

Say Arranges Oregon Displays Far Abroad

Graphic displays of Oregon's outstanding scenic and recreational attractions have been arranged for in Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis and other travel centers for the summer by Harold B. Say, director of the travel and information department of the Oregon state highway commission who is now on a tourist seeking trip to the mid-west and east.

The scenes will include all of Oregon's better known spots such as Crater Lake, Oregon Caves, Mt. Hood, the Oregon coast and Columbia river highways, Silver Falls state park, the high Willows and various fishing and vacation activities.

These displays will be in the form of illuminated transparencies, enlarged photographs and kindred material placed in attractively dressed windows of motor clubs and other travel bureaus.

Say reports to his office here that these organizations are not only willing but happy to feature Oregon and that motor clubs and other bureaus which he has visited are unanimous in declaring that motorists are becoming more interested each year in Oregon; that motorists are making longer trips; and that this increase of interest in Oregon has been marked during the past three years.

The Conoco Travel Bureau in Denver, one of the largest in the country, reported that where one person in 8.2 in 1936 asked for routing to Oregon, one in seven requested it in 1939; and forecast that the number will climb this year.

J. E. Crouch, manager of the travel division of the Cleveland Automobile club, said 80 per cent of his routings were for western trips and he estimated 75 per cent of those would visit the Pacific northwest.

F. S. Matheson, manager of the tour bureau of the Michigan Automobile club, largest in the land with 140,000 members, said use of western tour books had jumped from 35,000 last year to 52,000 this year. Matheson forecast a steady increase in travel from Michigan to Oregon's vacation wonderland.

Second Series Of SUCC Tests

A second series of tests to set up new two year merit registers for positions with the state unemployment compensation commission was announced today by Professor William Griffith, supervisor for the board of examiners.

Four general classifications ranging in pay from $900 to $3,000 a year are included in the series, applications for which must be received not later than July 15 by the board at its Portland office, 701 Spaulding building. Any Oregon resident having the required experience and other qualifications may take the examinations, which are to be held, however, in August, in Portland, Salem, LaGrande, Klamath Falls and Roseburg.

Examinations to be given, along with salary ranges, follow: Clerk-typist $900 to $1,380; clerk-stenographer $900 to $1,680; key punch operator $1,020 to $1,380; tabulating machine operator $1,440 to $2,280; tabulating supervisor $2,280 to $2,760; informational representative $2,100 to $2,580; appeals referee $2,400 to $3,000.

As a result of written tests recently given to hundreds of applicants, new registers now are being set up for employment service and accounting positions. Another series is expected later in the year, as all merit registers must be renewed every two years.

Labor Favors Citizenship Rule

Klamath Falls, Ore., June 21 (AP)—A constitutional amendment making citizenship necessary for delegates was adopted 151 to 20 by the Oregon Federation of Labor convention yesterday.

The amendment also prohibits a delegate from being "a believer in the precepts" or a member of any subversive organization.

Another amendment increased the term of state federation officers from one year to two years, effective in 1941.

State officers were instructed to study the initiative petition for repeal of the Knox liquor law and make recommendations later.

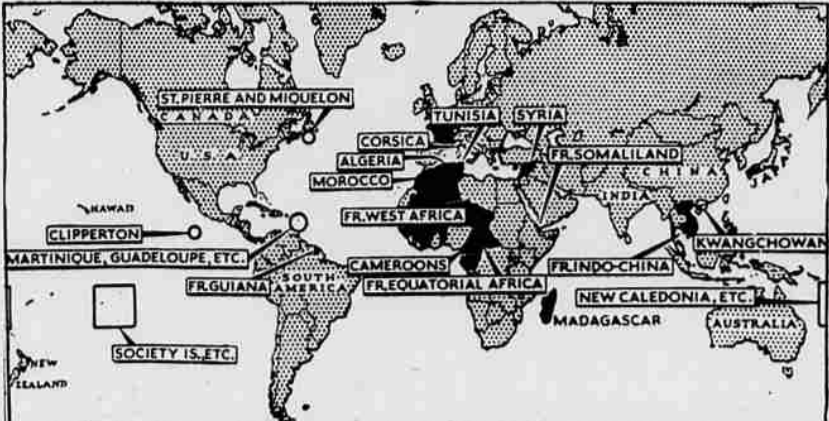

The state culinary alliance approved the petition at its recent convention, charging the present system did not control abuses in consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Several resolutions proposing amendments to the state industrial accident compensation law were referred to labor members of an interim committee now drafting changes in the law.

