

Foreign News Makes Stocks Break Sharply

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Stocks broke sharply today on uncertainties over the foreign situation. Losses extended to 3 points in the recently strong American telephone capital stock.

Trading increased to such proportions that midway in the last hour tickers were behind the market several minutes. The tape caught up in a short time.

Steel and copper shares were hard hit. No group was spared as the selling spread. Recently strong utilities succumbed and were down more than a point in some instances.

Some selling was attributed to belated response to the Schacht discharge yesterday and to the release of two of his aides in the Reichsbank. Worry over outcome of the Spanish civil war influenced some selling. Foreigners were sellers on balance, brokers said.

German bonds, which lost only moderately yesterday, were under pressure. Losses extended to 3 points and several made new lows.

Baltimore and Ohio stock lost a point to 6 1/2 on action of a bond holder in bringing a suit to force the road into receivership. Other rails were down.

U. S. Steel touched 62 off 2 1/2; Bethlehem 70 off 2 1/2, and National Steel 78 off 1 1/2. Steel operations were expected to decline next week despite a 5 1/2 point rise scheduled for the Pittsburgh area. The Chicago and Youngstown districts were to start the new week substantially lower.

American Telephone equaled its high at 157 1/2 and then dropped to around 154 off 3 1/2 points. Westinghouse Electric touched 109 1/2 off 4; Douglas 67 1/2 off 2 1/2; Phillips 60 off 2; Wright Aero 107 off 5; and U. S. Rubber 46 1/2 off 2 1/2.

Declines of a point or more were noted in Allis Chalmers, American Smelting, Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco, duPont, General Motors, Loft, Montgomery Ward, Texas Corporation, United Aircraft and Johnsonville.

A few issues held gains for special reasons. Safeway Stores made a new high at 35 up 1 1/2 on announcement that its 1938 earnings were equal to $4.02 a share, against $2.62 in 1937. Loew's gained more than a point on a court ruling upholding the company's profit-sharing plan.

Dow Jones closing averages: Industrial, 146.76, off 2.35; rail, 31.10, off 0.87; utility, 23.97, off 0.71.

Stock sales approximated 660,000 shares against 470,000 shares in the short session a week ago. Curb sales were 143,000 shares compared with 89,000 last Saturday.

Steady Tone Continues in Hop Market

Pacific coast hop markets continued to display a steady tone during the week ended January 18, states the Weekly Hop Market Review of the bureau of agricultural economics. Although trading was of somewhat less volume than during the preceding week, fair to good amounts were sold by Oregon and Washington growers at prices around the same levels which prevailed during the preceding period. Demand from domestic dealers and industries was sufficient to absorb quite readily the current offerings of spot hops from the 1938 crop. Available supplies of unpledged 1938 hops were diminishing rapidly since a large proportion of growers in the three coast states have made applications for government loans on their 1938 holdings. It is hoped that accurate figures showing the amount of hops for which applications for loans have been made in Oregon, Washington and California, will be available for publication in the Hop Market Review next week.

Oregon markets again showed the principal marketing activity among the three coast states. Demand was reported fairly good from domestic buyers while offerings of spot hops by growers in this state were only moderate. Trade reports indicated that Oregon producers sold around 450 bales of 1938 crop clusters at 21c per pound net. Other scattered sales of smaller lots of less attractive quality of the same growth were reported sold at 19c to 20c per pound, net growers. While there were no new transactions reported in 1937 crop hops in Oregon during the past week, trade reports indicated that nominal values on those supplies were unchanged at 7c to 8c per pound, net to growers. No quotations were available on hops older than 1937. At the close of the week, unpledged 1938 crop hops were being held by Oregon growers for at least 21c per pound and higher for top qualities, while stocks on which loans have been obtained were mostly held at around 24c per pound, net grower, carrying charges accounting for the high asking prices.

Washington markets were also fairly steady and fairly active. In the Yakima area, sales by growers included around 300 bales, consisting of one fairly large lot and several smaller lots, which netted growers about 20c per pound, for 1938 good quality clusters, according to trade reports. Only about 500 bales of 1938 hops eligible for loans remained unpledged in the Yakima valley, at the close of the period. No sales and no offers were reported in the Puyallup valley of western Washington during the week. Growers there were mostly applying for federal loans and were not pressing remaining supplies for sale at this time. No sales have been made in the Puyallup valley area since around the middle of December.

Trading in California continued at a standstill during the week ended January 17, reflecting light offerings from growers and slow demand from the trade. No sales by growers were reported in the three main producing areas. California growers had applied for federal loans on practically all remaining 1938 supplies with the exception of those held by dealers. These stocks were largely being held at 24c per pound and higher to take care of loans and carrying charges.

