Stock Dealings At Standstill In Listless Day

New York, June 21 (AP) — Stock market dealings almost came to a halt today, and prices shifted narrowly, as many traders remained inactive pending publication of the German-French armistice details.

Apathy, prevailing at the start, continued during the remainder of the session and transfers, for the five hours, approximated 300,000 shares, one of the smallest aggregates in nearly a year. Gains and losses of fractions were pretty evenly split at the close.

Steels were aided by another boost in the scrap metal. Motors kept their balance along with a handful of specialties, rails, motors and utilities.

Resistant were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Allied Chemical, Consolidated Edison, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit, Santa Fe and N. Y. Central.

Backward the greater part of the day were American Telephone, American Smelting, J. C. Penney, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, International Nickel and General Electric.

Rail loans were the best in a listless bond department. Major commodities were relatively steady.

Dow Jones preliminary closing stock averages: Industrial 122.61, up 0.26; rail 25.53, up 0.02; utility 21.13 up 0.03; and 65 stocks 41.21, up 0.07.

Stock sales approximated only 330,000 shares, the smallest for a five hour session since July 10 last year when only 280,000 were turned over. Yesterday's volume was 590,000 shares. Curb stock sales were 75,000 against 103,000 in the previous session.

Buoyant Retail Sales Rule Week

New York, June 21 (AP)—Buoyant retail sales ruled shopping in the nation's retail stores this week for the third weekly period in a row Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

Sales for the country as a whole averaged 6 to 11 percent above last year, the credit agency said.

While gift sales for June weddings and schol and college graduations attracted heavy buying, there was a strong undertone in staple items also, with heavy turnover in annual clearances of rugs and other floor coverings.

"Although promotional or seasonal merchandise topped the sales list, trade was of a general character which merchants considered a heavy sign," the agency said.

"Buying of men's wear, often considered a barometer of consumer sentiment, moved well. After successful Father's day promotions, it was welcomed as an especially favorable indicator.

"Refrigerators were said to be in less demand than a month ago, but ranges and small appliances continued active, and some stores said the slump early in May had already been more than overcome."

Wholesale trade also expanded, with increased inquiries for metal housewares, liquors, woolen goods, and staple dry goods. Fall commitments, however, were still being placed cautiously, the agency said, although "a more liberal attitude" was noted by wholesalers among an increasing number of buyers, particularly those from industrial regions.

Government Logan Purchases Progressing

The government loganberry deal in which the federal surplus commodities corporation has agreed to take up to 1,200 tons of loganberries in this state is progressing rapidly with over 800 tons signed up by this morning, a big block expected over from Stayton and more to come in from the Salem section.

The loganberries are being processed through Paulus brothers and Hunt brothers canneries, the growers taking their choice as to where to deliver.

Three men are in charge here for the commodities corporation on the deal and all fruit is government inspected before and after it goes into the cans. The fruit will be distributed by the government with school free lunches.

The corporation has offices with the Chamber of Commerce and is still taking growers' offers to sell at the 2½ cent per pound price fixed for the surplus berries.

Indications are that virtually all of the tonnage not taken by private purchase by the canneries will be absorbed in the deal. One of the canneries had contracts which took the equivalent of what its old growers delivered last year and in a number of cases the growers have more than last year and these absorb some of the surplus. Another of the canneries had a deal where it was taking half of the product of the growers contracted with and the other half will go into the government deal so the total will probably reach around the 1,200 mark approved as well as take up practically all of the slack.

Quiet Trend In Wheat

Chicago, June 21 (U.P) — Wheat prices held within a narrow range today in one of the quietest sessions of the year. Prices were somewhat higher most of the session.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅛ cent higher, July 78¼-78⅛. Corn was up ⅛-¼ cent, July 62⅛-62¼, oats unchanged to ¼ cent higher, July 31⅞, and rye unchanged to down ⅛ cent, July 41⅜a. Soy beans were ¼-¾ cent higher, July 78b.

Traders in the wheat pit were inclined to hold back pending reports on the outcome of peace negotiations between France and the axis powers. Outside wheat markets also felt the lack of trading interest and price fluctuations remained near previous closing levels. Export interest was flat.

Scattered demand in the first half of the session gave the Chicago market a firmer tone. Prices steadied at fractionally higher levels. Light buying interest was partially offset by selling, believed to be against purchases of wheat at Minneapolis.