Military Resistance In France Crushed

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Whatever may be the ultimate outcome of the German armistice terms laid down in the historic forest of Compiègne today, the chance of further effective military resistance by continental France has been crushed.

Colonies may elect to hold out; but the mother country must bow her neck to the burden of occupation and rule by enemy soldiery until the entire war is finished.

Already in recognition of the close of this phase of the blitzkrieg the Battle of Britain is swelling up in heavy bombings by both sides, with considerable loss in civilian lives. It won't be long now before we get the full fury of the final stage of the conflict to determine whether the British and French empires shall survive or whether Adolf Hitler shall rule Europe.

Capture of the great port of Brest in Brittany has given the Germans the last point of vantage for their onslaught that they needed for their onslaught. All the continental channel ports, and all the North Sea ports clear to the Arctic, now are lined up in Nazi hands to act as bases for the assault.

England faces two dangers—starvation and invasion—and it would be avoiding the truth if one didn't recognize the great gravity of the British position. Premier Churchill the other day told the house of commons:

"We shall defend our island whatever the cost may be. We shall fight on the beaches. We shall fight in the fields and streets and in the hills."

Undoubtedly the British will do exactly that if the German threat of invasion is carried out. And with some two million men already under arms, the little island should give a good account of itself.

There still remains, however, the grim and perhaps more dangerous threat of starvation through the air and submarine blockade which the Germans intend to impose with all their power. We must remember that England is dependent on seaborne imports for more than seventy-five percent of her foodstuffs.

British Food Minister Lord Woolton informed the house of lords Wednesday that the country has enough of the most essential foods to last "for weeks and weeks" even if nothing else comes into the country. He added:

"Up and down the country, in places we hope have been kept secret, we have iron rations to be used only in great emergency."

That statement was meant to be reassuring, but it scared me. Food supplies for "weeks and weeks" aren't sufficient for a country of more than forty-six million population under siege. I saw England on short rations in the World war. Indeed, during the German invasions, led submarine warfare of 1916-17 the allies came as close as could be to losing the conflict.

High speed motorboats will run between Nanking and Hankow, China.

Receptions to Greet Boosters Of Centennial

Receptions and local radio broadcasts will greet the Salem Centennial good-will party next Tuesday, according to arrangements completed by Tommie Hoxie, publicity man, who has returned from a trip around the state as advance man.

The trip is being made as guest of the United Airlines, which is providing plane, pilot and stewardess. The main stop will be at Bend for luncheon where the visitors will be entertained at a joint meeting of the Lions, Kiwanis and 20-30 clubs. The tour party is scheduled to arrive at 11:40 and leave at 1:15 o'clock, making a visit to Pendleton before returning to Portland about 4 o'clock. Other stops, after leaving Salem Tuesday morning at 7:33 o'clock will include Eugene, Medford and Klamath Falls.

Labor Advocates Defense Committee

Klamath Falls, June 21 (AP)—A State Federation of Labor resolution recommended the appointment of a special committee Thursday to "aid the president of the United States and the governor of Oregon" in the national defense program.

The proposal, awaiting final approval at the 38th annual convention, provided for a 15-man committee led by President Paul E. Gurske. The resolution reached the floor by special consent two days after the regular deadline for resolutions.

The 250 delegates adopted resolutions demanding denial of state and federal employment for aliens and urging unions to insist upon alien members' becoming citizens.

The convention sanctioned a plan by M. L. Lewis, Pacific coast AFL chief at San Francisco, for a meeting in Eugene by July 18 of state executive boards to improve cooperation between Oregon, Washington and California federations.

Astoria appeared the only other candidate for next year's convention. The selection of the city and election of officers will precede adjournment Friday.

Liquor Commission Seeks New Quarters

The state liquor commission, meeting here today with Gov. Charles A. Sprague, said it was looking for new headquarters and warehouse facilities in Portland.

"We are thinking of either buying or leasing new headquarters and new warehouse facilities," the commission said, "as our present facilities are inadequate."

The commission granted four licenses and refused five others, all refusals being on grounds that the licenses are not demanded by public interest or convenience.

