

PARTY LEADERS TELL SMITH TO QUIT THE FOLD

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, champion among other things of the late Huey P. Long's "share-the-wealth" plan, was invited today to "take a walk" from the third party movement.

Strained relations between Smith and Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old age pension organization founder, burst after the Louisiana orator announced he had organized a group to "seize the government of the United States."

It was the first serious break between the three organizations which united in support of Rep. William Lemke for president—the Townsend national recovery organization, Smith's group, and the national union for social justice headed by Father Charles E. Coughlin.

Union party leaders, sponsoring Lemke's candidacy, quickly sided with Townsend against Smith. Coughlin was expected to continue his championship of Lemke's policies.

Statements of the three who figured openly in the break: Smith: "I am associated with a tremendous undertaking to preserve America's nationalistic identity."

Townsend: "I am against any form of government that is undemocratic and tends toward dictatorship. Any form of nationalization or centralization tends toward this. Gerald Smith shall henceforth have no connection with our organization."

John Nystul, union party national campaign manager: "Mr. Smith in no way represents the union party or Mr. Lemke. The union party has absolutely no use for either communism or fascism."

Lemke campaigning in Idaho declined to mix in the Townsend-Smith quarrel.

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith put on a preview last night of the "rabble-rousing act" with which he expects to recruit "10,000,000 patriots" after the election.

He warned a Hippodrome audience of 1400 "smug, sleek New Yorkers" that "us cotton-choppin' commies," "baby-havin' Bible-readin' folks" will be ready with a united front when "the red dynamite the tunnels and bridges of New York."

The disciple of the late Huey P. Long reiterated his intention of leading a nation-wide crusade against "the red menace" but said his movement was "nationalistic" rather than "fascistic."

Scenes showing the nativity, the coming of the three wise men, the betrayal of Jesus, His persecution and condemnation, the Crucifixion on Calvary, and Resurrection, are said to be among the picture's outstanding features.

Gorgeous settings and true characterizations of the birth, life, passion and death of Christ mark the production as one of the greatest of all time.

RALPH YODER, 55, LISTED AS SUICIDE

Marquam, Oct. 21—Ralph Yoder, 55, farmer living about four miles northwest of here, was listed as a suicide today after his body was found hanging in his barn about 8 o'clock this morning.

The body was found by his widow, Mrs. Anna Yoder.

Dependancy over ill health and the loss of his hearing several months ago is believed responsible for Yoder's act.

He is also survived by a daughter, Ruth Anna Yoder; four brothers, Aaron, Perry, Abbott and L. B. Yoder; and two sisters, Mrs. James Watson and Mrs. A. F. Ayman, all of this section.

83 AUTO LICENSES REVOKED IN MONTH

A record number of automobile drivers' license revocations were recorded for Oregon during September when the secretary of state reported 83 were denied the right to drive because of traffic law violations. Thirty-six others had their licenses suspended.

Driving while intoxicated resulted in 78 revocations alone, with only seven reported in Portland and the remainder in up-state areas. Reckless driving caused 23 suspensions. The secretary of state reported 700 traffic law convictions in the state during the month.

Drager Collecting All Capitol Bills

In accordance with a resolution of the 1935 Oregon legislature, Fred Drager, chief clerk of the house of representatives, is collecting all legislative proceedings having to do with the construction of the new state capitol building. The proceedings will be deposited in the cornerstones of the new structure.

A scroll containing the signatures of Governor Martin, Secretary of State Snell, State Treasurer Holman, members of the capitol construction commission, and legislators who served at the special 1935 session will go into the cornerstone. The scroll is now being printed and will soon be circulated for the signatures.

OLD COMPANY M CALLS REUNION

The annual reunion of old Company M, Third Oregon Infantry, later the 162nd Infantry, will be held at the Quella Saturday night at 7 o'clock. The date is always selected the closest to that when the company left Camp Clackamas. The ex-service men formerly held their banquet on the Saturday night closest to December 12, the date the regiment left for overseas duty. This was abandoned because of conflict with another regimental reunion.

Phil Ringle, chairman of the reunion banquet committee, estimates that at least 38 of the original 150 men in the unit will attend. Twenty-five are now dead and another 35 on the "missing" list. Ferris Abbott, Portland, will be master of ceremonies. Ringle, assisted by R. S. (Spec) Keene and Theron Hoover, is making efforts to have the original company quartet, consisting of Abbott, Victor Reed, Seattle, Earl Headrick and Herman P. McInturff, present.

