Rebuilding Of Niagara Bridge Planned

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Jan. 29 (AP)—Plans for two new spans over the Niagara river gorge were being considered by engineers today as the ice mass which tore down famed "Honeymoon bridge" Thursday moved relentlessly onward to Lake Ontario.

Simultaneously with the announcement by International Railway company officials that the fallen bridge, owned by the company, would be replaced, came word that Ontario province and New York state were considering construction of another span 1000 feet downstream.

As the shattered length of the Honeymoon span lay sprawled grotesquely over the ice mass that had caused its destruction, experts studied devices by which the wreck could be salvaged. The wreck contains an estimated 2600 tons of steel.

Immediate salvage operations were considered unlikely, however, in view of the continued movement of the ice mass.

The Niagara river above the cañon, considerably wider than in the gorge below, carried a steady stream of ice "rafts" over the falls. Some of the "rafts" were as long as a city block, and broke in the rapids and the falls to add their weight and pressure to the mass in the gorge.

For 14 miles downstream from the falls the narrower, cliff-lined river was an almost solid mass of ice that extended three miles beyond its mouth into Lake Ontario.

Poland Blocks Aid to China

Geneva, Jan. 29 (AP)—Great Britain, France and Russia were reported today to have agreed to extend economic and financial aid to China in her war with Japan provided the United States would cooperate.

Competent League of Nations circles said the three major league powers had determined to follow such a course either with or without approval of the league council.

William L. Hutchison, president of the Carpenters and most powerful single union in the AFL, said: "I don't know why the devil Green wants to stay in that union anyway. He should have been out long ago. If I had been in his position I would have told them to go to hell two years ago."

Geneva, Jan. 29 (AP)—Poland today blocked a plan of league of nations powers to aid China against Japan, authoritative quarters disclosed, by declaring she would vote against the measure.

Foreign Ministers Eden, Delbos and Litvinoff of Britain, France and Russia met with Dr. V. K. Wellington-Koo, Chinese league delegate. League circles indicated they advised him against pressing for strong action at this time.

The text, along the lines of last October's league assembly resolution which denounced Japan, was sent yesterday to London, Paris and Moscow for approval and to Washington for study.

League sources indicated the conferring powers asked the United States government whether it would back them in helping China—and if so how far it would go.

Washington, Jan. 29 (AP)—Secretary Hull indicated today the United States was not inclined to join in a proposed plan by which Great Britain, France and Soviet Russia would supply arms and military equipment to China in her struggle with Japan.

At his press conference the secretary of state said he had received no communications from the three governments with regard to their reported agreement on the plan in Geneva.

He added that the United States had no new foreign policy on the subject. Officials interpreted this to mean the present policy of neutrality would be continued.

The stipulation states that the minor child has attained the age of 18 years. The plaintiff gives a quit claim to the defendant to any interest she may have in certain real property in Klamath Falls.

one yet has taken the initiative in some new friends without discarding the old."

Asked whether Rumania was establishing an authoritarian course and, perhaps, heading in the direction of fascism, the king countered with a question of his own.

"What is fascism?" he demanded. He made clear he would not commit himself on a word alone, with vague definition. After it was agreed that fascism involved control of the state by one man or a little group of men, without clear consent of those governed, the king asked: "Does such a condition prevail here?"

There are in Bucharest at the moment some 19 political parties preparing for elections on March 2. Some are loud and enthusiastic in their opposition to the Goga government.

The king expressed his belief that somehow world peace would be preserved.

His eye twinkling, the monarch for a while turned interviewer himself. He was curious about America, and said reports of business decline there "worries Europeans a good deal."

He wanted to know whether the Chrysler or Empire State building in New York was the taller, whether President Roosevelt would seek a third term, observing "he has broken many traditions, hasn't he?"

The king recalled his enjoyable visit to the United States in 1919, and commended Americans of Rumanian origin for preserving many colorful native customs in their new homes.

Labor Peace Move Renewed

Miami, Fla., Jan. 29 (AP)—James F. Dewey, labor department conciliator, expected today to confer with President William Green of the American Federation of Labor in an attempt to find some satisfactory basis for peace in the labor movement.

Dewey was skeptical about the possibility of success. But he conferred by telephone with John L. Lewis, Committee for Industrial Organization chairman, in Washington, before talking with Green.

A trace among the 7,300,000 members of the AFL and CIO has been demanded by businessmen and industrial groups.

It was learned that several congressmen and senators who face reelection campaigns this fall have sought to induce the administration to "step in" to the struggle.

The temper of the council and of Green has been increasingly warlike. Green said that he desires to appear before the convention of Lewis' United Mine Workers' union and answer in person charges that he should be expelled because of alleged dual unionism. The U.M.W. and nine other unions, now in the CIO were suspended from the federation for this reason.

