FEAR FELT FOR LABISH CROPS

Silverton, Ore., June 21.—Heavy rains of the last several days had Sunday afternoon raised flooding river between six and seven feet above the previous level which had not gone down to summer level. Farmers were fearful that the Lake Labish country would be flooded, which would cause a serious crop loss.

Silver creek has risen over three feet and is bank full. Abiqua creek is up nearly three feet.

The Barber planing mill on Silver creek, which ordinarily discards water power about the middle of May, due to low water, and uses electric power instead, has so far this year continued to use water, and will, the management said, continue to for several weeks. Never before in the memory of the operators has this condition existed.

In the Silverton hills growers estimate that three-fourths of the present strawberry crop has been lost. In higher altitudes, including the De Santis farm, there is hope of half a crop.

Gibbons Sues Ralph On Slander Charge

Eight hundred and fifty dollars damages are asked by Leonard Gibbons against Wallace Ralph in a slander action filed in circuit court. Both of the men are barbers. Ralph, proprietor of a Liberty street barber shop, recently had a window broken in the shop. Gibbons alleges that by innuendo Ralph placed the blame on him. Gibbons says the defendant did not accuse him by name but described the window breaker in such a manner as to implicate the crime to him. The plaintiff asks general damages of $500 $100 for loss of trade and $250 punitive damages. For a time Ralph's shop was picketed as result of a disagreement with the Barbers' union, but union men disclaimed any responsibility in connection with the window breaking.
