

Coming Week Vacation Time At Art Center

Spring vacation for students will be held at the Art Center next week during which time there will be no classes in either the day or evening school. The new semester will start May 1, with new schedules for painting, sculpture, weaving, crafts and children's classes. New classes to be offered include pottery and china making and design and crafts, to be taught by Frances Jensen, new member of the faculty.

On account of the "Hill Billy frolic" to be given Friday night at Englewood school by the Englewood PTA as a benefit for the Center there will not be a lecture at the Art Center. Announcement will be made later of a lecture by Isaac Watkins on "Modern Photography," in connection with the current shows of photographs by local artists and the exhibition of New York photography by Berenice Abbott.

These photographs by Berenice Abbott are a chronicle of "Changing New York," and have received nationwide attention. Many of them have been used in such magazines as "Time" and "Life." The intention is that they will eventually become part of the permanent collection of the Museum of the City in New York. Manhattan, above all cities in America, has become a symbol of strange beauty, dominated by the miraculous sky-line heightened by the contrast of crowds and sordid streets. Miss Abbott has sought to record for future generations many characteristic aspects which in another ten years may have radically changed or vanished completely. Steep rooftops, markets under the "El," the water front, picturesque streets in foreign sections, are among the subjects conceived nearly six years ago.

To all who are interested in photography, Miss Abbott's selective feeling for her material, her perspective, and her use of light and shadow will make this collection well worthy of study.

Oddfellows Observe Founding of Order

Woodburn—The regular meeting of Home Rebekah lodge was held Tuesday night with May Hill, noble grand, presiding. Plans were made to put on a program at the next meeting to celebrate 120 years of Odd Fellowship. Committees appointed were: Program, May Hill, Edith Frenitz, Mabel Jackson; refreshments, Myrtle Hill, Maude Hicks, Mary Whitman, Mae Otjen and Fred Frenitz. A short program followed the meeting, which included a vocal solo by Nina Ringo and a reading by Nona Otjen.

Founders' Day Meeting Dated

Sunday, May 7, has been set as the date for the annual Founders' day meeting and celebration at Champeo. This was announced in Salem yesterday by Mrs. Margaret Selpe of Portland, president of Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers, the organization under whose auspices the meeting will be held.

The forenoon program of the day will be given by the young people of the organization. Music will be furnished by Canby high school under the leadership of Walter Weathers. R. Wayne Stevens will be master of ceremonies for the forenoon program.

In the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, another program, largely of speeches, will be given. This will be headed by Governor Charles A. Sprague, and other speakers will be Mayor Joe Carson of Portland, Judge James W. Crawford of the Multnomah county circuit court, Quincy Scott, cartoonist for the Oregonian, Rev. J. E. Milligan, pastor of the First Methodist church of Salem, and Mrs. Oliver A. Todd.

W. B. Cornutt will lead community singing, and there will be trio selections of Helen Polling, Madeline Stone and Mrs. Hubert Good.

Representing Lodge
Hubbard—Mrs. George Leffler and Mrs. C. E. Boyd were elected delegates to represent Thalia Rebekah lodge at the annual assembly to be held at Klamath Falls May 14 to 18. Mrs. John Friend and Mrs. Alfred Moon were named as alternates. At the next meeting, April 25, members who have had birthdays since January will be honored.

Poole Case Heard in Court

Attorneys for Harry W. Poole, Klamath Falls theater operator, who was sentenced to eight years for rape, argued before the state supreme court Thursday that Poole's conviction should be reversed on grounds he was denied his rights in the lower court trial before Circuit Judge Edward B. Ashurst.

E. E. Driscoll and State Representative Harry D. Boivin, defense attorneys, argued that Poole did not enter a valid plea to the indictment, that the lower court erred in its instructions to the jury and that the court should not have permitted the complaining witness, a 15-year-old girl, who sought employment in Poole's theater, to testify about alleged statements by Poole that he had committed similar offenses previously.

