

Sophomore Reds Defeat Leslie Juniors by 14-13 Score

Biddy Bishop has a sort of perpetual motion idea mapped out for the purpose of keeping the grass green on the George Waters baseball park on South 25th street this next summer. He will excavate for a pond just over the north boundary fence and will trap surplus water during the winter months. When the grass needs a drink next summer he will pump the moisture from the pond onto the diamond. A good idea, but how about the mosquitoes, Biddy? Grading of the playing field has constituted the first part of park activity. A power grader was used to peel off the top surface then a crew of men went to work raking up the rocks. While the soil is quite rocky, it is believed turf will keep them from working through. The unseeded surfaces may need a cover of rock-less topsoil before it is found satisfactory.

No doubt Sper Keene will frown at the suggestion, but to yours truly it would seem the Bears should have little difficulty with their competition from here on out with the exception of San Jose State. That will be a toughie. Other than perhaps Pacific, we fall to see where any of the Northwest conference clubs can do much about Spec's squad this year. The CPS loggers, Willamette's next opposition at Tacoma next Friday night, looked pretty fair in beating Whitman early this month, but being held to a scoreless tie Thursday night by Whitworth doesn't indicate the loggers are of championship material. There is the possibility the Bears may get badly shaken up against San Jose to such an extent that they will not be at full strength for their remaining conference games. Having that possibility they should have little difficulty with Pacific, Idaho or Whitman.

If you haven't done it already, better draw a ring around Nov. 3 on your calendar. That date marks the appearance of one of the best ball clubs to visit Salem since the days when Oregon and Oregon State came over to play with the Beavers on Sweetland field. We are not so sure that the Webtoots or Beavers of those days were as strong as the Spartans from San Jose. Doug DeGroot and Pop Warner, whose co-coaching operations at San Jose have been responsible for five straight wins, up to last night, will field a team against Willamette the night of November 3 which boasts a line averaging 201 pounds. There will be two senior fullbacks to alternate against the Beavers: Leroy Zimmerman, lanky 185-pound triple threat and Carleton Porey, fast stepping 176-pounder. Zimmerman is one of the best passers on the coast. Both men are good runners and kickers. The right halfbacks, Morris Manganian, 172 pounds, and Herman Zetterquist, 175 pounds, are likewise both senior veterans. Howard Costello, 165 pound junior, and Aubrey Minter, also 165 pounds and a negro sophomore, make up the balance of the starting backfield. Costello is the stocky, hard-running type, while Minter is an elusive speedster.

One of the best assortments of plays ever put on by any team, regardless of the size of the supporting institution, will doubtless be spread out for the benefit of Willamette valley fans. The San Jose attack boasts four Warner formations

Straw, Upjohn Tally Late for Southsiders

And what a game that was! Trailing by 14 to 0 well into the fourth period and no one giving them the ghost of a chance, the Leslie junior high griders spurred in the dying minutes of their intramural league game late Friday to score two touchdowns and miss a tie with the Soph Reds by the margin of failure to convert. The final score of 14-13 is a fair indication of the strength of the two clubs. Time-outs and innumerable substitutions put a brake on the progress of the game and the final moments were played under the light of a half moon.

A pass interception by Straw on the Leslie 15 and a subsequent 43 yard run behind quickly formed interference gave the southsiders their first touchdown after five minutes of the final period had passed. They failed to buck the line for the extra point.

With darkness settling over the field and with Leslie backed up well in their own territory, Applegate uncoiled a 70-yard kick which stopped five yards short of the end zone. Hofferf attempted to kick out but Dunham, Leslie left guard, got in the way of the ball and it bounced back into the end zone where Upjohn nestled on it for a touchdown. Applegate kicked the extra point.

