DALLAS SCHOOL PUPILS OFFER WORK EXHIBIT

Dallas—The final program for this school year, coupled with exhibits of work in the high and junior high schools, was given by Miss Margaret Spencer's 7-A class in the auditorium of the junior high school.

The entertainment was a puppet show entitled "Snow White and the Dwarfs." Characters in the play were: The Queen, Arlene Baldwin and Kathleen Chapman; Snow White, Evelyn Watson and Doris Holmes; The Mirror, Paul Erickson; The Prince, Jim Boydston; Captain Hans, Sam Holman; first dwarf, Blake Eastman; second dwarf, Lawrence Bailey; third dwarf, Derril Allen. Comedy was provided before and after the play by Nadine Gerard as Olive Oyl and Bill Blackley as Popeye the Sailor.

Stage hands were Hubert Carter, Charles Jones and Kenneth Steele. The whole 7-A class helped make the puppets and the scenery for the production. Intermission numbers were given by the triple trio of the junior high school and by Nadine Gerard and Dorothy Wiebe in a vocal duet.

Following the show the audience was given the opportunity to go back stage and see how the puppets were operated. The work exhibits attracted a great deal of favorable comment from the crowds which visited them at the junior high school. The work of the art students and that of a number of the students in penmanship was outstanding.

At the high school a number of students were seen busy working in the manual training department while in the main hallway the finished projects of the boys were on display.

The exhibits have become an annual affair and afford parents and friends a real cross-section of the work which is being carried on in the two schools.

FINE BLOODED STOCK JOINS JONES HERD

Silverton—Silverton F. P. A. swine breeders often find it most desirable when in the show and breeding business to acquire new blood lines and additional quality animals to add to their enterprises. One such case is that of Herbert Jones who on May 25 purchased a young purebred Chester White sow from the widely known Cass Nichols herd. This young animal which Jones adds to his breeding herd carries eastern states crosses on both the sire and dams sides. This young animal was farrowed in September 1935. Her mother and her mother's sister were both winning champions at Iowa and on the eastern show circuits. With this, and other excellent breeding animals, Herbert Jones expects to be able to meet increasing demands for his Chester White hogs.
