Boy Scouts to Present Annual Circus Tonight

The co-ordinated efforts of every troop in Cascadia area council, Boy Scouts of America, comprising approximately 800 individuals, will be concentrated on Sweetland field tonight when the organization presents its first annual circus. A rehearsal held Friday evening indicated the show would provide spectators with a first hand knowledge of what scouting stands for, activities of pack and troop, as well as considerable amusement.

On the financial side, proceeds from the show will be utilized to further a project which calls for the erection of a permanent building at Camp Pioneer on Pine lake, where the scouts conduct their summer outings.

As has been the custom of circuses since their inauguration years ago, tonight's big show will be preceded by a parade, with scouts in full costume and with flags and pennants fluttering.

Then will follow in rapid succession typical scout activities, games and contests. A court of honor, cubbing, first aid, fires and chariots, communication of various types and pioneering will all be exemplified by scouts who have perfected their efforts through weeks of practice.

It is expected the circus will be concluded in approximately two hours.

Norris Opposes Vote on War

Washington, May 13 (AP)—Senator Norris (Ind., Neb.), who fathered a constitutional amendment abolishing "lame duck" sessions of congress, expressed opposition today to another proposed change in the constitution—the war referendum measure.

Norris said he doubted that the proposal, calling for a vote of the people before American soldiers could be sent to fight in a foreign war, would aid materially in keeping this country out of armed conflict.

"I can't help but think that in the World war the country was worse than congress," said the Nebraskan, the only member remaining who cast a senate vote against war in 1917. "I know a good many men in congress in 1917 who wanted to vote against war but their people demanded that they vote for it."

While Norris' criticism reflected opposition to the referendum resolution within the senate judiciary committee, Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.), expressed a conflicting view

"If this resolution is intended to require a national referendum before any authoritative military intervention in foreign affairs could be undertaken, it sounds satisfactory to me," O'Mahoney told reporters.

On the other hand, Senator Burke (D., Neb.), said he believed the proposal was "wholly unwise and altogether impractical."

Old Lady in Shoe Wins Pet Parade

Silverton, Ore., May 13—Sweepstakes in the eighth annual pet parade this morning were awarded the stunt "Old Lady in the Shoe." More than 400 youngsters competed for the 150 prizes. All taking part were guests of Al Adams at the Palace theatre immediately after the parade which was concluded at 11 o'clock

Children who portrayed the nursery rhyme and who will divide the sweepstake prize are Peggy, George, Bill and Bob Gramer; Dianne and Dorothy Cameron; Don and Dick Thompson, Ray and Phyllis Wick and Carol McCreary.

The pet parade was originated seven years ago by Dr. A. J. McCannel and now takes in children from the nearby communities. Frank M. Powell was general chairman of the event this year.

10-Year Plan for Workers Formed

Washington, May 13 (AP)—Brazilian embassy attaches have tentatively outlined a 10-year plan for the migration of "surplus" United States farm workers to Brazil, Rep. Tolan (D-Calif) said today.

Reporting that the Brazilian representatives had discussed informally with the state department and himself their country's shortage of agarian labor, Tolan said the tentative plan provided that the United States government would pay transportation of destitute farm families to the South American republic and that Brazil would settle them on government-owned or subsidized coffee and wheat farms.

The workers would be guaranteed "freedom from exploitation," Tolan said, and after ten years of residence could become independent, land-owning Brazilian citizens. Brazil's rich plateau country could absorb half a million or more families, he added.

Argentine Beef Order Protested

Denver, May 13 (AP)—The American National Livestock association telegraphed President Roosevelt today a vigorous protest against his statement approving an order for Argentine canned corned beef for the United States navy.

"We are amazed to learn," the telegram said, "that the recent purchase of Argentine beef subsidized by that country was at your express order and we desire to register our strongest opposition to any further such purchases being made for any branch of the American government."

The Argentine's "best beef does not equal in taste, quality or finish the superior product produced in the corn belt of the United States," said the asociation's statement, dispatched to the president by P. E. Mollin, secretary.

"Putting Argentine beef in the can does not improve its quality. In view of the fact that you favor buying Argentine beef because it is cheaper, may I call your attention to the fact that the Argentinians do not have the tremendous and ever-growing burden of taxes that confronts the American grower?"

Lumbermen Get Wage Exemption

Washington, May 13 (U.P.)—Wage-hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews granted to certain branches of the lumber industry today a limited exemption from the maximum hour provisions of the fair labor standards act.

