Damage Heavy, Dog Wasn't Hurt

Portland, Sept. 21 (AP)—Ray Harvey's small terrier tried to leap from an automobile yesterday. Harvey reached for the dog and the auto struck a fire hydrant.

The resulting 40-foot high stream of water required 30 minutes of effort by city firemen and water department employees to stop flooded residential basements and a store, ripped up a street and damaged the automobile. The dog was not hurt.

Outline Plans For Welcoming FDR in Portland

Portland, Sept. 21 (AP)—Oregon committees rushed elaborate preparations today to welcome President Roosevelt next Tuesday when he arrives after his inspection trips to Bonneville dam and Timberline lodge on the slopes of Mt. Hood.

His route will bring him into the city about 2 p. m. via S. E. Powell boulevard over the Ross Island bridge to the west side. The president plans to drive through Portland in an open car if the weather is mild.

He continues his drive to Vancouver, where he boards his special train for Seattle, via N. E. Union avenue.

Officials here said no automobiles will be permitted to drive into the Bonneville area after 8:30 a. m. Tuesday. Workers are now erecting a speaking platform for the president's principal major address of his western tour.

An hour before the president starts his motor trip away from Bonneville, the Columbia river highway will be closed east of Bonneville to Mt. Hood and the Mt. Hood loop highway from Hood River to Government Camp.

Portland police, secret service men, state troopers and the sheriff's offices of Multnomah, Clackamas and Hood River counties are cooperating in making arrangements.

Complete kitchen and dining facilities will be installed at Timberline where the president will lunch about 12:30 p. m. Police will close the Mt. Hood loop from Timberline to Portland an hour before Mr. Roosevelt leaves the lodge. Only official cars will be permitted to drive between Timberline and Government Camp. Other persons may reach the lodge by bus.

The president is expected to make a brief dedicatory address after he lunches at Timberline.

Governor Martin will serve as honorary chairman of the reception committee with Mayor Joseph Carson of Portland as vice-chairman. E. J. Griffith, WPA administrator, is general chairman, Col. Thomas M. Robins, vice-general chairman, and C. J. Buck, regional forester, and James Frankland of the forest service, vice-chairman.

Mrs. Charles Martin is official hostess.

Black's Confirmation Explained by Borah

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 21 (AP)—Senator William E. Borah, Idaho republican, said here today in an interview he believed confirmation of the supreme court justice Hugo L. Black would have been balked had the senate been "convinced" Mr. Black was a Ku Klux Klan member.

"When Senator Burke (D.) of Nebraska, told the committee of the report Mr. Black was a member of the Klan, I said if there were any witnesses or evidence available the committee should have it. Nothing was presented," Borah said.

He continued: "At the time I understood Mr. Black had resigned from the Klan six years before, and I did not consider it important. To have opposed confirmation on that ground would have necessitated that we assumed Mr. Black was then a member. I did not assume it then and do not now."

Hunt for Yacht Without Result

Boston, Sept. 21 (AP)—The coast guard today terminated its search for the British yacht Endeavor I, convinced the either had sunk, or was on her way to England.

The search ended after four coast guard craft covered several thousand square miles of the north Atlantic in an area 450 miles east of Boston to Sable Island, off the Nova Scotia coast.

Endeavor I, in tow of the British yacht Viva, broke her tow line during a gale a week ago tonight, 200 miles east of Nantucket lightship.

Donagh is said to carry the blessing of the Oregon Journal, which has been bitterly antagonistic to Mahoney in the past, and of Lewis of the Walker Pierce wing of the party, but would draw the fire not only of the Mahoney forces but also the anti-Ku Klux Klan element because of his reputed association with the hooded organization several years ago.

Kent Offers to Revise Murals Without Charge

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—Rockwell Kent offered today to revise his mural in the postoffice building "absolutely free of charge" to satisfy the Puerto Ricans who protested its "message of good-will."

The painter and liberal author said he was willing to paint into the mural the president of the Puerto Rican senate tearing up a message in obscure Eskimo dialect which bids the people of the island to throw off American rule.

Answering complaints that recipients of the message on the mural were "half-naked African bushmen," Kent offered to add portraits of members of the Puerto Rican house of representatives.

The mural depicted the delivery of a letter from the Arctic regions to the tropics.

There was a tumult among Washington officials when Vilhjalmur Stefansson, veteran Arctic explorer, translated the microscopically printed Kuskokwim dialect:

"Let a people of Puerto Rico, our friends! Let us change chiefs. That alone can make us equal and free."

"That is merely the American message of good-will to a people in its aspiration for freedom," Kent said. "Of course, the time may come, even in America, as it has already come in fascist Italy and Germany, when such a message or such aspirations in a people would be treason."

"Thank God it hasn't come yet!" Kent recognized the complaint of Puerto Ricans that his painting showed only one white man whereas most of the people of Puerto Rico are not negroes.

Kiwanians Hear Talks on Chest

Character building as a paying proposition to a community and nation was presented the Kiwanian club today noon by Lyman L. Pierce, of Pierce & Hedrick, Inc., financial counselors in charge of the community chest drive here.