Soil Meetings For Stayton And Silverton

How the 1939 agricultural conservation program can best be used by the farmers in the Silverton and Stayton districts will be the topics of discussion at two meetings to be held for all agricultural conservation signers in the two districts as follows:

Wednesday afternoon, January 25, at 1:15 p.m. at the Silverton armory, and Wednesday evening, January 25, 7:30 p.m., in the city hall at Stayton.

These meetings are being held at the request of the Marion county land use committee. This group, composed of farmers of this county, has recommended that a large acreage of the hill land in the eastern part of Marion county be diverted to perennial grasses and legume crops.

The following program will be presented, both at Silverton and Stayton:

"The General Provisions of the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program," by Willis C. Beall, of the state agricultural conservation office.

"Grasses, Grass Mixtures and Lesques for Marion County Hill Soils," by H. A. Scotch, federal agronomist.

"The Value of Lime and Phosphate on Hill Soils," by Dr. E. R. Hesterman, soils scientist at Oregon State college.

County Agent Harry Riches, who is arranging these meetings, states that all agricultural conservation signers in the Silverton and Stayton districts are invited to attend.

Receipts of Fish Smaller Last Year

Astoria, Ore., Jan. 20 (AP)—Fish received at stations on both sides of the Columbia river in 1938 were about 6,800,000 pounds less than the total for 1937, state fish commission figures, released last night, indicated.

The total 1937 receipts came to 19,005,700 pounds of which 555,000 pounds were ocean-caught. The 1938 catch including only that through the summer reached 9,856,743 pounds of which 247,970 were ocean-caught. The fall catch was expected to raise this figure between three and four million, bringing the annual total to about 12,800,000.

Total food-fish receipts in the Columbia district in 1938 was 13,063,518 pounds, exclusive of tuna, a severe drop from the 1937 figure.

Farm Union to Install

Aumville—The Farmers' Union will hold its regular meeting at the city hall Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The new officers will be installed.

BOXING IS IN A 'REPRESSION,' says Mushky Jackson (above). Promoter Mike Jacobs' No. 1 handyman who's been KO-ing the English language for years. The trouble is, thinks Mushky: 'Joe Louis is too good; he can molder an ybody.' Of Max Baer, he says: 'Better we give the business back to the Indians than to have Baer around; he's a clown, sometimes he's a killer.'

Fruit and Vegetable Programs Scheduled

Meetings have been arranged for Marion county fruit and vegetable growers by the county agent's office for January 25, 1:30 p.m., at the Woodburn city hall, and January 26th, at 9:30 a.m., at the Silverton Hills grange hall. Another meeting is also scheduled for the afternoon of January 26, at 1:30 p.m., at Forrester's hall, Sublimity.

Small fruits will come up for careful consideration at these meetings and vegetables and tree fruits will also be discussed at separate meetings. Robert E. Rieder, assistant county agent and county horticultural inspector, has made the arrangements for these meetings.

Extension specialists have been secured to lead many of the discussions dealing with small fruits, culture, disease and pest control, as follows:

Wednesday, Jan. 25, 1:30 p.m. at the Silverton armory, and Wednesday evening, January 25, 7:30 p.m., in the city hall at Stayton.

These meetings are being held at the request of the Marion county land use committee. This group, composed of farmers of this county, has recommended that a large acreage of the hill land in the eastern part of Marion county be diverted to perennial grasses and legume crops.

The following program will be presented, both at Silverton and Stayton:

"The General Provisions of the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program," by Willis C. Beall, of the state agricultural conservation office.

"Grasses, Grass Mixtures and Lesques for Marion County Hill Soils," by H. A. Scotch, federal agronomist.

"The Value of Lime and Phosphate on Hill Soils," by Dr. E. R. Hesterman, soils scientist at Oregon State college.

County Agent Harry Riches, who is arranging these meetings, states that all agricultural conservation signers in the Silverton and Stayton districts are invited to attend.

Mickle Dates Fruit Hearings

J. D. Mickle, director of the department of agriculture, has announced dates for hearings on the fresh and dried prune industries as part of petitions filed with the department of 262 prune growers. The hearings are to be held in the office of the county agricultural agent at each point listed or at some convenient place nearby except where noted, the hearings being called as follows:

Ramage Re-elected By Fruit Growers

Woodburn—Directors of the Woodburn Fruitgrowers' Cooperative association met Friday night and elected the following officers: President, John Ramage, (re-elected); vice president, Charles Swaney; secretary-treasurer, Gladys Miller, (re-elected); general manager, Tim Bjelland (re-elected). Other members of the board are Charles Dean, O. L. Davis, Fred J. Kinns and R. L. Freeberg.

