

Hoover Cheered By Result in Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, May 21 (AP)—The Evening Bulletin says former President Herbert Hoover said today that the outcome of the Pennsylvania primary "has given great encouragement to the whole country—and particularly the republicans."

In what was described as Hoover's first public comment on Tuesday's balloting, the newspaper said he hailed the result as reflecting "a trend away from the new deal."

Hoover, interviewed in New York en route here for a speech, said the gain in republican votes shown in the Pennsylvania primary presaged "an increase by the republicans of at least 75 seats in the next congress."

While he said he would take no part in the Pennsylvania campaign, he asserted election of a republican governor in Pennsylvania would be "a bright sign" for the election of a republican president in 1940.

He also was quoted: "If the country were to see such a demonstration of a change away from the new deal, it would restore confidence and mean jobs for millions of men."

"Nothing is needed so much now as an adequate opposition in congress."

"The question of a revival in business recovery hinges largely on the congressional election."

"I find a trend away from the new deal all over the country."

Says Reds Use Strikes as Dress Rehearsals

Spokane, Wash., May 21 (AP)—Labor unions in the United States are dominated by communists who are "using strikes as a dress rehearsal" for the overthrow of the government. Holmes Bishop, Orange, Cal., president of the Associated Farmers of California, charged last night in an address before the Citizens Protective association. Approximately 750 persons attended the meeting.

"When the curtain time comes they will try to change our government to a second Russia," Bishop said.

Mayor Joseph K. Carson of Portland and Lester P. Edge, president of the Spokane association, shared the speakers' platform.

Sanity in government will never be restored in the United States until the farmers and women of the nation take hold, Carson said. The mayor called farmers individualists who plow to the heart of a problem. Carson said it is woman's instinct to correct what is ailing.

Bishop told of efforts made by California farmers to combat labor trouble and "communist activities." Bishop said the organization of farmers and teaching them to boycott cities dominated by unionism had proven strong weapons in securing farm demands.

He urged Washington citizens to support an initiative measure designed to end labor troubles on farms in the state.

Mayor Carson scored new deal spending practices, saying the country can't buy its way back to prosperity.

"If Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes will attend his business in Washington, D. C., we will attend to our business in the state of Oregon," Carson said.

Students said they refused to raise their hands to attest their faith in God because they objected to emotional evangelism. Petitions were circulated after the incident.

Brougher spoke on the campus twice without further demonstration.

Dr. Anderson, in a prepared statement, expressed regret at the "discomfury" to the evangelist and added:

"As to the presence of students sympathetic toward communism, all information points toward the fact that undoubtedly there are some. The proportion in the student body is as low, if not lower, than found in all denominational colleges of the country."

Brougher indicated that the alleged communistic activity on the campus would be laid before the Northern Baptist convention at Milwaukee, Wis., May 26-31. Dr. Anderson, vice-president of the organization, said he would welcome the chance to disprove the presence of wide-spread communist tendencies.

Earlier yesterday, Dr. Anderson said college trustees had dropped Dr. Elmer A. Fridell, Berkeley, Calif., from consideration as the next president of the school because of protests to Fridell's alleged "liberal tendencies" from Baptist pastors in Oregon.

New York, May 21 (AP)—J. P. Morgan became a great-grandfather on Wednesday when a son was born to Mrs. Raymond Skinner Clark, Jr., his granddaughter.

Present for the meeting were the following members and guests, Mrs. Frank Scharf, Mrs. John Cage, Mrs. Lawrence Hammer, Mrs. Will Scharf, Mrs. Emory Goode, Mrs. Paul Bassett, Mrs. Louis Wampler, Mrs. Tillie Davis, Mrs. Mary Herndon and the hostesses, Mrs. Lena Bartruff and Mrs. Roberta Loper.

Dr. Anderson Accounts for College Furore

McMinnville, May 21 (AP)—Dr. Elam J. Anderson, retiring president of Linfield college, today attributed student objections to lectures by Dr. Russell M. Brougher, New York evangelist, to a dislike for emotional evangelism rather than to communistic tendencies of undergraduates.

Dr. Anderson denied Brougher's statement that a petition demanding that the faculty cancel the evangelist's campus speaking engagements and that the First Baptist church close its revival meetings and require Brougher to leave town were signed by 14 students.

Paul Starring, named by Brougher as leader of the student objectors, denied that he was a communist or that he had circulated communistic literature in a high school class he taught.
