COMMUNISTS CALL TICKET REACTIONARY

New York, June 12 (AP)—Earl Browder, general secretary of the communist party, said today the nomination of Governor Alfred Landon and Colonel Frank Knox "confirms fully the communist party estimate that the republican banner serves to rally all of the most reactionary forces in America."

"Landon was Hearst's man," Browder said, in a formal statement. "Long before the rest of the country learned to pronounce his name, Knox was Hearst's general manager for years. . . ."

A pitiful effort was made in Cleveland to hide the fascist face of Hearst with a liberal state-setting. We are asked to believe that Wall Street, Morgan, the du Ponts, Mellon, Hearst, have retired from politics—or that overnight they became progressive and liberal."

Amplifying his prepared statement, Browder discussed the positions of the republican and democratic parties and declared: "In the beginning, when the gentlemen of the Liberty League supported the new deal, it had some fascist tendencies—but now, all of these gentlemen have deserted to the republican party."

"We don't withdraw any of our criticism of the new deal, but we feel the main fascist course centers around the republican-Hearst-Liberty League crowd. "The democratic administration with all of its evils, would not be so bad as the republicans. However, the communists do not choose between two evils. We will have our own national ticket in the field and we will make a vigorous campaign in behalf of that ticket."

"In fighting fascism and the fascist course of the republicans, we will better serve our cause by building up a strong force to the left of the new deal."

SEEK REBUILDING OF RUINED DOCK AT PT. ORFORD

San Francisco, June 12 (AP)—Gilbert E. Gable, president of the Gold Coast railroad and other corporations interested in the development of Curry county, Oregon, conferred here today with engineers about rebuilding the Port Orford dock, which was damaged by a storm last January.

Gable said he had not conferred with bankers here about financing the dock and railroad developments, explaining no stock or shares would be offered the public because private eastern capital was carrying on the work.

He stated the railroad, on which he expected work to start some time next year, would extend 95 miles from Port Orford south to the Rogue river and thence along the river to Leland, a few miles north of Grants Pass.

The interstate commerce commission granted a certificate of convenience and necessity to the railroad last April 1, he said.

Terminating the region "the last frontier," Gable said that in Curry county there is not even a wagon road over the Cascade mountains into the interior and no incorporated towns in the 3,500,000 acres.

"The railroad will be a combination passenger and freight," he said. "It will require about a year to build, employing between 1200 and 1500 men. There will be no grade on the road of over one percent, the average being one-half of one percent."

He said the line would tap an area rich in copper, coal, lumber and iron ore.

Development was delayed, he explained, because of difficulty in convincing interests that if the area were opened by a railroad all parties would benefit.

His main reason for visiting here was to consult engineering firms on rebuilding of the Port Orford dock, which originally cost $450,000. A storm caused $150,000 damage to the dock.

"It is the biggest private development of any corporation, with the exception of the government, in the world," Gable declared. "We anticipate a slow growth and do not expect to make much money out of it."

Difficulties have been encountered because of personnel troubles, he added, but he said he believes "things would go well from now on."

NAME LUTHER SUCCESSOR TO DR. MATTHEWS

Chester H. Luther, M.A. Ph.D., assistant instructor of mathematics at Stanford university for the past few years, was named today by the board of trustees of Willamette university as successor to Dr. James T. Matthews who has been head of the mathematics department of the local university for almost half a century.

Dr. Luther, a graduate of Stanford, is 30 years of age, married and has two children. He will assume his duties at Willamette next fall. Dr. Matthews will remain with the school in a part-time capacity as instructor.

Due to the fact that further investigation was necessary, no successor to Dr. George Aiden, instructor in history, was named today. However, a successor will be named before school is resumed next fall.

The trustees spent the entire forenoon in listening to reports of President Bruce R. Baxter and going over his recommendations. Although President Baxter recommended in his report that a third of the pay cut sustained by faculty members be restored at this time no action had been taken on the matter early in the afternoon. The general opinion, however, was that his recommendations in this particular would be acted upon favorably. Faculty members and heads of departments received salary reductions of from 10 to 15 percent during the low point in the depression.

Following luncheon served in the dining room of Lausanne hall, the trustees resumed their deliberations. Commencement exercises were to be held at the Elsinore theatre late this afternoon and the week's program brought to a close this evening in the gymnasium when alumni hold their banquet and conduct the annual business session.

Mrs. Hull joined the staff at Oregon State college as secretary in the office of Dr. W. J. Kerr, president, in 1910. She will be replaced as Dr. Hunter's secretary by Marvin C. Wilbur, Salem.