1,821 Reds in 71 Party Units In Seattle

Seattle, June 21 (AP)—Tyre H. Hollander, head of the Seattle American Legion post subversive activities investigation committee, last night told a community club that there were 1,821 members of the communist party in Seattle and 71 party units in King county.

"It is up to you people, as American citizens, to defend your country by reporting subversive activities and backing the Legion in demanding legislation compelling aliens to register and to be fingerprinted," he said.

Hollander, an attorney, reviewed "fifth column" activities in European nations which have fallen to totalitarian aggression, said 23 communists live near the University of Washington campus, many of them attending the university like one young man student who is in the reserve officers training corps and who, with his mother, holds communist meetings every Sunday afternoon.

Hollander said there were about half a dozen "pink" professors at the university, and that numerous communists are employed in federal government positions and by several of the largest industrial employers in Seattle.

"Dictator nations do not believe they can overthrow the United States by armed force alone," he added, "but believe the combined force of an advance agency working within the country could pave the way for ultimate victory."

Possibility of Incendiarism Being Sifted

Hogquam, Wash., June 21 (AP)—Fire Chief Charles Crawford investigated today the possibility that a fire which caused an estimated $800,000 damage to the Polson lumber and shingle mill "A" last night was of incendiary origin.

Crawford said he noticed a suspicious looking character loitering about the property when firemen were called to the shingle mill to extinguish a blaze at 4:30 p. m. This fire was quickly extinguished. A half hour later, shortly after the shift had finished and the millmen had left the plant, fire broke out in the planer mill.

The second fire spread rapidly destroying the mill and 10,000,000 feet of lumber. All Hogquam and Aberdeen fire fighting equipment, aided by auxiliary lines from neighboring industrial plants prevented the blaze from spreading to the nearby Posey Manufacturing company's plant after the flames had eaten into the Posey lumber yard.

The burned lumber included a million feet of spruce which was to be loaded aboard the freighter Kenmar today for shipment to the east coast for airplane manufacture.

The blaze was Grays Harbor's second heavy industrial loss in recent months. The Aberdeen Plywood company plant was destroyed by fire March 1 at a loss of $800,000.

The Polson plant, one of the most modern and most regularly operated on Grays Harbor, employed approximately 250 men.

Lady Whiskerinos Meet

West Salem—Mrs. Glenn O. Lewis, who is president of the Women's auxiliary of the Centennial Whiskerinos, announced Friday that there will be a meeting of all members Wednesday evening, June 26, to make final preparations for parade and dance to be held Friday, June 28. Mrs. I. C. Bishop is secretary of the organization. West Salem was well represented in the 12 cars of Whiskerinos and their ladies who put on a parade at Mt. Angel Thursday evening and later attended the Flax dance at the school auditorium. Information regarding next week's events can be obtained by calling Mrs. Lewis, phone 3935, West Salem. The Whiskerinos and auxiliary will attend meetings at St. Paul, July 2, and Molalla, July 6.

Tamper With System

West Salem—Tampering with the West Salem water system caused warrants to be sworn out for Vere L. Simmons, 1577 Franklin street, who pleaded guilty and was fined $5; on a similar charge, George Smalley, 329 Magnolia court, was fined $5 in municipal court Friday.

A 40-mile wind off the Pacific ocean spread the flames from a sawdust burner through the southwestern Oregon plant. Four homes were damaged before firemen from North Bend and Corvallis were mustered to assist the Marshallfield department. The operators, James Lyongs and Howard Irwin, valued the plant at $40,000.

The L. U. Whitlock shingle mill at Brightwood also was a victim. The owners said the loss totaled $2500.

West Salem Cannery Filling Huge Vats

West Salem, June 21—Twenty mammoth, modern newly erected tanks on the warehouse site of the Oregon Fruit Products company, First street, with a total capacity of a million gallons will be completely filled Friday evening with pitted cherries. It was explained by Max Gehlar, manager of the plant, Friday, who also stated that the tanks are the largest of the storage kind in the world. They are used in the brining process for cherries. The cannery has presented a busy scene for the past 10 days with the large force of employees preparing the fruit for the tanks and the streets for blocks around, especially in the evening, lined with cars, trucks, trailers and all varieties of motor contraptions, with their cargo of cherries waiting to be weighed in at the unloading zone.

