Mott and others, the case being brought in an effort to effect repayment of about $22,000 to the state commissioner when Mott was corporation commissioner in special prosecutions brought especially under the Blue Sky law. Barnett H. Goldstein, Portland attorney, is named as one of the defendants, as is Mott's bondsmen as corporation commissioner. Goldstein appeared today to argue a motion in his own behalf to have the complaint stricken because of separate causes of action he alleges are improperly attached in the complaint. Judge Lewelling took the case under advisement. Goldstein asserted that separate actions should be maintained on the bond, on his fee as an attorney which totaled about $17,000, and on other matters involved. It was stated at the hearing today that Mottizer has not yet had on record who is now congressman from this district and attending congress in Washington.

Cold Wave Ends; Warm Weather In The East

(By the Associated Press)

The mercury dropped as much as 30 degrees and cut short today an unscheduled visit of sunny weather to the eastern United States.

Snow was general throughout the middle west, where some subzero readings were taken, rain dispelled fog in Florida and readings in the 20s were reported in Texas.

New Englanders saw the mercury slide from yesterday's 66 to 36 today, while the weather bureau forecast continued cold and partly cloudy.

A severe cold wave chilled northern middle western states. Minneapolis lows included 45 below at Park Rapids, 32 below at Wadena, 18 below at Minneapolis and 2 below at Winona. Snow covered southern Wisconsin.

Light snow in upstate New York accompanied a drop of 26 degrees in 24 hours to 11.6 at 9 a.m. At Niagara Falls the temperature was 18 at the same hour and the ice bridge in the gorge was one of the strongest and largest in recent years. General Arnold Urges Haste in Air Armament

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—Major General H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, advised the nation Monday to "arm for air defense immediately" lest it be too late.

Speaking to several hundred delegates at a national aviation forum, General Arnold said: "France and England must realize they began too late. Let us not make that mistake. Please bear in mind much time is required to build up an air force.

"It cannot be done overnight. Eighteen months are required to reach quantity production in planes. Note I said reach. Two years are required to train personnel to make them competent to handle our complicated air craft.

"A strong air force may go a long way toward keeping America out of war, also a strong air force is absolutely vital in keeping war out of America."

Arnold characterized the naval air service as more efficient than that of any other navy in the world. He added land forces, navies and air forces "now form a triumvirate for successful warfare."

In an address prepared for Admiral A. B. Cooke, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics, emphasized the importance of shore facilities, research and factory productivity to the navy's air arm.

"The constantly growing interest in national defense is of itself sufficient evidence for people are thoroughly aware of the lawless forces which stalk the highways of the world today," Cooke's address said.

"And in their awareness they are determined that crises like that which shook Europe in September shall not find us lacking those elements of national defense which apparently played so great a part in the negotiations of that troubled autumn."

Seek New Entrance Riverside Drive

The names of 70 persons are aligned to a petition that reached the city council last night to change the entrance of Riverside Drive into Salem.

Riverside Drive, the main thoroughfare to the golf course and to several river resorts, now enters the city at Miller street by a sharp curve and an abrupt rise. The petition requests that it be brought a block north to Owens street.

Considerable engineering would be necessary to make the change.

Morse as Arbitrator Renders Decisions

Eugene, Feb. 21 (AP)—Wayne L. Morse, federal arbitrator, ordered San Francisco longshoremen to arbitrate one case and permitted them to recognize a picket line in another.

Morse, dean of the University of Oregon law school, said a dispute over the number of men employed in unloading the steamer Birmingham must be arbitrated before calling a strike. He set the case for March 6.

He also ruled the agreement between employers and employees did not compel longshoremen to pass a picket line established by another union in the terminal strike.

Professor Peck Best Liar in Kiwanis Club

Salem Kiwanians risked their reputation as a virtuous organization in the presence of the district governor today by demonstrating their proficiency in prevarication.

With District Governor J. N. Emerson of Pullman, Wash., and Representative Earl Hill of Lane county, today's speaker, among the spectators, the club trotted out its best liars and had them contest for a prize. Prof. M. E. Peck, with a fish story, was adjudged the best liar out of a line-up of seven that included the club's two clergymen.

District Governor Emerson is on his way home after a trip into California and Arizona and is visiting clubs en route. He reported 96 active clubs in the Pacific northwest. The Kiwanis movement is particularly significant now because of the condition of turmoil in the world, he said. "No group is better equipped for citizenship and service just now than Kiwanis," he added.

