilbur was given honorable mention in the Joseph H. Albert prize of $25 awarded annually to the senior student who is adjudged by the committee on honors and awards to have made the greatest progress toward the ideal in character, service and wholesome influence. This prize was awarded at honor convocation. Frances Doolittle has been seen of late sliding gracefully across dance floors with none other than the sophomore class president, Meredith Huggins. Bud Mercer seems to "go to town" where a certain well-known campus band is concerned. At any rate, Bud gives some excellent musical interpretations. Mary Jane Adams has a certain knack of looking fresh as a daisy almost anywhere, and our hat is off to her for her smart appearance in this dreary rainy weather. Here's hoping spring is just around the corner—and until next week then, goodbye!

Sunny-side — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heckert are announcing the arrival of their first child, and four-pound twelve ounce boy born at the G. T. Heckert home Saturday morning, May 16. He has been named Larry Joe. Mrs. Heckert was formerly Violet Bunsie and attended Willamette university.

DR. AUSTIN GARY DIES IN FLORIDA
Dr. Austin Gary, 70, one of the oldest professional foresters in the United States, died suddenly at Gainesville, Florida, on April 28, according to word just received by Regional Forester C. J. Buck, Portland.

Dr. Gary was well known to the older members of the North Pacific region, having worked here in 1915 and 1916 on studies of logging, milling, and timber appraisal. He also was the author of the "Manual for Northern Woodsmen," widely used by forest rangers here as well as in other parts of the country.

Dr. Gary retired from the Forest Service last July after 25 years of continuous employment with the service and a half century of distinguished forestry activities. At the time of his retirement, he was senior logging engineer of the forest service. A native of Maine, a graduate of Bowdoin college, and former instructor in forestry at the Yale Forest school and Harvard, Dr. Gary early became an outstanding authority on timber production and logging practice.

ROAD CONDITIONS ARE REPORTED ON
Reports on road conditions in the mountains above Detroit have been made by G. P. McGinnish, district ranger at Detroit, as follows:
Brettenbush road—Open and very passable from Detroit to Brettenbush but not springs. Fishing conditions are poor.
Elk Lake road—Not open. Will probably be maintained in about a week.
Marion Forks road—Open to end of road; passable but not maintained yet.
Big Meadows road—Not open.
Little North Fork road—Open from Mehama to Amalgamated mines.

Petting Defended By Official Order
Lowell, Mass., May 21 (AP)—The Lowell park commission has ruled there shall be no policeman or no light placed in Fort Hill park because, in the opinion of Commissioner Daniel F. O'Dea, "It's the people's park and the people's prerogative to pet."

Superintendent John W. Kernan had asked the commission to station a policeman or a light in the park to prevent from 20 to 40 couples from spooning nightly in the moonlight.

Scio—Baseball teams of Scio high school will go to Sweet Home Friday, May 22, for the final games of the current Linn county B league series. Coach "Bub" Elder of Scio will enter his boys' team in the play-off series at Lebanon June 5 and 6 during the Strawberry fair.

LANDON HELD LOGICAL MAN AS CANDIDATE

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 21 (AP)—The democratic high command considers Clay M. Landon of Kansas as the man whom President Roosevelt will have to beat to return to the White House for another term.

Taking the offensive more than a fortnight in advance of the republican convention, Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley last night began his party's attack on the Kansas governor. He named Landon as the "most probable" G. O. P. candidate.

Addressing the Michigan state democratic convention, Farley contended election of Landon would be a "reckless experiment." He did not mention Landon by name, but as "governor of a typical prairie state."

"Could there be," Farley asked, "a more perilous experiment than putting the complex, and highly delicate, control of our government into the hands of a man destitute of experience and devoid of practice in national, still less in international, matters?"

Farley said the nation "knew Roosevelt" before he became president. Landon has been "exalted by the anti-administration press," Farley asserted, adding that if this version were accepted "we have been entertaining in obscurity a genius in government; another Lincoln, with flashes of Coolidge in his composition."

Farley said no modern president had done a big job "more bravely, efficiently and honestly" than President Roosevelt.

"If prosperity is to be made stable and anywhere near complete, he is the man to do it."

Looking over a pile of old, worn-out truck tires one day, Herman Kraft, General tire development engineer, noticed that on the otherwise smooth surface of the worn-out truck tires there were rubber "fins" or long knife-like protrusions of rubber that had not been worn off.

Convinced that these rubber "fins" had not been worn off the otherwise smooth tread because they were flexible and had folded under rather than resisted the wear of the highway surface, Kraft conceived of a tire surface made up entirely of these rubber "fins" enlarged to the form of thin rubber ribs or vanes, which would be flexible and bend from side to side with the weight of the car.

