

Road Oiling Program Moves At Lebanon

Lebanon—Oiling of the Tangent street county road is definitely on the schedule for the near future and there is good promise that improvements will be made to the Elliot lane portion of the Scio secondary state highway, Elmer Fitzgerald told a meeting of the Lebanon Commercial club Monday night.

Fitzgerald, who is chairman of both the Commercial and Lions clubs roads and highways committees, told the well-attended meeting that he had been assured by the county court that a several mile stretch of the Tangent road would be oiled probably before the end of summer, and the court further said it had been conferring with the state highway commission toward making improvements to the Scio highway north of the junction with market road.

The department oiled a four-mile portion of this highway last year from its junction at the Cottonwoods, Fitzgerald added. Further improvements were reported here at the latest of Scio interests, Fitzgerald reported.

Other reports were made by J. H. Irvine on turkey day, Dr. H. J. Whelan on the park strip improvement program, and L. E. Arnold on the strawberry festival. President Walter Scott presided.

Firmen's Auxiliary Elects
Lebanon—The firmen's auxiliary met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. T. W. Munyan with ten members present to participate in the election of officers and other business matters. The latter part of the evening was spent socially and concluded by the serving of refreshments by the hostess, Mrs. Kenneth Fuller, president; Mrs. Roy Weeks, vice-president; Mrs. T. W. Munyan, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Clarence Shlimanek made up the officers elected who will take their offices in August.

Whites Improving Newly Bought Place
Hazel Green—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Redfern and son Richard of Eugene were house guests recently at the home of Mrs. Redfern's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. White. The Whites purchased the former Tkatch farm and are making extensive improvements, including the completion of the new home, built by Tkatch and landscaping the yard.

Allen Looney, who underwent a minor operation at the Salem General hospital recently, has recovered and returned to his home in this vicinity. Wesley Looney, young son of the family, is spending the week in Portland at the home of his maternal grandparents, Capt. and Mrs. W. E. Pearson.

Rev. and Mrs. V. Horikoshi and son Elliot are in Seattle where they are in attendance at a church conference.

Stayton—Mrs. Ben Rohleder of Cottage Grove will assist Mrs. Maurice Shelton at the beauty parlor until Easter. Mrs. Harold Pendleton, co-partner at the shop, is recovering at her home from a major operation performed two weeks ago, and will be confined to her home several more weeks. Mrs. Rohleder is a former resident of Stayton.

By JACK HUBBARD

In Cairo, Egypt, an archeologist has just dug up the tomb of Psou Sennes that was sealed 3500 years ago. The mummy was so wrapped up in himself that they are not sure what he looks like, but he probably had a pretty distinguished expression at being brought out into a world that is as upset as this one. The archeologists claim he was a father-in-law of old King Solomon, who was not arrayed as the lilies of the field. However, if Solomon had as many wives as we are told, there was less distinction in being one of his father-in-laws than being a private in Coxey's army.

A Boston couple broke up when Hubby didn't like his wife's accent. The popular song goes: "It's not what you say—it's the way that you say it!"

If you are in the market for a real buy in an inexpensive, reliable used car, see Jack Hubbard. I guarantee you'll be so pleased with the deal you get and driving satisfaction that you'll come back to me later for a trade in on a new Dodge or Plymouth.

Hayesville Expects Many Friday Night

Hayesville—One of the largest crowds of the club season is expected Friday evening, when the Hayesville Community club will hold its March meeting, with A. J. Baltzer in charge of the meeting. A jitney supper is being planned by the women of the community headed by Mrs. Lyle Carrow and Mrs. F. B. Martin and others on the committee. The supper will be served from 6:00 to 7:30 o'clock, with funds derived from the same to go toward 4H scholarships which the club promised to support.

Following the supper an amateur hour contest program will be given, consisting entirely of local talent. Tommy Hoxie of Salem has been secured to act as master of ceremonies. The program will be divided into three groups for judging, school children, junior age and adults. Judges from the dramatic department of Willamette university have been chosen and a first and second prize will be offered in each group, with each contestant receiving an award for his efforts. Mrs. Olive Potter is chairman of the program.

Kirkham Club Speaker

Suver—About 200 attended the community meeting to hear Art Kirkham of Portland. The rest of the program was made up of musical numbers, after which refreshments were served by the committee. The men will have charge of the next meeting with H. F. Couey, Maynard Newton and E. G. Harris serving on the program committee, and E. B. Gobat, Will Stockoff and Blair Douglas on the refreshment committee.

Serious Accidents Befall Mrs. Davis

Silverton—For the next two weeks Mrs. Ray Davis will probably take no chances of falling for the sake of her hands, arms, legs or ankles. A year ago Mrs. Davis crushed her left hand and wrist badly when it was caught in a wringer. She has only recently regained the use of this hand. Yesterday, while standing on a stool repapering a shelf, Mrs. Davis fell and broke her right wrist. She is being cared for at her home.

Secret Balloting Names Candidates

Woodburn—Candidates for May Queen at Woodburn high school, chosen by secret ballot of the senior class, are Edith Pelto, Pat Smith and Ione Anderson. The class has voted to wear formal dresses and suits for graduation instead of caps and gowns.

Organizations Join In Luncheon Plan

Silverton—In the interest of the program for the benefit fund of the one-hot-dish luncheon and kitchen rooms and upkeep of the serving, the committee made up of one representative from twelve organizations of town will meet Thursday night in the office rooms of Superintendent H. W. Adams to further plans for the jamboree program of March 29 in the Eugene Field auditorium.

The numbers to be presented from various civic and religious groups of town will be arranged in program form by Mrs. Floyd Ellefson and Mr. Ellefson will act as master of ceremonies. The response has been satisfactory from groups who are showing their willingness to aid the cause of the luncheon that is so well appreciated and is patronized by around 200 children a day.

New Scoutmaster Needed at Dallas

Dallas—Members of the Boy Scouts Mothers' club met at the home of Mrs. George Oldham Monday afternoon with Mrs. Cecil Dunn presiding at the business session.

The matter of obtaining a new scoutmaster to take the place of Dick Boileau, who recently moved to Silverton, was discussed as was the matter of getting someone to lead a cub scouts organization.

The afternoon was spent mostly in binding the scout song books followed by a tea hour. The next meeting was announced to be at the home of Mrs. William Rohrs.