The Williams to Hofferf and Williams to Buren combinations as worked out by Coach George Abbott of the Reds, proved Leslie's downfall. A listless first period found no scoring, but early in the second frame Hofferf intercepted a pass and galloped to the Leslie 46. On the next play Williams lofted a short pass to Hofferf who went the rest of the distance. They added the extra point by a mass charge through the center. The Red's second touchdown came early in the second half with Hofferf's quick kick providing the set-up. Leslie got the ball on their 17 but immediately fumbled. The Reds recovered and Williams passed to Buren in the end zone. Hofferf kicked goal.

The final moments of the game were played in virtual darkness. Due to the confusion the players thought the game had ended before time was really up. Some of the Reds had climbed into their bus only to find that there was a second and a half remaining by the timer's watch. They climbed out and ran off another play. Starting lineups:

Wolves Defeated By Rangers, 6-0

Monmouth—Two huge lines huffed and puffed in the Hop Bowl last night and when it was all over St. Martin's Rangers from Tacoma held a 6 to 0 win over the Oregon College of Education Wolves. The lone tally came in the second period on a series of fast plays after Halfback Gambini had run the kick-off back 40 yards.

The Wolves were crippled early in the game when Johnson and English, guard, went out with injuries, and a full collection of spinners, single and double reverses, shovel passes, short passes, long passes and hidden ball bafflers.

OVER THE HILLS AND NOT FAR AWAY—A never-falling thrill to the huntsman is the pack "in full cry" as it catches the scent, and here's the start of a chase for the Rolling Rock Hunt pack of Ligonier, Pa., believed the largest pack in the country. Frederick Hedges, who leads pack, can call any hound by its given name.

Vikings Check in 19 to 6 Win Over Tillamook

Passes, Long Runs Feature Coast Clash

The Vikings of Salem high got back into the win side of the No Name league ledger last night at Tillamook when they beat the much talked around Cheesemakers, 19 to 6. Salem will entertain Oregon City Friday night on Sweetland field.

Salem reached pay dirt early last night when Andrews, hard driving fullback, passed to Traglio who ran for the first touchdown. The pass and the run was good for 50 yards. Don Waller scored the second touchdown when he climaxed a 70 yard sustained drive in the second quarter by going the final eight. The Vikings failed to convert and when Witchard, Tillamook halfback, passed to Christensen, an end, for a touchdown, the Cheesemakers got back into the ball game just before the half. Salem had failed to convert following each touchdown, so the score at the intermission was Salem 12, Tillamook 6.

Don Waller made matters considerably brighter for the Vikings at the outset of the third period when he ran 58 yards to score. Andrews hit the line for the extra point.

Since Tillamook has not won a ball game this season, Salem can do little crowing over their success.

Elks Will Sponsor Amateur Boxing Here

Amateur boxing will get under way in Salem November 2 when local simon pures tangle with a group of ambitious knuckle tossers from Eugene and Portland, according to announcement today by the local Elks club which will provide the sponsorship in this vicinity. Clyde Grewell, veteran in the art of handling amateur boxers, will be in charge of ring operations. Establishment of training quarters will be announced within a few days.

West Linn Hi Beats Dallas

Dallas—The West Linn Lions rolled over Dallas Friday night, scoring one touchdown in each quarter while holding the Dragons to a lone score in the second quarter to win 25 to 6.

The visitors kicked off and gained possession of the ball on a Dallas fumble to start a drive which netted a touchdown after seven minutes of play with Hennigan packing the ball across over the left side of his line. The try for the extra point was no good and the quarter ended 6-0.

Dallas picked up some ground early in the second quarter but their gains were nullified when Krooker's kick was blocked. The Lions took advantage of the break and Hennigan rambled around his right end for another score and booted the ball between the uprights for the conversion.

Dallas returned to the attack and their aerial sally brought returns one minute from the half when Krooker swept around the left end for the 10-yard mark to score. The kick from placement was no good and the half ended 13-6.

In the second half Hennigan again took up the role of scorer-inchief and helped himself to a touchdown in the third quarter after six minutes of play and another in the fourth quarter after five minutes. Both tries for conversion were no good, the first going wide and the second being blocked.

Warner Club Stops Stagg Squad, 13 to 3

Stockton, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP)—On a crisp autumn afternoon in old Chicago 32 years ago, the background for this football story was laid. It was November of 1907.

