Southern California's Trojans Favored to Defeat Stanford at Palo Alto

Sport Slants

By Fred Hampson
(Associated Press Writer)

Oregon State's Beavers, the champions of September who became October's heroes, will lose to Washington State tomorrow at Portland unless Coach Howard Jones of U.S.C. is wrong.

Proctor Jones' boys have played both teams and Howard picks the Cougars. Howard has been wrong before and we choose to believe he will be wrong tomorrow, but there is warning in his prophecy. He feels that the Cougars are better than their four defeats, that they are about due to win a game, and this will be it.

The augury is not very flattering to a Beaver team that has just pulled itself out of the race by beating Washington's highly esteemed nose-divers because anything that may be said for the Cougars can also be said for O.S.C. They not only have improved but have had a step of victory's heady nectar which should stimulate them to end for the quarrel with the Cougars.

But there are angles that make the four-time beaten palouses look risky. First they have a tradition for beating Oregon State in Portland. No WSC team has lost to OSC in the Rose City since 1919. Second, Hollingbery's teams usually age well. This one may be punk but it isn't getting any worse. It did a pretty fair job of curbing Stanford and it hobbled USC for three quarters. Finally—the Beavers are expected to win, and this season has been distinguished by the unexpected.

Oregon State has come a long way since its ineffectual tussle with Idaho. The good orange line is nicely meshed with a smart backfield of Mercer, the brothers Kohler and Kisselburgh. And the team they're playing tomorrow isn't as tough as the one they belted over last week.

Behind Oregon State's victory over Washington, we are told, was a deprecating Seattle newspaper article in which the Beavers were referred to as a crowd of farmers who didn't belong in the same ball park with the Huskies. This reportedly wounded the Beavers to a high fever and resulted in one more humiliating loss for the Washingtons.

It makes a nice story and adds drama and gives the game a touch of the old Horatio Alger color, but we choose to think that Oregon State won because they had the best team.

Seattle writers never have been very complimentary to Oregon State. Why this particular slur should have whelped an upset is not quite clear. It probably made the Stiner men mad, all right, but they won because they had a football team that played better ball than Washington's.

Willamette And Idaho to Provide Show

Intercollegiate football at a price everybody can afford to pay will be available on Sweetland field tonight at 8 o'clock. Willamette and College of Idaho, members of the Northwest conference, will provide entertainment at the rate of ten cents a period, although it is not probable that fans will be permitted to select the particular 15 minutes of football they wish to see. At any rate the entire 60 minutes of skirmishing will be well worth witnessing.

While injuries and sickness have taken their toll among Coach Keene's Beavers, nevertheless he will be able to field a squad which is capable of providing first class football entertainment. A light backfield this season has necessitated the use of wide-open football tactics, something which should prove a boon to fans who prefer to see the ball now and then.

With Chapman, Stewart and Shaffer absent because of injuries, it is probable Coach Keene will fall back on some of the freshmen who remained at home while the varsity went south. This list includes George McGlynn, triple threat left half of St. Helena; Myron Goer, right half, St. Helena; Tom King, guard, Salem; Gordon Moore, tackle, Tigard, and Wally Olson, center, Tillamook.

Gigler, the 144-pound freshman from Camas, Wash., breaks into the starting lineup for the first time this season in tonight's game. He proved a bitter pill for opposing high school clubs while performing for Walt Erickson at Camas.

George Abbott, end, and Karl Kahle, tackle, three-year strikers wearers, have been appointed co-captains for tonight's match.

Coach Farbery brings to Salem an outfit almost as heavy as that boasted by Willamette and one which is well coached. The Coyotes have not won a game against Willamette for many years but that is no indication they won't put a dent in the dope bucket tonight. Their 7 to 6 win over the Loggers of CPS would seem to assure Idaho is bringing something besides a bunch of shoe-leather pads and cleated shoes.

Probable starting lineups:

Willamette U. C. of Idaho
 Blair, LE.....Blankley
 Baker, LG.....Hertrich
 R. Williams, C.....MacDonald
 McKinney, RG.....Dille
 Srinio, RT, A. Harshbarger

 Gallon, Q.....Russell
 Gigler, LH.....Bennett
 Wenkley, RH.....Stone
 Drury, F.....Berg

Prep Grid Race Grows Hot as Season Ages

(By the Associated Press)

A Klamath Falls-Medford high school game at Medford tonight looms as the outstanding battle of an Oregon slate swollen with important week-end games. Klamath Falls will put its undefeated squad on the field under the orchard city's flood lights to match a powerful team that may be the answer to the Pelicans' state title aspirations. The game was expected to draw 6000.

