'Cats Complete Schedule With Logger Defeat

Willamette university's basketball team shared a Northwest conference championship with Whitman college today. Both outfits completed their regular schedules Saturday night, with the Bears soundly trouncing College of Puget Sound 62 to 37, while Whitman was having a hard time to finish in front of College of Idaho 48 to 46. Willamette and Whitman each won eight games and lost two. A defeat at the hands of Pacific ruined Willamette's chance for an undisputed championship.

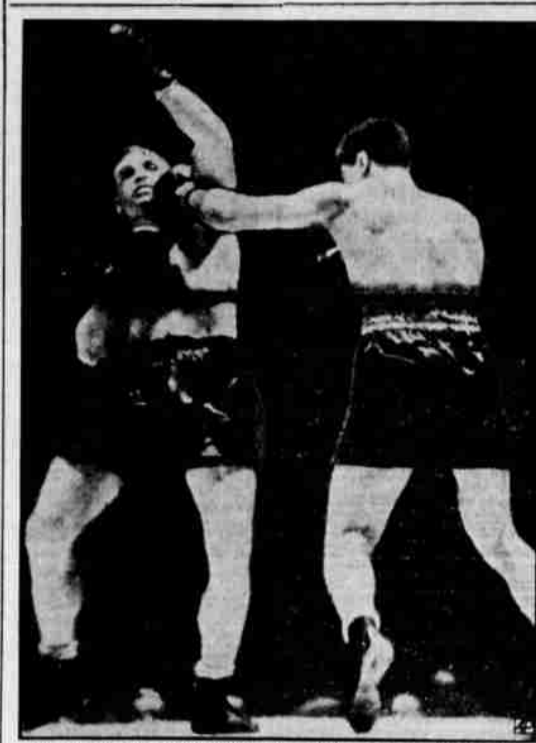

The Bears completely dominated the Loggers in every department Saturday night. In fact, the visitors were able to check in but one field goal during the opening 10 minutes. In the meantime the 'Cats, working swiftly and surely, passed their way to a 23-7 margin at the 14 minute mark. A couple of long range lofers by Pollock, a brace by Stoffel, coupled with two by Stoffel, brought the Loggers up to within 11 points of Willamette as the two teams left the floor at half time with Coach Maple's men leading 32 to 21.

Willamette really got down to business in the second half, rolling in 20 points in 13 minutes while the best Joey Mack's crew could accomplish was two baskets by Tolofson.

The Bears added materially to their string from the gift line due to 19 fouls called on the Loggers. Bill Anton, who engaged five field goals, also made good on seven out of eight free shots. Skopli hit 5 out of 7.

Sports Parade

By Henry Super
New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—Somewhere on the white sands of Florida, a red-haired gent sprawls under a tropical sun today, enjoying his first vacation in seven years.

His body—at least this is what he claimed before he left New York the other day—is weary from unceasing toil. At 31, he is an old man who has seen and done everything. His name is Henry McLemore, regular conductor of this column.

To look at Henry you would not think he needs a vacation. Offhand, I would say he looked unworked. But, before he departed, he explained why he needed a rest.

"I am a tired old man," he said. "I have been writing this column day in and day out for seven years, excluding of course those few weeks last year when I was cruising up and down the Mississippi flood waters in a rowboat writing eye-witness stories. It has been extremely hard work climbing up the long stairs to the polo grounds to press box, riding seaplanes to Europe and flying all over the country. I am worn out. My body is racked with the miseries. I fear I am an old man long before my time."

In those seven years, McLemore has visited all 48 states in the union. He spent the past four months touring the country, finally winding up at Daytona beach, where he spent more than a week viewing the sport scene from a distance and playing golf. He spent more than a month in Hollywood playing golf with Bing Crosby, hanging around the movie studios doing nothing but watch them make pictures. Of course, he wrote a column every day during that period—but he calls that "work."

In 1936, the Gulliver of the sport world spent three months in Europe. He visited Naples, Rome, Berlin, London, Paris and Vienna. Two years before that he made a similar swing—all in the line of duty. Early in 1937, he told his readers of the misery he was going through working out as a "rookie" with the St. Louis Cardinals. Actually, the real reason he wrote that series was because Frankie Frisch wouldn't let him talk to the Cardinals when he got a look at him.

Before he left, I interviewed McLemore. He said his greatest thrill in sports came the day Bold Venture won the Kentucky derby. Not that he had a ticket on Bold Venture. He was thrilled because his selection finished next to last.

2 Main Events May Develop

A double main event is in prospect for tomorrow night's wrestling show at the armory. Although the promoters do not come right out into the open and declare such is the case, nevertheless it is evident that they hope Tuesday night's finale will develop into a free for all.

George Wagner and Pat O'Dowdy are booked for the feature match within the arena. However since each man has insisted upon a second to patrol no man's land just outside the ropes, most anything can occur. Wagner has secured the services of Curly Dunchin as a handy man while O'Dowdy has nominated Jack Lipscomb as his beat up man.

