

Harvest Festival Planned by Legionnaires, Lebanon

Sponsors Will Gather Sunday To Make Plans

Lebanon—A Lebanon harvest festival, an afternoon of fun and entertainment designed for residents of surrounding rural territory, will again be held this fall, according to a decision reached by Santiam post of the American Legion, Frank Groves, who has planned the highly successful festival in past years, will again be general chairman.

The date of the event and additional plans will be made at a meeting of committee members and representatives of the Lebanon Commercial club at the Lebanon hotel at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Groves' assistants are Bert Moersch, Elmer Whetstone, Harry Youngberg and Herb Ramsey. The Santiam auxiliary will again be in charge of handicraft exhibit, with Elsie Ellenburg in charge for the third successive year. Additional members of this committee are Bado Zimbrick, Pearl Ramsey, Hazel Smith, Gertrude Gleason and Bess Ford.

The Lebanon Garden club will make all arrangements for the floral display, the committee being Mrs. Clarence Shimanek, Mrs. Charles Kinkeman and Mrs. Roy Gunderson.

Mrs. Bruce Enslay and Mrs. Glenn Wallace were appointed publicity chairmen.

Council Selects Mayor

Lebanon—The city council plans to meet shortly to choose a successor to Mayor T. W. Munyan, who was fatally injured in an automobile crash Wednesday. According to the charter, the council is empowered to appoint anyone for the office who is a qualified voter. Rumors are prevalent that Councilman Walter Scott will be named to the position and will also be a candidate for the office at the city election November 5. The appointive mayor will serve only until the expiration of the two-year term, which is January 1.

Project Is Closed

Lebanon—The WPA irrigation project at Lacombe closed for the year Friday with the job completed and ready for operation, according to C. N. Ingle, county WPA chief. Members of the crew were assigned to Scio and Albany projects. Sponsors of the irrigation district are planning to apply for a superseding project which would resume operations in the spring.

Guard Given Farewell

Lebanon—The farewell party given for the local unit of the national guard, held in the Legion hall on Thursday night, was a great success, according to reports of those who attended. A large crowd was present, including about 50 men from Company H. The Lebanon high school dance band supplied the music. The affair was sponsored by Santiam post and auxiliary of the American Legion.

Monmouth Waiting Work Next Week

Oregon College of Education Monmouth—Extensive preparation for the fall term, which begins September 23, has been completed by the physical staff of the Oregon College of Education at Monmouth, under the direction of Henry R. Pender, superintendent.

All the walks under the historic college grove have been resurfaced between the physical education building and Campbell hall. The gymnasium floor has been varnished and marked for numerous games for the more extensive intramural program to be carried out this year in place of intensive varsity football. Facilities have been provided for gym suit service under the supervision of Ralph Mohler.

The auditorium of Campbell hall has been cleaned, varnished and the aisles laid with rubber matting and linoleum to deaden sound. Several halls, offices and classrooms have been renovated and enlarged and minor repairs made throughout each building on the campus.

The students' lounge, which was first begun last spring term, has now been redecorated and completed in detail.

Specialist to Speak

Grand Island—Mrs. Beuna Marie, extension specialist in family relations, Oregon State College, Corvallis, will speak at the Grand Island school house Thursday, September 26 at 8 o'clock. The Mothers Circle is sponsoring the meeting and the public is invited to attend. There will be music and light refreshments will be served. Mrs. Roy E. Will, the president, announces.

Pestless Season Result of Council

Silverton—While the planning council may be blamed justly or unjustly for a number of things which have happened or have been prevented from happening this past year there is one thing at least for which the Silverton citizens should thank this planning council, says Dr. P. A. Lear, council president. That one thing is, he adds, Silverton's comparative freedom from mosquitoes.

People are just beginning to notice that there have not been as many mosquitoes about town this summer as in past summers, Dr. Lear reports. I. B. Alfred, under the supervision of the planning council, is responsible for this condition, according to Dr. Lear.

Alfred was made chairman of a mosquito committee which worked for several months on some solution for ridding the town of the great droves of mosquitoes which were evenly distributed in the residential district through the delivery of wood. The mosquitoes, it was learned, hatched in the mill pond. Through the cooperation of mill officials and the game commission, a large number of small fish which make it their business to catch mosquitoes in the pond, were placed in the pond. The fish are still surviving. It was reported this week, but the mosquitoes have gradually lessened until this year they were scarcely noticeable. A year ago the mosquitoes were a constant worry to Silverton residents.

Fall Studies Occupy Youth Independence

Independence—Many young people, including former graduates from the Independence high school, are leaving for other schools of higher learning this week to enroll for the coming year. Among these are Mary Alderson, who will enroll at the University of Oregon; Roy Morihoro, first year at University of Washington; Lucille Barnhart, Constance Johnson, Margot Syverson, Barbara Ruef and Betty Addison, to Oregon College of Education; Julius Purvine, Orville Cline, Bill Matsuda, Beth Purvine and Edna Barnhart, Oregon State college; Glenn Harnsberger, Willamette university.

Normal School Starting Work Early Monday

Oregon College of Education, Monmouth—Registration day, Monday, September 23, will mark the opening of the fall quarter at the Oregon College of Education. All new students, freshmen and transfers, will register in the afternoon on Monday, while the old students will register Wednesday, September 25.

