Earwigs Annoying Auburn Residents

Auburn — Earwigs are more numerous this year than ever before. They are causing trouble to rot on one side or altogether, and are found in numbers inside ily bells where they destroy the blossoms rapidly, and are finding their way into houses where they are very annoying. One farmer finds them in his mail box in large numbers. He has been spraying them with gasoline which gives temporary relief, as those contacted are destroyed immediately.

Club Youth Thrills

Gates—The 4-H club school at Corvallis have returned home and are giving glowing accounts of the thrills of the work which more than 1400 young people had part in. Attending were Wanda White, Dan Bellard, Norman Carey, Audrey Sallard, Phyllis Scott and Phyllis Jones.

ENGINEERS GATHER AT COLORADO PARK

Corvallis—Five present or former members of the department of agricultural engineering at Oregon State college attended the thirtieth annual meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, held at Estes Park, Colo., last week. Most of them drove to the convention and combined a vacation trip with attendance at the meetings.

Those attending from here included Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walker, members of the staff at the present time, C. J. Hurd of Albany, formerly on the staff here, with Mrs. Hurd, and M. R. Lewis, professor of soil irrigation and drainage.

Price was on the program to deliver a comprehensive technical paper on the experiments with dehydration of various farm products in Oregon being conducted by the experimental station.

Wallace Visitors End Summer Call

Silverton—Relatives who have been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wallace of the Silverton Hills section have returned home.

Wallace's mother, Mrs. Augusta Sears, who is 76 years of age, is a native Californian and this was her first trip into an adjoining state. Other guests for the fortnight were the members of the family of Wallace's sister, Mr. and Mrs. V. Lee, and their daughter, Dorothy, who spent several days at Seattle as guests of Lee's brother, A. Lee.

Studio is Closed

Silverton—Mrs. Gertrude Cameron has closed her piano studio for the summer months and is assisting Mrs. A. H. Smith with her clothing out sale of the Needle Craft shop on East Main street. Mrs. Smith's health will not permit her to continue with the business.

Gates Lyons Hosts

Gates—The young people of the Christian Endeavor society entertained the members of the Lyons society Sunday evening in a social hour following the regular program. The visitors furnished the leader and special music.

PROPERTIES IN VALLEY CHANGE TITLE IN DEALS

Yoder—An unusual turn-over of home farm property has been made recently in this section with H. Midvoe the buyer. In the Rural Dell district, Midvoe has the Neus and E. E. Addington farms and in the Mt. Hope section, the George Palmer and Wiggins ranches. Midvoe lately came to the Yoder community from the Dakotas and feels that many other mid-western agriculturalists will soon settle in this neighborhood.

Jefferson — Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Stephenson and family have purchased the E. J. Shumaker property on Second street and plan to move in about two weeks. The J. R. Colgan family who have been living in the Shumaker residence, have leased the V. D. Looney house on Third and Church street.

Butterville — Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Frost have sold their seven-acre farm and will move to their home in Portland July 1. The Frosts have lived here for eleven years. A veteran and his wife, from California, have purchased the Frost farm.

Aurora—H. G. Ziegler, owner and manager of the grain and feed warehouse here, is installing two rooms in connection with the warehouse to be used as a fumigating plant for Austrian peas. The installation of this plant in the warehouse will make it handy for the grower, as it will save re-handling. The peas, as brought to the warehouse by the farmers after being fumigated, can be loaded directly onto the cars.

Broadacres—Electricity has been installed in most of the Broadacres homes, the work being completed the latter part of the week.

North Santiam—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reeves have commenced the erection of their house on their property here recently purchased from A. Perry.

Bethany—In the building and landscape improvement of the country home of P. T. Gatchett are a new lawn leveled and planted, an arbutus and perennials placed, a garage and kitchen are being built and the house has a new roof. The Gatchetts recently purchased the property.

Hastings En Route From Nevada Home

Silverton—Charles Hastings and family are enroute to Silverton from Nevada. Mrs. Hastings will be remembered as Helen Stevens who attended high school here. She visited Silverton three years ago for several months. Her children were pupils in the school during that time. He hopes to find opportunity to do Hastings has been working on government buildings in Boulder City, case here or nearby in Oregon. The house at 110 North Second street, known as the Wray home, on the corner of Oak, has been rented by Hastings for the family. The Hastings have four children, Juanita, Richard, Beverly and Olive.

