"Superstitions" Theme For Dance Tonight

Willamette university freshmen are planning a dance in the gymnasium this evening honoring members of the student body. Because of the date, Friday the 13th, the "superstitions" idea is being carried out in the decorations of black and white streamers and black cats. Miss Mary Ellen Mills is general chairman of the dance.

Patrons and patronesses include Dr. and Mrs. R. Franklin Thompson, Dean and Mrs. Daniel Schulze, Prof. and Mrs. Cecil Monk.

Miss Pauline Mestrozzi is chairman of the decorations committee and assisting her are Barbara Gearhart, Ancl. Payne, Gary Owens, Phyllis Fisher, Barbara Viesko and Dorine Symes.

In charge of entertainment are Miss Betty Annensen and Miss June Earl. Ancl. Payne is chairman of the publicity committee, which includes Wes McWain, Joe Dwight and Dick Staer.

Salem and Silverton friends of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Woodard are pleased to learn that they are expected to return soon following a six weeks' tour of the New England states. Mrs. Woodard will stop in Grand Forks, N. D., to visit her mother, Mrs. S. P. Ireland, before returning to Oregon the first of November.

Trinity Chapel Scene of Rites

Lebanon—A marriage of great interest to people of this part of the valley occurred at the little chapel of Trinity Episcopal church in Portland, last Wednesday afternoon, when Ruth Irene Kaas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kaas, became the bride of James Rubottom, son of N. H. Rubottom of Oakland, Calif. The impressive Episcopal rite ceremony was read by the Rev. Richard Flagg Ayes.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chamois lace over satin. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley and her tulle veil was fastened with a wreath of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Virginia Martie of Salem, wore an attractive gown of rose tulle and carried a bouquet of bronze rosebuds. She wore a cap of the same rosebuds.

Earl Bender of McMinnville was best man and Frank Blum was usher.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Rubottom received informally at the church and later relatives and intimate friends were invited to the Kaas home where the bride's cake was served.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Clark, Miss Jean Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick and two sons attended the wedding from Lebanon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rubottom will make their home at Goldendale, Wn.

B.P.W. Public Relations Banquet Event of Thursday

A gala event of Thursday evening was the formal banquet given by the Business and Professional Women of Salem in the Mirror room at the Marion hotel. A large number of guests and members were in attendance. Colonial and modernistic ideas were carried out in the decorative scheme. A large bowl of mixed autumn flowers centered the head table guarded by peripheries on either side and lighted tapers in crystal holders. Smaller centerpieces of zinnias in modern pottery and lighted tapers were used about the other tables. Placecards were tiny nosegays and favors of miniature colonial figures. Many lighted candles in pastel colors were placed about the room.

Unique programs were done in black and white. On the cover appeared a silhouette of a colonial figure and one in contrast of the modern days.

Miss Grace Elisabeth Smith, organizer of the local club, opened the program with reading the club collect. Miss Josephine Evans, president of the club, extended a word of welcome which was responded to by Mayor W. W. Chadwick. Introduction of guests followed.

Hon. John P. Kavanaugh gave the address for the evening on "One Hundred Years of Women's Progress in the United States."

Musical numbers were furnished by the Willamette university violin and piano quartet under the direction of Mary Schultz Duncan.

Much of the success of the banquet was due to the efforts of Mrs. Dorothy Linford, general chairman of the week's activities; Miss Dorothy Cornelius, general chairman of the banquet committee; Mrs. Mona Yoder who had charge of the tickets; and to Mrs. Ida Andrews and Mrs. Ora McKenzie in charge of making program and favors.

The final event of the week scheduled by the B. & P. W. club will be the 1 o'clock luncheon and fashion show on Saturday, October 14, at the Quella.