Glenn Scobey (Pop) Warner's Carlisle Indians trampled over Amos Alonzo Stagg's University of Chicago Maroons, 18 to 4.

Thirty-two years later under the flood lights of a tiny far western stadium, the country's two oldest coaches, both in point of service and Stagg in actual years, helped write the second chapter of the most famous individual gridiron rivalry in the history of the sport.

Last night on one side of Baxter stadium, stronghold of little College of the Pacific paced 77-year-old Stagg. Across the field sat 68-year-old Warner, serving as advisory coach of San Jose State college.

Headlines of today told the same story as they did more than three decades ago.

Warner wing-backs, razzle-dazzle and power outscored the type of football taught by the dean of modern coaches—Stagg. The score was 13 to 3.

Indians Smother Independence High

Chemawa—The Chemawa high school Braves continued their winning ways Friday afternoon as they downed Independence high 25 to 0 on the local gridiron.

Coach Gastineau's up and coming warriors scored on the first play of the game as Danzuka flipped a pass to Williams that was good for 60 yards and a touchdown. The Indians came back four minutes later, with another pass, Danzuka to Williams, for another score. Danzuka carried the ball over for the extra point.

Chemawa scored again just before the half as VanPelt intercepted a pass on his own 48 and went over unmolested with plenty of interference ahead of him.

The visitors came back strong in the second half to pile up a lot of yardage but did most of their ground gaining in their own territory, never getting inside of the Chemawa 35 yard line. They made a total of 11 first downs to seven for Chemawa, but Chemawa gained 279 yards to 176 for Independence.

The Indians, content with their lead, came to life in the final quarter with a drive that started on their own 18 and scored 6 plays later as Pablo tore through center to pay dirt.

Chemawa plays Reed college on the local field next Friday afternoon. Many of the old-timers, now at Chemawa, will see action in this game.

Albany Cracks Bend 6 to 0

Albany—Albany high school's Bulldogs pulled a 6 to 0 tie out of the fire in the last two minutes of the football game here last night against the Bend Lava Bears and crashed over for a touchdown when Pete Flak hurled a high looping 20-yard pass from Bend's 30-yard marker to Don Wilson, right halfback who dashed over the remaining ten for a touchdown. Albany failed to convert the extra point on a pass.

Bend's mammoth line outweighed the Albany small but game forward wall and time after time was held for downs. Bend failed to penetrate past the Albany 25-yard marker during the entire game, while the Albany team plunged deep into Bend's territory, almost reaching pay dirt twice.

Miller, 175 pound left end, starred in the line while Wilson and Flak in the backfield played bang-up ball for Albany.

Flak averaged 70 yards on his punting.

While the game has no bearing in the No-Name league in which Albany is as yet undefeated, Bend was handed its first defeat in five games and Albany thereby bolstered its standing in the race for the mythical state championship.

Albany meets Milwaukie in a No-Name league encounter at Milwaukie next Friday.

Armstrong Stops Fontaine in 3rd

Seattle, Oct. 21 (AP)—Three up and three to go, Homicide Henry Armstrong was ready to leave for Los Angeles and another title fight today after turning in a three-round technical knockout over Richie Fontaine of Missoula, Mont., last night.

Armstrong, the world's welterweight champion who weighed 139½, bounced Fontaine to the canvas seven times before the towel came in from Richie's corner in two minutes and three seconds of the third. Fontaine scaled 141.

It was Henry's third knockout on his present western tour. He cooled off Al Manfredro and Howard Scott during the last two weeks. On October 24 he fights Jimmy Garrison of Kansas City at Los Angeles. On October 30 he fights Bobby Pacho of Los Angeles at Denver, then will rest a couple of weeks at Hot Springs, Ark., before taking on Lou Ambers in New York December 1.

Willamette Frosh Win Over Astoria

Astoria, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—Bill Hughes, Willamette frosh reserve, scooped up an Astoria high fumble before the ball hit the ground, raced 35 yards for a touchdown that beat the Fishermen 6-0 last night.

