Foree Trial Comes to End

Dallas, Ore., July 13—The Lisle Foree arson trial ended Wednesday afternoon with Judge Walker indicating that he would meet with defense counsel Ed Goodenough and District Attorney Bruce Spaulding July 20 for a possible decision in the case. Goodenough consumed the day by presenting character witnesses on behalf of his client and concluded his case by placing the defendant on the stand himself.

In regard to his confession Foree stated that he had dictated it in part but that Clyde Warren, state police officer, had dictated the balance. He also indicated that some of the statements supposed to have been made by him before the grand jury were not recalled by him.

Goodenough closed with a plea on behalf of his client stressing his good reputation and also that he was under a handicap because of his limited education particularly in his dealings with the officers. He indicated that there was some measure of vindictiveness on the part of Banks toward Foree.

Foree, former president of the Salem local of the teamsters union, was one of the group accused of arson in connection with the burning of the West Salem Box Factory.

Talk of Third Term Revived

Washington, July 13 (AP)—Senator Logan (D-Ky.) predicted today that a third term petition headed by President Roosevelt at Pueblo, Colo., yesterday was the forerunner of many similar requests—and that Mr. Roosevelt would resist them all.

The Pueblo petition said 4,000 steel workers "most urgently request the president to be a candidate to succeed himself in 1940."

Such petitions are inspired by Mr. Roosevelt's "personal popularity and magnetism," Logan said, adding: "But I'm sure he will resist. He can't say so publicly now because it would lessen his influence within the democratic party."

"I do not think Mr. Roosevelt has the slightest idea of running again. I am opposed to his nomination for a third term. I don't think he should run and don't believe he will."

Logan, an administrator on supporter, was praised by President Roosevelt in a letter made public last week. The letter referred to Logan's refusal to consider appointment as a federal judge in Kentucky, thereby leaving his senate seat open ostensibly for Gov. A. B. Chandler.

Chandler now is opposing Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) for renomination. The president's mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, said at Portland, Me., she never had heard her son mention the possibility of his running for a third term.

"He has never even hinted at it," she said.

Jimmy Hines Defeats Denny Shute

Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., July 13 (AP)—Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., today blasted Denny Shute's hopes of a third straight national PGA title by defeating the 1936-1937 champion in their 36-hole third-round match at the Shawnee country club today, 2 and 1.

Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., blasted his way into the quarter-final round with an 11 and 10 rout of Harry Bassler, former caddy from Long Beach, Calif.

Queen Marie Better, To Leave Hospital

Dresden, Germany, July 13 (AP)—The condition of Queen Mother Marie of Rumania has improved so much that she expects to leave Friday for her Sinaia, Rumania, castle, her physician said today.

The doctor, Richard Stoerner, a liver specialist, said: "The queen's condition at first gave cause for worry but since her arrival in Dresden her majesty has improved notably. She even visited the famous 'Green Vault,' one of the world's finest collections of ivory works of art, here on Tuesday."

Forest Service Fighting Flames

Eugene, July 13 (AP)—Forest service officials rushed a crew of men to a fire on inaccessible McLean mountain, part of the Willamette national forest, yesterday. Airplanes may be used to transport supplies.

Twenty-six other fires, started by lightning last week, have been controlled. The largest covered three acres.

Hang in Effigy NLRB Official

Steubenville, O., July 13 (AP)—A laughing, jeering throng of approximately 3,000 persons milled in front of the federal building today, flaunting banners attacking the national labor board and shouting protests against the expulsion of a Weirton Steel company attorney from the board's 11-month-long hearing against the company.

Although visibly disappointed by the shift of the hearing, which one leader said "ruined" the planned demonstration, the crowd cheered Clyde Armstrong, company attorney barred from the hearing by Examiner E. Grandison Smith, and shouted lustily as Smith was hung in effigy from a hotel window.

Hoisted to the shoulders of two brassy steel workers on the steps of a hotel facing the federal building, Armstrong cried:

"We never would have been able to carry on over there (waving a hand at the federal building) if it hadn't been for a fine crowd—a group of people like you."

The crowd roared as the straw-stuffed, overall clad dummy bearing a placard "Grandstand Smith" was dropped on a rope from the second floor window of the hotel.

Two long banners, flapping in the breeze above the street, declared: "We want Armstrong reinstated." "Three cheers for Armstrong."

"We want Polier."

Isadore Polier is an attorney for the labor board at the Weirton hearing and has clashed frequently with company counsel.

