Orwig and Ford Vote Deadlock

On each of five ballots for the election of an alderman to succeed Harold Pruitt, resigned, the city council deadlocked at seven votes each last night with C. S. Orwig and Bert Ford as the candidates. The election was then postponed until the next meeting which will be Monday night, December 4.

Orwig was placed in nomination by Alderman C. P. French and Ford by Alderman James H. Nicholson.

Pruitt's letter of resignation was read. He has moved to Grants Pass to become a branch manager for the Oregonian.

Aurora Aid Gathers

Butteville—Mrs. Glen Yergen entertained members of the Ladies Aid in her home recently. Friday afternoon, Rev. Frank Carlson of Portland spoke at a meeting held in the church parlors. A club lunch dinner was served. Mrs. R. E. Donahue will be hostess to the society at the December 1 meeting.

Accuses Nazis—Erich Rix, 38, anti-Nazi native of Germany, said Nazis in this country "put the finger" on him, causing his arrest in San Francisco on charges he concealed a criminal record when he applied for American citizenship papers. He faces a deportation hearing. This picture of Rix was made just after his release from a German concentration camp in 1935. — Associated Press Photo.

FSA Requests Are Advised Before Holidays

All farmers in Marion and Polk counties expecting to request farm security administration assistance for next year's operations are asked to make application before the holiday season to avoid delay, announces C. M. Ross, county FSA supervisor, 318 Oregon building, Salem. Funds are now available to meet all current demand for loans.

Eligibility for FSA assistance requires that the farmer have a rent, lease, purchase contract or ownership of a family sized farm, and that he be unable to secure adequate credit from the local banks or credit production association to meet his operating needs, and maintain a "going unit." Letters of reference from place of origin is required where farmers have not established legal residence.

The FSA program makes available operating loans for necessary livestock, feed, seed, machinery, household goods, and cooperative facilities, supplemented by practical farm and home plans providing for business-like management and home production of family food needs. Where debt burdens are beyond capacity of the farm to carry, debt adjustment services provide for friendly negotiations between debtor and creditor to reach an equitable solution through refinancing, time extensions or other adjustments.

Applications may be filed at the Salem office from 9 to 12 a. m., on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, while information may be secured at all times.

Appeal Authorized In Winslow Case

On motion of Alderman David O'Hara the city civil service commission was authorized by the city council last night to appeal to the state supreme court from a decree by Judge Arlis G. Walker that held Frank Winslow should be reinstated as a member of the city police force. The appeal will cost about $500.

The defendant in the mandamus suit instituted by Winslow was chief of Police Frank A. Minto. The commission recommended to the council that the city, through the chief of police, take the appeal in order to clarify the civil service ordinance.

City Recorder A. Warren Jones told the council there was a rumor that on the next city pay day Winslow would appear and demand salary from the date of the Walker decree to pay day, and wanted instructions as to what he should do about it as city pay master. Alderman O'Hara moved that Jones refer the claim, if made, to the committee on accounts and current expenses with power to act, and the motion carried. O'Hara also moved that the recorder be authorized to pay fees connected with the appeal.

Memorial Service for Legion December 3

The impressive memorial service which opened the state convention of the American Legion here last August will be repeated by request at the First Methodist church Sunday evening, December 3 in cooperation with Rev. J. C. Harrison, pastor of the church. The service, Rev. Harrison said today, "depicts the heart and soul of the American Legion and gives the public an entirely different viewpoint of the organization which has much more to offer than drum corps, bands and general hilarity during a convention."

The backdrop shows the skyline of Washington, D. C., with the famous Washington monument in a replica of the tomb of the "Unknown Soldier."

"Many of the Legionnaires were unable to attend the services at the time of the convention, being tied up with other details, and also many Salem people who wished to attend were unable to find seats," Barkley Newman, who first suggested the idea, said today. "The date was left to Rev. Harrison with the suggestion that the program be appropriate between Thanksgiving and Christmas."

C. V. Richardson, chaplain of Capital Post, who had charge of the ceremony during the convention, will also direct its presentation this year. The program will include the usual opening church service by the pastor of the church and choir and it is hoped that Rev. James Osborne, of McMinnville, past department chaplain of the American Legion, will be able to speak briefly. Special musical numbers will be given by Prof. T. S. Roberts, with solos by Dick Barton and selections by the American Legion auxiliary trio. Wreathes will be placed on the tomb by Arthur Johnson, post commander, and Mrs. O. E. Palmateer for the auxiliary. The National Guard will provide buglers for taps and also the official guard of honor for the tomb.