Crime is one of the most costly things in the country today, the speaker said, with the cost to the nation of the apprehension of Dillinger equal to the combined cost of all the money invested in community chests in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Pierce stressed the necessity of places of refuge where young people in particular can spend their leisure under wholesome conditions.

The difference between philanthropy and charity is the first dealt with character and education building and the latter with direct relief, Pierce said. The American people are giving over two billions of dollars annually to philanthropic, religious and charitable purposes and $32,000,000 a year to colleges whereas crime costs 15 billions annually with a major crime committed every 24 seconds. The tax load for crime alone amounts to $120 per capita annually.

Senator Douglas McKay and William M. Hamilton both spoke briefly in the interest of the campaign which has as its object the raising of $45,000 for the seven agencies in Salem, a cost of $1.50 per capita for the city as compared with a Pacific coast per capita of $1.70 for similar purposes.

Stadelman's Hat in Ring

publican leaders who have been scouring the state for gubernatorial timber, came upon the occasion of a visit with friends here during the recent state fair, when he confessed to intimate associates that he had been approached with the suggestion that he become a candidate, and that one of the purposes of his visit here was to confer with friends regarding the outlook.

Stadelman has also been prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for president of the senate in 1939 on the strength of his record during the 1937 session, when he served as chairman of the important alcoholic affairs committee.

Another budding political ambition is announced in reports from Portland that certain democratic leaders there are grooming Carl Donagh, United States district attorney and former chairman of the state central committee, for the democratic nomination for United States senator in a move to head off Willis Mahoney, Townsend club charmer and former mayor of Klamath Falls.

Donagh is said to carry the blessing of the Oregon Journal, which has been bitterly antagonistic to Mahoney in the past, and of Lewis of the Walker Pierce wing of the party, but would draw the fire not only of the Mahoney forces but also the anti-Ku Klux Klan element because of his reputed association with the hooded organization several years ago.

No Fireworks For Roseburg

Roseburg, Ore., Sept. 21 (AP)—Celebration of the Fourth of July in Roseburg in 1938 will be minus all fireworks and detonating noise devices, if the ordinance passed by the city council here last night is enforced. Bonneville Ready To Greet President

Portland, Sept. 21 (AP)—Four years of engineering genius will unfold themselves for President Roosevelt next week when he views for the second time the great dam he authorized at Bonneville on the Columbia river.

United States army engineers will guide the executive over the same ground he inspected in August, 1934, at the site of the $45,000,000 power and navigation project he approved the year before. The scene is different, however, for the project will grind out power by the end of the year.

Three years ago men and machinery were gouging into the basaltic foundation for the power house, navigation locks and spillway. Great piles and rock marred the spectacular beauty of the Columbia river gorge. A construction city of frame shacks had been hastily erected.

Now there are beautifully designed homes on the government reservation. The raw, jagged cut through the rocks has been transformed into a passageway for ships. A massive powerhouse spans the channel between the Oregon shore and Bradford's island.

Water flows where the president saw the river bed exposed in 1934. Elaborate fishways carry the migrating salmon upstream to their native spawning grounds. The pillars of the spillway stand like soldiers across the channel.

Engineers have re-located railroads and highways. Reventment work is under way to protect river communities from floods.

Giant gates control the river's flow so that powerful turbines may rotate the electric generators and send out power to the Pacific northwest.

Under tentative plans the president will reach Bonneville September 28 at 8 a. m. (P.S.T.), leaving at 9 a. m. for Hood River. Then he will motor over the Mt. Hood loop highway to Timberline lodge, tucked away on the queenly peak of the Cascade range. After dedicating the lodge he will drive to Portland and continue to Seattle.

President Silent On Black's Kluxism

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—Sources close to President Roosevelt revealed today that the president has not been in communication with Hugo L. Black since the new supreme court justice's possible Ku Klux Klan affiliations were brought to light.

The revelation was made after the president himself, at his last press conference before starting for the Pacific coast tomorrow, refused to amplify his formal Black statement of last week.

Mr. Roosevelt said at that time that he appointed the former Alabama senator to the high court without knowing of his possible K. K. membership and that there would be no action of any kind pending Black's return from Europe.

The fact that Mr. Roosevelt neither has talked to Black nor heard from him was taken as definite indication that the supreme court justice has made no effort to explain the K. K. allegations.

Deer Hunter Dies Of His Wounds

Baker, Ore., Sept. 21 (AP)—Charles Gacy of Harper, who was accidentally shot by a companion near Austin Monday morning, died in the Prairie City hospital last night, according to information received here.

Gacy and five companions separated early Monday morning while on a deer hunt. They located a deer and when they shot at the animal one of the bullets struck Gacy in the head.

State police officers stationed at John Day are investigating the accident.

Deer Hunters Bag 500 Pound Bear
Klamath Falls, Ore., Sept. 21 (AP)—When Clifford Scroggins and Everett Kidder went hunting along Deadhorse creek on Gearhart mountain yesterday, they were looking only for deer, but a 500-pound black bear was their prize—a prize they agreed they would just as soon forego in the future.