Mr. Hill, talking about the legislature, mentioned taxation, relief and unemployment insurance as major problems before the session.

"It is with the aid of such men as you who are seated about these tables that we are best able to legislate," he said. "You should assume of the responsibilities of the office holders. Otherwise you should be slow about criticizing the men who are in office."

He said that citizens at large have become somewhat contemptuous of politics, and conceded that too much power had been put into the hands of boards and commissions, accounting for a movement in the legislature to abolish some of them.

It was announced that March 9 will be the club's "ladies' night."

Senate Defeats Cut for TVA

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—The senate rejected today a proposal to cut an administration-sponsored TVA appropriation by $4,252,000. The vote was 40 to 31.

The reduction was proposed by Senator Adams (D., Colo.), who contended it would represent a "start toward reducing the government's vast expenditures."

Adams sought to eliminate a $4,252,000 allocation for beginning construction of a new Tennessee Valley Authority dam at Watts Bar, 40 miles downstream from Knoxville on the Tennessee river.

The allocation was included in a $17,204,000 TVA appropriation approved by the senate appropriations committee after it had been rejected by the house.

Senate action on the TVA item came during consideration of the $1,808,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill.

The bill provides money to carry on operations of such independent agencies as the interstate commerce commission, the national labor relations board and the maritime commission for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Earlier Senator Bridges (D., N.H.), told the senate President Roosevelt appointed Francis Biddle of Philadelphia to the third circuit court as a "reward" for "one-sided" service in the congressional investigation of TVA.

POT SHOTS at the LEGISLATIVE PARADE

Four years does not make much difference in the appearance of legislators and those connected with the legislature in most cases but it does in a specific instance. Today the house "mascot" of the 1935 session was extended the courtesy of the house by Representative Hannah Martin.

The visitor was Miss Suzanne Fuhrer, daughter of Representative and Mrs. Fuhrer of Salem, who is four years old today. She was born during the session of 1935 in which her father also served.

Rev. D. W. Mills, pastor of the South Salem Friends church, offered invocation in the house Tuesday morning.

The "gag" rule resolution dropped in the house hoppers late Monday afternoon. It would limit oratory to five minutes with 30 seconds to explain a member's vote. The only joker is that any member can yield.

Former State Senator E. A. McCormack, with Mrs. McCormack, of Eugene, was introduced in the senate Tuesday by Senator Wheeler of Lane county. McCormack was a member of the house in 1931-33 sessions and senator in 1935-37 sessions. He is the manager of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association.

The invocation Tuesday was offered in the senate by the Rev. D. A. Coghagen of the Free Methodist church of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dickson of Portland, parents of Senator Ashby C. Dickson and grandparents of Senator Will L. Dickson, were extended a cordial greeting on being introduced in the senate Tuesday. The elder Dicksons were former residents of Elburne, Tex.

Claims of the amateur cartooning title of the house are being extended by Senator Wheeler of Lane county. He likes to make "doodle sketches" during debate in which he and many others are not interested. Representative Brady has real competition as a "doodler" when it comes to Kay Goulet, in the house bill room, who really can draw on presentable and admirable turns.

Ben Dorris, Lane county filbert king of Eugene and political wardlord of the American Legion, was a legislative caller Tuesday.

The civics class of Portland's Jefferson high school was extended the courtesies of the senate Tuesday.

R. J. McAllister, of Parkdale, was the guest of Sen. P. J. Stedelman, in the senate Tuesday.

Pupils of the Llabsh Center school, in charge of Mrs. Minnie Joekel, visited the capitol Tuesday.

On being introduced in the senate Tuesday by Senator Mahoney of Multnomah, Glen Brice of Portland made announcement that he was not an attorney but worked for a living.

Courtesies of the senate were extended to Sid King of Eugene, civic editor of the Register-Guard by Senator Wheeler Tuesday.

Mrs. Alda Jordan, photographer of Portland and daughter of Senator Burke, was the guest of her father in the senate Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. August Rakel of Oregon City were introduced in the senate Tuesday by Senator Belton of Clackamas.

A Washington dispatch to the Oregon Daily Journal, February 17, states that Mrs. Harry Kurtz has joined Senator Rufus C. Holman as personal secretary. According to the message she served in a similar capacity at Salem when Holman was state treasurer, "but moved over to the federal payroll after he became senator and remained for a time in Oregon to assist the senator there in the transition period."

Portland guests of Senator Evers Tuesday were Mrs. Lila Ravenscroft, Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. Stephens. They were extended the courtesies of the senate.

