BIB 'N' TUCKER

By Roby Laughlin
EXCLUSIVE . . . to the men . . . There are some mighty gay new flower fashions heading the style parade on football specials these days and your girl is going to cheer with double enthusiasm for both you and your favorite team if you're smart about the flowers you send. . . . Chrysanthemums, of course, continue to hold honors among the "specials" but they are more welcome this year if they consist of matching corages of large blossoms, combined with sprays of tiny mums and autumn leaves, and with ribbon streamers to carry out the college colors. . . . And if you wish, you know, the florist can attach your college letter right in the heart of the flower as though it had grown there. . . . Another sure "delight" is the modernistic spray arrangement of gardenias combined with shining green leaves with odd white and red veining that appear hand painted. . . . Belles who have achieved the hour glass silhouette are pinning handsome corages at the belt line of their new fitted coats while many, following the vogue introduced by Queen Elizabeth, are (continued on page 8, column 3)