Corn trade followed wheat and volume was very light. No shipping sales had been reported at noon and bookings to-arrive amounted to only 1,500 bushels. Receipts on track in Chicago were estimated early at 303 cars.

Other grains reflected the extreme quietness in wheat dealings and price movements were small. Soy beans showed some firmness.

United Dairymen Expand Next Week

Seattle, June 21 (AP)—The Post-Intelligencer said today the United Dairymen's association, one of the largest farm cooperatives in the United States, will become even larger next week when three new dairy associations become affiliated with it. The expansion, slated for June 29, will give the association a membership of 26 affiliated associations in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

United they will represent 22,000 dairy farmers, with 150,000 dairy cows and an annual business of approximately $15,000,000.

The new members will be the Farmers Cooperative Creamery of McMinnville, Ore., the Dairymen's Cooperative association of Portland and the Tacoma Milk Producers association.

The Post Intelligencer said the Grays Harbor dairy farmers, who withdrew from the Grays Harbor association some years ago to form the Milk Producers union, have disbanded that organization and re-joined their old association, thus further expanding the United's membership.

W. J. Knutzen is president of the United Dairymen's association.

Conscription Bill Passed for Canada

Ottawa, Ont., June 21 (U.P)—A sweeping bill giving Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King's cabinet almost unlimited power to conscript man power, industry, wealth and property becomes law today with the routine formality of royal assent.

The emergency conscription bill, passed last night by the house of commons and the senate, is modeled after Britain's emergency powers act under which Prime Minister Winston Churchill's cabinet is conducting the war.

Royal assent to Canada's conscription bill is expected to be given shortly after the new governor-general, Lord Athlone, is sworn into office at noon.

Lord Athlone is the king's representative in Canada.

The emergency conscription bill permits the cabinet to rule by decree and will enable Canada to utilize every resource in waging total war.

It was passed unanimously by the house and without a record vote, the members pounding their desks to signify their approval.

The senate, in turn, rushed it through the required three readings and passed it in less than an hour.

Government Senate Leader Raoul Dandurand told the upper chamber that the calling up of men under the measure would begin "before the next session of parliament."

Navy Yard to Build Carrier

Washington, June 21 (AP) — The navy announced today that its own yard at Norfolk, Va., had been designated to build a 25,000-ton aircraft carrier, the ninth such vessel for the United States fleet.

The carrier, planned to carry around 100 planes, is expected to cost more than $60,000,000. Navy officials estimated the construction cost would be $48,000,000 without armor, armament and ammunition.

Funds for the new carrier were provided in the annual navy appropriation bill approved by President Roosevelt last week.

Construction of 22 other warships provided for in that measure, and which are to cost approximately $350,000,000 was assigned within a few hours after Mr. Roosevelt signed the appropriation.

Money to build three other carriers, in addition to the one assigned today, was included in an emergency defense appropriation nearing completion in congress.

The carrier whose construction was assigned today will be the largest United States ship especially designed to carry war planes. Two other carriers now in service, the Lexington and Saratoga, are larger —33,000 tons each—but both were converted from battle cruisers.

The navy said work on the new vessels would start immediately and was expected to be finished within 48 months.

What armament the carrier will mount was not disclosed but it was presumed that it would be principally 5-inch anti-aircraft guns

Mills Report on Week's Business

Portland, Ore., June 21 (AP)—Reports from 105 western pine association mills showed last week's new business was 68,200,000 board feet of lumber compared with 74,084,000 the previous week.

Hitler Receives French Envoys In Foch Car

itary precision. He arrived at 3:15 p.m. with his top military leaders as well as Rudolf Hess, his deputy for party affairs, and Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop.

The fuehrer surveyed with interest the railway car, which had been moved out of the special building where the French had enshrined it at the exact spot where it stood when Foch dictated the 1918 armistice terms.

Inside Hitler occupied the same seat that had been occupied by Foch.

Hitler Leaves French

As he looked out the railroad car window he could see a nearby marble bust of Foch.

When Hitler left the car, a band played "Deutschland Uber Alles" ("Germany Above All") and the nazi party hymn, the Horst Wessel song. The French representatives were left behind to consider the terms handed them.

The French officers had been provided a tent for their quarters outside the railway car. Telephone facilities were installed to permit them to call their government.

