

Stocks Whip Forward to Three Points

New York, July 21 (AP)—Stocks whipped forward 1 to more than 3 points today to new highs for the current recovery in a resumption of the broad buying movement which lifted the list spectacularly to four-month peaks earlier this week. Trading picked up sharply. All sections joined the upswing, but action of capital goods shares again was outstanding. Short covering offset mild realizing. Commodities were mixed. Wheat reached a further new low since 1929 in Liverpool but closed with minor gains in Chicago. Corn, and cottonseed oil, however, dropped to new 5 year lows before meeting support from bottom since 1923-33. Rails led domestic corporate sections in the bond list forward. Foreigners were mixed. U. S. government securities were firm. News regarding business continued encouraging. Steel operations were reported to have risen further in southern districts. Retail and wholesale trade were favorable. Washington news was stimulating, including prospects that the Wagner act may be revised at the 1940 session of congress. President Roosevelt's statement that senate action on neutrality would hurt business was not borne out by the action of the list. Further good second quarter earnings reports and favorable forecasts by the department of commerce were other factors behind the rise. Loft, an outstanding feature in stocks, opened on a grouped block of 7,000 shares up more than a point and hit 19, up 2 and a new 1939 high. Chrysler reached 84 1/2, up 3/4, and held a large part of the gain in the face of late profit-taking, while Bethlehem maintained more than 2 points of an earlier advance of more than three points. U. S. Steel held most of a 3 point rise to 82 1/2. General Motors rose almost 3 points. DuPont jumped almost 4 points to a new high and Westinghouse Electric, Air Reduction and Crucible Steel gained 3 points and more. Aviation, building, copper, rubber, mercantile, railroad equipment and auto equipment shares gained 1 to more than 2 points. Rails surged up with Santa Fe and Great Northern up around 2 points. Brooklyn Union Gas and North American led a rise in utilities with gains of more than a point. Dow Jones closing stock average: Industrial, 143.46, up 2.22; rail, 28.56 up 0.78; utility, 25.33, up 0.60; 65 stocks 48.41, up 0.90. Stock sales were 1,270,000 shares compared with 810,000 yesterday, while curb stock volume rose to 178,000 shares from 115,000 in the previous session.

Mickle Makes Appointment of Brand Officials

Appointment of county brand inspectors for all Oregon counties in compliance with a new state law was announced this week by J. D. Mickle, director of the state department of agriculture. Under the law, horses, mules, asses and cattle being shipped out of the state from any Oregon county must be inspected for brands. In addition, out-of-county brand inspection is required in all eastern Oregon counties and three western Oregon counties, Douglas, Josephine and Jackson. The county brand inspectors named are: Baker, Charles Wendt; Baker, Benton, Dr. F. C. Myers, Corvallis; Clackamas, Dr. C. H. Seagraves, Oregon City; Clatsop, Dr. John Rankin, Astoria; Columbia, Dr. Ray Rankin, Clatskanie; Coos, Dr. J. W. Harrison, Coquille; Crook, Robert Lister, Paulina; Curry, Will T. White, Port Orford; Deschutes, Claude Christ, Redmond; Douglas, Cliff Thornton, Roseburg; Gilliam, Lester Wade, Condon; Grant, B. C. Herburger, Canyon City; Harney, O. D. Hotchkiss, Burns; Jackson, Edward Kubli, Applegate; Jefferson, H. L. Friday, Galesway; Josephine, J. L. Helms, Grants Pass; Klamath, William Klittridge, Klamath Falls; Lake, John Ross, Lakeview; Lane, W. S. Roberts, Eugene; Lincoln, Claude Christiansen, Toledo; Linn, Dr. J. W. Goin, Albany; Malheur, Eldon Madden, Ontario; Marion, Dr. Fred W. Lange, Salem; Morrow, C. W. McNamer, Heppner; Multnomah, C. L. Jamison, Portland; Polk, Dr. H. D. Peterson, Dallas; Sherman, Tom Garrett, Grant; Tillamook, Dr. M. J. Smith, Tillamook; Union, Virgil Conley, Cove; Wallowa, J. Ray Pogue, Joseph; Wasco, George Magill, Wamic; Washington, Dr. W. B. Coon, Forest Grove; Wheeler, E. J. Kelsey, Yamhill; Yamhill, Dr. I. C. Robison, Yamhill. Deputy grand inspectors have been appointed in about half the 35 counties. The law provides that livestock owners, before shipment is made, must furnish the brand inspector or his deputy a list with brands, age, sex, color and flesh marks, against which daylight inspection is required, which must be driven into pens in lots of five or less for the inspection. One of the four copies of brand certificate to be made by the inspector must be filed with the sheriff. The law sets penalties ranging from $100 to a maximum of $2,500 against any violation on part of the inspector, owner or custodian of livestock or the common carrier or hauler. It also stipulates an inspection fee of 10 cents per head up to 25 head and three cents per head for all additional stock, also 10 cents per mile one way for travel. Inspections must not be made in trucks.

