

Linn Pioneers Launch Annual 3-Day Affair

Lebanon—Lebanon talent will contribute to the 31st annual Linn county Pioneer reunion to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Brownsville.

In Friday's morning and afternoon program, the Lebanon high school band and several other musical groups and soloists will take part. Those appearing in the morning program, which will be featured by the address of Secretary of State Earl Snell, are the freshmen high school girls' quartet consisting of Joan Schenk, Marjorie Stringer, Lorelei Stewart and Marjorie Suter; Harold Post in a trumpet solo; Charles Long in a tap dance.

The Lebanon band will play following the parade scheduled at 1 o'clock. Others on the program are Charlotte Bohle and Jean White, clarinet duet; Don Chamberlain, bass solo; high school girls' quartet, Mary Fredericks, Jean Edwards, Edna Mae Myers, Lois Bowman; Rodney Cox, tap dance; Dorothy Myers, xylophone solo; Mary Fredericks, vocal solo and Lynn Calahan, harmonica solo.

A carnival, antique and floral exhibits, baseball games and dancing are other attractions of the three-day celebration.

Church Service Cancelled
Lebanon—In the absence of Rev. R. L. Spence, who left last night for Salem where he will entrain for a state Methodist conference at The Dalles, there will be no sermon in services at the Methodist church Sunday morning. Instead, the services will be largely devoted to a children's day program in charge of Miss Miriam Eichner. The program will consist of pageantry by all Sunday school departments and of singing by the choir.

Priest Will Offer First Solemn Mass

Sublimity—Rev. Theodore J. Wolf, S.J., was ordained to the holy priesthood June 15 by Most Rev. John J. Mitty, D.D., archbishop of San Francisco, at the Mission Santa Clara church in Santa Clara, Calif.

Father Wolf will sing his first solemn mass in Sublimity at the St. Boniface church June 26 at 10:30 o'clock. He is the son of Frank Wolf of Jefferson, and was born in Sublimity 31 years ago, where he received his early schooling. Father Wolf is a graduate of Gonzaga high school and university and also studied at Tacoma, Wash.

Daily Bible School Closed

Monmouth—The daily vacation Bible school closed its two weeks' session with a program and exhibition at the Evangelical church Sunday evening. The total enrollment reached 71 with an average daily attendance of about 60. Certificates and rewards of books were granted to a large number of the children who had a nearly perfect attendance.

Demonstration of the special work of each department was given and a complete exhibit of the handwork and notebook work of each child.

There were four departments of the school including classes for all children of grade school age. A diversified Bible-centered program was offered in the two weeks' work including a systematic Bible course, memorization of Bible passages, a study of famous hymns and hymn writers, handiwork correlated with the Bible study, instructive Bible games and a dramatization of Bible stories.

The expense of the school was borne by the Sunday schools of the Baptist, Christian and Evangelical churches and by means of an offering at the program Sunday evening. No fees were required of the children or their parents.

Members of the teaching staff were Edith Clark, superintendent; Mrs. Lee Payton, Helen Stansbrough, Mrs. Edith Duncan, Mrs. Harvey Young, Mrs. Glenn Halliday, Mrs. Hixon, Fern Waggoner, Lois Fleischman and Dolores Bracken. Rev. W. A. Elkins and Rev. E. C. Hicks talked during the assembly periods.

Woodburn Rainbow Girls Delay Rites

Woodburn—The last meeting until fall of Evergreen Assembly, No. 12 Order of the Rainbow for Girls will be held Wednesday evening with a no-host supper at 6:30 o'clock. Initiation which had been planned for that night, was postponed until fall.

Delegates who will attend grand assembly of Rainbow at McMinnville June 24 and 25 are Marjorie Wright, worthy advisor; Joan Ann Carver, worthy associate advisor, and Bernadine St. Helens, Charity. Others who expect to attend are Jean L. Beers, grand organizer; Mrs. Myrtle Gill, mother advisor; Betty Ackerson, grand representative; Annette Lytle and Jean Simmons, past worthy advisors; Patsy Smith, Hope, and Corinne Gill.

Class Reunion Third Event

Sheridan—The class of 1935 of the Sheridan high school held its third annual reunion in the domestic science rooms of the high school on Saturday evening at 5:30 o'clock.

A no-host supper was served in charge of June Paine Hunt and Thelma Lux McKibben, 23 members of the class with their husbands being present. The number graduating in 1935 was 33.

After supper a business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Thelma Lux McKibben, presiding. A constitution and by-laws were presented by the secretary, Martha Brown, and were adopted. The following officers for 1938-39 were elected: President, Haland Hinkle; vice-president, Martha Brown; secretary-treasurer, June Paine Hunt; scribe, Arlene Barber Graves.

This class is the only class of Sheridan high school to observe a reunion and it is always held on the evening of Phil Sheridan day. This year's gathering was of special interest because of the presence of Mrs. Robert Graves (Arlene Barber) of Portland and her little son, Bobbie. Arlene was the winner of the Caille B. Heider honor girls' cup in 1935. Darrel Syron, winner of the Ruth Field cup in 1935, was unable to be present because of being at the reserve officer's training corps at Fort Lewis. Syron is the newly appointed editor of the "Lamplighter," literary creative magazine at Oregon State. He will graduate next June.

Farmers are Told They Must Organize

Talbot—G. W. Potts, state president of the Farmers' union, gave a talk to 30 farmers following a luncheon at the D. W. Porter farm in the Scrawellhill district near Jefferson.

Potts, who resides in this district, told the farmers that they should organize if they expect to get ahead. He mentioned the Farmers' union, the Grange and the farm bureau.

The occasion of this meeting was a tour conducted under the auspices of the Santiam Central Farmers' union, with the cooperation of Linn county agent, Floyd C. Mullen. Seven farms were visited where agricultural methods and equipment were inspected.

The farms visited were all in Linn county and included the E. C. McClain farm, W. J. Turnidge, W. E. Meyer, D. W. Porter, Manley Copeland's vegetable project, the Elijah Hayes farm and the H. E. Millen farm.

Woodburn—The quarterly convention of the North Marion County Sunday schools was held at Donald Sunday afternoon. Walter Shrock of Hubbard presided and Rev. R. G. Kleen, pastor of the Woodburn Methodist Episcopal church, was the principal speaker. His topic was "Religious Education." Fred DeVries spoke on Sunday school work at the state fair. Special music was a duet by Rev. VanWinkle and his son of Hubbard and a solo by Rev. Carl Hubbard, pastor of the Donald Methodist church. There were 50 or 60 present. Miss Virginia Miller acted as secretary. The next meeting will be held at Hubbard in October.

Linn Relief Record Compares Favorably

Albany—Linn county's relief record for this spring compares quite favorably with those of other counties, despite the failure of the load to recede as much as usual at this time of the year. Alvis Lovv, executive secretary of the Linn county relief committee, reported yesterday. However, Miss Love predicted still better conditions throughout the county when the several construction projects contemplated for the summer and fall are started.

On July 1 checks totaling $8834.75 will be mailed to 436 Linn county old age assistance recipients from the local relief office. The committee added three to the list but three deductions rendered the June total the same as that in May. The amount of assistance, however, was reduced $41.

Aid to dependent children was dispensed among 48 families who received $1637, which is $29.24 less than the May total.
