STOCK TRADING FALLS OFF TO LIGHEST LEVELS

New York, June 21 (UP)—Trading on the stock exchange today fell off to the lightest levels in more than two years. Prices were narrowly irregular.

Business held well. Steel operations slipped back 7-10ths point to 75.9 per cent. A year ago this time the rate was 70.2 per cent. The fall of the French cabinet had no market repercussions with the franc supported by the control funds.

Steel shares led a recovery after an irregular opening but they failed to hold gains. U. S. Steel touched 96½ and then dipped to 94¾, off ⅝ point net. Youngstown Sheet & Tube eased to 79½ from its high of 81, the latter up ½ point. Bethlehem dipped 1¼ points from its high and was fractionally lower.

Railroad shares were depressed by publication of unsatisfactory earnings for May, but rallied later. Some, including Southern Pacific, and Atchison showed small advances. Union Pacific made up nearly all of a 2 point decline.

Utilities were sagging as the close approached. Oils were mixed. Coppers came back after a decline with American Smelting leading the rally.

In the farm shares International Harvester rose 2 points. Johns Manville gained a point in the building section.

Railroad equipment issues declined with the rails. Westinghouse air brake and American locomotive were down a point or more. Air reduction was up a point in the chemicals. Mercantile shares slipped back slightly. Motor shares were barely steady with General Motors easier near the close.

Dow, Jones preliminary closing averages: Industrial 168.06, off 0.54; rail 52.75, off 0.63; utility 26.21, off 0.30.

Stock sales approximated 420,000 shares, against 690,000 shares Friday. Curb stock sales were 139,000 shares, against 181,000 Friday.

Quotations were unchanged from last week. In the grease, 41-42c, delivered east, was asked on country-packed offerings of medium Ohio and Michigan fleece wools. Good 12 months Texas wools and good French combing fine territory wools in original bags were held at 95-87c, scoured basis, or above.

RAIN CRACKING CHERRIES EVEN ON HILLTOPS

With some orchardists reporting their orchards damaged past any picking stage, even for the Royal Annes, the uninterrupted rains over the weekend continued to more and more wreak havoc on the cherries and it is only a guess now how much, or how little of the Royal Anne crop will be picked in the lowlands. The higher land orchards while not so badly damaged are beginning to give indications of some cherry damage, say fruit buyers and outer fringes of cherries are showing a cracked condition with possibility of worse damage developing. As a sample of the condition in some of the lowland orchards a buyer reported today examining a tree in the middle of an orchard and he broke off a branch in the center of the tree where the cherries are most protected by foliage. The branch had a count of 36 cherries with exactly 27 of them cracked. The orchard is so generally damaged as to probably be beyond hope of picking. Another orchard in the Eola hills who reported a 20 per cent crack in his Royal Annes with the earlier rains says the damage now is well beyond the 50 per cent mark and he expects it will be two-thirds damaged by the time the weather adjusts itself. "There's no use picking cherries in an orchard like that," he said.

The strawberries are also reported as reaching a stage where they have been suffering from the rains although reports from the hill sections where the main Marshall production is still to be picked said pickers in some patches worked right through Sunday regardless of the rains. It was hoped that the unripened berries would escape and benefit greatly from the rains but there is now fear of rot in even those and if the rain continues what will happen to that crop is only a guess.

EASTERN OREGON CHERRIES DAMAGED

Pendleton, June 21 (AP)—As partially overcast skies continued today in most nearby communities, reminder of last week's heavy rains came from Milton-Freewater where a reliable source announced today that no more than 20 per cent of the normal cherry crop will be harvested.

To date, 15 carloads of cherries have been shipped. It is possible that no more will be moved. Normal crop of the area is 100 carloads.

Heavy rainfall raised havoc with the fruit, splitting the shells of much of it before it had a chance to ripen.

Early peas throughout Umatilla county have not been damaged severely. Damage, however, could come from hot water.