Scroggins saw the bear first and shot once, wounding it in the throat. The maddened animal then charged at Kidder, digging up the ground and tearing bark off trees in its path.

Kidder said he was scared but decided to shoot anyway, and the bullet from his rifle dropped the bear in its tracks.

The men had to cut the carcass in two in order to carry it into camp. A forest service man said it was the largest bear he had seen killed in the Gearhart country.

Chinese Fliers Rout Squadron 21 Jap Planes

rected against the far South China city. The planes made a second attack shortly after noon.

Residents along the Canton river front had a thrilling view of the combat.

Only half of the squadron of 21 actually reached Canton itself, Chinese said. Others were brought down by defending Chinese pursuit planes and artillery fire from forts in the Canton area.

One raider, diving and twisting to ward off attackers, crashed to the ground. His plane exploded and the crew of two was killed.

Another Japanese ship fell near White Cloud mountain. Three occupants died. The one Chinese plane which residents saw falling, went down in flames. The pilot, wounded and burned, landed by parachute.

The Nippon attackers dropped more than 10 bombs in the morning raid, directing their aim at Chinese airfields. The bombs fell, however, into surrounding fields. Several farmers were injured.

The aviation school was bombed in the second raid. One Japanese ship was forced down and its three occupants were taken prisoner. Two other planes, obviously badly damaged, turned in flight.

Although many civilians were reported killed, Canton buildings suffered little damage. It is believed here that the planes came from the aircraft tender Notofo said to be maneuvering just outside the mouth of the Canton river.

Congress to Probe Nazi Activities

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Representative Samuel Dickstein (D. N. Y.) announced today that a special committee is certain at the next session of congress to investigate every phase of nazi activity in the United States.

"I already have more than 200 signatures to a motion to have the rules committee report my resolution," Dickstein said.

His resolution provides for a sweeping investigation—of camps, of moneys spent, of spies, of every conceivable sort of nazi activity."

Chief Justice Back From Vacation

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes returns to Washington to resume his official duties today after nearly three months of vacationing in Quebec and New Hampshire.

His first task will be presiding over and participating in the annual conference of senior circuit court judges opening Thursday. The ranking jurists will discuss the state of their dockets and procedural problems which have cropped up during the year.

There were rumors in the capital that the chief justice might also confer with associate supreme court justices on whether the high tribunal should take any steps to bar Associate Justice Hugo L. Black from taking his seat on the high bench.

Chief Hughes actually would engage in such conversations was considered unlikely.

Maverick Attacks Move Against Black

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 21 (AP)—Rep. Maury Maverick, D. Tex., today denounced the fight on Associate Justice Hugo L. Black as "an underhanded political move designed to embarrass not only the President, but the supreme court as well."

Maverick, a leader in the house of representatives for the administration's original court reorganization program, said he had been asked to join in a move to impeach Black.

"For what?" he asked. "He cannot be impeached at all, and those who advocate it know it."

Maverick replied to demands of Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., that President Roosevelt ask Black's resignation.

"For the President to make such a demand would be highly improper, for he has no right whatever to demand the resignation of any judge."

Spud Growers Vote on Control

Corvallis, Sept. 21 (AP)—A referendum in which commercial potato growers in 18 Oregon counties will vote this week on whether they favor a voluntary acreage control program for 1938 is now being conducted by the Oregon State college extension service at the request of the agricultural adjustment administration.

The plan proposed would affect only growers who normally harvest three or more acres of potatoes. The vote is being taken in counties where the 1934 census shows that at least 50 farms produced 200 bushels or more potatoes each.

Such counties in Oregon where the vote is being taken, ending not later than Saturday, September 25, are Baker, Clackamas, Columbia, Coos, Crook, Deschutes, Hood River, Klamath, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Malheur, Marion, Multnomah, Umatilla, Union, Washington and Yamhill.

Growers will ballot on the question, "Are you in favor of establishing a potato acreage goal for each commercial potato farm in connection with the 1938 agricultural conservation program?" AAA officials have announced that growers favor the plan it will not be attempted.

Goals or quotas, under the proposed plan, would be based on average acreages and yields for 1936-37, with such adjustments as necessary to compensate for abnormal weather conditions in those years. This same goal idea is being applied to a number of soil-depleting crops under the 1938 program.

Pellow officials found the body slumped against his automobile yesterday. Around the left leg below the knee was a tourniquet. Dr. Emerson had applied in an effort to keep the poison from spreading from a bite on his ankle.

The victim also had used a razor blade to make an incision. In his hand was a suction pump, part of the equipment he carried in a new snake-bite kit. He apparently was in the act of removing a sock to apply the pump when he collapsed.

A. E. McGlynn, acting regional conservator, said Emerson apparently had died last Friday during a hunt for soil specimens he had intended to use in a lecture at Chicago.

He is survived by his widow and two children, all of Ames, Iowa.

Mellon Fortune Cut to $40 Millions

Pittsburgh, Sept. 21 (AP)—Reduced greatly by philanthropies and gifts