Auto Crashes At Oregon Caves

Grants Pass, July 13 (AP)—Three college student employees, rushing down the Oregon Caves mountain highway this morning from a caves resort to the scene of an accident, were wrecked by tire trouble.

Clyde Dunn, about 20, of Portland, was critically injured about the head. He served as chateau bellboy. With him were Colmar Lombard, about 22, of Portland, who operates the caves service station, and Raynor Smith, son of a Methodist minister at Roseburg. They received slight injuries.

The second accident occurred about one-half mile from the scene of the first, three miles down the mountain side.

A car driven by William Miller, 51 Concord St., San Francisco, was forced over the grade when two cars passed. His son-in-law, Fred Kieser, and Fred's father, Charles of Oakland accompanied. Charles Kieser suffered injuries.

Involved in the accident were four Portland women. Mrs. Alfred Zimmer, Mrs. L. C. Brunner, Mrs. Cornie LeVake and Mrs. Dudley Tomaciff.

No Disturbance For Mother Mink

Astoria, July 13 (AP)—Mother mink, whose propensities for eating offspring when harsh realities of the outside world intrude halted work by the Brookfield Construction company on a Lewis and Clarke river dike several weeks ago, won a hush-hush order from army engineers yesterday.

Engineers said the work would proceed but asked the company to work quietly and not allow brush burning near the Lewis and Clarke mink farm.

A hearing on a $6750 claim of mink farmers who said low-flying planes caused death of mink kittens resumed before the coast guard.

Due to Land At 7 O'Clock From Yakutsk

Hughes planned to make Yakutsk his last stop in Soviet Russian territory. He plotted a course of 2,456 miles to Fairbanks, across the north-eastern tip of Siberia and the Bering sea.

However, preparations for an emergency landing have been made at Anadyrk in case of necessity.

Leaving Yakutsk just 60 hours 41 minutes after their take-off from New York and with two-thirds of the flight completed, Hughes and his companions were far ahead of the time of the late Wiley Post, who girdled the globe alone in seven days 18 hours 40 minutes in 1933.

(Post flew a different course across Siberia, from New York, as Yakutsk came 112 hours 58 minutes after his New York take-off. He had stopped at Khabarovsk only two hours, 13 minutes.

(Anadyrk is a little more than 1,400 miles northeast of Yakutsk. From there the direct route to Fairbanks would take Hughes close to the narrowest part of the Bering strait, where only 60 miles of water separates Soviet and American territory. The district between Yakutsk and Bering strait, however, is one of the wildest parts of Siberia.)

Hughes had landed his big monoplane at Yakutsk at 6:08 p. m. (4:08 a. m., E.S.T.), ending the fourth leg of his flight.

The weary aviator immediately snatched his brief rest, afterwards announcing he would take off again "in two or three hours."

The weather was fair.

At Omak Hughes was greeted warmly by representatives of the regional Soviet executive committee and newspapermen. In a brief interview he said it had rained heavily between Kurgan and Omak. He flew at an altitude of more than 9,000 feet.

Reports of good weather were received from points as far as the Bering Strait, but fog and rain were reported on the Alaskan side.

(Hughes' flight headquarters on the World's Fair grounds, New York, announced receipt of a message sent from the plane at 8:22 a. m. E.S.T., giving its position at 64 north latitude, 137.05 east longitude, over the Cherski mountains, or about 300 miles east of Yakutsk.)

(The message, picked up and relayed by the United States army signal corps station at Seattle, Wash., said the plane was flying at an altitude of 6,200 feet.)

Brewery Suit Shows Goonism

Portland, Ore., July 13 (AP)—Stories of vandalism and terrorism were told by witnesses testifying yesterday in the suit lodged against Dave Beck and the teamsters' union by the United Union Brewery of Walla Walla, Wash.

The brewing company, which opened a suit for an injunction against the teamsters' on March 14, sent eight men to the stand as Special Master Nicholas Jaureguy re-opened the case to take further testimony.

The plaintiffs' witnesses admitted throwing rocks through windows and beating drivers of trucks delivering beer not brewed by teamsters' union affiliates.

"Everyone was doing it," Jess Farrington, who said he fought under the ring name of Jess La Barba and was a member of 1932 Olympic team, declared in discussing window smashing. Farrington, now in jail on a malicious destruction of property charge, said he took part in two window-breaking expeditions.

The United Brewers is seeking an injunction against Beck and Daniel Tobin as heads of the teamsters' union to restrain them from interfering with delivery of its beer. The hearing will be resumed again next Monday.