No Delay in Remodeling at Police Station

No sooner had the city council last night accepted the bid of Rollie Southwick for remodeling police headquarters than the police began making preparations by a removal of desks, counters and numerous other articles that accumulate where policemen hold forth. By the time the council adjourned a large amount of junk ranging from a dead electric light globe to a woman's purse—empty—and including the loot of many thieves who had fallen into police hands, was piled outside the door at headquarters.

Today the contractor is at work making the changes whereby the police station will be more convenient both for the officers and the public.

A report by the committee on public buildings and incinerator: held that E. L. Maney was without cause of complaint because of an unpleasant experience he had at the city dump on the incinerator grounds about two weeks ago. He complained in a letter to the council that his vehicle got stuck in the mud, in a place where it looked like there wasn't any mud, and that incinerator employees only laughed at him and didn't offer to help. The committee reported that he had not complied with the rules of the grounds and had not inquired where he should dump his load.

The council again deferred for two weeks the matter of condemning the Ivie house at 1593 North Capitol. Residents of the neighborhood are determined that the property be condemned or rebuilt, and Mrs. Ivie, in a hearing last night, said she was willing to make any repairs within reason but objected to as extensive changes as demanded by City Building Inspector E. C. Businell. The inspector told her he didn't think it would pay her to make the repairs required. Bushnell and Alderman Gertrude F. Lobdell were of the opinion that condemnation is necessary unless the house is extensively repaired. A resolution by the building regulations committee called on the owner to remove the house within 10 days, or the city would call for bids on the removal. The resolution was tabled pending the next meeting.

Residents of North 20th street between Frederick and D petitioned for the installation of a street light. Mayor Chadwick and Recorder Jones were authorized to sign a lease with the Valley Oil company for a piece of ground at the foot of Chemeketa street for five years at $10 a year.

The following bids were received for furnishing a new automobile for Chief Harry H. Hutton of the fire department, the bid being the net after deduction of trade-in value of the old car: Herrall-Owens, Pontiac, $792.65; Hubbard Motor company, Plymouth, $735; State Motors, Hudson, $600; Chevrolet Automobile company, $625; Valley Motor company, Ford, $549; W. L. Anderson, Inc., Plymouth de luxe, $764.50; Plymouth Road King, $699.50; Loder Brothers, Oldsmobile, $837.

The bids were referred to the committee on fire department to be reported on at the next meeting. The recorder was authorized to advertise for bids for a new car for the city engineer.

Bids were received and referred to the fire department committee on water heater and cooking range for the new East Salem fire station, and advertisement for bids was authorized for other equipment for the building.

Pedestrian lanes were authorized on South Commercial at Lincoln and Owens streets.

Japan will institute government control of the national physique.

Owing to the good weather weekend guests are numerous, living in the cabins.

Mrs. A. J. McCannel accompanied the Morrissons home to Silverton Monday morning. She went down to open their home and prepare for holiday guests. Dr. McCannel will go out Wednesday night.

Council Votes to Replace Leo Arany

Leo Arany, for the last two years lessee and manager of the Salem Municipal Airport, was voted out of that position by the city council last night on the general grounds that he has failed to live up to his agreement with the city. Included in the allegations were that he has failed to pay rental for several months and has failed to provide a bond.

Alderman Harold Olinger moved, and the motion was approved, that the airport committee be authorized to invite bids for a new lessee, and pending the selection of a lessee, name a temporary manager. City Attorney Paul R. Hendricks was authorized to take steps to alleviate the present situation at the airport.

Elaborating on the situation, Olinger said that Arany is engaged with Oregon Airways in piloting a plane daily from Southern Oregon to Portland and is at the airport only 15 or 20 minutes each day.

A distinct sentiment developed in favor of appointment of a manager of the airport by the city and its operation as a municipal enterprise. A letter from Ernest T. Eldridge, an aviator, urged the selection of Leo U. Eyerly either as manager or lessee. He stated that present conditions were such that a number of airplane operators and students had abandoned the Salem airport and gone elsewhere.

A letter from Dr. J. H. Garnjobst and others interested in aviation strongly urged the manager system as a municipal enterprise.

It was estimated that Arany is behind about $150 on rental due the city. This was called to the council's attention in a letter from City Treasurer Paul Hauser at the meeting of November 6.

Corb Performance Declared Good

A report made to the city council last night by the street committee, after an investigation, said that the work done for the city by David Corb, contractor, in building sidewalks had been found good, and that the feeling between Mr. Corb and the men working for him was found to be good.

Inquiry was made after Alderman Frank P. Marshall, several weeks ago, criticized both the work and the labor relations. Attached to the report last night was a letter from Alderman Marshall acknowledging the information that had been given him was incorrect.