William L. Hutchison, president of the Carpenters and most powerful single union in the AFL, said: "I don't know why the devil Green wants to stay in that union anyway. He should have been out long ago. If I had been in his position I would have told them to go to hell two years ago."

Britain Favors U. S. Navy Plans

London, Jan. 29 (AP)—The expanded defense program laid down by President Roosevelt met with approval in Great Britain today while other European powers evinced no surprise over the recommendations.

Great Britain, rushing her own rearmament program, was represented as looking on United States naval building as a parallel safeguard toward maintenance of world peace.

The British government, it was said, no longer regards the United States' sea power as competitive.

German newspapers gave prominent display to the president's program but made no editorial comment.

Italy, which also is displaying major naval aspirations, displayed no surprise, since such American naval expansion had been expected in Rome since the president's opening message to congress.

It was officially confirmed here that Capt. Royal E. Ingersoll, chief of the war plans division of the United States department, discussed capital ship construction on a recent visit to London.

It was believed this discussion envisaged the possibility of matching reported 43,000-ton Japanese battleships by common denunciation of the 35,000-ton limit set by the 1936 London naval treaty, and then invoking the escalator clause.

Drug Store Clerks Make NLRB Appeal

Portland, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Pharmacists and Drug Clerks' union filed a complaint with the National Relations Board charging Frank Nau, large drug store operator, with unfair labor practices.

The union said it singled out Nau because he is chairman of the Labor Relations Committee of the Portland Retail Druggists' association and not because of any violation in his own store.

The complaint was based on a story in the January issue of a drug magazine in which an appeal was alleged to have been made for funds to fight unionization. The union contended this was in violation of the Wagner act.

Great Britain recently instructed her ambassador to Tokyo, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, to investigate reports Japan—which is not bound by the London treaty now—is building larger battleships than the treaty allows.

Final decree has been filed in the matter of the estate of Matilda S. Wampole of which Clarence C. Wampole is the executor.

Judge T. E. J. Duffy of Bend has advised County Clerk Boyer that the date, February 14, as set for trial of cases which he has transferred here to try is satisfactory to him and that he will have two weeks or more at his disposal. He says it makes no difference in what order the cases are set, that this is a matter to be arranged at the convenience of the attorneys interested.

Loot Valued At Over $3000 Recovered

arraigned at Woodburn justice court January 24, both charged with burglary in a dwelling. Both waived preliminary hearing and were held to the grand jury, Broom's bail being fixed at $5000 and Bourg's at $5000.

The specific charge on which the two men are under arrest is the burglary of the Charles Boschler garage and milk house near Mt. Angel, but the police have other warrants. All the burglaries were in rural communities and on farms.

Seventeen other cases have been pinned on the pair, largely through admissions made by Bourg after his arrest. They are:

Harry Hinkle's garage and hog house, West Woodburn; O. B. Porter, automobile, Monroe; F. E. Harlow, garage, Eugene; Delmar Davidson, garage, Talbot; H. E. Wyley, automobile parts, Eugene; E. C. Mennick, garage, Salem; Claude Overholser, garage, Marion; Karl Harrett, garage and chicken house, West Salem; C. B. Wilbanks, garage, Oregon City; R. E. Fisher, garage, Oregon City; Carl Johnson, garage, Oregon City; J. C. Hamrick, garage, Oregon City; Ben E. Barrett, prune dryer, Forest Grove; F. I. Porter, automobile, Monroe; Tom Hejery, automobile, Aubury; O. D. Smith, garage, Springfield; James O. Porter, car and garage, Junction City.

Included in the loot were half a dozen cases of dynamite, tools of many kinds, machinery, blankets, clothing, guns, one kodak, potatoes and other food articles, livestock feed, a hog that was butchered at the Hinkle place, and numerous other articles.

The greater part of the loot recovered in this vicinity was found at the home of Bob Colosky near the state prison annex, including the dressed hog, Colosky and Bourg were together in alleged turkey thefts in Marion county, Bourg being sent to the penitentiary and Colosky being paroled from the bench.

On the basis of suspicion as to Broom state police examined his house in the Dexter vicinity of Lane county. On account of the convincing nature of the evidence found Broom surrendered himself to the office of the Lane county sheriff and was later brought to Salem. The arrest of Bourg followed last Saturday night when he attended a dance at Broadacre, Marion county. Warrants for both men were obtained in justice court at Mt. Angel.

The Lane county sheriff refused to cooperate with the state police in the arrest of Broom to the extent that state police were refused the privilege of talking with the prisoner although they held a warrant for him, and the Lane sheriff delivered him to Salem. Broom is an old offender dating back to prohibition days.