Compliance Means Penalty Evasion

Washington, July 21 (AP)—Wheat and corn growers who comply with crop control programs would partially escape marketing restrictions and penalties under amendments passed by the senate yesterday and sent to the White House. The changes would apply when the secretary of agriculture determined surpluses required restrictions. One amendment would permit wheat growers, complying with acreage limitations, to market their entire production as well as production from previous years not subject to penalties.

Present Week Not So Good For Retailers

New York, July 21 (AP)—Buying in retail stores at leading centers of distribution throughout the United States this week lagged under last, but ran 7 to 12 per cent above a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. Meantime, buying in wholesale markets continued to expand. "Although consumer demand continued brisk for light summer apparel, vacation necessities, and some lines of house furnishings, retail trade activity on the whole was moderately lower than a week ago," the survey said. "To some extent, the decline seemed attributable to shortages of desirable merchandise; this was an important factor in department stores, where stock of many types of summer goods were frequently reported too low to warrant the usual heavy clearance promotions. A few stores felt that the reduction in WPA rolls was already cutting into sales totals, but the majority found no appreciable change as yet in this type of buying." While retail trade marked time, wholesale buying gathered momentum, the report is adding: "As in the past fortnight, the main wholesale interest was centered on new fall lines. Requests for sale goods were still numerous but little summer merchandise of the desired type and quality was available. 'Wholesalers reported the outstanding features of the fall buying continued to be the increased call for better quality goods and the strong emphasis on prompt shipments. Retailers who were satisfied last year with September delivery were found to be demanding merchandise in the stores by mid-August. 'Merchandise for August and September promotions was the center of interest in house furnishing lines.'

General White Gets Request For Information

"It was common knowledge on the waterfront Bridges sent his wife to the country while he had women shake down his house looking for that book." Yesterday, William Henry Howard, 49, Portland, Ore., ex-marine fireman, testified he didn't like the way Bridges tried "to grab control" over every maritime union on the coast. Thomas Shoemaker, chief of government counsel, asked how Bridges did this. "He worked it by his stooges," Howard said. Asked what he meant by that, the witness said, "communist party stooges." Later he declared, "when a maritime man says 'the party' he means the communist party."

Labor Federal Rebukes Sweetland

Portland, July 21 (AP)—Monroe Sweetland, secretary of the Oregon Commonwealth Federation, over-looked the State Federation of Labor's request for Wagner act changes when he told the senate labor committee Oregon sentiment was for the act as it is, Paul E. Gurske, president of the federation, and D. E. Nickerson, secretary, said today. "The state convention... endorsed the amendments proposed by the American Federation of Labor," the statement said. "Our 70,000 Oregon members are 'fully conversant with the abuses the American Federation of Labor has been subjected to and the arrogant and villainous manner with which we have been dealt by the national labor relations board,' it continued.

Arnold J. Slater. Silverton—Word was received in Silverton Thursday of the sudden death of Arnold J. Slater, 34, at his home in Longview Tuesday, with burial Thursday at the Miller and Tracy funeral home in Portland. Slater was manager of the Safeway stores in Silverton and Salem previous to his going to Longview where he had since been made district manager for the company. Surviving are the widow, Dorothy, and two small sons, Dick and Bill.

General White Gets Request For Information

"It was common knowledge on the waterfront Bridges sent his wife to the country while he had women shake down his house looking for that book." Yesterday, William Henry Howard, 49, Portland, Ore., ex-marine fireman, testified he didn't like the way Bridges tried "to grab control" over every maritime union on the coast. Thomas Shoemaker, chief of government counsel, asked how Bridges did this. "He worked it by his stooges," Howard said. Asked what he meant by that, the witness said, "communist party stooges." Later he declared, "when a maritime man says 'the party' he means the communist party."