Wilbur graduated from Oregon State college in secretarial science this year. During his last year in college, he was editor of the Bargometer student daily.

Plan to deepen upper Columbia

Portland, June 12 (AP)—U. S. engineers opened the way today to start of a $250,000 project extending the Columbia river channel from Celilo to Umatilla.

They called for bids to excavate a channel at least seven feet deep at low water and 150 feet wide through all shoals and rapids between 66 and 85 miles above Celilo Falls. The work would include taming of the treacherous Miller's Drift and Devil's Bend rapids.

The engineers said 14,510 cubic yards of rock must be removed from Devil's Bend and 53,000 yards from Miller's Drift. Engineers said tests showed the river bottom was solid rock.

MURDER PLOT FOR INSURANCE BEING PROBED

Springfield, Mass., June 12 (AP)—Investigation by the state board of registration on pharmacy of sales of a patented tonic containing arsenic was requested by District Attorney Thomas F. Moriarty today in connection with purported mass murders to collect "speculative insurance."

Authorities suspected racketeers may have murdered 50 and possibly more heavily-insured persons during the past 15 years in the Chicopee-Ludlow-Indian Orchard area. Three recent deaths under inquiry were believed caused by poison. The victims previously were supposed to have died as result of heart attacks or accidents.

The Boston Mutual Life Insurance company filed bills in equity today seeking to cancel two $1,000 policies on the life of Frank Kroil of Ludlow, who died May 25 presumably from a fall downstairs at his home. Kroil's death was one of those being investigated.

Center of the probable racket was an "insurance conscious" industrial area of about 60,000 population. All three men whose deaths were being investigated were said to have been heavily insured by an unnamed company which reportedly had written 300 live policies in Ludlow alone.

Routine inquest into the death of Frank Halgas, Ludlow laborer, uncovered the alleged racket, Halgas, who was said to have carried between $8,000 and $10,000 insurance, supposedly was killed by an automobile near his home April 4. Trial Judge George B. Haas of Ludlow found during the Halgas inquest, however, that the victim's body "contained so much poison that it is apparent a serious crime has been committed, which calls for a most searching investigation."

Judge Haas said there have been "between 35 and 50 suspicious deaths" in Ludlow, Chicopee and Indian Orchard in the past 15 years. "By suspicious," he said, "I mean that many of them were insured by outsiders for amounts they themselves were unable to carry."

DISABLED VETS NEXT MEET AT M'MINNVILLE

Medford, Ore., June 12 (AP)—A report of the legislative committee of the disabled American Veterans' convention here, recommending that new legislation be sought by disabled veterans, from the next session of the legislature "Be conservative in nature," was adopted by the convention this morning.

It was explained on the floor of the convention that the purpose of the organization was "to retain the benefits now enjoyed, rather than to propose near measures, that might lessen the benefits."

The legislative committee in its report recommended no new legislation.

A resolution favoring the lowering of tax exemptions for disabled veterans and a resolution favoring the removal of silverware from the historic battleship Oregon were rejected.

McMinnville was named as the 1937 convention city late yesterday, after Bend had withdrawn its bid. The convention will be held the second week of next June.

The auxiliary convention devoted the morning session to the reading and completion of annual reports. Nomination and election of state officers for the coming year were scheduled for this afternoon.

The convention will close tonight with a grand ball and installation of the newly elected officers. The disabled veterans were guests at a banquet last night.

PILOT OF JONES DIES OF INJURIES

Dallas, Texas, June 12 (AP)—Eugene Schacher of Houston, co-pilot of the plane which crashed with Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, and four others yesterday, died of his injuries today. The passengers who lived through a flaming-dive from a mile in the sky, were praised by the pilots for being "cool as cucumbers."

Jones and his party in turn, gave Pilots Ed Hefley and Schacher full credit for saving them from a fiery death. The other passengers were former Gov. and Mrs. W. F. Hobby and Joe Toomey, Jones' secretary.

After a "belly" landing that tore out the ship's motor in a plowed field—Jones called it a "beautiful" landing—the chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation dragged Hefley from the blazing cabin.

A member of President Roosevelt's party, Jones made a dedicatory speech at the unveiling of a statue here yesterday and was headed for his Houston home when, 20 miles south of Dallas, flames broke out in the pilot's cabin of the private plane.

"We were paying no attention to anything in particular," Hefley said, "when we smelled gasoline. I cut the switches and put the ship into a dive—I don't know exactly, but there was a flash and we were on fire."

"We hit flat on the belly of the ship," the pilot added. "The impact tore the motor loose from the frame. The plane silted and bumped to a stop, with flames eating at the forward compartment."