American films will be shown in a new theatre in Stockholm, Sweden.

New Capitol Offices Please Governor

Governor Martin was all smiles today when he held his first press conference in his new office in the capitol building.

"Yes, sir," he said, "this is a mighty fine little capitol. We have something to be proud of. I'm sure pleased with my offices."

He laughed when newspapermen complained that he would be a hard man to catch from now on. They could corner him for interviews when he was in the state office building because he could not get to his office unseen.

But now he can go in the back way, up his private elevator and into his private office, and no one will ever know he arrived.

The executive offices occupy the entire middle wing in the rear of the second floor, contrasting with the cramped former quarters in the state office building.

The governor's small private office is paneled with Oregon myrtle-wood burl, and is located at the end of a narrow hall. Next to his office are his elevator and lavatory.

Adjoining the private office is a small conference room, which adjoins the office of W. L. Goslin, the governor's private secretary.

Goslin's office opens into a large room in which the governor will meet delegations. This room is next to the reception room and outer office, in which the governor's three stenographers will work.

All rooms are paneled with walnut, except the board of control room, paneled with knotty Oregon pine, and the governor's private office.

Moving operations into the governor's suite will be completed today.

Italians Plan Border Drive

Perpignan, France, July 13 (AP)—France strengthened her anti-aircraft defenses along the Spanish border today as reports were received that insurgent General Franco planned a northern campaign with the aid of Italian troops.

Reports reaching French border points said 20,000 Italians, mostly expert mountain fighters, were being concentrated in the valley of the Noguera Pallaresa river for a drive to the east in an attempt to cut Barcelona's communications with France.

General Bertrand Faigade, who commands eastern sections of the French border, started an inspection tour of the new defenses set up in all towns opposite possible fighting zones. The defenses consist mostly of modern anti-aircraft batteries.

The presence of Italian troops in the border zone has been persistently reported. Troops preparing for the drive were said to be plentifully supplied with heavy mountain artillery.

Should the insurgents drive through to the Mediterranean in this region they would deprive France of its principal trump card—the threat to reopen its border and permit a flow of war supplies into government Spain.

Employment of foreign troops in border fighting would be a matter of great concern to France who with Great Britain has been pressing withdrawal of foreign fighting forces as a prelude to friendly accords with Italy.

All of the work formerly given at Albany, as well as work started and continued in Portland, will be continued in one institution, it was decided.

The Synod named two new trustees for the college. Dr. J. Hudson Ballard and Hopkin Jenkins, both of Portland. Terms of other trustees were continued.

A resolution of appreciation and praise for the work done by Dr. Thomas W. Bibb, who is retiring after ten years as president of Albany college, was passed by the Synod.

The four Presbyteries of Oregon are holding up well in finances and membership. Rev. W. B. Mahon, treasurer, reported. The Synod has 131 churches, 164 ministers, 20,400 members, 18,000 in Sunday schools and had an income last year of $248,500 and an additional income of $37,000, for benevolences. Church property in the state is valued at $3,111,000.

McMinnville, July 13 (AP)—The Whiteoak bridge and a $10,000 stage terminal were dedicated yesterday in a joint ceremony participated in by the state highway department, bus company officials and city officials.

The $158,121, 1220-foot bridge span, H. H. Baldock, state highway engineer, said, will eliminate a serious traffic hazard. Glen S. Paxton, designer of the bridge, said it had the latest type safety construction with all overhead dangers removed.

Bridge, Terminal Both Dedicated

Vancouver, Wash., July 13 (AP)—Fire destroyed the flax warehouse and plant of the Pacific Coast Linen corporation yesterday and threatened other buildings in Vancouver's heavily industrialized district before firemen, aided by equipment from Portland, brought it under control.

Brush fires raging along railroad tracks in the area increased the hazard.

Loss was estimated by an insurance company executive at more than $200,000. He said the plant's machinery alone was worth more than that amount.

Linen Mill Has Serious Fire

Eugene, July 13 (AP)—E. G. Earl, Walton sawmill worker, lost in a mechanical knock-down and drag-out at the Keith Lumber company yesterday.

Earl, grazing a conveyor belt, was knocked unconscious by a slab of wood. He fell onto the belt, which dumped him into a burning trash pile. Bystanders rescued him. Earl suffered serious burns.

Cheers Greet Queen Mother

London, July 13 (AP)—Thousands of persons gathered along the banks of the Thames cheered today as Queen Mother Mary made a "royal progress" down the river from Westminster to the ancient Tower of London to attend a charity garden party.