Those Present

(German) Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, von Ribbentrop, (French) Rear Admiral Maurise Athanase LeLuc, General Charles Huntziger, Leon Noel, General of Aviation Jean Marie Joseph Bergeret, (Genman) Hess and Keitel.

The French listened silently while Keitel read.

Then they filed out to their tent to telephone their government.

Hitler reviewed an honor guard outside the car while the band thumped out German anthems; then left Compiegne as swiftly as he had arrived.

When the French delegates entered the old car, Hitler and his staff rose to greet them—in contrast, German officials asserted, to the manner in which the German delegates were greeted in 1918. Then, it was declared, the victorious French did not rise.

Nazi Salute

Hitler and his staff gave the nazi salute and the fuehrer asked Keitel to read the preamble. The general immediately began.

Beside the officials present, the only others to witness the ceremony were German and foreign newspapermen and officials of the foreign office and the propaganda ministry.

Only the preamble, with its statement of broad purposes, was made public immediately.

The detailed terms for the armistice which the French took to their tent were not disclosed at once.

German authorities previously had said the terms would not be published until France had accepted or rejected them.

A guard greeted the fuehrer as he arrived at the railway car.

Looks at Monument

After saluting the Alsace-Lorraine monument, Hitler walked down a long lane in the hot sun to where another monument to Marshal Foch stands in commemoration of the 1918 armistice.

With arms folded, Hitler looked at the inscriptions, then quickly entered the car.

Dr. Paul Schmidt, the fuehrer's famous interpreter, read a French translation of the preamble after the German version was read by Keitel.

After Hitler's departure Keitel and the general staff officers remained in the railway coach to discuss technical details of the capitulation.

At 4:24 p. m. (6:24 p. m. PST) the French left the car for the nearby tent where telephone, writing and other facilities were provided them.

Stopped in Paris

The French envoys passed advanced German lines near Tours yesterday. There, Lieutenant General von Tip Pelskirch, chief army quartermaster, received them and accompanied them to Compiegne.

They stayed over night in a Paris hotel, then continued the journey to nearby Compiegne.

Lieutenant General Thomas, commander of the fuehrer's headquarters, received them and took them to the actual scene.

German sentries stood at all paths leading into the forest and the entire zone was blocked off.

Hitler was taken swiftly from the forest, streaked by the hot sun, its trees shattered anew by artillery fire, its soil again soaked with French and German blood.

Hitler Awaits Reply

The World war corporal presumably returned to his army headquarters to await the fateful word from the French government.

Thus the day he had promised the German people was partly realized. There still remained the war with Britain, another participant in the "shame of 1918."

After the French representatives received the armistice terms from Keitel in the car they went to their tent, described by the Germans as roomy, "plain but comfortable."

Furnishings in the tent included, besides the telephone, a calendar with the historic date of June 21, 1940, showing a water carafe with glasses, writing material and ash trays.

Nominal Prices Of 35 cts. for Hops

Portland, June 21 (AP) — Nominal values of about 35 cents a pound prevailed on regular type 1940 cluster hops today in the absence of actual transactions.

Seedless types on this year's crop ranged around 40 to 41 cents a pound.

Interest centered primarily on the condition of the new crop and some reports said the week was less favorable than the previous period. Many small vines have not developed satisfactorily and the downy mildew spread has been heavy.

Most trade advices to the department of agriculture marketing service said the Oregon output would be well below average.

Weather Stops Mold in Onions

Hazel Green—The recent warm weather was a boon to the onion growers, as the spread of mold, due to the sultry weather conditions, was becoming a menace in the seed onions and also making headway among the new crop. But with the change in weather the danger has been removed and it is hoped nothing further will happen to mar the prospects of a bumper crop for 1940. Some growers in the Labish Center region have reported losses by maggots which have caused considerable damage to the small onions, but so far this community has reported no such damage.

Picking of youngberries has commenced in the Alvin Van Cleave patch and also harvesting of logans is well under way in the Sharp and Charles Zielinski fields. Cherry picking will be completed soon as the yield was light in most of the local orchards.

Coalition Approved, Motive Disapproved

Portland, June 21 (U.P)—Approval of President Roosevelt's coalition cabinet but disapproval of his motives was voiced last night by Chester M. Rowell, former editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, in an address before the Intitute of International Relations at Reed college.