Mink Breeders Unite Against Bill

Astoria, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—Mink breeders of Clatsop and Columbia counties, describing theirs as a $500,000 industry, organized Friday to fight a legislative bill that would prohibit use of certain fish for mink food.

The measure seeks to classify flounders and other scrap fish as food fish, which could not be used by mink raisers.

Presbyterian Women Hear Foreign Talks

Woodburn—The Presbyterian Missionary society met at the church Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. H. F. Butterfield, vice-president, in the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. Olive Smith. The topic for the afternoon was "China" and "Work Among the Italians." Readings were given by Mrs. Bert Byers and Mrs. Butterfield, who also led the devotional service. The meeting closed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. George R. Cromley.

Liquidate Prune Orchards

Jefferson—Joseph Boyer is cutting down and pulling the stumps of about three acres of his prune orchard in the Greens bridge district. His son, Leon Boyer, is assisting him. W. J. Looney has also cut down his prune orchard at the south city limits.

Mrs. Genevieve Millin returned to her home here Wednesday after a three weeks' visit with relatives in Portland.

Seek Changes In Hop Market Agreement

C. W. Paulus, manager of the hop control board, and its attorney, Robert Keer of Portland, left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where they are expected to take up with the Oregon delegation another official the matter of proposed amendments to the hop marketing agreement passed by the last congress.

The bill as passed carried a clause that the law would be effective for only two years as an experiment. One of the main amendments asked will be removal of this clause to make the law permanent in its nature.

Functioning of the act so far, with the interest shown by growers, is cause for the move to remove the clause limiting the life of the control.

The men from here are also expected to ask that the loans which have been granted against 1938 crop hops be extended to hops of the 1937 crop on a basis to be worked out.

The 1938 crop loan deadline is due January 31 and while applications for loans are still coming in, the greater share of the loans have already been completed. Some time is taken for working out the details on loans and with the limited time left applicants will have to hurry, it is stated, if they still wish to enjoy the benefits.

John Thorne, manager for this district, has been in Yakima the past week working on the loan situation there and is still in that section.

Farm Benefits Show Increase

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—Benefit payments to farmers in the last half of 1938 totaled $23,259,306, compared with $37,076,215 for the same period of 1937, the agricultural adjustment administration reported today.

Most of the increase was accounted for by cotton price adjustment payments totaling $14,151,196 and sugar benefit payments aggregating $3,998,798. Items not included in 1937 payments.

The bulk of the payments—$140,150,000—went to 10 southern states, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, Texas, Oklahoma and Tennessee.

Texas farmers received $38,000,000, more than double the amount for any other state. Iowa headed the list outside the south with $13,923,000, and California was second with $6,156,000.

Farm income in principal agricultural states included:

Washington $134,303,000 from marketing, $1,878,000 from government payments.

Oregon $97,835,000 from marketing, $2,499,000 from government payments.

Business On Stationary Level

Portland, Jan. 21 (AP)—Wholesale and retail business in the Portland district was about the same during the first three weeks of this month as during the same period last year, Dunn's review stated today.

Most types of business reported little acceleration in business, but no decline.

Births, Deaths, Marriages

County Agent Calls Meeting

Lebanon—Disease, cultivation and soil fertility in relation to small fruits will be the topics under discussion in a meeting called for next Tuesday afternoon in the I.O.O.F. hall, according to announcement of County Agent Floyd Mullen.

Mullen urged all growers, particularly those of raspberries, strawberries, Yungberries and gooseberries, to attend the meeting, which will start at 1:15 o'clock.

Two well known specialists from the extension department of Oregon State college will make talks before the meeting, the county agent said. They are O. T. McWhorter and W. D. Edwards.

Mr. McWhorter will speak upon two subjects, namely "What's Ahead for the Small Fruit Grower—Possibilities of New Plantings, Varieties and Competition," and "Soil Fertility, Its Importance to the Small Fruit Grower."

Mr. Edwards' topic is "A Discussion of Insect and Disease Pests."

Hayesville—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson returned Wednesday from a three weeks' motor trip to Holdrege, Neb.

Twins Still Identical—Eugene Marshall, Yarnhill state representative, was visited at Salem Thursday by his twin brother, Francis, of McMinnville. They wear the same kind of clothing, same type of glasses and look so much alike members of the house could not tell which was which. The doorknockers were completely baffled.
