Woodburn Has Catholic Census For Centenary

Woodburn—As preparation for the formal observance of the 100th anniversary of the coming of the Catholic church to the Oregon country, which will be held May 9, 10 and 11, several men and women of St. Luke's parish conducted a census to determine the strength of the Catholic church in Woodburn and surrounding districts.

The census, taken under the direction of Rev. Joseph Hensaker, pastor of St. Luke's and honorary chairman, and Dr. John Hanrahan, as parish chairman, ably assisted by Adolph Glatt, Fred Hecker, Otto Miller and Rae Koesler as captains, and a corps of willing workers, proved most gratifying. The final report showed a total of 268 families, 955 individuals, 345 children and 610 adults.

That the church has grown by leaps and bounds since its founding in 1900 is proved by reviewing newspaper clippings of September, 1900, when the cornerstone of the old frame building was laid. This ceremony was held September 9 of that year with Rev. C. LeMiller, then pastor, making arrangements. It is reported that at that time there were 15 families registered with approximately 60 children. The Catholic population has increased to such an extent that it was found necessary to erect the present structure, one of the most beautiful church edifices in the Willamette valley.

The census taking was a part of the program ordered by His Excellency, Edward D. Howard, archbishop of Portland, and conducted through the entire diocese.

Parish Preparing For Lenten Rites

Woodburn—St. Luke's parish will usher in the penitential season of Lent on Ash Wednesday by blessing ashes at the 8:30 o'clock mass. The ceremony from which Ash Wednesday takes its name is a vestige of the primitive rite of each year at the beginning of Lent, imposing penance "in sackcloth and ashes." It prescribes that the ashes blessed on this day be obtained by the burning of the palms or green branches blessed on the Palm Sunday of the preceding year, in commemoration of Christ's entry into Jerusalem when the Jews spread palm branches in His way.

During the 40 days of Lent devotional services will be held every Wednesday and Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.