Besse Swegle from Clifford Swegle with household effects granted to plaintiff. Eddie Woods vs. Paul Woods, decessor. Alice Hill vs. Grant Hill, wife restored her former name of Alice Moss.

John H. Williams filed suit for divorce from Mattie E. Williams charging desertion. They were married at Dallas, November, 1925 and desertion in November 1926 is charged. Ratification of property settlement is asked. Hazel I. Morrison filed suit for divorce from Charles R. Morrison alleging cruel and inhuman treatment. Custody of a child is asked. The couple were married August 9, 1926, at Green Bay, Wis.

STATE ABSENTEES APPLY FOR BALLOTS

If home voters display the same comparative interest as absent voters at the forthcoming election the vote should eclipse anything seen in the past. County Clerk Boyer is receiving applications from all over the country from Marion county folks who happen to be away and wish to cast their votes via the absentee voters' ballot. Votes also are coming in this early in considerable numbers from other counties in the state although the ballot has been available but a few days.

Votes may be cast on the absent voter's ballot up to a period six days prior to the election. The county clerk receives the sealed vote and deposits it in the proper precinct ballot boxes before the boxes are distributed by the sheriff so the law places a limitation of the six days prior to the election as the last date they may be received by the county clerk. The ballot is sent to the absent voter accompanied by an envelope with an affidavit printed on the back. The voter deposits his ballot in the envelope, seals it, makes an affidavit as to his voting qualifications before a notary or other officer qualified to accept the oath and the letter is then mailed to the county clerk.

HIDDEN PLANT MAKING ARMS NEAR MANILA

Manila, P. I., Oct. 21 (AP)—Philippine army officials today announced discovery of a sub roca ammunition factory in the outskirts of Manila, and took immediate precautions against a possible renewal of Sakdalista (revolution) party warfare.

Army raiders confiscated several partially manufactured weapons, including several "paltiks"—home-made shotguns, which have been used by the Sakdala in previous revolts throughout the commonwealth.

High army officials ordered details to investigate rigidly the activities of all arms and explosives dealers in the province.

Reports of an impending Sakdal outbreak have been current in Manila for the past two weeks.

These reports were strengthened early this month when five explosions in various parts of the city, attributed to bombs, incurred property damage estimated at approximately $500,000.

Last week an unexploded bomb was discovered hidden in the Escollia, crowded downtown area of Manila.

Officials generally believed the explosions were of Sakdalista origin.

EDWARD C. WINKLER DROWNS IN EAST

Portland, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—Edward C. Winkler, Portland attorney in service of the bureau of navigation at Washington, D. C., was drowned Saturday when a sailboat capsized in Chesapeake bay, according to word received here.

He was born in Portland in 1906. He lived for a time in Bend.

Surviving are his widow, Margaret, and his mother, Mrs. Beatrice Winkler Creamer of Portland.

FLIERS' DREAM COMES TRUE AT ALAMEDA PORT

Alameda, Cal., Oct. 21 (AP)—The aeronautical dream of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Juan Trippe was to become a reality at 3 p. m. today when Pan-American Airways' Hawall Clipper takes off from Alameda airport waters to begin regular passenger service across the Pacific ocean.

Take-off of the giant four-motored flying ship with six "paying guests" aboard, bound from the United States mainland to Manila, will climax the most ambitious undertaking in the history of commercial aviation.

Five years of preparation, 11 months of actual experience in flying, without mishap, across the 5,000-mile ocean expanse, and millions of dollars spent in making the venture virtually fool-proof will form a substantial background for today's "incident" in the life of Pan-American Airways.

The pilot will be Captain Edwin C. Musick, who has been at the controls in every inaugural flight of his company.

DEVERS TO BUILD NEW APARTMENTS

J. M. Devers, attorney for the state highway commission, announces that in about three weeks he will begin the building of a three-story apartment house at the southwest corner of 15th and State.

The location is the same as that where Mr. Devers had an apartment project about a year ago, necessitating a zone readjustment at that place. The new building will contain 32 apartments. The building will be of U shape and will be faced with brick. The estimated cost has not been stated. Plans have been prepared by Clarence Smith, architect.

SALEM OFFICE OF POLICE TO MOVE

Reports have practically been confirmed that the state police will move Salem headquarters from the city hall in the near future and occupy space in the new state highway shops south of the penitentiary. The change will be made, it is said, as soon as the state-wide police-highway radio system is installed in the new buildings.

The Salem district of the state police has quartered in the city hall since 1931, and the removal will take $25 a month rental from the city.

Lyons—Mrs. John Ross is spending the week in Albany with her mother who is in the hospital.
