

Banquet of Catholic Men Big Affair

"My Problem, Your Problem. Our Problem," was the subject of an inspiring address by the Most Rev. D. Howard, archbishop of Portland in Oregon, at the dinner Monday evening at the Marion hotel under auspices of the confraternity of the laity of the diocese of Portland and which was attended by 375 persons representing 23 parishes in the Salem unit of the three districts, organized for the purpose of making arrangements for the centenary celebration of the first arrival of missionaries to Oregon and their earliest visit to St. Paul now known as the cradle of Catholicity in this state.

Following the successful campaign opening at Roseburg Sunday evening in which the diocesan objectives were outlined by the archbishop covering a five-point program, the needs of the diocese from a financial and educational standpoint were again explained at the dinner meeting Monday evening. Provision for a fund large enough to establish means for the extension of parochial and archdiocesan religious, educational and philanthropic activities was urged by Archbishop Howard as vital to the welfare of the church in this state.

To a former newspaper man on the editorial staff of leading Chicago dailies who later joined the priesthood, the Rev. Martin W. Doherty of St. Aloysius church, Escatawpa, went the task of promoting the drive for funds in the Salem area and with flashes of humor, anecdotes in his career as a police reporter in the windy city and appeals to the charity of his auditors and support for the archbishop, subscriptions came generously from nearly all the 23 parishes though some towns have yet to report.

List of cities and towns subscribing and amounts were: Tillamook, $850; Stayton, $275; Grand Ronde, $100; Ocean Lake, $100; Sheridan, $100; Shaw, $200; Dallas, $350; Lebanon, $100; Jordan, $175; Mt. Angel, $1,800; Woodburn, $1,025; Scotts Mills, $100; Albany, $600; St. Paul, $350; Toledo, $200; Sherwood, $150; Silverton, $150; Corvallis, $600; Canby, $400; Sublimity, $350; Gervais, $100; St. Joseph's parish, Salem, $2,545; St. Vincent de Paul parish, Salem, $1,050; St. Louis, $100.

Archbishop Howard contributed personally $2,500 and this amount was matched by the clergy of the 22 parishes who subscribed $2,500 from their own personal funds.

At the main table in the banquet hall were the archbishop, the Rev. Francis Letpzig of Eugene, general chairman of the centenary celebration committee, the Rev. Joseph Heesaker, Woodburn; the Rev. Francis Schaefer, Portland; district director, the Rev. Martin Doherty, Escatawpa, publicity chairman; T. A. Windshar, Salem, organization director; Dan Hay, dinner chairman.

Visiting clergymen were Rev. Henry Orth, St. Paul; Rev. John Mitchell, Corvallis; Rev. Alcuin Heibel, Rev. Vincent Koppert, Rev. Sebastian Terhar, Mt. Angel; Rev. Cornelius Shea, Delake; Rev. George Sniderhan, Stayton; Rev. Guntram Scheffold, Grand Ronde; Rev. Daniel O'Connell, Woodburn; Rev. Michael Fleming, Canby; Rev. John Waters, Albany; Rev. William Walsh, Gervais; Rev. Joseph Schreber, Sublimity; Rev. Frederick Williams, Lebanon; Rev. Michael Riley, Tillamook; Rev. John Berger, Wilsonville; Rev. Richard Carberry, Silverton; Rev. Robert Neugebauer, Rev. John Reedy, district director; Rev. T. J. Bernard, Rev. Ildephonse Calmas, Salem.

The total amount subscribed in the Salem district comprising 22 parishes was $16,870, and a meeting of parishioners of Salem has been called for Friday evening at 8 o'clock at St. Joseph's hall, March 24, at which time Archbishop Howard will again speak.

Paul Delany of Chicago, member of the Catholic Actors' Guild of America, was master of ceremonies at the dinner meeting and led in community singing interspersed with vaudeville acts; baritone solos by William Elliott and music by Lally String Ensemble.

Zone Changed To Make Way for New Business

On recommendation of the planning and zoning commission, and after a public hearing last night, the city council passed an ordinance bill changing the zone classification at the northwest corner of State and 14th to permit of the establishment of a tea room. The change is from class 2 residential to class 3 business. The space involved is 121 feet by 196 feet 3 inches.

The ordinance bill was introduced by Alderman S. B. Laughlin, who moved that rules be suspended and the bill be placed on final passage. This was done, since no serious objection to the change had been voiced.

After some argument the council voted to allow former City Engineer Hugh Rogers $258 for his transit and some other articles that are being used by the city engineering department. This is $58 more than had been recommended by the street committee and was based on appraisal of the transit made by an engineer from the state highway department.

An attempt will be made to collect from the Salem school district $135 claimed by the city for engineering services. City Attorney Paul R. Hendricks recommended a compromise plan, but to this Alderman Laughlin objected and moved that the whole claim be re-submitted to the school board.

Alderman Laughlin introduced an ordinance bill to prohibit the keeping open of automobile sales rooms and lots and the sale of automobiles on Sundays. The ways and means committee bill for the issuing of $25,000 airport refunding bonds was passed.

On motion of Alderman O'Hara a special committee was appointed to confer with the Cherrians relative to financing the Cherrian float in the Portland Rose Festival parade this summer. Alderman Ross Goodman, P. E. Loose and Frank P. Marshall were appointed.

hostess in preparations and about the rooms were Miss Mildred Nickerson, Mrs. Gordon VanCleave, Miss Olivia DeGure and Mrs. W. P. Scarth.

The coming marriage of Miss Glower and Harrison L. Fisher of Callahan, Calif., son of Mrs. Lynn Dingman of Bonneville, was announced as an early summer affair. Miss Glower has been a member of the junior high school faculty in Silverton for a number of years and is active socially and in civic affairs of Silverton.

Church Census Will Be Made

Six thousand or more doorbells will be rung in the city of Salem during the next few weeks in a city-wide survey to be conducted by workers of the Fourquare Gospel church, 19th and Breyman streets.

The purpose of the survey is to ascertain the religious affiliations and preferences of the city. The survey is being organized and conducted under the direction of Rev. Uplin O. Davis, who with Mrs. Davis is holding a series of "personal evangelism" meetings in the Fourquare church. The aim, according to Rev. Stewart G. Billings, local pastor, is to visit every Salem home and to contact all those who are not attending church at the present time.

"It is not our desire to influence religious opinions, but simply to determine the number of people who are not actively attending church," Rev. Mr. Billings said.

The statistics obtained through the survey will be released to the local Chamber of Commerce and to the various churches of the city if desired. The workers of the church are being organized into groups of two each, under the banner of "Gospel Legionnaires." Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Davis are also conducting a course of religious education for Sunday school teachers and workers, as well as young people's leadership classes. These classes are open to all who desire to attend, as are the special young people's services to be conducted on Friday nights.

R. H. Hamilton Drowning Victim

R. H. Hamilton, 40, of Salem, was the man who drowned in the Little North Fork of the Santiam about eight miles above Mehama. His home was in Salem and formerly he was night foreman for the Oregon Pulp & Paper company.

Hamilton and Frank Weddle of Portland were thrown into the river when their small ferry boat, in which they were crossing to a mining claim, was upset by the breaking of the ferry cable. Weddle succeeded in making shore, but Hamilton, not a swimmer, was swept down the river. E. Coleman, brother-in-law of Weddle, said he would have been in the boat if he had not felt ill and decided not to cross the river.

Deputy Sheriff B. G. Honeycutt, who aided in the search yesterday, thinks the body will not be found for several days. Hamilton leaves a widow and a small child.
