

HOLMAN HAS EARLY RECORD OF HIS OFFICE

State Treasurer Holman's newest prize possession is a sheet of blue, water-marked paper on which is written one of the earliest records of his office.

A receipt from Edward N. Cooke, Oregon's 1224 republican state treasurer, to J. D. Boon, who preceded him, the document was found by Mrs. Hal Patton, Salem, whose late husband was a grandson of Cooke.

The paper is dated September 8, 1862. In long-hand it is written "Received from J. D. Boon, the former state treasurer of the state of Oregon, the following state moneys and other property as follows:

"In cash and gold coin this sum $33,914.43

"In notes and mortgages of the common school and university funds this sum $17,905.35

"Five new state books.

"Two old state books.

"One common school book, old.

"One writing desk.

"One safe.

"Cash for our safe Forty Dollars ($40) sold by J. D. Boon to Luther Elkins. And a large bundle of old cancelled state warrants."

"Edwin N. Cooke, state treasurer."

Hint Offered For Shooting Rattlers

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 21 (UP)—Best method of winning a rattlesnake's friendship—if his friendship is desired—is to treat him gently, and even scratch the back of his neck. Jack Raymon, Chicago herpetologist, advises.

There is nothing that annoys a rattler more than quick movements, the reptile authority said. By easy, gentle handling the snake can be made into a friend in three or four weeks.

As for the nonpoisonous snakes, they are companionable creatures, he said, and write contentedly in the hands of a handler after 30 minutes.

Saturday Set Aside As Little Pig Day

Medford, Wis., Aug. 21 (UP)—Squeals and grunts literally overrun this city every Saturday when farmers for miles around come to town with pigs ready for market.

"Little pig market day" already has become a popular institution in this vicinity, and many of Wisconsin's outstanding buyers attend.

Rules For Jelly Making

If you want your jelly to be firm and beautiful in color, yet not too hard and rubbery, you must follow certain important rules. The amount of sugar needed for jelly will vary with the fruit used. In a general way 1/2 to 1 cup of sugar per cup of extracted fruit juice is a safe rule to follow.

Jambalaya Is Just the Thing

One cup rice, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 1/2 cups diced tomatoes, 1 onion, thyme, parsley, 1 green pepper, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 red garlic (optional), few drops tabasco sauce, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 slice ham, 1 cup cleaned shrimp, 4 cups water.

Melt butter and stir in flour and cook and stir until bubbly. Add ham which has been finely chopped, shrimp and tomatoes. Cook a few minutes and add onion, herbs, shredded green pepper salt and other seasonings, and water. Cook slowly for 15 minutes and add rice. Cover and boil until rice is tender. It will take about half an hour. Or when the rice is added the heat can be reduced and the mixture cooked for an hour over very low heat.

Such fruits as blackberry, apple, black raspberry, cranberry, quinces and red raspberries require 1/2 of a cup of sugar to each cup of juice. Crabapples, currants, gooseberries and wild grapes require 1 cup of sugar to each cup of juice. Fruit that is just a bit under-ripe is best for jelly making. If it is possible to obtain under-ripe fruit, 1 tablespoon of strained lemon juice added to each cup of fruit juice will produce almost the same result. The lemon juice should be added when combining the sugar and fruit juice to be boiled together. It is unimportant whether cane or beet sugar is used but in either case remember that too much sugar makes syrupy jelly while too little will prevent your juices from jelling at all.

It is best to use a large flat-bottomed kettle in making jelly so that rapid evaporation can take place. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then cook only long enough to obtain the jelling test. For this dip a large spoon into the boiling syrup and lift the spoon so the juice runs off at the side. When the juice "sheets" turn off the heat. The jelly is then ready to pour into hot sterile glasses.

Olives in Dressing

Chopped ripe olives make a fine addition to Thousand Island dressing. Combine chopped olives with finely cut celery, radishes, cucumber, hard cooked egg, pimiento, onion, sweet pepper to make an individual variation. Use the customary combination of mayonnaise and chili sauce or catsup as background, or substitute whipped cream and add seasoning for the chili sauce if a white dressing is preferred.

Chilled stewed prunes, blended with almonds and marshmallows, make a good dessert.

"GREAT VAN-TAGE WORKED WONDERS FOR ME!" SAYS WELL KNOWN OREGON MAN

MR. CARL L. MORRISON, Well-Known Oregon Man, Who Says: "VAN-TAGE Ended All My Stomach Gas and Bloating; Relieved My Constipation!" Read His Amazing Statement Below!

Another Widely-Known Resident of this section, Mr. Carl L. Morrison, of Independence, Ore., is now publicly praising and endorsing VAN-TAGE, the "Amazing Mixture of Nature's Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents" now being introduced to crowds daily here in Salem by a Special Van-Tage Representative, known as The VAN-TAGE Man, at 170 N. Read this widely-known and highly-respected man's truthful testimonial, and see for yourself what Van-Tage CAN DO!

Stomach Gas and Bloat; Awful Constipation!

"I had been troubled with gas, bloat and constipation for a period of five or six years," said Mr. Morrison. After my meals it seemed that my food just refused to digest, but would form a knot in the pit of my stomach and cause me all kinds of suffering. The awful gas would form in my stomach and press up against my chest so hard it caused me to be short of breath. Besides this, I was always taking some kind of physic or laxative for constipation, but they gave me only temporary relief and then I would be as bad as ever.

How Van-Tage Relieved All His Suffering!

"I started reading about Van-Tage in the papers, and the people who endorsed this medicine seemed so honestly grateful for it that I decided to try it and see if it would help me. I have taken a lot of different medicines in my time, but I want you to know that the very first bottle convinced me that Van-Tage was certainly the medicine for my trouble. I am here to tell you that it has actually done WONDERS for me! I can eat my meals now and enjoy them without having that awful lump in my stomach, and I don't bloat up with horrible stomach gas like I did. It gave my bowels a GREAT CLEANSING and now they are regular as clock-work. My nerves are fine and I feel much better all over, thanks to this wonderful Van-Tage. I shall always be glad to recommend it."

Anybody Can Afford to Take the Van-Tage
