

Way Cleared For Repaving Court Street

Two resolutions clearing the way for the repaving of Court street from Capitol to Summer, in front of the state house, were adopted by the city council last night. They were submitted by state highway Engineer R. H. Baldock and introduced by the street committee by request. One of the resolutions provides that no encroachments be permitted on the street by the city that would be an impediment to traffic and would regulate the parking and speed rate of vehicles so there may be a free flow of traffic at all times. The other resolution adopted plans and specifications for the work. A letter from Baldock informed the council that bids for the work would be opened June 30.

Prior to the repaving of the street the city is to complete the installation of a 24-inch sewer main from 12th to Church on Court, and the special sewer committee was authorized by resolution to employ Frank Koehler as an engineer to take charge of the work. Alderman W. D. Evans insisted that city engineer Hugh Rogers should be authority over Koehler and Mayor V. E. Kuhn said that in effect he would, inasmuch as plans and specifications for the project have been prepared by Rogers and will be used by Koehler.

Eugene Team First In Rifle Shooting

Eugene, June 21 (P)—Months of intensive practice brought to five Eugene young men the first national company team rifle championship ever won by an Oregon National Guard unit. The winners, members of Company C, 162nd Infantry, Oregon National Guard, placed first among 276 companies from throughout the United States. Twelve other Oregon companies competed, Company B 186th Infantry, Portland, placing fourth.

The five men, ranging in age from 20 to 25 years, are students, and are commanded by Capt. Charles A. Mahany, member of the Eugene police force.

They scored 1822 points out of a possible 2000, an exceptionally high score, and shot with 22 calibre rifles from 50 feet. They shot 10 times from each of four positions, prone, kneeling, sitting and standing.

Student Good Shot
Corporal Stanley A. Warren, 22, University of Oregon student, who enlisted in 1933, and who is one of the guard's best marksmen, had the best record of 395 points out of 400. He hit the bull's eye 10 straight times from a prone position, and repeated his performance from a kneeling position. Then he scored 99 out of 100 points kneeling, and 96 out of 100 standing.

Putting a bullet through a bull's eye about three quarters of an inch in diameter is no small task. Sergeant William H. Gieske, 25, who also enlisted five years ago, had perfect scores in the prone and kneeling positions, scoring 94 and 88 sitting and standing, for a total of 382 out of 400.

Corporal Galen P. Robbins, 23, University of Oregon student who enlisted in 1933, made 10 out of 10 bull's eyes prone, and made a place Portland company was only a point behind with 1857. In the individual competition, Private V. W. Robertson, Company B, 186th Infantry, Portland, placed second with 387 out of 400 points, only one point behind the winner, a California guardsman. But both scores were even short of that made by Corporal Warren of Eugene in the company competition. The Oregon National Guard also placed high in the regimental competition, the 186th Infantry, Portland, placing fourth with 1,879 points out of 2,000. An Illinois regiment was first with 1,891. All firing was held on local ranges in January and February. Result being tabulated by the National Guard bureau in Washington, D.C.

Silverton—Mrs. Paul Johnson entertained the members of her pinocle club at an afternoon affair Friday with her guests including Mrs. Ernest Barker, Mrs. Ed Rhodenberger, Mrs. Max Houck, Miss Rose Specht, Miss Celia Hannan, Mrs. Fred Otjen, Mrs. B. G. Gaffey, Mrs. Clyde Ramsby, Mrs. Fred Mohl and Mrs. C. E. Hainboham. Mrs. Ramsby, Mrs. Ernest Barker and Mrs. Rhodenberger scored at play. Mrs. Otjen will entertain the group at the next regular meeting.

Market Street Issue Pondered

Alderman Frank P. Marshall told the city council last night he believed in all the stop signs and through streets necessary to protect persons and property in Salem, but he objected to a resolution making Market street a through thoroughfare from Capitol to the east city limits until the need of it had been established by an investigation by the special traffic committee. The resolution was referred to the committee on his motion.

The council voted to instruct the street commissioner to place stop signs at Winter and Mill and Liberty and Ferry street intersections.

Boys' Betterment Bureau Organized

Turner—A Boys' Betterment bureau was organized at the home of Rev. W. S. Crockett with Rev. Crockett acting as advisor. Junior boys are invited to join. Officers elected at the first business meeting were: President, Edward Hatfield; vice-president, Robert Leep; secretary, Ira Harrison; treasurer, Ronald Polson. Those attending included Gerald Hubb, George Perry, Robert Leep, Edward Hatfield, Ira Harrison, Ivan Polson, Ronald Polson and W. E. Abbott.