Another spotless record will be at stake when the unbeaten McLoughlin high team of Milton-Freewater takes its home field against Hood River this afternoon. Another big eastern Oregon game will be the meeting of La Grande and Pendleton at La Grande.

Lebanon will try to take the measure of another unscathed contender for the state title, West Linn, in a game today.

Bend, beaten once, will welcome Albany to the Wya country and Salem, a strong Willamette valley contender, will visit McMinnville.

Toledo, one of the big game teams of the coast area, will play Junction City.

In the Portland league, Lincoln will match Commerce today, while Washington and Grant battle it out Saturday.

Mild Weather Reduces Trade

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Mild weather had an unfavorable effect on trade during the past week and retail and wholesale volumes were pulled down, said Dun & Bradstreet today in their weekly summary.

It was added, however, that little significance was attached to the lag in the demand for some types of merchandise, as merchants were inclined to attribute the lull in sales wholly to weather conditions.

The average decline in the week was estimated at 2 to 4 percent, bringing the decrease from a year ago to 4 to 14 percent.

Keeping in step with retail turnover, replacement buying at wholesale slackened its pace.

Buyers' eagerness to cover future needs became more pronounced as probability of delivery delays and rising prices spread into additional lines.

"In many centers it was reported Christmas requirements were being filled at an earlier date and with greater freedom than last year but, on the whole, future orders were still confined largely to staple lines and those in which shortages were most manifest.

The increase in wholesale sales for the week was so small that the margin below the 1937 comparative was still estimated at 3 to 12 percent.

Phil Bell has been elected president of the Mercantile bowling league during a conference held at the Perfection alleys Wednesday night. Ken Austin was named secretary-treasurer.

Abolition of Try for Point Plan of Dorais

Detroit, Oct. 21 (AP)—Charles E. (Gus) Dorais, veteran head coach at the University of Detroit, advocates settling the entire argument over football's point after touchdown by abolishing it and counting a touchdown seven points.

Dorais would settle the scores by ruling the team which makes the most yards from scrimmage the victor.

The Detroit coach has made tentative arrangements to try out the theory November 27 when his team meets Santa Clara at Sacramento, Calif. Buck Shaw, Santa Clara, coach, is willing to cooperate, it was understood here.

"It will be a unique and interesting experiment," Dorais said. The plan provides for an official scorer who would keep a record of yardage gained.

Bears Given Edge Against Washington

By James A. Sullivan
 San Francisco, Oct. 21 (AP)—Howard Jones, Trojan coach, is going to be surprised today when he arrives here and finds his U.S.C. team a 2 1/2 to 1 favorite over Stanford for their annual game Saturday.

Others were somewhat surprised to see the odds posted by local betting commissioners at such a figure.

For some 40,000 persons, including Jimmy Roosevelt, the president's secretary and eldest son, are going down to the Stanford bowl expecting to see a toss-up game which a break or two might decide.

California is a 2 1/2 to 1 favorite over victoryless Washington at Seattle. Santa Clara is 2 1/2 to 1 over Arkansas in a San Francisco game expected to produce the wildest forward passing of the year. Fordham rates at 2 to 1 over the Oregon team which Stanford defeated. St. Mary's is favored at similar odds over undefeated University of San Francisco in a Sunday game. Oregon State is a slight favorite over Washington State at Portland. No odds are quoted on the U.C.L.A.-Idaho fuxx at Los Angeles, but most sources look to an Idaho defeat, the first of the year for the conference outcasts.

Other games on tomorrow's program are Nevada vs. Fresno State; Chico State vs. Cal. Aggies; Flagstaff vs. New Mexico; Ellensburg vs. Linfield; Pacific U. vs. Whitman; Brigham Young vs. Portland; North Dakota State vs. Montana; Occidental vs. Laverne; Cal. Tech. vs. Pomona college; Billings Poly vs. Montana Mines; Washington frosh vs. Western Washington; Puget Sound vs. Pacific Lutheran.

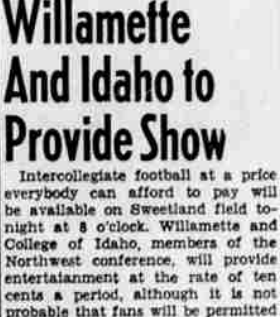

scored a touchdown which would have meant victory for the Dragons, in the dying minutes of the game, but officials called an offside penalty against both teams which nullified the six points.

Each team collected two touchdowns, Dallas losing because it failed to annex either one of the extra points.

