The date could be fixed for November 4, it was stated, and still get under the wire if it did not develop into a two-day session which might raise a question so it is considered November 3 may be the day set, unless it develops it may be held a little earlier. County Judge Siegmund is still absent from his office due to illness but was reported much better today and believes he will be able to attend the budget sessions. The budget committee has as yet not been named.

Coastal Stream Fish Ban Lifted

Portland, Oct. 21 (AP)—The state game commission revoked a previous order today prohibiting angling in coastal streams and lakes from October 15 to April 15.

The commission said it would again consider at its February, 1940, meeting "the adoption of an order restricting the fishing or entirely closing all coastal streams to fishing during a part or all of the winter months as may be deemed necessary to maintain fishing conditions in such streams."

The order was rescinded, the commission said, because of "several petitions" asking winter fishing rights and because many anglers "have already purchased licenses with the expectation of fishing during the present winter season." Notice given, it said, was too short.

A public hearing will be held before action is taken barring winter fishing, the commission added.

It asserted the "increasing demand" was injuriously affecting the supply of trout in coastal streams and it was becoming necessary to increase natural spawning by limiting the take.

Increased Demand For Graded Turkeys

An increased demand for turkeys graded according to federal standards apparently accounted for a record attendance at the federal and state departments of agriculture annual turkey grading school held Thursday and Friday at Eugene, reports C. A. Cole, federal-state supervisor for Oregon. Fifty persons attended, including a class of 10 students from the State college.

Cole says that present requests indicate 29 USDA marketing service licenses, a new record, will be issued turkey graders for this season. First shipments to the associations this season were made October 5, or 25 days ahead of the first shipments last year.

Quality of Oregon turkeys is excellent this year, birds are maturing fast and the only need is for cold weather which will put a stop to pin feathers, Cole reports.

The grading instruction this year was handled by Thomas W. Heitz, Washington, D. C., marketing specialist with the marketing service of USDA.

All Salem pension boosters are asked to meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of C. Hoogerhyle, 496 Ford street. There will be important business to discuss.

Pope Protests Nazi Treatment Of Catholics

Vatican City, Oct. 21 (U.P.)—Pope Pius has instructed Monsignor Cesare Orsenigo, apostolic nuncia at Berlin, to protest to the German government against the treatment accorded catholics in that part of Poland occupied by Germany, it was said authoritatively today.

In connection with the protest, it was said that the pope sent Monsignor Orsenigo a detailed report, compiled from communications forwarded to the Holy See by ecclesiastical authorities of Poland, listing specific charges of mistreatment of catholics.

Monsignor Orsenigo was instructed to present this report to the German government along with the pope's protest.

The report lists 50 serious incidents and asserts furthermore that a number of religious homes have been closed, that some priests have been injured and that members of religious orders have been arrested on political charges.

A Vatican informant said that the report listed 117 religious homes and 211 churches as having been closed in the German occupation area. Pastoral activities of seven bishops had been limited, the report said, and 193 priests and members of religious orders had been arrested on charges concerning politics.

Necessary to Grade Walnuts for Export

Oregon ungraded walnuts, while legal within the state this year, cannot be sold inter-state, M. T. Coogan, northwest representative of the walnut control board, warns.

Coogan recently moved his offices to Salem for closer contact with the federal-state graders of the state department of agriculture who do all the inspection work.

All walnuts that move out of the state must contribute to the 37 per cent surplus established under the current marketing agreement. This surplus is kept off the domestic market either through sales for cracking or export.

The Oregon and California walnut crop this season is the largest in history, estimated at a million bags.

The walnut control board is making a close check on all shipments to other states but is interested primarily in prevention of abuses rather than prosecution, Coogan and the inspectors report.

Pershing's Own To Have Reunion

What will probably be the forerunner of a society of the First Division that served in the World war, and which was known as "Pershing's Own" will be a get-together of all the "hardtails" who can be located, and the meeting is to be some time around Armistice day, possibly the evening before.

Those who have so far been rounded up are of the opinion that a meeting should be held at least once a year at a convenient time around Armistice day, so Herbert E. Wood, Allan Carson and Breyman Boise have been selected as a committee to arrange the details.

The meeting will probably take the form of a dinner at some downtown restaurant, but the time, place and nature of the meeting will be for the bunch to decide. Members of the First Division who have not been contacted should telephone Herbert Wood, 3373, or Phil Ringle at 6736.