They were frankly startled when they found that the new tire had non-skid ability beyond anything that had been previously considered possible. They found, too, that it had many other entirely unsuspected good qualities.

NEW PRINCIPLE TIRES OFFERED
Built upon an entirely new principle of tire construction, an automobile tire has just been perfected which will stop a car, in an emergency, in 25 to 30 per cent shorter distance than any other tire and without causing the car to swerve from its own traffic path. Tests have shown it will stop a car more quickly on wet pavement than any other tire will stop a car on dry pavement, according to "Bill" Watkins, local general tire dealer.

This new tire principle was discovered accidentally. It was found while tire engineers were trying to develop a new kind of tread that would resist wear better than present trends.

Population records were broken today for two of Oregon's state institutions located in Salem. Both the state insane hospital and the state penitentiary had new high marks, superintendents reported.

Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner of the hospital reported 2,440 inmates at the institution which is already overcrowded. A new addition was fast being completed to relieve the crowded condition. Warden James Lewis reported 950 prisoners, exceeding by two the high mark of 1931. The institution is equipped to handle 1,000 prisoners.

Between 20 and 30 prisoners now eligible for parole under the good-time deduction, were being held pending the outcome of the habeas corpus proceedings for the immediate release of Earl H. Fehl without the necessity for parole, as ruled recently by the attorney general. The Fehl case is pending in the Marion county circuit court and will be appealed to the state supreme court.

VETS MAY GET TRAVEL MONEY
Four thousand Oregon Spanish-American war veterans, all over 60 years old, may receive government checks for about $400 each, travel pay from the Philippines due since 1938, under provisions of a bill now before congress which Senator McNary believes will pass during this session.

The war pay bill provides travel allowance for 15,000 volunteers in the Spanish war who did not return home when muster out, but re-enlisted to help put down the Filipino insurrection. At the end of that campaign the federal law allowing travel pay had been repealed, and the veterans have been fighting for recognition of their claims ever since.

A similar bill, finally passed at the last session of congress, was vetoed by President Roosevelt because it provided for payment of 10 percent of the veterans' claims to lawyers, through whom claims were to be filed.

McNary wired a local veteran he had arranged with the opposition to the bill to have it brought to the floor immediately and he expected favorable action.

JUSTICE ROSSMAN BECOMES DETECTIVE
Justice George Rossman of the state supreme court turned detective in deciding two will cases recently.

In one, he studied a book on analytical of type-writing to learn that a will admitted to probate was not the one originally prepared for the deceased by his attorney. In another, a will made in Sweden was accepted over a will signed in Oregon before the deceased returned to his homeland. The judge didn't have to read the will in Swedish, however.

NEW PAINT STORE OPENS IN SALEM
The new Pittsburgh Paint store, located at 254 North Commercial, will have its formal opening May 23. This store will be the wholesale headquarters of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company in the Willamette territory. They feature the famous paints, Wallhide, Waterpar and Florhide, which make one-day painting really possible.

All those who attend the opening will be given a beautiful 32 page book on home decoration entitled "The Magic of Color." This book was written by Joyce Bright, prominent authority on this subject.

The Pittsburgh Paint store has a new idea in selling and when completed it will have a set of panels finished with various products. In this way a person will be able to visualize exactly how the finished job will appear. This novel scheme is very helpful to paint buyers.

E. C. Lindstrand, for fourteen years with the Portland store, is in charge of the new Salem store.

TEAMS READY FOR SALE OF POPPIES
Tomorrow morning a corps of members of Marion Post 661, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Ladies' auxiliary, the former headed by George Malstrom and the latter by Mrs. Ruth Watson, will assemble at Alken's Jewelry store to launch the 15th annual Buddy poppy sale for the relief of sick and disabled veterans and their dependents and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans. Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23, have been designated Buddy poppy days in Salem and Commander Russell Mudd of Marion Post and President Edith Mudd of the auxiliary hope to be able to dispose of their respective quotas this year as the needs of the beneficiaries have been extraordinary.

BRIDGE WORKERS AT ALSEA BAY FILE SUIT
Portland, Ore., May 21 (AP)—A suit was on file in federal court today by 24 workers on the Alsea Bay bridge seeking to force payment of proper wages under PWA scales. The instrument alleges that skilled workers are paid on the same scale as unskilled men instead of the accepted scale used on federal building projects.

Defendants are Lindstrom and Felzensen, Parker and Banfield, T. H. Banfield and several bonding companies.
