Tenth Member One Family Is Graduated

Independence—Among the 1933 graduates from the Independence high school was a young man who was the tenth child of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Burch to graduate from this school, Glenn Burch. With the exception of one or two of the older ones of the family, their grade school training was likewise received in Independence. The family lives in North Independence. Not one has failed to make the grades required for promotion, and all have participated in the activities of the school, athletic and scholastic.

Mr. and Mrs. Burch, who came to Oregon over 25 years ago from Tennessee, lived for short periods at Amity and Eola before establishing a home in this city. They have raised this large family largely by their individual efforts, in hop work and gardening, until the older ones were permitted to teach school and they in turn helped to educate those who followed.

The other members of the family to graduate are Edna (Mrs. W. G. Grant) of Salem, a teacher; Nellie (Mrs. Suel Shepherd), Silverton; Charles Burch of Independence; Lennie Burch, Salem; Ethel (Mrs. William Schuford), Independence; Virginia (Mrs. M. E. Snow), Dallas; Paul Burch, Independence; Mildred (Mrs. Glenn Meier), Salem; Lo-ree (Mrs. Fred Hyde), Salem, and Glenn Burch of Independence.

Farmers who have been made loans to purchase family-size farms now include Davis F. Bridges, route 1, Shedd; Otto E. Thornton, Sweet Home; Darwin L. Cook, Route 2, Albany; and Vernon C. Roberts, Shedd. Each was selected on the basis of his record as a tenant farmer and qualifications for successful farm ownership by the county tenant committee, composed of A. C. Heyman, Albany, chairman; C. H. Brown, Shedd and Frank Steen, Lebanon.

Over 85 applications were received for the loans.

Scouts Win Ratings

Albany—Three local scouts attained first class ratings and six others were advanced to second class at Thursday night's court of honor conducted at the Veterans' Memorial hall.

The first class scouts are: Denny Miller, troop No. 10 and Douglas Chandler and Don Neuman, of troop 22.

New second class scouts are Dean Chandler, Darrell McClain, George Michele, Leon Ryals, Joe Taucher and Bob Herman, troop No. 22.

A feature of the evening was a "Medicine Show," put on by a delegation of Salem scouts headed by Bob Day, secretary to the scout executive, with reference to the Pine Lake camp, depicting camp life and scouting.

One More Teacher Needed at Amity

Amity—The teaching faculty of the Amity schools for next year has been chosen with the exception of the English teacher in the high school. Those who have signed contracts for high school are:

Principal, A. N. Arnold; vocational instructor, J. B. Thomas; home economics department, Miss Alma Wattenberg; athletic coach, Orville E. Robbins; commercial department, Miss Margaret Patterson. All teachers in the grade school were re-elected as follows:

Principal Joe L. Watt; Miss Verda Crook, Miss Dorothy Travis, Miss Dorothy Bork and Miss Ella S. Thomas. The schools closed Friday, June 3. The faculty in both schools are planning to attend college or Normal summer school courses.

Albany Gives Lebanon Firm Pool Contract

Albany—Albany's city council let contracts for the city municipal swimming pool Thursday at a special meeting to Keebler Brothers, Lebanon, who received the pool contract at $902.98; W. W. Stuart, Albany, received the plumbing contract at $234.40 and Everett Willard the wiring contract at $198.02.

The contracts were granted for the pool by lopping off sums on equipment, elimination of city garage costs, and through concessions by the contractors, relating chiefly to employment of WPA labor in excavating.

The total bid was thus dropped to $11,565.40 leaving a balance of more than $300 with which to absorb later costs that may occur.

The pool is to be finished by August 15.

Allotment Near End

Albany—Four more tenant farm purchase loans have been completed in Linn county, leaving only one still to be closed with the $37,000 allotment made to enable tenant farmers to become owners, reports Harold J. Finegan, county PSA supervisor, Albany.
