

STOCKS SOAR THEN DROP ON PROFIT TAKING

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—The stock market rose to new high ground since 1931 in early trading today with volume at a rate of more than 3,000,000 shares for a full day and later encountered profit taking that brought irregularity.

Utilities were the nearest thing to a sensation the market has had during the summer. Initial blocks ranging to 30,000 shares of Commonwealth and Southern brought the first hour's sales to 640,000 shares. Thereafter dealings lightened but the total was around the best since July.

Impetus for the buying in utilities was furnished by President Roosevelt's call for a conference on the Tennessee valley authority situation. That conference will discuss TVA contracts which expire November 3. Utility men hope some agreement can be reached that will eliminate the uncertainty over government operation in the utility business.

Commonwealth and Southern has the largest stake of any utility company in the T.V. area. As a result the heaviest operations centered on its stock.

Railroad issues were watched carefully for a clue to the market's future. Their early performance in breaking through the high in the average was adjudged favorably. However, when they failed to hold the gains, operators became cautious.

Steels made small gains and then eased. Dealings were moderately active. News from the industry continued favorable.

Automobile issues made fair gains in light trading during the morning and then eased to around the previous close.

Dow Jones preliminary closing averages showed: Industrial 168.90 up 0.53, railroads 56.36 unchanged, utility 34.41 up 0.59.

Transactions approximated 1,770,000 shares compared with 1,774,570 on Friday. Curb sales approximated 272,000 shares compared with 267,000 shares Friday.

CREAMERY FIRM HAS OPEN HOUSE

Hubbard—Open house was held Saturday by the Hubbard Creamery company with Garfield Vogel, president of the company, as host, to show the new cooling plant. The system is housed in a new building to the rear of the creamery and attached by a covered driveway. It is 34 by 48 feet and it houses a thermo control system, each of the approximate 300 lockers being operated individually. The ice machine is practically noiseless, being one of the feather valve type. Working proven successful as it has been on the market for almost a hundred years. The machine was installed by William Bender with Ted Hehn as technician.

According to Vogel the community wanted a plant of this sort and lockers are rapidly being spoken for. All lockers are air spaced on all sides and the temperature will be ten degrees above zero. The pre-cooler with a temperature a few degrees above freezing, will present storage space for beverages and some types of fruits.

As the machine uses 14 gallons of water per minute to cool the compresses a water tower and tank was installed in order to use the water again and again after it is cooled. All this is automatic.

Ted Hehn, technician, called attention to the redwood tree bark which was used in the ten inch walls for insulation. Similar plants are being constructed or have been constructed in various places in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana by these men who claim that it is not only good business for a community to have access to such a plant but that it is a pleasure to install such good equipment.

This plant is the major construction in Hubbard this year.

Receipts for the first seven months of this year, $27,190,000, came from sales of livestock and livestock products, compared with $24,300,000 for the corresponding period of 1935, the department said. Sales of crops brought in $10,890,000 during the 1936 period, and $8,040,000 during the 1935 period.

CANADIAN SALES SHOVE WHEAT UP

Chicago, Sept. 21 (AP)—Late estimates that three to four million bushels of Canadian wheat were purchased today for export did much to whirl breadstuffs prices to lofty heights everywhere.

Minneapolis and Liverpool wheat markets soared to new top quotations, Liverpool the highest in more than six years. Heavy selling to realize profits led to reactions from advances in Chicago.

Contrasting with wheat, corn suffered a tumble of four cents for September contracts, the extreme permissible limit.

Wheat closed nervous, 1/4-1/2 above Saturday's finish. Sept. 1.14 1/4, Dec. 1.13 1/4-1/2, corn 1/4-1/2 down, Sept. 1.11-1.11 1/2, Dec. 84 1/2-85 1/2, off, and provisions unchanged to 27 cents lower.

Barley—Sept. close 84 1/2, Dec. 77.

Chicago, Sept. 21 (AP)—Forecast for an increase in European imports during the coming season induced active buying of wheat futures on the Chicago board of trade today. Prices advanced for net gains of a cent a bushel before selling pressure increased noticeably.