Baker Resigns and Cramer Succeeds

Grants Pass, June 21 (AP)—Sam. H. Baker, manager of the Grants Pass branch of the United States Bank of Portland, today announced his resignation. He will remain on the executive staff as adviser. T. P. Cramer, Jr., formerly of Grants Pass and until recently secretary of the Oregon Bankers association, becomes local manager.

Maker came to Oregon in 1903, organizing and conducting the Citizens bank of Grass Valley until 1910, when he came to Grants Pass.

Water Covers Crops On Hampton Farm

Sidney, June 21—While the recent rains are needed and have insured the late grain crop, some farmers are concerned about the hay crop that is ready to harvest. In some fields of alfalfa the grain is falling.

William Hampton, who has fields on the river bottom, reports water over his garden and cornfield which is feared to be a complete loss at this time water having covered it for over 48 hours.

FAITH. NOT CHARITY. Amish schoolboys of Lampeter, Pa., whose principles forbid "accepting charity and riding in automobiles," refused to ride in school buses and continued to walk barefoot. The Amish contended also their one-room schools are adequate.

STRENGTH APPEARS IN WHEAT MARKET

Portland, June 21 (AP)—Strength appeared in Pacific northwest wheat markets in the past week with prices advancing 3c a bushel principally because of light offerings, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia terminals totaled only 156 cars and local buyers were offering about $1.00 per bushel for new crop wheat but farmers did not sell freely. The department said demand was slow with mills furnishing the principal outlet and local values were described as out of line for shipment to the central west.

The barley market was practically unchanged and the corn market displayed some independent firmness with a steady absorbtion of Argentine corn. The oats market held stady, with the bulk of business comprising the movement from surplus to deficit areas. Rains in the Willamette valley were a weakening influence.

HOSCH LEADS ATTACK ON POWER INTERESTS

Bonneville, June 21 (AP)—Representative J. F. Hosch of Bend led a group of speakers in scoring private power interests here before a caravan of the commonwealth federation yesterday.

"All the way public will has been thwarted by the hidden hand of the private utilities," Hosch said. "We must fight on at the ballot box until the people win control of their own power resources."

Hosch was joined in denouncing private utilities by Senator Byron G. Carney of Clackamas county, who charged that Governor Martin, Mayor Carson of Portland and Hamilton Corbett, did not speak for the majority of the Oregon people before the national committee in Washington last month.

A telegram from Representative Walter M. Pierce was read, stating that "exposure of misleading utility propaganda is most important."

185,294 Bushels in Cargo of Rotterdam

Portland, June 21 (AP)—The Merchants' Exchange said today Columbia river wheat shipments to Rotterdam last week totaled 185,294 bushels. Porto Rico took 300 barrels of flour, Amsterdam 842 barrels, and Atlantic and Gulf ports 30,610 barrels.

VACATION VISITORS

Linn County Crops Injured by Weather

Albany, June 21—Hay, cherry and peach crops in Linn county have suffered heavily during the past week in the June rains, which have broken records of many years' standing, it was asserted Saturday by County Agent Floyd Mullen.

"The down hay," generally regarded as a total loss for feed purposes, has little value even as green fertilizer.

In the addition to cherries, peaches are being damaged by brown rot, the county agent reported, as the present weather continues this damage will increase.

Benefited are the late sown grains, gardens and the pasture crops, the county agent said. These farmers who sowed late would even welcome a period of warm, dry weather.

Precipitations for the current month totaled 3.35 inches Friday night and it was estimated that the volume would exceed this by Sunday. This is a 25-year record for June.

OBITUARY

MINNIE SCHWARTZ MISSLER

Stayton—Mrs. Minnie Schwartz Missler, aged 53, June 19, at Stayton. The deceased was born in Amenia, North Dakota, March 18, 1884. Survivors include the widower, Jake H. Missler of Stayton; stepfather, Charles S. Ruge of West Salem; brother, Albert G. Schwartz of Portland; half sisters, Mrs. Fred Gibson of West Salem; Mrs. Charles Unruh of West Salem; Miss Lillie Ruge of West Salem; niece, Miss Joyce Anderson of Salem; nephew, Herbert Rea of Monroe. Services will be held Tuesday, June 22, at 10 a. m. from the Weddle chapel in Stayton with Rev. Lyman officiating. Interment Belcrest Memorial park.