Stayton—The high school was jubilant today over its 21 to 0 victory yesterday over the Woodburn "B" team, which previously had defeated Aumsville high school.

Woodburn Defeats Lebanon, 20 to 0

Lebanon—Scoring three touchdowns and two conversions, the heavier and more experienced Woodburn Bulldogs turned in a 20 to 0 win over Lebanon Friday afternoon on Newport field. The game was a Willamette Valley Interscholastic league affair.

Woodburn Youth In Golf Tourney

Woodburn—A fall golf tournament for junior boys and girls is getting under way and play is to be completed by Sunday, November 5. All children up to and including high school students are eligible to play and a cup is to be awarded for the championship to both boys and girls. There are to be 27 holes of medal play between those entering the tournament in three successive sines. Mrs. Helen Guis is chairman of the committee in charge and boys and girls wishing to play are asked to get in touch with her.

Superior Power Wins for Rooks

The Dallas, Oct. 21 (AP)—Superior power in the last two minutes gave the Oregon State college rooks a 3 to 0 football victory over the Portland university freshmen here last night.

Harold Fox, rook fullback, bucked across the score from the four-yard line after an advance from the Portland 20-yard line.

Silverton Tied By Molalla High

Molalla—The Molalla Buckaroo and the Silverton Foxes fought it out to a 6 to 6 tie here Friday afternoon in a W.V.I. league football game. Melbye scored for the visitors in the third frame only to have the Bucks knot the count when Woods tallied in the final quarter.

The lineups: Silverton, Bailey, Blust, ends; Norton, Barkhurst, tackles; Palmer, Dullum, guards; Robins, center; Melbye, Burr, Weatherill, Hemmingsen, backs.

Molalla—Peck, Santrell, ends; Koeling, Love, tackles; Dickey, Nelson, guards; Helpe, center; Blaine Woods, Gulene, Hampton, backs.

Badminton Clubs Complete Tonight

The first inter-city badminton contest of the fall season is scheduled for the YMCA courts tonight at 7:30. Portland Central Y will bring down a group of contestants. The Portlanders, however, have few women competitors and as a consequence the local club expects to take a beating because their men participants are not as skilled as the visiting males. Portland won two matches last year against the Salem contingent.

Participants from the local badminton club tonight will include Alice Young, Esther Arnold, Rae Young, Pat Carson, Beatrice Moore, Norma Roeder, Phyllis Geoffrey, Norma Winslow, Wes Roeder, Gus Moore, Clair Miller, Walter Minter, Art Boeschen and Bill Letterman.

Mt. Angel to Hold Boxing Matches

Mt. Angel—Coach Ted Marx at Mt. Angel college stated that a smoker feature will be incorporated into the physical education course of both college and high school. The last time a smoker was held was in 1926. Mt. Angel held bouts with teams from St. Martin's, Seattle, and Portland university.

Equipment will be acquired and installed in the near future according to Marx.

Parrish Wins Over Greens 7-0 Score

After being shoved around through much of the entire four periods of their intramural clash with the Sophomore Greens Friday afternoon, Parrish junior high scored a 7 to 0 win just before the whistle ended the fray on Olinger field. Bud Litwiler passed to Bob Warren over the line of scrimmage and when the latter jogged the balance of the 33 yards for a touchdown the game was made safe for the juniors. Litwiler added the extra point by hitting the line.

Parrish which had not been able to produce a scoring threat on its own behalf during the early portions of the game did come through with a couple of stonewall defense acts. They stopped the Greens twice and took the ball on the Parrish six inch line on each occasion. Jim Wenger stopped Bill Pettit on the Parrish four after the latter had galloped 66 yards. Baker and Pettit took four cracks at the Parrish forwards but were halted a half foot short of the coveted goal. The Greens had another opportunity in the same period but once more the Parrish line held.

Litwiler's punting was a feature of the contest.