Yaqui Joe and Al Szasz will show their stuff in the 45 minute event while Curly Dunchin and Flash Kelly have been assigned the 30-minute session.

Shaw Establishes New Point Record

Woodburn—With only one more game ahead of him and a new record already established for the second year in a row, Charley Shaw appears to have a safe lead over Pettyjohn, Silvertown's ace, as the league scoring champion again this season. Shaw, who sometime ago broke his own record for points scored in one season, will have one more chance to increase his record, which now stands at 197 for 13 games. Pettyjohn has 160, which gives him a 10 point lead over Bennett of Dallas, who is in third place with 150. The leaders are:

Shaw, Woodburn	197
Pettyjohn, Silvertown	160
Bennett, Dallas	150
Whitman, Woodburn	136
Hartman, Independence	136
Bolton, Chemawa	135
Evenden, Woodburn	130
Klinger, Canby	128
Stoars, Molalla	124
Archambeau, Chemawa	109

"In previous years," McLemore explained, "my horses always finished last." McLemore's life ambition intrigued me. It was: "I would like to find a ghost writer who can write twice or three times as good as me. Then I could do nothing but give him ideas for columns and he could put them down on paper. You understand, of course, that he would have to work very cheaply."

Editor's note: Henry McLemore really has gone on a vacation. During the next two weeks his column will be written by various pinch-hitters.

Tuesday Games

Chemawa at Woodburn; West Linn at Independence; Dallas at Molalla; Canby at Silvertown.

Woodburn—When the final whistle blows Tuesday night, another Willamette Valley league basketball season will have passed into history. For the second successive year Coach Eldon Cone's Woodburn Bulldogs have completely dominated the league throughout, being undefeated in 13 games this year and also in their final 13 games last season for a record of 26 consecutive wins. They have had the championship securely tucked away for some time and Tuesday night's game with Chemawa will mean nothing as far as the championship is concerned as the Bulldogs could lose the contest and still finish three games ahead of Silvertown, now in second place.

Molalla's Buckaroos, who have played outstanding ball against the league's strong teams only to fall before the weaker ones, will close their season at home with the Dallas Dragons forming the opposition. The Dragons started the season in strong fashion but fell down when they went into the tough part of their schedule. Molalla, with a veteran team on the floor, will have to guard the high scoring Dallas pair, Bennett and Dornhecker, if they expect to finish with an even slate with seven wins against the same number of losses.

Canby high will go to Silvertown where they are expected to suffer defeat No. 13 at the hands of the Foxes, who have played great ball all season. Klinger, Canby's ace scorer, has forged to the front rapidly as a serious threat.

West Linn will visit Independence for their final WVI league game. The Hopsters, led by Hartman and Linn, should have little trouble disposing of the Lions who have taken only one game so far. The Hopsters will be pointing for their clash with Dallas high later and may be upset, however. The Dragons and the Mortimers are tied at two wins each for the Polk county A championship and the right to go to the district tourney at McMinnville March 10-12.

Vikings Home After Dropping 2 in South

Salem high school basketballers, following a three game invasion of southern Oregon late last week, eased up a bit in their court campaign as they prepared to play two contests on the home floor Friday and Saturday. Friday night the Vikings will engage St. Helens and then on Saturday evening, a clash with the Bend Lava Bears is on the schedule. While the Vikings dropped two out of their three games in the south, they were far from whipped in either case. They won over Roseburg by a single point, lost to Medford by the same margin and then Saturday night lost to the Klamath Pelicans in the closing minutes 41 to 34. Coach Hauk's boys say they had no business losing to Medford and while offering no alibis in the Klamath encounter, admitted that their opponents were of the six foot and better type.

The lead changed four times at Klamath and tied once. The Pelicans grabbed a 6 to 0 lead at the outset and were out in front 10-6 at the quarter. The Vikings pulled up even at 14-all and were out in front 22-19 at the half. Following the start of the second half, Coach Hauk's men gained a 27-20 lead. They began to tire rapidly, however,

Vandals Open Oregon Series Tuesday Eve

Portland, Ore., Feb. 21 (AP)—The Idaho Vandals, fresh from a successful invasion of Corvallis, will attempt to move a step nearer the northern division title when they move over to Eugene Tuesday to open a final series against Oregon. Forrest Twoogood's squad from Moscow is tied with Washington State for top honors at the end of 16 games. While Idaho was busy defeating Oregon State 34-33 and 29-22, the defending champions were beating Montana 53-46 and 63-40.

The Oregon Webfoots, who got off to a strong start in the 1938 race and led during the first dozen games, are faced with the necessity of sweeping the Idaho series if they are to regain the prestige they have nearly lost.

The standings:

	W L Pct.
Washington State	11 5 .688
Idaho	11 5 .688
Oregon	10 6 .625
Washington	9 7 .563
Oregon State	6 12 .333
Montana	3 15 .167