At the close wheat was up 1/2 to 3/4, Sept. 1.14 1/4, corn was down 1/2 to 3/4, Sept. 1.11-1.11 1/2, Dec. 84 1/2-85 1/2, off, and provisions unchanged to 27 cents lower.

Milk Control Board Rebuked by Council

Klamath Falls, Ore., Sept. 21 (AP)—Action of the state milk control board in placing three local creameries on probation for selling "heavy" cream below the board's minimum scale brought a sharp letter of condemnation from the city council. Members went on record favoring the abolition of any group permitted or required to penalize firms "giving customers too much for their money."

2 CENT RAISE OPENING PRICES FOR FILBERTS

The three co-operatives handling nuts were scheduled today to announce opening prices on filberts averaging about 2 cents higher than opening prices last season, according to advices received from Portland.

The new wholesale quotations followed: Barcelonas, jumbo, 18 cents per pound; large, 17 cents; fancy, 15 cents; baby, 15 cents. Du Chillys, large, 19 1/2 cents; fancy, 18 cents; baby, 16 cents. All prices are f.o.b. packing plant.

Oregon this year had the largest filbert crop the state has ever produced. The latest government report estimated the yield at 1200 tons. Last year the crop was 871 tons and the average for the previous five years was 300 tons. The crop is steadily increasing as more new trees come into bearing.

The sharp advance in filbert prices this year is due largely to Spain's civil war, that country normally supplies a large part of the European filbert demand and exports nuts as well to the United States.

This season, with the Spanish crop entirely eliminated from the market, there has been an unprecedented demand all over Europe for Italian filberts, the only other large supply available. This has caused prices to climb rapidly in the foreign markets.

WALNUT CODE AMENDMENTS

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—The agricultural adjustment administration today announced tentative approval of amendments to the marketing agreement for handlers of walnuts grown in California, Oregon and Washington.

The amendment, before becoming effective, must be signed by handlers under the agreement and the secretary of agriculture must determine that the amendments are favored by at least two-thirds of the producers by number or by volume of walnuts grown.

One amendment would establish for the crop year ending August 31, 1937, the salable percentage of walnuts at 75 per cent and the surplus percentage at 25 per cent. The salable percentage was 70 per cent and the surplus percentage 30 per cent for the crop year, ending Sept. 1, 1936. Walnuts of the salable percentage may be sold in the domestic market as shelled walnuts and walnuts of the surplus percentage may be sold either in the domestic market as shelled walnuts or exported.

Because of the short crop in Washington and Oregon this year, another amendment would exempt from the surplus obligation provisions walnuts produced in those two states during the present drop year and handled during the year. Any packer of such walnuts may at his option meet in full or part the surplus obligation that would be imposed by the agreement if the exemption were not in effect.

Other amendments seek to clarify the agreement.

DUROC JERSEY SHIPPED BY MILLER

Silverton—Tom Miller, prominent in local and state F. F. A. projects and organizations, shipped a Duroc Jersey gilt to Bonanza, Ore., where the swine will be used for breeding purposes in Klamath county project contacts.

The gilt was from a May 15 litter and weighed over 100 pounds. Miller sent the gilt by railway express Friday afternoon with an all night ride to her destination.

The Klamath county F. F. A.'s wished two other swine from Miller's herd but none was available.

The crate used for shipping was made by Miller and was considered exceptionally fine for such purposes and will be returned to Miller.

Miller has been outstanding in the Smith-Hughes work directed by Warren E. Crabtree, before and after his finishing the agricultural course several years ago. He manages a large acreage for growing grain and hay and has an enviable start in the line of animal husbandry.

New Lime Spreader At Office of Agent

Dallas—A new lime spreader, capable of spreading either wet or dry stone, has been received at the county agent's office for demonstration purposes. The local lime plant made the use of this spreader available to farmers in Polk county and demonstrations can be arranged by contacting W. C. Leth, county agent.

The machine is in the low price class and its manufacturers claim that it can also be used to advantage in spreading fertilizers and other materials at rates varying from one hundred pounds to several tons per acre. In operation it is attached behind a wagon, truck or other machine and pulled across the field. Demonstration dates, time and places will be announced shortly.