The starting lineups:

Greens	LP	Parrish
Jesser	LT	J. Wenger
McCluskey	LT	C. Wenger
Griffiths	LO	Weather
Turley	LC	Willis
Clark	LC	Waltie
Falbrun	RT	Hickberger
Castellanos	RM	Case
Pettit	Q	Warren
Kelsh	LT	Litwiler
Booth	RT	Lindley
Baker	T	Stranbaugh

Mt. Angel Opens Basket Game

Mt. Angel—Basketball has returned to the hilltop for the regular season. With six of last year's lettermen back for hoop drill, and a large turnout of new men, Coach Ted Marx holds the season's prospects to be favorable for a winning team.

According to Coach Marx, Mt. Angel maple court choras will begin Nov. 1 with regular practice sessions to be held three times a week for the first few weeks.

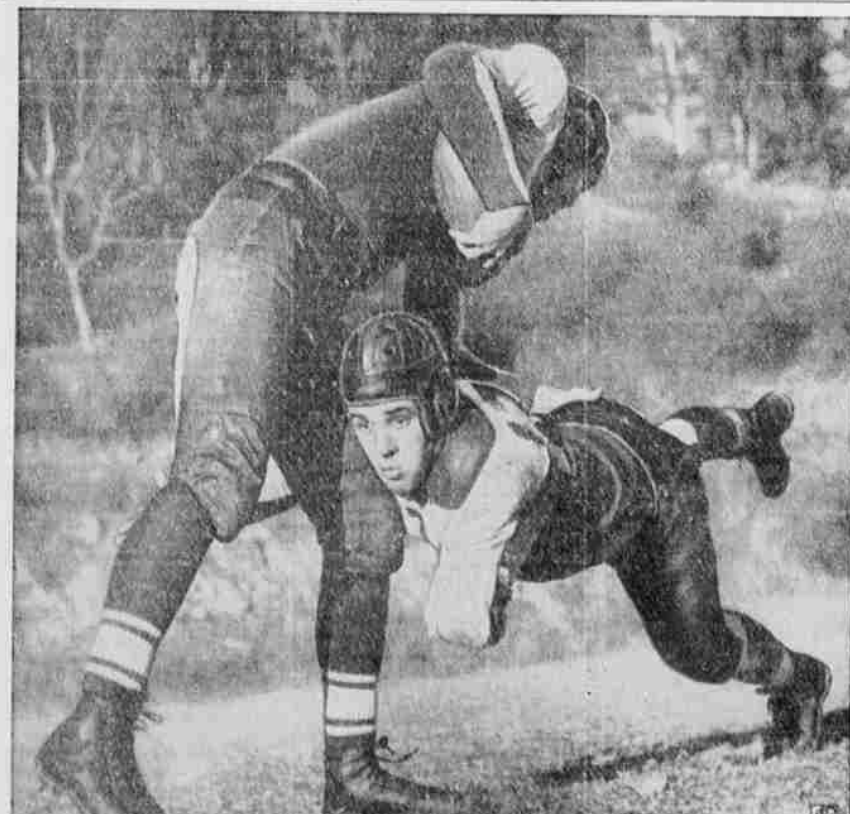

The six lettermen returning to the maple floor are James Nolan, Hillsboro; Jack O'Halloran, Portland; Steve Staylor, Silverton; Joe Thomas, John Weisner and Albert Alley, Salem. The loss, through graduation and in other ways, of Al Haener, George Schaeffers, John Kelly, Frank Albrich and Ed Jobb, all Angel hoopers, will be keenly felt.

The players will be split into two squads, according to Marx. The varsity will consist of first string men and a second squad will be made up of new inexperienced players. This arrangement will supply the varsity with trained material. A schedule will be made up with other teams of this nature.

Several new names of colleges will appear on this year's schedule if plans materialize. Gonzaga, Portland U., Willamette, St. Martin's, Oregon Normal, Pacific and Seattle will be slated on the Angel schedule as in the past. The first tilt of the season will be between the varsity and the alumni in the first week of December.