Woods and Harvey were outstanding for Molalla while Krocker and Williams performed well for Dallas.

Dallas Nosed Out By Molalla High

Dallas—The Dallas Dragons remained at the bottom of the Willamette Valley interscholastic league as the result of losing a hotly contested football game to the Molalla Buckaroos last night, 13-12. Dallas

Proposed All Purpose Stadium as envisioned by an architect. Salem voters will decide whether they want to bond themselves for $50,000 with which to finance the project at the November election. It is expected the government will assist through contribution with WPA labor. Several civic clubs have endorsed the stadium plan.

Friend Lists Lineup for Oct. 26 Card

"They will all have to fight, whether they are from my stable or not, for that is the only way in which we can build up the boxing game in Salem," was the emphatic statement of John Friend yesterday as he announced the complete lineup for his card at the army next Wednesday night. Friend, well known boxing enthusiast of Hubbard, is matchmaking for the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Frisco Edwards, the third man in the ring, will be instructed to use his own judgment in making his decisions, regardless of whose toes he steps on.

While Bud Peterson of Independence and Jack Hibbard of Klamath Falls have drawn the top spot in the eight-round mix, Friend believes some of the boys in the lower brackets will provide the fireworks. One of these is Kid Weston, a 138-pounder who recently moved to Salem from Boise. Weston has worked out under Friend's observation and the latter is willing to vouch for his competitive spirit. Joe Bonn, light heavyweight, Gervais, is another boy who will bear watching. Friend states. Bonn is the young fellow who, in an emergency, took on two men on a single card at the army last winter and won both. He is slated to meet Leo Wondra of Independence in the special event. Wondra gained his ring experience by tossing leather in Omaha. He is now a resident of Independence and as such lost a decision to Bonn some three weeks ago.

The entire card:

8 rounds, main event: Bud Peterson, Independence, vs. Jack Hibbard, Klamath Falls, 151 pounds.
 6 rounds, semi-final: Eddie Spina, Portland vs. Chuck Carnera, Seattle, 135 pounds.
 6 rounds, special: Joe Bonn, Gervais, vs. Leo Wondra, Independence, 170 pounds.
 4 rounds: Tony Kahut, Woodburn, vs. Montana Red, Independence, 145 pounds.
 4 rounds: Kid Weston, Salem, vs. Joe O'Hara, Silet, 138 pounds.
 4 rounds: Herman Halter, Woodburn, vs. Bobby Franklin, Independence, 145 pounds.

Stayton 'S' Club Initiates Five

Stayton—The "Order of S," athletic organization of the local high school, held its annual initiation on Wednesday for five new members. They are Darel Lewis, Edwin Hayworth, Cloyd Harrel, Richard McCrae and Derrill Jordan.

Portland, Oct. 21 (AP)—Roy Fugate, biological survey official, said yesterday that predatory animal hunters had killed 1628 predators in Oregon during September.

Now is the Time to Figure the WHOLE COST of GUARANTEED All-Winter Protection against BOIL-AWAY, FREEZE-UP and RUST

Find Your Car Here

$2.95 A GALLON

EVEREADY PRESTONE

COSTS MORE BY THE GALLON LESS BY THE WINTER

COLD WAVE COMING!

Freezing temperatures within twenty-four hours, says Weather man

You've got to do something about your car at once... one of two things:

1. Take a chance with ordinary boil-away anti-freeze that will need replacement as the weather seesaws back and forth and motor heat brings the radiator solution above its boiling point.
2. Give your car the proper protection from the beginning and free yourself from worry and uncertainty all winter long.

Better be sure, better be happy, better be thrifty with "Eveready" "Prestone" anti-freeze. It's guaranteed in writing.

FIND YOUR CAR ON THIS CHART

IMPORTANT! The price per gallon of an anti-freeze means nothing unless you know how many gallons you will need during the entire winter. You can't get that information on a boil-away anti-freeze. But you can get it for "Prestone" anti-freeze... and here it is. See how reasonably you can get two-way protection all winter long against both freeze-up and rust formations with one shot of "Prestone" anti-freeze—one shot because it won't boil off, no matter how warm the weather gets between the cold snaps. If your car isn't on this chart, your dealer has a chart showing all cars; and amounts needed for temperatures to 60° below zero.

Find your car and read from left to right. The first figure shows the protection you get with one gallon of "Eveready" "Prestone" anti-freeze in the cooling system; the second with one and a half gallons—and so on. "4-8" means above zero. "2-8" means below zero. If your car has a hot water heater, add 1/2 gallon to the quantity called for.
