3. Prevention of contagious diseases to assure child health through development of preventative medical practice as outlined in the "Indiana plan."

The American Legion is working jointly with the Legion auxiliary in this program, which is being extended throughout the nation. Interest and cooperation of other organizations is being sought. Medical men, within and without the Legion, are giving their help in many communities.

"It is clearly understood that the program for April goes far beyond the confines of the thirty days of this month," said Mrs. M. K. Eubertson, national child welfare chairman. "It is our job in the weeks that are to come to do all in our power to follow through on this three-phase program. Merely to believe that a child's home should be preserved for him, only to acknowledge that expectant mothers should have pre-natal examination for apyllis and treatment if blood tests are positive, simply to think that contagious diseases should be controlled is not enough. We must secure definite date and reliable information; we must spread the gospel; we must secure the cooperation of individuals and groups, and actuate our beliefs promptly and intelligently."

The brides were dressed in blue tulle and wore coronas of hyacinths,
