

Stocks Advance Irregularly In Light Trading

New York, April 21 (AP)—Stocks made an irregular advance today with volume around the lightest of the year.

Traders continued cautious in placing new commitments. Many withdrew from the sidelines for over the week-end and some planned to stay out of the market until after the recharging meets a week from today.

Business news was mostly favorable. Automobile production reaching 90,280 units this week, according to Ward's, the highest for any week since December 24. Retail trade held a gain of 2 to 6 per cent over a year ago despite adverse weather in some sections. Two major steel centers announced unchanged schedules for next week.

The market however, ignored favorable news and trading was routine. Predictions were made that attendance would be very light in the street tomorrow because of the absence of interest pending a German reply to President Roosevelt's peace plans.

Leading issues moved irregularly. Steels registered small losses. Motors were firm. Ralls dipped after small gains. Oils were firm. Airplanes softened. Douglas lost a point.

Trading continued dull up to closing time despite moderate profit-taking in the last few minutes of the session.

Dow Jones closing stock averages: Industrial, 128.71, up 0.30; rail, 25.73, off 0.11; utility, 22.37, up 0.12. Sales approximated 390,000 shares, the smallest five hour session since June 17, 1938 when 330,000 shares were traded and compared with 520,000 shares yesterday. Curb stock sales were 96,000 shares against 86,000 in the previous session.

Western Area More Active In Retailing

San Francisco, April 21 (AP)—Retail trade was more active than last year in all 11 far western states in March.

Customers spent from 3 to 15 per cent more than in March last year. Gains over the short month of February ranged from 15 to 41 per cent.

Automobile dealers outstripped all other sellers in gains over last year in the 11 states.

Furniture led in two, and family clothing, lumber and shoes in one state each. Bureau of the census trade highlights follow.

Trade gains by state included:

California	18.7	81
Oregon	29.9	9.9
Washington	30.0	8.0
Idaho	41.2	15.1

California's leading line, in gain over last year, was family clothing, up 27.1 per cent. Lumber gained 26.3 and autos 21.5 best gain for any city went to Vallejo, up 44 per cent. Grass Valley taking second honors with a 35 per cent rise.

Oregon's leader was automobiles, new and used car sales bringing 29.7 per cent more business than last year. Jewelry gained 20 per cent and mens clothing 19. Bend merchants added sales 37.8 per cent and Klamath Falls 36.3.

Washington auto dealers paced the state's merchants for the second straight month, sales rising 23.3 per cent. Jewelry was up 17.7 and household appliances 13.8. Hoquiam went 49.8 per cent ahead of last year and Port Angeles 24.9.

Christian Endeavor Convention in Session

Young men and women from virtually every section of the state to the number of approximately 1500 were in Salem today for the 40th annual convention of Oregon Christian Endeavor which opened its three day sessions last night at the First Presbyterian church. With no single church accommodations sufficient to care for the assemblies and numerous group conferences, the delegates were scattered, although headquarters were being maintained at the First Presbyterian.

Speaking on the theme "His Best For Us," Dr. M. Howard Fagan, pastor of Wilshire Boulevard Christian church, Los Angeles, last night told his youthful audience that "the plans upon which their thoughts dwell" materially affects their lives. Dr. Fagan will be heard twice more during the convention—Sunday afternoon at 2:15 at the high school auditorium and again at 7:30 Sunday night.

Today's activities were given an early impetus when the executive committee were guests at a 7 o'clock breakfast at Cresto cottage on Willamette university campus. Rev. C. P. Gates, pastor of Ladd's Addition Evangelical church, Portland, was in charge of a group in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church this morning while Rev. James Aiken Smith of Cottage Grove, addressed older delegates during a conference in Willamette chapel. Dr. E. W. Petticombe, district superintendent of the Evangelical church, brought the message during the convention assembly on the theme "My Best In Bringing Others."

A pastor's luncheon was held at the Court Street Christian church at noon with Dr. Fagan the principal speaker.

Tonight's program will be conducted in the auditorium of the senior high school, beginning at 7:15. It will include a welcome from Governor Charles Sprague; conferring of degrees by Roselle Straub, state education superintendent for the Oregon Christian Youth Council by Betty Britton; an address "Preparation for My Best" by Dr. Jesse Baird, president of San Francisco Theological seminary.

Miss Dorothy Kilka, state president, McMinnville, announced her committee assignments as follows:

Resolutions—Clark Enx, Corvallis; Bruce Perry, Dallas; Thelma Cole, Portland; Wilmer Gardner, Jennings Lodge. Nominations—Dorothy Howe, Forest Grove; Margaret Gilstrap, Barlow; Ralph Tarnell, St. Helens; Rev. C. P. Gates and Walter Myers, Portland; Rev. Viola A. Smith, Cottage Grove; James Ogden, Portland, and all union presidents.

Arsenic Diet For Warm Springs Crickets

Corvallis, April 21 (AP)—A federal-state organization to control morning cricket outbreaks was formed in Oregon last year and is already functioning this season, Don C. Mote, head of the department of entomology at Oregon State college and state leader of the control program, said today.

The organization is assisting with the fight on the Warm Springs reservation although the situation is complicated by the fact the chief outbreak is on Indian range land where the Indian service apparently has in the past not considered it essential to control the pests, Dr. Mote said.

This year, however, the crickets have invaded the privately owned land surrounding the hot springs, where they have devoured alfalfa and gardens.

Major control work was carried on last year in Baker, Walla, Umatilla, and Gilliam counties. Some attention was given also to smaller outbreaks in Wasco, Lake and Klamath counties.

