STRIKE BLAME PLACED UPON FR

Washington, June 21 (AP)—Rep. Allen T. Treadway, R. Mass., ranking republican member of the house ways and means committee, charged in the house today that the administration was "condoning" strike activities of the committee for industrial organization.

"These efforts by John L. Lewis have been abetted by the administration," Treadway said. "It is even said that the head of the C.I.O. has demanded support of the administration as remittance for a $500,000 contribution to the last democratic campaign fund."

Treadway said that Mary Weston Vorse, magazine writer wounded by a bullet at Youngstown, O., during a fight between deputies and pickets "is a cousin of mine."

"It is indicated that she and others were acting within their rights as American citizens," he said.

Treadway contended that the attitude shown by the administration towards the strikes "is an indication of socialistic and communistic leanings of the administration."

"It is a further indictment against the administration by indicating a move toward one man control in Washington," he shouted.

RILEY WARNS AGAINST CITY EXTRAVAGENCE

Evils of self-assessments voted by municipalities were presented the chamber of commerce Monday noon by R. Earl Riley, Portland commissioner of finance, with the advice not to incur obligations by the bonding route unless demanded for health, peace and safety with the hope that payment might be made through a "santa claus."

Experiences in Portland were related by the speaker, including the first $20,000 bond issue to take snags and sandbars out of the Willamette river with subsequent rebonding necessary and an excessive aggregate interest payment. Portland, Commissioner Riley said, spent one million dollars for a water main that might as well have been delayed for a few years, and since then has paid a million and a quarter in interest. The combined figure would have built two mains had caution been exercised. Salem is not enjoying the same low interest rate that is accorded other cities in Oregon, he said.

Municipal government is just what the people demand, he said, and the type of city officials necessary to carry out these demands are elected. When city authorities, under pressure, carry out the expressed wishes of the voters, incurring additional obligations and increasing the tax burden, they are blamed by the people whose mandate they carried out.

Commissioner Riley, as acting mayor, accompanied the Russian consul to Vancouver Barracks Sunday. Those of Salem who did not go to Pearson field were as well off as those who did, because of the traffic congestion, he said. It took five officers 45 minutes to attempt to clear the interstate bridge for the official party, in four cars with sirens open, to make the trip. Over 100 reporters, 30 official photographers, national and local radio men literally swarmed the military reservation. A direct telephone line provided the communication with Moscow. All available soldiers and police that could be spared from Portland were unable to keep the traffic moving. People were not permitted closer than 200 feet to the Russian airplane.

POLICE FOLLOW MEAGRE CLUE

Stony Brook, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—State police analysts today examined a stained piece of blue polka-dot cloth found at Sound Beach to determine whether the stains were blood and whether the cloth was part of a polka-dot collar worn by Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons when she disappeared from her husband's estate 12 days ago.

Although investigators were reluctant to attach much significance to the fragment of cloth, it was the nearest thing to a clue found by searchers in the vicinity of the Parsons property.

Federal officers under Inspector Early J. Connelly continued their investigation, determined to leave the way clear for William H. Parsons, the missing woman's husband, to establish contact with the author of a $25,000 ransom note found several hours after his wife's disappearance.

WORLD WHEAT CROP ESTIMATED

Washington, June 21 (AP)—The department of agriculture today estimated 1937 world wheat production, excluding Russia and China, at between 3,800,000,000 and 3,850,000,000 bushels.

Condition reports from the northern hemisphere indicate a production of 3,400,000,000 bushels or less in that area, the report showed.

World production may be about 300,000,000 bushels more than last year, the department reported.

The spring wheat crop of the United States, the Canadian crop and the European crops are still uncertain, the department said. Spring wheat production in the United States may total between 175,000,000 and 200,000,000 bushels.

World stocks of old wheat, excluding those of Russia and China, probably will be reduced to about $30,000,000 bushels compared with about 760,000,000 in 1936, the report said.
