Looks like good weather for Father's Day.

POOR OLD DAD "Father's day is a dud," confided a restaurant and confectionary store proprietor to us this morning.

So the restaurants may catch up on their trade we suggest they feature raspberries on their Father's Day menu and get the whole family out.

In most cases if the family on Father's Day tell papa to take his fish rod and get out for the day he'll consider it the greatest stroke of love and sentiment the family can confer and will probably send them a box of bonbons to show his appreciation.

BID FOR LONG VOTE VOICED BY LEMKE LEADER

Burdick Makes Vitriolic Attack upon Farley Deal with Leche

Truce Made with Administration Called Betrayal of Long

Washington, June 20 (AP)—The newly launched union third party of Rep. William Lemke today made an apparent bid for support from remnants of Huey Long's share-the-wealth group.

The bid came in a vitriolic attack by Rep. Usher Burdick, R., N. D., close associate of Lemke, upon an alleged "deal" between Postmaster General James A. Farley and Louisiana's Lemke.

Burdick asked Farley and Long's political heirs.

Burdick repeated the "deal" and remain faithful to share-the-wealth ideals.

The bid to the share-the-wealthers came a few hours after Lemke had announced his third party candidacy on a platform which was quickly approved in a nation-wide address by the Rev. Charles Coughlin who put the strength of his name.

ROSS RUNS FOR SENATE TOGA

Boise, Idaho, June 20 (AP)—C. Ben Ross, governor of Idaho for the past three terms and political sage of the state democratic party today announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

Ross' announcement presaged the hottest fight in Idaho's political history. It was expected the grey-haired, ex-owpuncher would oppose William E. Borah, Idaho's veteran statesman who has served the state in the senate 30 consecutive years.

Democratic politicians predicted Ross would base his campaign on the premise that he can do more good for the state of Idaho than Borah; that the senate has become a national and international figure and no longer continues to serve solely the interests of Idaho.

Six years ago, Ross became governor of Idaho—the first native son to occupy the chief executive's chair. During his three administrations, Ross inaugurated several new state-house departments and brought to culmination fruitless legislation.

Portland, Ore., June 20 (AP)—Ray W. Gill, master of the state Grange said today that he made no mention of a farmer-labor party or any third party, in his speech before the state labor convention last week.

He branded news reports of the formation of labor convention at Klamath Falls as inaccurate and misleading. I did not mention the farmer-labor party or a third party and did not have such in my thoughts.

BLAMES HEARST FOR NEW THIRD PARTY

Chicago, June 20 (AP)—Representative William Lemke's third party presidential candidate—labeled a "tragic mistake" by Howard V. Williams, national organizer for the farmer-labor party—was studied by midwestern political leaders today.

Williams described the move in Sioux Falls, S. D., last night as "an effort to split the progressive vote and let the republicans in."

"The voice is the voice of Lemke," he said, "but the hand is the hand of William Randolph Hearst."

FARLEY SEEKS TWO MILLIONS FOR CAMPAIGN

Expenditures Figured on Same Basis as Those of Four Years Ago

Predicts Democratic Platform to be Not Over 2000 Words Long

Philadelphia, June 20 (AP)—A money-raising goal of $2,000,000 was fixed for the 1936 campaign today by Chairman James A. Farley of the democratic national committee, with the added assertion that that was the amount spent by the party in 1932.

He told reporters he expected "a million people" to attend "Roosevelt nominator" rallies throughout the country a week from tonight when the president is scheduled to accept his re-nomination at Franklin field here.

In response to a request for comment on a report that Senator Metcalf (R., R.I.) had exhibited a letter from Farley to the Providence postmaster, asking him to solicit postal employees for campaign funds, the national chairman said:

"I don't know a thing about that particular letter. I'll look it up."

He then recalled that he had in mind the amount spent by the party in 1932.

The strike, affecting the city's 40 new car service departments and about 800 workers, is a demand for the closed shop and union wage guarantees of 90 cents an hour and $25 a week.

The emergency strike "committee of fifteen," chosen by several hundred business men meeting at the industrial council of Washington, resumed conferences today, with the object of re-opening repair shops next week.

Meantime Superior Judge Hugh C. Todd postponed until June 28, the petition of two motor companies for a picketing injunction and the city council had before it a proposal for legislation next week against mass picketing. This bill has the support of lumber interest also.

Martin, the police state, lay in wait for his former wife at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Read where she had a room. He shot her through the temple, killing her instantly, then turned the weapon upon himself, firing two bullets through his head.

The Evans family conducted a small grocery store at the corner of 17th and Commerce streets. The father died and the remainder of the family moved to Portland in the early 1920's and then went on to Los Angeles.

New York, June 20 (AP)—A new born political party—the Union Party of the United States with William Lemke of North Dakota as its presidential candidate—was swaddled today in an endorsement by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin.