The men who have been located so far are:

Allan Carson, U. S. Bank building; Breyman Boise, 643 Court; Phil Ringle, 656 North 20th; Herbert Savage, 1130 South Liberty; Christ Free, 965 Highland; Leon Hansen, 160 East Miller; Ray Bassett, Guardian building; Donald Ringle, 1270 North Capitol; Ernest Moore, 3215 Liberty road; Jesse S. Rock Crusher at Crooked Finger

County Commissioner Smith and Engineer Hubbs were up in the Crooked Finger country yesterday afternoon where Charles Hoyt is installing a rock crusher at a new location and expects to turn out considerable rock for county use in that section during the coming season.

No graveling has been done in that section for some time, states Commissioner Smith, and with a great development there, especially in strawberry culture, the road is becoming rather heavily traveled and has been worn down badly. He said that hundreds of acres have been planted in strawberries and the section is becoming a great producing factor.

The road is 10 miles in length and the crusher is practically midway, leaving a five mile haul in both directions. The crusher will probably also provide gravel for other needed work in that district. In addition to gravel for current use it is expected also that some stock piling will be done for future contingencies.

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—All main line passenger trains on the New York-Philadelphia route of the Pennsylvania railroad were blocked for more than an hour today when two freight trains collided on a siding east of the New Brunswick, N. J., station.

Railroad officials said the only person injured was the engineer of the freight train that was standing on the siding when it was crashed from the rear by an incoming train.

A dozen or more New York-Philadelphia passenger trains, carrying thousands of commuters to their offices, were stalled by the accident, which occurred at 4:05 a. m. EST.

67 Lost Lives In Sinking of 2 British Ships

Bordeaux, France, Oct. 21 (AP)—At least 67 persons lost their lives in the sinking of two British steamers in the Atlantic Tuesday, autnorities estimated today as they checked the stories of some 300 survivors landed here last night by a rescue ship.

Officials said that 61 apparently had gone down with the Yorkshire and six or seven with the City of Mandalay. The two vessels were sunk by a submarine within a half hour about 500 miles off the Spanish coast.

Tales of hardship and terror were told by the survivors, many of whom were taken to hospitals suffering severely from exposure. All those rescued were English or East Indians en route to England.

Long lines of ambulances and a corps of nurses were waiting on the dock when the rescue ship, the American freighter Independence Hall, commanded by Captain D. J. McKenzie, reached port. Scores of the survivors were carried off the ship on stretchers.

Survivors said the Yorkshire and the City of Mandalay were in a convoy of 19 other vessels under the guard of British warships, but became separated from the convoy one day out from Gibraltar.

The 10,000 ton Yorkshire was the first to go down, torpedoed, passengers said, by a submarine which they identified as German. The City of Mandalay was struck a short time later.

Confidence in Bridges Voted

Klamath Falls, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—A vote of confidence to Harry Bridges, west coast longshore leader, and Morris Muster, CIO furniture workers leader, was granted by the CIO International Woodworkers of America yesterday at the behest of President Harold Pritchett. William Dalrymple, new CIO director for Oregon, attempted to placate the anti-Pritchett faction by urging the delegates "not to wash your dirty linen in public." Those dissatisfied with an officer should place their complaints before the executive board, he declared.

Resolutions passed yesterday asked restriction in use of the national guard and state police during labor troubles, condemned the national labor relations board's "dilly-dallying" in certain disputes, supported the Wagner act, opposed poll taxes, advocated extensions of the federal works and housing programs, and authorized extensive organization work among woodworkers in the deep south.

Burke Convicted First Degree Murder

Burns, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—A Harney county circuit court jury convicted James D. Burke of first degree murder today and recommended imprisonment for life without eligibility for parole.

Burke, indicted last May, testified he shot Frank Dobkins, Wagontire cattleman, in self defense. The men, who had not seen each other since the previous November, met on horseback in a ranch lane at Wagontire, scene of notorious Oregon waterhole disputes.

Burke received the jury's verdict without apparent emotion and asked the court for the maximum time before sentence to consult other counsel. Burke said he was afraid of Dobkins because of the "things neighbors were reported he said about me."