Boivin said the prosecution introduced this latter testimony "to prejudice the defendant in the minds of the jury," and he charged further that Judge Ashurst gave the jury an instruction which would "have the effect of telling the jury to disregard much of Poole's testimony" that Poole was not present at the time of the crime.

Blackmer and L. Orth Sizemore, his deputy, told the high court that Poole's rights "were protected in every respect."
Six justices heard the case. Justice Hall S. Lusk not sitting, the hearing lasted 50 minutes, and the case was assigned for written opinion.

Optometry Offered

Independence — O. A. Kreamer has moved from the Bank building to the Cooper block on C street, where he will meet his customers in optometry. Kreamer is one of Independence's oldest established merchants and a few years ago sold out his clothing business on Main street, and since has been occupying a room in the Bank building, until moving to the Cooper block.

Film Glorifies West of Yore

Across a vast panorama of primitive splendor, several thousand feet above sea level under a burning sun, a solitary stage coach careens and rocks behind six galloping horses. Every mile brings the coach and its odd assortment of passengers closer to a waiting band of murderous Apaches, led by Geronimo, fiercest of them all.

This is the tense and thrilling background of Walter Wanger's "Stagecoach," a frontier drama of the 1880's when Indians still roamed the sagebrush, which opens at the Elsinore theatre next Sunday.

with Claire Trevor and John Wayne in the starring roles. Miss Trevor, appearing as Dallas, a girl of shady reputation who has been driven from Toronto by a self-righteous group of women, and Wayne, impersonating Kid Ringo, another social outcast, are passengers on this coach. Among the others in the motley group are a gambler of mysterious origin, a sottish doctor, a timid whiskey drummer, a high born lady about to have a baby, a pompous banker who has absconded with his bank's funds, the stage-coach drivers.

"Stagecoach" was directed by John Ford, with Andy Devine, Louise Platt, George Bancroft, Donald Meek, Thomas Mitchell, Bertton Churchill, John Carradine and Tim Holt in prominent featured roles.

For Men Only at 1st Congregational

The Congregationalists of the city under the leadership of Dr. W. C. Jones, Willamette university, are sponsoring a Laymen's institute to be held in the First church, Center at Liberty, Sunday evening. Three laymen, Dr. Fred Richards, Forest Grove, Dr. A. B. Stillman, Eugene, and Ray Yocom, Salem, will speak on the theme: "What the layman has a right to expect from the minister." Three ministers, Revs. E. A. Allin, Paul Dickey, Lee Lynne, all of Portland, will discuss "What the minister has a right to expect from the layman." There will be round table discussion. Light refreshments will be served at 6 and the program will commence at 7. The meeting is for men only.

For Good Living (man-style) TREAT YOUR FOLKS TO THIS MAN-STYLE BEER!

FIRST TIME you pour it you'll see why real beer lovers go for Brown Derby Pilsner. There's the true Pilsner head, creamy and unusually fragrant. The clear brilliance of Brown Derby is typical of fine Pilsner, too. So are the pinpoint bubbles that keep on winking up through the amber beer as you enjoy it. Tilt the glass, and take a deep "pull." Feel your tongue awaken to mellow, teasing goodness. Savor that matchless Pilsner geschmack—a light, just-right beer taste, neither hop-heavy nor malt-sweet, but refreshingly in-between!

Imported Pilsner's equal, the experts say. Judge for yourself, today. Lay in a good supply of Brown Derby—and treat your folks to the taste-thrill real Pilsner alone affords!

FOR 5 YEARS NOW—experienced beer lovers have acclaimed Brown Derby "Imported Pilsner's equal"

IMPORTED PILSNER = BROWN DERBY PILSNER

HOW EXPERTS JUDGE TRUE PILSNER:
HEAD: Creamy-fine, long lasting—marvelously fragrant
BODY: Mellow amber, crystal-clear. With an endless chain of light-hearted bubbles sparkling up as you drink!
FLAVOR: Neither strong, bitter nor sweet. A grand, mellow beer taste—with hops and maltiness balanced just-right. The true Pilsner flavor! Brown Derby Beer has it.