He said that he had decided that the sap peeling of pulpwood, whenever conducted, including sawing and piling, if performed during the sap peeling season was a "seasonal industry" within the meaning of the act.

The exemption permits employers to work employes up to 12 hours per day or 56 hours per week for 14 weeks per year without payment of the usual overtime required after 44 hours per week. It does not affect minimum wage requirements.

Similar exemptions were denied saw timber logging and saw milling, when Andrews decided they were not seasonal industries.

Motor Registrations Increase 3 Percent

Oregon motor vehicle registrations increased by 10,115, or 3.14 per cent, to a total of 332,247 in the period January 1 to April 30, 1939, in comparison with the same time last year, Secretary of State Earl Snell announced today.

Registration fees for the same period aggregated $2,276,017.66, a gain of $85,480.27. Snell said only 1041 cars exempt from fees were on his books as against 1603 a year ago.

The secretary's report showed 275,968 private cars registered, an increase of 7449, for which $1,379,840 in fees was paid; 428 buses with annual and 132 with semi-annual licenses, in comparison with 431 and 152 last year; 24,790 light delivery trucks, a gain of 820, and 28,659 trucks, an increase of 2294.

Kentucky Governor Defies John Lewis

Frankfort, Ky., May 13 (AP)—Orders for 557 Kentucky national guardsmen to mobilize in Harlan county Sunday to enable coal mines to resume operations were issued today.

The formal order came after Gov. A. B. Chandler had declared the troops would go on a "peaceful mission," and referring to John L. Lewis, CIO and UMW head, said, "no one can tell our people to work or not to work and no one can come into this state and cause trouble."

Chandler's statement came after he had read Lewis' statement that "public policy requires that they keep those mines closed," where union contracts which included the "union shop" clause had not been signed.

Gleason Receives Art Scholarship

Clifford Gleason, one of the advanced students at the Art Center, has received a scholarship for study at the Portland Art Museum and will enter school there this fall. Mr. Gleason, who has been in the guild painting class for the past year at the Center, working with Louis Bunce, is one of the few in the state who receives a scholarship. Many art students entered the competition, and the scholarships which pay all tuition fees, were eagerly sought for.

The staff of the Art Center considers his work to be of unusual individual power, and they believe that he has a real future ahead. He received his first interest in art under the guidance of Miss Torhild Brauti, former art teacher in the senior high school. Later he studied for short periods with Andrew Vincent of the University of Oregon, and at an art school in Los Angeles. His study at the art center has included many researches and experiments in the art of painting, and he is engaged at present in assisting Louis Bunce in the final painting of the two murals destined for Bush school.

tightly and left, telling me I would be found in the morning.

"I managed to work loose the bandage on my mouth after an hour or so. I'm not sure how long. I called for help and some people came. They then called the officers. I discovered when they freed me that because I was in an unfinished house, I would have been found as soon as it was daylight. Obviously they did not intend to hurt me.

Cole and other friends in Hollywood were en route here to return with him to his home.

Putnam was found but a few minutes after Los Angeles police had issued a statewide teletype that he was missing. His absence was reported when he failed to return to his home at midnight and a check determined that he had not visited Cole.

San Fernando valley division detectives, searching the garage, found his hat crumpled and his glasses broken and feared that he had been assaulted. Only yesterday he had obtained a license from the district attorney's office to carry a gun, but said he did not have it with him last night.

The former New York publisher and Bend, Ore., newspaper publisher and resident of Salem as secretary to Governor Withycombe, early this month was reported planning to wed for the third time. His bride, friends said, would be Mrs. Jean-Marie Sonsigny James of Beverly Hills, whose divorce from William Robert James, son of U. S. District Judge William P. James, becomes final May 18.

Putnam in recent weeks hed ridiculed threats against his life. The incident of the intruder at his home occurred April 12. A few days later, his secretary received a threatening telephone call, followed during the next week by other messages.

On April 20, he turned over to the district attorney's office an anonymous letter which read in part:

"If you have any regards for your future safety, stop publication of this book at once. The arm of greater Germany reaches far and we have no desire to continue warning you. If you are wise you will do what we tell you because something can happen to you and your future may be extinguished."

Three days later, a bullet riddled copy of the book, punctured with eight holes, and a crudely pasted note were sent to his home.

The note, composed of letters cut from newspapers and magazines read:

"Mr. Putnam you're a criminal You failed to read future. Bullet wound would be fatal to you if you don't abandon the book 'The Man Who Killed Hitler.'

