lized zone and take control of the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

The Japanese worked today to strengthen positions to the east and south of Peiping, erecting earth works, trenches and barbed wire. Trucks sped along the front with munitions from Fengtai, field headquarters. They were camouflaged with tree branches, and soldiers wore steel hats covered by leaves.

Chinese feared the extensive preparations presaged direct attack against the walled city of Peiping.

The 15th United States infantry was ordered to stand by under full war packs to defend American citizens and interests and keep open the railroad to the eastern seaport of Chinwangtao as tension flared.

The United States consulate urged all able-bodied American men to form a volunteer company to reinforce the garrison the army maintains here to protect American interests. Business men began to drill and organized to construct fortifications.

The American action came as the Japanese brigade commander southwest of Peiping threatened "another and more deadly blow" against the Chinese.

Similar steps were taken to protect their nationals by British, French and Italian authorities after reports were received that two American women had been shoved and kicked by Japanese sentries on guard before the embassy in Peiping.

Foreign advices from Shuntshfu, south of Peiping, reported a Japanese plane flew over the city Sunday and dropped a bomb, killing one man. Then, the dispatch said, the plane attacked a passenger train on the Peiping railroad.

The train was said to have been crowded with passengers. Nine persons were reported killed when the plane opened fire with machine guns.

The Japanese were considered determined to wipe out the positions held by the 37th Chinese division at Wanpinghsien and Nanyuan in the Peiping area.

Tacoma Woodworkers Reject Membership In New CIO Affiliate

Tacoma, Wash., July 21 (AP)—A split in the ranks of John L. Lewis' newest affiliate, the International Woodworkers of America, took definite form today as the Tacoma local, representing 3,000 of the woodworkers' 100,000 members, refused to endorse action of the convention which voted the organization into the CIO.

Homer L. Haney, business agent for the local, announced members had declined to support the convention action after hearing representatives of the new organization and the federation of woodworkers, AFL affiliate which it replaced. He said the union, while not specially repudiating the convention, refused to vote its approval of the move taken here Monday.

Even an appeal by Harold Pritchett, president of the Woodworkers failed to swing the Tacoma workers from their AFL allegiance. "Last night's vote by the rank and file of Local No. 2633," Haney said, "was clear indication that just because delegates (to the convention still in session here) have gone wild over jumping immediately into CIO, it does not mean the men on the job in the mills and posal of court bill opponents to draft a new bill dealing only with the lower courts, and declared "if we are going to do anything about the lower courts we had better pass the bill as it is."

Minority Leader McNary (R. Ore.), forecast quick adjournment of congress as soon as the court bill is out of the way. Republicans, he said, would oppose consideration of wage-hour and other major legislation at this session.

The significant conference between Garner and Wheeler took place in the Montana Senator's office while Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the new democratic senate leader, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, his defeated opponent, were at the White House for luncheon with the president.

After his conference with Garner, Wheeler said he would call opponents of the court bill together to "see if we can work out a proposal" for reform in the lower courts, "and submit it to the administration for their consideration."

He would not disclose the nature of his conference with Garner, but it appeared that the move to draft a new bill was made at the vice-president's suggestion.

Earlier reports of a possible drastic modification of the administration's court measure spread among senators simultaneously with the election of Barkley as the new democratic leader.

Wheeler's statement was the first hint that the foes of the bill would submit an alternative for the presidential program.

These foes said, meanwhile, that administration leaders had agreed to lay aside the pending court bill until next week to give them a chance to work out another bill.

Earlier reports of a possible drastic modification of the administration's court measure spread among senators simultaneously with the election of Barkley as the new democratic leader.

The convention itself meanwhile argued over details of a constitution for the new organization today, while awaiting actual arrival of the CIO charter mailed to it.

Eugene, Ore., July 21 (AP)—C. A. Paddock, secretary of the Willamette council of the lumber and sawmill workers union, said today that the council will not recognize the vote of a majority of the Federation of Woodworkers to align itself with the CIO.

Paddock said the vote was a "minority" decision of an "illegal" organization. The council did not send delegates to the Tacoma convention at which desertion of the AFL was urged.

RETURN FROM COAST
Silverton—Mrs. N. C. Hannan and her grand daughter, Betty Jean Hannan, have returned home from the coast where Mrs. Hannan was at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Galen McGraw, in Astoria, and at the Westport home of her son, Connie Hannan, for two weeks. Betty Jean was with her aunt, Mrs. George Williamson, and Westport.

Haven Clarke of Boston was a guest at the Roosevelt-DuPont wedding.

LOAN RECEIPTS LEGAL FOR SALE

Tacoma, Wash., July 21 (AP)—The Sunbeam Gold Mines Co. of Tacoma, today was apparently safe in its sale of "loan receipts" to its stockholders, although it remained banned from selling securities on the open market.

Federal District Judge Edward Cushman announced in a hearing Saturday he would enter an order denying the request of the securities exchange commission for a ban on the "loan receipt" sale as well as sale of securities.

The loan receipts, the judge asserted, apparently were being sold privately and hence were not subject to the same "SEC" rules as sale of securities.

The Sunbeam company and M. V. Fischer, its president, were restrained last April from selling securities until the company met requirements of the SEC and registered with it.