Upon her arrival at the tower the queen disembarked from the royal launch at the famous "Queen's Stairs." It was the first time a queen had used the stairs in more than 400 years, the last being when Tudor Queen Elizabeth ascended them on July 10, 1561.

Subsequent monarchs always have made state drives through the city when visiting the tower.

Queen Mary attended the garden party in place of her daughter-in-law, Queen Elizabeth, who canceled the engagement upon the death of her mother, the Countess of Strathmore, June 23.

Removal of College Voted

Eugene, July 13 (AP)—Removal of Albany college from Albany to Portland was ratified here today without objection by the Presbyterian Synod of Oregon, meeting here for its 48th annual session. The Synod voted approval of a previous action of the board of trustees of the institution.

In a note to British published by the foreign office tonight, the government said it always had favored elimination of foreign influences.

The British scheme was adopted by the 36 nations non-intervention committee in London, July 5, and then submitted to the Spanish government and insurgents.

Barcelona, July 13 (AP)—The Spanish government has accepted in principle the British sponsored plan for withdrawal of foreign soldiers from the Spanish civil war.

In a note to British published by the foreign office tonight, the government said it always had favored elimination of foreign influences.

The British scheme was adopted by the 36 nations non-intervention committee in London, July 5, and then submitted to the Spanish government and insurgents.

Forest Service to Start Road Work

Medford, July 13 (AP)—Carl Janouch, national forest service supervisor for this area, announces that work will start next week on both the Klamath Falls and the Dead Indian roads to Lake O of the Woods, a recreational spot in southeastern Jackson county. Camps are now under construction to care for the 35 workers to be employed on the project.

Federal road money allocated for the work totals $25,000, and will be expended evenly on each road, the forest supervisor said. The roads will follow new surveys that will shorten the distance slightly.

Brick and Tile Plant Destroyed

Willamina, July 13 (AP)—The Willamina Clap Products company's brick and tile plant was destroyed by fire which started in a kiln last night. Fire fighting equipment was sent from Sheridan, nine miles away, but found an inadequate water supply. Replacement value of the plant was estimated at $350,000.

No Inquest Ordered

Eugene, July 13 (AP)—No inquest will be held into the automobile accident which killed Mr. and Mrs. Noble J. Pickle, Bakerfield, Calif., Sunday, Coroner Charles F. Coole said yesterday.

The thermometer at the airport reached 95 degrees at 1:40 p.m. with every indication that it would go higher by 4 o'clock this afternoon. June 7 the temperature reached 92, the highest recorded so far this year until today.

'HE DID IT WITH MIRRORS' readily applies to photographer who wanted to show from several angles reasons why Florence Mitchell of Banor was chosen Maine daisy queen.

Bombing Probe Unsuccessful

London, July 13 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today Britain was "not prepared to acquiesce in repetition of attacks of a certain character" on British shipping in Spanish waters.

He also disclosed that the government's effort to form an international commission to investigate bombings of civilian cities in Spain had been unsuccessful. Another announcement was that Sir Robert Hodgson, British agent in insurgent Spain, would stay in London for "the present."

Chamberlain said Britain had rejected as "unacceptable" insurgent General Franco's suggestion that Almeria be made an "immune" port for British merchantmen in government Spain.

Disclosing a new note from Franco insisting that his fliers had not bombed British ships deliberately, the prime minister reiterated that "ships trading in ports in the war zone must accept the risks which are an inevitable result of war."

He went on to say, however, that "while any military action in such circumstances is thus precluded, his majesty's government are not prepared to acquiesce in repetition of attacks of a certain character."

Veteran Locomotive Engineer Retires

Portland, July 13 (AP)—The Cascade Limited, premier train of the Southern Pacific's northwest fleet, rolled into the Union station today with John Paulsen at the throttle for the last time.

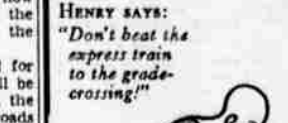

The veteran of 56 years of rail-roading retired with today's run. Tomorrow he is 70 years old. He began work for the Southern Pacific when he was 12 and for 47 years he has been an engineer. He retires with the No. 1 seniority rank.

"I'm just going to water the flowers and cut the lawn," said Paulsen when asked how he would celebrate his retirement.

A marriage license has been issued to Clarkson Duffus, 20, cannery worker, and Lila Perkins, 19, housekeeper, both route 2, Salem.