Under the federal-state set-up there are national and district leaders assigned by the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine to handle control work in infested states. Working with a state cooperative committee, is a state supervisor, who in Oregon is Robert Evers, federal entomologist.

Moore will preside as toastmaster during tonight's opening banquet when Dr. Donald Erb of the University of Oregon will be the principal speaker. Later in the fireplace room Dr. Erb will discuss the European situation from the viewpoint of the youth of the world.

A feature of this year's conference will be a vocational discussion led by 10 or 12 men from Portland, who are well versed in personnel work.

Weather Cuts Business

New York, April 21 (AP)—Unfavorable weather retarded retail trade this week, while wholesale volume was restricted by continuance of a hand-to-mouth buying policy. Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., said today in its weekly trade review.

Both categories held above the corresponding 1938 period, nevertheless. Clearances and special promotions were factors in holding retail volume 2 to 6 per cent above a year ago, while replacement sales maintained wholesale business slightly over the 1938 period.

The authority noted that automobile sales were running "well ahead" of last year and said that a lag in department store sales was offset in part by better mail order and rural store sales.

"Only in the large cities of the north Atlantic did foreign news appear to have a strong influence on consumers' desire to buy," Dun & Bradstreet said in its retail review.

"Fluctuations in sales in other sections were dictated largely by weather conditions."

Business on the Pacific coast was virtually unchanged from a year ago.

California Pear Pact Held Illegal

Sacramento, April 21 (AP)—California's Bartlett pear marketing agreement, initiated in 1937 to regulate and promote the state's pear industry, was held invalid today by Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon.

Judge Lemmon said the marketing agreement did not have the legal, written assent of 65 per cent of the producers, processors and distributors of industry, as required by the California agricultural marketing act.

The forester said Edward P. Cliff, assistant in the wild life and range management division here, probably would succeed him. It will be several weeks before details of the proposed change have been completed.

Mitchell, a graduate of Washington State College, entered the service in 1909 and was assigned to the national forest in Washington. He was promoted to assistant supervisor and became supervisor for the Coquille national forest in 1930. He was transferred to the Siskiyou section in 1931.

Cliff, an alumnus of the Utah State Agricultural College, was junior ranger in the Wenatchee forest until 1934 when he was transferred to his present post.

High School Speech Tourney

The fifth annual Oregon high school speech tournament sponsored by Willamette university is expected to attract students from several districts of the state when the preliminary contests get under way on the campus late this afternoon.

Five graduates of Willamette university will be here in the capacity of coaches—Dorsey Dent, Gresham; Robert Kutch, Dallas; W. P. Lee, Parkrose; Marjorie Thorne, Taft; and Waldo Kleber, Albany. Additional schools entered in the meet include West Linn, Independence, Woodburn, Franklin high, Portland; Chiloquin, Beaverton, Oregon, Corvallis, Estacada, Oregon City, Grant high, Portland, Canby and Sheridan.

Competition in the championship series will embrace extemporaneous oratory, serious and humorous interpretations. One student from each school will be permitted to enter. In the junior division, a new one this year, participation is not restricted.

The first round will be held following registrations at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with round two scheduled for the evening. Semi-finals Saturday forenoon and finals Saturday afternoon complete the program. The public will be welcome to all sessions.

Mitchell to Head Wild Life

Portland, Ore., April 21 (AP)—Lyle P. Watts, new United States regional forester, announced tentative plans today to bring G. E. Mitchell, supervisor of the Siskiyou national forest in southern Oregon, to Portland to take charge of wild life management for Oregon and Washington.

The forester said Edward P. Cliff, assistant in the wild life and range management division here, probably would succeed him. It will be several weeks before details of the proposed change have been completed.

Mitchell, a graduate of Washington State College, entered the service in 1909 and was assigned to the national forest in Washington. He was promoted to assistant supervisor and became supervisor for the Coquille national forest in 1930. He was transferred to the Siskiyou section in 1931.

Cliff, an alumnus of the Utah State Agricultural College, was junior ranger in the Wenatchee forest until 1934 when he was transferred to his present post.

Hop Marketing Agreements Extended

Washington, April 21 (AP)—Senator Charles McNary, Oregon representative, obtained passage yesterday of a bill to extend the date of hop marketing agreements and orders until September, 1942. Representative Walter Pierce, Oregon democrat, reported a similar bill to the house several days ago.

North Salem WPA Job Completed

Today will bring completion of the city's WPA street grading project in North Salem. The work in North Salem will begin tomorrow on Superior street between High and Commercial.

The amount completed to date totals about 11 blocks. The total $180,000 projects covers about 12 miles of streets, and the work will extend into the winter.

With the Superior street job the city engineer's office will begin hauling the excavated dirt to the old municipal auto park site where it will be used for filling purposes in connection with improvement of the park, which is to include construction of a rock masonry wall about the area.

104-123 lbs. $9.30-10.25; sheep steady, today's woolled lamb market strong to higher, clipped lambs 25c up, talking $10.75-85 on woolled offerings, best $12.75-85 and better, choice clipped lambs $9.50. Sheep firm.

Cotton Wool

Boston, April 21 (AP)—(USDA) A little business was transacted on the Boston wool market today in good French combing lengths, fine territory wools in original bags at 64-66c, secured basis, spot Boston. Offerings of similar wools for delivery in June and July were mostly 62-64c delivered to eastern buyers. Offerings of this description at 59-61c delivered had become quite restricted. Mixed grade lots of 1/2 and 3/4 blood bright fleece wools slow at 25-27c in the grease, delivered east.
