COLLEGE STAFF CHANGES MADE

Corvallis—Naming of two new department heads and the appointment of several staff members for the coming year not previously announced were among the personnel items passed upon at the recent meeting of the state board of higher education held in Portland, according to officials of the college.

The advance in rank of George W. Gleason to associate professor in chemical engineering and acting head of that department was one of the changes made. He replaces Dr. Charles S. Kevill, who resigned recently to accept a position at Bucknell university in Pennsylvania.

Another change in the department heads was the appointment of A. S. Burrier as head of the department of farm management, and his advance to the rank of full professor. He succeeds H. E. Selby, who has been on leave of absence for more than a year on a special appointment with the re-settlement administration. Selby recently submitted his resignation.

Advance in rank to full professor without change in salary was provided for R. E. Dimick, head of the new department of fish, game and fur animal management. To care for the increased enrollment in that work, Dr. F. P. Griffiths has just been appointed instructor in fish and game management.

TRIO INJURED AS CARS CRASH

Woodburn—Three people were taken to the Woodburn hospital Saturday night and the Woodburn fire department was called out after an accident involving two cars and a truck ended in a fire.

The injured were Lorraine McViker of Hubbard, Lester Sykes and Cecil Large of Gervais. Their injuries consisted mainly of cuts and bruises and the two boys were released from the hospital but Miss McViker is being held until the extent of her injuries is fully determined.

The accident happened about 9:30 o'clock on the Broadcross road. The two cars, traveling in opposite directions, sideswiped, and the south-bound car steered head-on into a truck which was behind the other car, forcing the truck which was driven by Dell Coyner, into the ditch and damaging it considerably. The car immediately took fire but a record run was made by the Woodburn fire department and the flames were soon extinguished. The car was badly damaged by the collision.

The north bound car was also damaged and ended up in a ditch about 100 feet north of the place where the collision occurred.

Only farms on which work sheets have been filed will be considered in this measuring program.

REDUCED GAS RATES PLEASE

Corvallis—Reduced gas rates for automatic water heating and refrigeration were announced here today by Leif Bergsvik, Willamette valley district manager for the Portland Gas & Coke company, who also manages the Corvallis, Albany and Salem offices. Those cooking with gas are offered a new combination rate which is supplementary to the company's existing rates for combined cooking, water heating and house heating service, he announced.

Promotional in character, the new rates will mean a saving to customers immediately affected, and will open the way to additional savings to those who take advantage of the offer, Mr. Bergsvik said.

"Calculations under the new rates show that a customer now using only a gas automatic water heater can use, on the average, 40 per cent more gas for the same money ordinarily paid," he stated.

The new combination schedule makes it possible for a customer using a gas automatic water heater to add gas for cooking and refrigeration at a small monthly cost, Bergsvik says. Customers owning only a gas refrigerator will get their gas on new rates also.