Plan New Entrance To Fairview Home

W. P. Emmel, florist and landscape gardener for the state tuberculosis sanatorium, today submitted to the county court plans for a change in the entrance to the sanatorium grounds lying toward the Cottage farm which he states will serve a dual purpose, to improve the safety of the entrance as well as to enhance the beauty of the grounds.

The road at this point on entering on the main road has a very sharp curve, which the plan proposed by Mr. Emmel will cut back about 25 feet giving a much wider sweep for traffic to leave the sanatorium road in going onto the main road. A concrete light post will be erected also, ornate in its design. this to be equipped with reflector buttons. Mr. Emmel says this will be so set up as to add to the safety as well as the appearance of the entrance.

Several Seek School Job

County court members made it definitely known today that no selection of a successor to Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson as county superintendent will be made until next week. In the meantime they are examining qualifications of applicants and have been receiving numerous telephone calls, visits and letters from people over the county urging their choices for their respective candidates.

W. M. Smith, former county school superintendent, today became definitely a candidate by filing his formal application as did Mrs. Agnes Booth, principal of the Salem Heights school. Mr. Smith was county superintendent for 13 years until 1920 when he resigned to become connected with the state department of education and was the immediate predecessor of Mrs Fulkerson. He was appointed in 1907.

H. F. Durham, principal of Parrish junior high school, Salem, also became a formal applicant yesterday when he discussed the matter with Judge Siegmund and will discuss it with other court members today who were not present when he called yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Edna Allen, mayor of Jefferson, already had a formal application on file.

Court members said that while other names had possibly been suggested these are the only formal applicants for the position but would offer no hint as to a possible selection, saying the entire matter will be determined next week. They were in Portland and McMinnville most of the day yesterday on other business.

Hayesville Scouts Present Program

Hayesville—The newly organized Boy Scout troop of this community presented a very interesting program before the Hayesville Community club Friday night.

The troop, which has outlined a full program of activities for the summer months, is led by Harrison Hartsell as scout master with Vernon Greig acting as assistant. Members of the troop include the following boys of the Hayesville neighborhood: James Stettler, George Dunsmoor, Wayne Kunze, Keith Henderson, Henry Henderson, Marion Furnue, Bobby Clark, James Mennis, Jackie Mennis, Carl Komyate, Frank Mowry, Fred Fisher and Steve Zerlinden.

New Asphalt Retort Bought For Road Oiling

To speed up operations on the coming county oiling program for the summer the county court in Portland yesterday ordered an asphalt retort booster which Ralph Girod, county oiling expert, says is the last word in such equipment. He states it will do away with use of the present old steam boiler, do away with night heating and will very materially speed up the process as well as working generally for efficiency in putting over the program.

While oiling last year did not start until about July 1 it is possible that this year it may start a week from Monday if present weather conditions hold. They have been ideal so far for oiling operations with a brand of July weather holding in May and the engineer and oiling expert were instructed to get together and recommend to the court some specific day to start.

The program to be carried out has not been announced officially although it is considered likely the court in a general way has its plans pretty well in hand as to the roads to be oiled.

One thing definitely decided is to try handling some of the roads at least with a prime coat of oil, such has been successfully done on some of the roads in Yamhill county and also on some of the state highway oprations. This means a light coat of oil will be shot on a road which is to be eventually treated with the regular oil mat. This will be allowed to stand for a year or two and then the regular oil mat surface put on. It is stated this serves to bind the road and give in the long run a better oiled road. It puts the road in good shape for travel and will serve to enlarge the program as time goes on.

The portable rock crusher which was moved from Illihee to Stayton for operations some weeks ago has shut down until fall after crushing about 8,000 yards of oiled rock and about 2,000 yards of road rock, said members of the court today.

Three First Aid Cases Reported

Three first aid cases were reported by the Salem fire department today.

Reuben Skubovius, route 4, riding a motorcycle, was in a collision with an automobile driven by Robert Ramsden at High and Chemeketa streets. A fingernail was torn from the middle finger of Skubovius' right hand, causing him to become ill, and also suffering from shock he was taken across the street to the fire station.

Ronald Scrutton, 7 years old, of Portland, was visiting his grandparents at 360 East Miller when he fell from a ladder, fracturing his left arm above the wrist.

Shirley Degenhart, 7, had been vaccinated at the health clinic and became ill on the way home.