MRS. MARY SOPHIA HOMANN

Woodburn—Mrs. Mary Sophia Homann, 81, wife of William Homann, Sr., of Monitor, died at her home there Sunday afternoon. She was born in Germany June 5, 1856, and came to the United States in 1891. She has lived at Monitor for 34 years. Was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church and Aid society. Survived by her widower; three sons, William J., Fred and Henry, and one daughter, Mrs. Mary H. Brietzke, all of Monitor; two brothers in Nebraska; two sisters, Mrs. Louis Rehm of Mt. Angel and Mrs. Anna Wilting of Alberta, Canada, and five grandchildren, including Mrs. George Timm of Woodburn. Funeral announcements later by Ringo.

MRS. TERESA E. KRANTZ

Scio—Funeral services for Mrs. Teresa E. Krantz, 53, were held at the Catholic church at Jordan, nine miles east of Scio, Friday, and interment was in the Catholic cemetery at that place. Mrs. Krantz had been ill for some time, but a cerebral hemorrhage is said to have been the direct cause of death. Her husband died at Jordan about three years ago. The family had resided in the Jordan area for 20 years. Among immediate survivors are two sons and two daughters.

Mrs. H. T. Scovel, residing on the Walter Holechek place near Scio, is reported recovering from a critical illness of intestinal flu. Intestinal disorders approached the epidemic stage here for a time but are reported by physicians as subsiding.

JOSEPH H. POINDEXTER

Scio—Joseph H. Poindexter, resident of the Scio community for the last 50 years, died at the farm one mile east of this city Thursday and was buried in Providence cemetery Saturday afternoon following funeral services at Providence. Rev. Henry Albers of Albany, Baptist minister and an old-time friend of the Poindexter family, preached the funeral in the presence of many friends who had gathered to pay the last respects to a pioneer friend. Poindexter was a native Oregonian and had spent his whole life in this state. Born near Eugene June 29, 1858, he spent 20 years in the vicinity of Lebanon and Corvallis before coming to the Scio community, where he was engaged in farming until the time of his death. He had been in failing health for some time but became critically ill about 10 days prior to his passing. His widow, Mrs. Addie Poindexter, formerly Gaines, and the son, Lawrence Poindexter, survive at the old family home here. Other survivors in the immediate family of deceased include the daughter, Mrs. Wm. Garland, Albany; one brother, James Poindexter, Hubbard, Oregon; and three sisters: Mrs. M. C. Gaines, Crabtree, Mrs. A. C. Gaines, Portland, and Mrs. Louisa Charlton, Harrington, Wash.

ROSCOE C. THOMAS

Jefferson—Roscoe C. Thomas, 57, farmer and fruit grower and one-time gold miner, died at his home here Sunday following a heart attack. Born in Jefferson April 23, 1880, Mr. Thomas had resided here and in Jacksonville his entire lifetime. In Jacksonville he was part owner of the Opp gold property. During later years he operated one of the largest fruit driers in the state. Surviving are his widow; two children, Mrs. Florence Cathey of Albany, and a son, Delavan of Jefferson; one grandchild, a sister and a brother in California, and his stepmother, Mrs. Edwina Thomas of Portland. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist church here, with interment in the Willamette Memorial Park cemetery. Rev. Robert McIlvenna of Portland will officiate.

MILK AND BUTTER GRADERS QUALIFIED

The state division of foods and dairies began qualifying today about 600 men to serve as milk, cream and butter graders.

A grader will be placed in every creamery in the state, each grader to be paid by the creamery.

J. G. Mickle, head of the division, said any dairyman who has been marketing first grade milk and grade A cream has nothing to fear.

"We will require no dairyman to construct new barns or any new equipment if he has complied with these conditions," he said. "We want to help the producer of lower grade products to bring his products up to first grade quality. All producers will receive better prices under the plan."

Provision for the graders was made in a 1937 law.