The Roman Catholic priest, who has built a radio following into the National Union for Social Justice, termed its platform a rallying ground for dissident republicans and democrats and others and declared the farm leader and non-millionaire republican congressman, was "eligible" for the organization's support.

Speaking last night, the priest predicted: "Behind it (the new party) will rally agriculture, labor, the disappointed republicans and the out- (Concluded on page 3, column 1)"

HOOVER PLANS TO RESUME FIGHT

Palo Alto, Cal., June 20 (AP)—Former President Hoover announced from his home here today that although he may have retired to professional work, he has not "quit the fight for American ideals in government and for decency in American life."

The announcement followed disclosure by friends that Hoover had gone back to work at his old job of mining engineer, happy at his political vindication at the republican convention in Cleveland where he was given a tremendous ovation.

"The news story that I have retired to professional work," Hoover said, "may be misinterpreted. For the last three years I have done occasional professional work, as I found it necessary, I shall continue that."

"But I have not quit the fight for American ideals in government and for decency in American life. I do not intend to, for one moment."

Hoover's announcement followed his return from an inspection trip to a mine in central California, which, friends said, he visited in his professional capacity as a consulting engineer.

COFFEY SENTENCE DUE ON MONDAY

Circuit Judge Latourette will have the center of the circuit court stage next week in other matters being set in either department up to date.

Next Monday he is scheduled to impose sentence on Orey G. Coffey at 10 o'clock in the morning as result of a verdict of guilty lodged against him by a jury following a bribery trial. A motion for a new trial has been interposed but it is likely sentence will be imposed first and the motion for a new trial argued afterwards.

The statute under which Coffey was indicted carries a minimum sentence of five years in prison.

It is possible that arguments may be heard by Judge Latourette while he is here on the demurrer to one of the indictments against Sheriff A. C. Burdick. He pleaded not guilty to the other indictment. Both indictments have to do with allowing prisoners to leave the county jail, one a voluntary release and the other an escape.

BRITISH PROTEST CABINETS ACT

London, June 20 (AP)—Thousands of letters swelled parliamentary mailbags today in protest against the government's decision to support lifting of sanctions against Italy.

Many persons, at home and abroad, wrote and cabled their opinions to Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Anthony Eden, foreign secretary.

Mail trucks rolled through London streets bringing other letters to parliamentary representatives in the house of commons.

Labor leaders, sponsoring the protest campaign, left for weekend speaking tours by which they hope to increase the volume of protest against the cabinet's action.

The liberal party passed resolutions proclaiming the government's declaration "a political disaster of the first magnitude" while the league of nations union urged its members to "use all constitutional means" to obtain reversal of the decision.

The support of scores of politicians, municipal mayors and ministers was thrown to a manifesto issued by the Non-Partisan Ethiopian association which demanded Great Britain refuse to recognize Italy's annexation of Ethiopia.

LAST OF STRIKE BALLOTS CAST

Portland, June 20 (AP)—The last of a ballot expected to contain nearly 10,000 votes poured into boxes here today in a second attempt by labor leaders, employers and state labor commissioner Charles Gram to settle the six-weeks strike and lockout of Columbia basin logging camps.

Gram said the ballots would be counted tomorrow by a committee composed of himself, Ernest P. Marsh, federal labor conciliator, and Bert W. Sleeman, carpenters' union official. The count will require most of the day.

Loggers and mill workers voted previously on a proposed agreement reached two weeks ago between union leaders, employers and Gram but the ballot was invalidated when one box was found open.

The agreement provides a 7 1/2 per cent wage increase, uniform hours, and an independent hiring hall supervised by Gram. Acceptance of it by the loggers probably would re-open the 28 closed camps within a few days, Gram said he believed employers were satisfied.

INSPECTION DAY CAMP GLATSPOP

Astoria, June 20 (AP)—The house-keeping ability of Oregon's national guardmen underwent the critical inspection of Major General George A. White, commanding the 41st division, and Brigadier-General Thomas E. Riley, commanding the 82nd brigade today.

After the inspection, the soldiers were given their liberty until evening Monday, when military maneuvers at Camp Glataspop will be resumed.

Care Will be Used in Moving Prisoners to Boys Training School

Despite local criticism of Governor Martin's announced policy of transferring youthful prisoners from the penitentiary to the state training school for boys to relieve congestion the executive said today that the policy would be carried out, but that selections would be careful.

Following a conference with Warden Lewis, Superintendent S. B. Laughlin of the training school and members of the parole board, the governor announced arrangements would be made to transfer about 40 boys to the training school, a few at a time. The law permits the transfer of prisoners under 21 years of age, Governor Martin pointed out.

Warden Lewis stated there were 62 inmates at the penitentiary who were under 21 years of age, technical