Barbara Back To Get Divorce

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—Countess Barbara Hutton Mdivani Haugwitz-Reventlow, heiress to 5-and-10-cent store millions, arrived on the Italian liner Conte Di Savoia today in an amiable mood and willing to discuss almost everything but her personal affairs. Then she was aloof and silent.

No, she would say nothing about the report she was going to seek repatriation. (She renounced her citizenship a couple of years ago to become a Danish citizen.)

No, she would say nothing about that other report that she was going to marry Robert Sweeney, 28-year-old American amateur golfer and investment broker who lives in London.

As for Sweeney, who was a passenger on the ship, he simply dodged reporters, hurried off the ship and, leaving his luggage to be cleared, dashed for the pier. As he fled, he tossed over his shoulder this:

"Oh, this is all very uh!"

British Transports Crossing to France

Paris, Oct. 21 (AP)—Semi-official sources reported today that British transports were shuttling across the English channel at the rate of three each night, landing thousands of additional troops to augment the French on the western front.

Little activity was reported from the zone of hostilities except for the skirmishing of small patrols. The French and Germans were said to be jockeying for position on isolated heights and in small wooded areas to strengthen their lines.

The regular morning communique of the war ministry spoke of the patrol raids and "harassing fire of artillery."

Premier Daladier summoned 16 members of his cabinet to a special meeting at the war ministry.

Afterward Daladier said only that economic problems had been discussed.

Hold Russia Free to Seize Dardanelles

ing it "drew Turkey into the orbit of war."

In its first comment on the pact, which came after failure of Soviet Russia and Turkey to negotiate a similar agreement, Izvestia said the tri-power treaty was an "unsuccesful attempt to drive a wedge between Germany and the U. S. S. R., also to draw the U. S. S. R. into a combination which is chiefly directed against Germany and eventual enemies of England and France in the Mediterranean "(presumably Italy.)"

"This agreement," the paper continued, "cannot be evaluated as an instrument of peace. It drew Turkey into the orbit of war."

Denying Russia would lose from such an alliance, Izvestia said the Soviet state maintained "freedom of action which cannot be said about Turkey—Turkey has assumed responsibility which cannot fail to be reflected on Turkish policies within the nearest future."

"In any case the U. S. S. R. has no reason to be sorry for what happened," Izvestia said.

Hoover Appeals Anew for Ban

New York, Oct. 21 (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover has appealed anew for a ban on the sale to belligerents of American-made war weapons adapted for use against civilian populations.

Hoover told a nation-wide radio audience last night the time had come for America to take a clear and explicit stand on wars against civilians and added:

"Whatever else may be done about the embargo, America should not sell bombing planes, their bombs, poison gas or submarines."

He expressed grave concern over the bitterness he said was being generated in this country by the conflict over the proposed repeal of the arms embargo.

Declaring this bitterness "threatens our national solidarity in the face of dangers," he asserted that patriotic men whose sole purpose was to keep America out of war were being denounced as "pro-Hitler or pro-British."

The former president urged again that congress prohibit the sale of bombing planes, poison gas and submarines as "a subatitute to either repeal or no repeal" of the controversial embargo.

Replying to critics of his proposal, Hoover said he had not attempted to differentiate between every kind of weapon used in war for either defense or offense but that "the distinctions are not so difficult."

Boat Blown Up Off Danish Coast

Copenhagen, Oct. 21 (AP)—An official Danish spokesman announced tonight that 71 of the crew of a German coast guard vessel were lost when their ship struck a mine in a German field off the Danish island of Moen.

Stege, Island of Moen, Oct. 21 (U.P.) —Islanders reported this afternoon that they had seen a ship of undetermined nationality blown up by a mine in Fakse bay. A Danish patrol plane, returning to Stege, orders all available boats out to search for five men seen clinging to a spar.

Shore watchers said they saw the ship burst into flames, and then watched horror-stricken as the wreckage was hurled high into the air. The ship sank within two or three minutes, they said.

Rescue efforts were fraught with danger because of the fact that Fakse bay is studded with uncharted mines. So close together are the mines planted that they often explode through contact.

Arbitration Success Needs Publicity

Ashland, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—Too much publicity is given to arbitration failures and not enough to arbitration successes, Dean Wayne L. Morse, Pacific coast waterfront arbiter and University of Oregon law school head, told the southwest educational conference yesterday.

He said the University of Oregon's permission for his return to the post of arbitrator would be forthcoming.