Much of the property recovered by the police and now heaped in several rooms at state police headquarters has been identified by the owners.

The identification of Bourg was done by an automobile that he drove, and by identical fingerprints found in the mud at the scene of various burglaries. When suspicion rested on Bourg his record and picture were obtained at the penitentiary and people around Dexter identified the picture as that of a man who had been seen thereabouts with Broom. It was shortly after this that Broom gave himself up to the Lane county sheriff.

Bourg's operations did not stop with the arrest of Broom and complaints continued to reach the police, and it was in the investigation of these cases that the officers noted the similarity of the tracks in the mud. When he was arrested some of the stolen property was found in his possession.

Police said the burglaries date back to about January 3. Some footprints stolen among the foodstuffs were taken to Portland and given to a sister of Broom.

Broom was positively identified in Washington county, and among persons who identified loot were members of the Charles Boschler family of Mt. Angel, Fred Gerah-wer and John B. Cliser, manager and superintendent respectively of the Mt. Angel creamery.

State prison records reveal a long series of offenses by Broom. In 1917 he was arrested in Multnomah county for possession of liquor and given six months in jail. In 1924 in Eugene he was given six months in jail and fined $500 for possession of liquor. In 1925 in Marion county he got three months in jail for possession of liquor. In 1931 he was convicted of perjury in Portland and sentenced to two three-year state prison terms, running consecutively, but was released May 4, 1933. In 1934 he was arrested in Portland for the manufacture of liquor, and the same year was sent for 10 months to the federal prison camp at Dupont, Wn., for transportation of liquor in violation of the federal laws.

The prison records reveal only one conviction for Bourg, bringing a six-months' sentence for larceny in a building in January, 1935.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Xavier J. Wolfe, 27, laborer, Shaw, and Ida Mesner, 21, clerk, Longview, Wash.; Ralph Arthur Nelson, 23, teacher, Jefferson, and Marjorie Lee Schomaker, 21, teacher, 1811 Chemeketa, Salem.

Washington, Jan. 29 (AP)—A Carnegie institution scientist predicted today a magnetic storm about February 21 may disrupt the world's communications systems.

Dr. A. C. McNish, one of the world's leading authorities on the earth's magnetism, said that the storms which have occurred during the past week are likely to recur in less than a month's time.

Such storms, which cause serious interference with radio, telegraph and telephone communication and set compass needles to fluctuating wildly, are due to the occurrences of titanic volcanoes of gas on the surface of the sun, he said.

Such spots shoot out billions of particles of matter which, when they strike the earth's atmosphere and the magnetic field surrounding it, set up new waves and currents like a handful of stones thrown into a quiet millpond.

These sunspots, which can be seen through a piece of smoked glass, tend to cling to the portion of the sun on which they occur, and reappear at about 27-day intervals as the sun rotates.

They therefore appear on a fairly regular schedule, Dr. McNish added, and their occurrence can be predicted a month or two in advance just as the weather is predicted, in order to warn communications engineers and navigators just what to expect.

Tremendous displays of the Aurora Borealis usually accompany magnetic storms, Dr. McNish said.

Dr. McNish said that the storm which occurred on Feb. 21, 1937, was of "little value," because all three came from vessels west of the 180th meridian—near Honolulu.

Officers of the American Radio Telegraphists association last night said they would ask operators to resume transmitting pending settlement of the controversy. Commenting on the paucity of reports today, Federal Meteorologist Major E. H. Bowie said that "possibly they haven't had time to notify all ships."

Ballot Title for Chain Store Tax

Ballot title for an initiative petition seeking to levy a graduated tax on all chain stores in Oregon was assigned by Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle today.

The measure, filed by the Oregon Independent Business league, would add a 10 tax to each store in a chain of not more than 10 stores, whether those stores be in Oregon or not, up to $50 for each store in chains having more than 500 stores. The revenue so derived would go toward old age assistance, aid to dependent children, and the blind.

Van Winkle's abbreviated voting-machine title follows:

Purpose: Taxing chain stores in Oregon from $10 each in chains having not over 10 stores altogether, to $550 each in chains having more than 500.

Tullius A. Kirhn pleaded guilty in justice court today to having no motor vehicle operator's license and was fined $5.00. Ernest A. Miller pleaded guilty to allowing another person to drive a motor vehicle in violation of the law and was fined $5.50.

Producing industries and government services accounted for some $61,325,000,000 of the 1937 national income. The remaining 10 per cent of the total was accounted for by such items as net rent and interest on owned homes, pensions, direct and work relief, soldiers' bonus, and government payments to farmers.

William Lama took 24 hours in which to decide on his plea when he appeared in justice court today on a charge of larceny by embezzlement. His bail was fixed at $500 which he did not furnish and he is held in jail.