Food Stamp Plan Calls for Signers

Those food dealers of Marion county who did not immediately sign food stamp application blanks with which they were provided at the meeting held here this week, will have to call at the office of Hunter Scott in Portland to make application if they wish to participate in the food stamp plan by its opening date of July 1.

This information was received here today by L. F. LeGarde, chairman of the Marion county committee, in a letter from Mr. Scott.

Essentially, said the letter, a representative of the Portland office will call on the dealers who have not signed, but this cannot be done in time for them to participate by July 1.

Only about 140 signed at the general meeting held here.

Brooks—Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wilson of Portland have been guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Day. Mr. Wilson is a brother of Mrs. Day.

Auto Driving School Opens On June 29

A complete course of instruction in learning to drive an automobile will be offered residents in Salem beginning Saturday, June 29, and continuing seven weeks, it was announced today by Earl Snell, secretary of state and sponsor of the state safe driving schools.

Persons 15 years of age or older are eligible to enroll for the school which will be conducted at the state fair grounds. Registrations may be left at the secretary of state's office at the capitol building, room 116. Students must furnish their own cars and must make arrangements to have them driven to and from the school by licensed operators. No driver's license is required for participation in the course, but it is said advisable to take out a student permit which will enable the student to practice driving while accompanied by a licensed operator.

The first meeting of the school will be in the hearing room in the basement of the capitol building Saturday morning, June 29, at 9 o'clock. At this meeting the instructor will outline the work to be covered and the class periods for the remaining lessons will be scheduled. In case registration warrants it, there will be two classes, each to be held Saturday mornings.

Following the first lesson, all work in the school features at-the-wheel instruction with the student actually performing the maneuvers as they are explained and demonstrated by the instructors. Instruction includes the proper method of starting a motor, use of the clutch, shifting of gears, turning and backing, parallel parking, traffic driving, stopping and starting on hills and general care of the car.

Doesn't Hesitate To Tell Others About the KruGon

Mrs. J. W. Wilson is happy to have learned of the Modern Capsule Remedy; Now Eats What She Wants, Rests Well At Night, Relieved of Awful Pain and Suffering

Mrs. J. W. Wilson Is Happy To Have Learned of the Modern Capsule Remedy; Now Eats What She Wants, Rests Well At Night, Relieved of Awful Pain and Suffering

KruGon's vegetable ingredients compared with other medicines tried before. This modern capsule remedy has given surprising relief from so-called rheumatic aches and pains, dizzy spells, bloating, distress after meals, headaches, nervousness, frequent risings or backaches which so frequently accompany faulty bowel action.

One of the recent local cases where KruGon was so completely satisfactory was that of Mrs. J. W. Wilson, 261 South Commercial Street, Salem, a highly esteemed lady who has lived here for the past fifteen years. Read her praising statement as given to the KruGon Representative at the Fred Meyer Drug Co., 148 North Liberty Street, this city:

MRS. J. W. WILSON

"Until after I had taken KruGon I would not have believed that such a small amount of medicine could be so completely satisfactory," said Mrs. Wilson. "I had been ailing in so many ways for years, all brought on through faulty elimination because for years I had been so badly constipated. Suffering with poor digestion followed every meal I ate. Gas would form and I would bloat badly and suffer with such severe pain I don't see now how I stood it. Foods soured on my stomach and it seemed there was nothing I could eat but that would cause me suffering. In this condition I could not get the rest and sleep I needed at night and everything I did during the day was becoming an effort for me, feeling as I did. But KruGon wasted no time in helping me.

"The action of this modern capsule remedy was just what I had been wanting to fit my case," continued Mrs. Wilson. "It began with a thorough easy action that did not gripe or nauseate me as so many previously tried remedies had done. Once given proper elimination of those clogged intestinal impurities I was feeling different than I had in years. I now eat and enjoy my foods, nothing I eat causing me any distress afterwards. I get the rest and sleep I need for I am not bothered at night any more, rise each morning refreshed and relieved of that pain which had accompanied my suffering for so long. I do not hesitate to recommend a medicine like KruGon to all who suffer as I did."

The KruGon Representative is daily urging all local people to call at the Fred Meyer Drug Co., 148 North Liberty Street, Salem, to have a talk with him about the action of this modern capsule remedy.