Sprauer Farm Scene Of Family Gathering

Mt. Angel—A family reunion was held Sunday at Sprauer's farm when a picnic luncheon was enjoyed with covers placed for Mr. and Mrs. James Haines, Mr. and Mrs. L. Long and family, and Mrs. Anna Chapin, all of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scharbach of Oregon City, Mr. and Mrs. M. MacCaine and son of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Scharbach, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Weston, and children, Margaret, Sally, Michael and William, and Albin Bean, of Mt. Angel.

Silverton—Returning with the Oregon National Guard, Company I, Tuesday, were Mrs. Harry Riches and son, Mrs. Lee Alfred and son, Mrs. Alfred's mother and sister, Mrs. B. A. Sanders and Miss Letah Sanders, and Miss Stella Dybek. A group of women, whose husbands are with the company, visited relatives near Camp Clatsop during the encampment period.

Telescopes Are Available Upon Cloudless Days

Corvallis—If the sky is clear, the telescopes on the roof of the physics building on the college campus are open Tuesday and Wednesday nights from 8:30 to 9:30. Children will be allowed Tuesday night and adults Wednesday. This season is particularly good for viewing objects in the heavens, authorities say, because the moon and Jupiter and his moons are favorably situated. Saturn, with its ring system and nine moons, is also in a good position to be viewed. Dr. W. B. Anderson is in charge of the telescope and public observation periods.

WILL FAMILIES MEET AT RIVER

Hubbard—Young Ray Will, just beginning to toddle, was the youngest member in the Will clan gathering at the Ed Miller summer home on the Molalla Sunday. Ray is the son of Lester and Katherine Will of Hubbard. Others from Hubbard attending this reunion were Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wolfer, Stanley and Sarah, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. CLEANING FIRM ERECTING HOME

Monmouth—Ozell Price is the contractor for the new cleaning establishment now in the beginning of construction west of the city hall. The building which is being constructed of tile and brick has a dimension of 37½ by 90 and will face Main street with a two story frontage. The plans include a sizable apartment at the rear of the building to be occupied by the proprietor, J. L. Norris and his family. A tractor operated by Wayne Hanna was used in leveling off the site, the past week. The structure will be ready for use August 1.

Lockie Cooper of The Dalles has disposed of his residence on N. East street, Monmouth, to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Van Loan, and was here Monday to close the final transaction. The house was built by Mr. Cooper while operating a barber shop in Monmouth prior to his launching into the barber trade in The Dalles. Mr. Van Loan was formerly city mail carrier and is now a clerk in the local post office.

J. H. Cady has closed a deal with Guy Deming for the residence property on E. Jackson street, which he and Mrs. Cady have been leasing since their arrival in Monmouth last spring. The Cady's, formerly of Minnesota, are now engaged in the mercantile business in Monmouth.

Breath Sought Between Great Season Events

Silverton—Although the small town is still tired from effects of the big convention of last week, interest is picking up for the Fourth of July celebration this week-end.

To add more old-time flavor, a goddess of liberty and two princesses have been selected by the committee on general plans including Mrs. Lee Inman, Mrs. E. A. Sewell, Mrs. R. J. Baldwin and Mrs. J. C. Schlador. Jerry Duncan will be goddess and her princesses Margie Inman and Ruth Nelson.

Music will be furnished by Joe Hassenstab and his 4-L boys. The patriotic program of varied musical numbers and the address will be at the city park immediately following the parade which will form at 10 o'clock. George Cusler is program chairman and has planned for Alfred E. Dodson, attorney of Portland, to give the address of the day. Rev. Frank W. Zook of the First Christian church will invoke the blessing.

L. C. Eastman is to be in charge of games and sports with Ernie Boesch and W. L. McGinnis heading the Silver Falls baseball team for a scheduled game. This team is gaining a reputation fast as a good club.

Farewell Offered Butteville Women

Butteville—A group of neighbors, members of the Ladies' Aid and friends, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Frost Friday afternoon to bid farewell to Mrs. Frost, a member of the Aid, before she moves to Portland.

Present were Mrs. George Young, Mrs. James McGuire, Mrs. R. E.