Tongue Point Base Mandatory, Congress Told

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—Charmain Vinson (D., Ga.) of the naval affairs committee told the house today that establishment of a $1,500,000 naval air base at Tongue Point, Ore., was mandatory if naval aviation on the west coast was to reach its maximum efficiency.

The chairman's statement was contained in a report handed the house as it began consideration of a multi-million dollar authorization bill to pave the way for the strengthening of the country's coastal defenses.

The committee wrote authorization for the project into the bill after it heard testimony by Rear Admiral Arthur B. Cook, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, that the base at the mouth of the Columbia river "would be useful at times and valuable as a secondary base."

In his report Vinson said establishment of the Tongue Point base would provide important intermediate facilities between bases farther to the south and north to Alaska.

"It also provides necessary permanent facilities for the training of one patrol plane squadron in the highly important industrial area controlled by the mouth of the Columbia river," he said.

"The physical characteristics of this site are excellent for patrol plane operations and the project can readily be expanded in emergency to a very valuable defense adjunct."

"$500,000 said if $1,500,000 were authorized, congress would be asked for $500,000 for use during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1941, he said, the program would be far enough along to permit use of the remaining $1,000,000 during the fiscal year of 1941.

Duke's Yacht Sinking in Gulf

San Pedro, Calif., Feb. 21 (AP)—The coast guard received a radio report here today the yacht Sanspaur, owned by the Duke of Sutherland, has been beached near Cape San Lucas, Lower California, and the entire crew is safe.

The Duke of Sutherland's yacht, Sanspaur, radioed for help early today, saying she had struck a submerged rock in the Gulf of California and was filling with water in the forward hold.

The yacht's position was given as 480 miles south of San Diego, off Santo Island in the gulf. The message asked that a salvage boat be dispatched to aid the distressed craft.

The British consul at Los Angeles was informed of the accident, but said he did not know the identity of those aboard the Sanspaur.

It was believed the Duke of Sutherland was a member of the Sanspaur's party. British consulate officials recently received letters from a consul in Sonora, Mexico, to be held for the duke's arrival.

The coast guard was in hourly communication with the yacht, which lay grounded off Santo Island. There appeared to be no immediate danger for those aboard.

San Francisco, Feb. 21 (AP)—Lieutenant Commander R. S. Patch of the U. S. coast guard headquarters here said today the Duke of Sutherland's yacht, Sanspaur, reported in distress in the Gulf of California, was in Mexican waters and "too far south" to receive aid from a United States cutter.

Northwest Church Merger Effected

Portland, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Pacific northwest district of the Evangelical synod and the Portland, Oregon classes of the reformed church will merge Wednesday night as the Pacific northwest synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church.

Church representatives said the action was the first actual merger in America of two denominations. The denominations agreed to unite at a convention at Cleveland, O., five years ago but the constitution was not adopted until last year.

The northwest district is the first to meet since the constitution became operative. In Portland the churches have ministered largely to German speaking people.

Work Resumed on Construction Jobs

San Francisco, Feb. 21 (AP)—Work resumed today on major construction projects totaling between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 in central and northern California, as structural iron workers agreed to arbitrate their demand for a $1 daily wage increase.

William Hague, executive secretary of the Associated General Contractors, announced the partial settlement. He said arbitration machinery would be set up by negotiations now in progress with the bridge, structural and Ornamental Iron Workers' union.

"The men have returned to work at the old wage of $10," he said.

The settlement released $1,500,000 worth of construction at Moore Island, $1,000,000 in the San Francisco Presidio, $1,000,000 in Sacramento, $1,000,000 in Berkeley, $500,000 in San Francisco proper and varying amounts in smaller communities.

A Washington dispatch to the Oregon Daily Journal, February 17, states that Mrs. Harry Kurtz has joined Senator Rufus C. Holman as personal secretary. According to the message she served in a similar capacity at Salem when Holman was state treasurer, "but moved over to the federal payroll after he became senator and remained for a time in Oregon to assist the senator there in the transition period."

Animal Disease Bill Introduced

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—A proposal to ban importation of all dairy products after September 1 unless produced from animals free from bovine tuberculosis or free from tuberculosis test (was called) by Rep. Gearhart (R., Calif.).

He said the bill would "constitute a boon to human health" and insure the American dairyman a better share of the American market.

Members of the county court today were including a number of road projects including some of which right-of-way must be secured to carry on WPA work.