Dr. C. A. Howard, who begins his second year as president of the college, will welcome the new students at the general assembly Monday morning. Due to changes made during the past few months, there will be several new members on the faculty. Dr. Ivan G. Milhous will take over the work of Dr. V. V. Caldwell and will head the departments of psychology and education. Dr. Milhous is from Iowa.

Victor Phelps is the new principal of the Independence training school. He is a graduate of the Southern Oregon College of Education and the University of Oregon. He has recently completed additional graduate study at the Colorado State Teachers college at Greeley.

Dr. Willis B. Merriam follows Dr. Norman J. Carls in the geography department. He comes from the faculty of the Eastern Washington college at Cheney. He is married and has two children.

Miss Elizabeth Rader will teach the first grade at the Independence elementary school. Miss Rader received her master's degree from Colorado State College of Education at Greeley in 1939. She has taught in elementary schools in Colorado, New Mexico and Alaska.

Robert G. Laxson is the new music instructor, who will take Miss Grace Maurie Mitchell's place. Mr. Laxson has been head of the music department of the Ontario city schools. He will also handle band and orchestra here.

Several staff changes have occurred in the office personnel. Miss Cathrin Hoffman from Vernonia has recently taken over her duties as secretary to President Howard in the executive office. Miss Julie West is now assistant in the placement office. She takes the place of Miss Marilyn Fernan, who will be secretary for the director of dormitories. Miss Hazel Buss, whose place Miss Fernan is taking, will continue her studies in the school of secretarial science at Oregon State college.

Mrs. Marie Erickson will again teach in the art department; Mrs. Faith K. Black, who was appointed dean of women early in the summer, will continue her duties, as will Delmar Dewey, who was appointed dean of men at the same time.

Miss Ruth Denney is now supervisor of health in place of Miss Eleanor Gill, who resigned to accept a similar position in Bozeman, Montana. Miss Noma Browne will be the infirmary nurse. Ralph Mohler has been added to the physical education staff and will be in charge of the gym suit service.

Enlisted men will take the train to camp, while the majority of the officers will go via a car which has been supplied the company. Two trucks have also been furnished for transportation of baggage.

Stayton Lions Club Given Quiz Program

Stayton—The Lions club met in regular session Tuesday evening at the Bon Ton with a large attendance present. Gilbert Schachtschek, new president, presided at the meeting. The program consisted of a quiz, sponsored by the Times Magazine and, due to the short time allotted, the questionnaire will be completed at the next meeting.

Members present were Gilbert Schachtschek, Charles Morgan, L. H. Wright, J. L. Siegmund, Bob Woods, George H. Bell, Walter Bell, Al Killian, Edward J. Bell, H. J. Rowe, Grant Murphy, Clarence Baldwin, Gabe DeJardin, Merton Cox, Hub Snafield, Lawrence Spraker, Matthew Forrester, George R. Duncan, Wilbur Porter, Kenton Thompson, Robert Wakefield, V. R. Tuell and Fred Fisher.

Pleasantdale—The Pleasantdale school will start Monday, September 23, with J. M. Murphy, principal, and Mrs. Harold Morgan of Newberg, primary teacher.

Mrs. Inglis Awarded Floral Sweepstakes

Stayton—As the result of a ballot vote by the general public present at the annual fall flower show, sponsored by the Garden club and Stayton Women's club Thursday in the clubhouse, the sweepstakes award was taken by Mrs. W. A. Inglis with her floral display representing the song, "Cabin in the Pines." Mrs. Wilbur Porter was second with a beautiful display of pink zinnias, and Mrs. H. A. Beauchamp third with an all-white bouquet.

The marigold contest sponsored by the Women's club and Garden club was also judged Thursday with Lewis-Bell service station receiving first in the commercial division. They will receive choice bulbs from the Garden club.

Mrs. Floyd Shelton received first for the greatest number of varieties and she will receive choice bulbs from the Garden club. Mrs. Hatlie Arnold carried first in the formal division and will receive two beautiful shrubs from the Good Floral gardens. Mrs. Joseph Fisher received first in the informal division and will receive an attractive vase from the Stayton Women's club.

New Semester Is Underway

St. Helens—Students from six states are registered at Mt. Angel normal school and college this year. The states represented are Washington, California, Idaho, Montana, Utah and Oregon.

Opening classes of the new semester were held Thursday, registration having been completed on September 15 and 16. Next Wednesday morning the Rev. James Koessler, O.S.B., will sing a high mass in the chapel to solemnly inaugurate the new school year.

Newly appointed administrative heads of the school are Sister M. Gregory, O.S.B., dean, and Sister M. Bernadette, O.S.B., registrar. The Rev. James Koessler, O.S.B., rector of Mt. Angel college, will direct the college extension course on the normal school campus and conduct classes in logic and ethics. Additions to the normal school faculty include Sister M. Eustelle, O.S.B., and Sister M. Jean, O.S.B., Miss Lois Fuqua, M.A., McMinnville, will teach in the English department.

Gale Storm, St. Helens, president of the student body, will begin reorganization of the student group next week. Filling of remaining student body offices by election is the first activity scheduled.

Senior normal students will launch their teaching careers next Monday when they take over classes in the academy grade school. Sister M. Imelda, O.S.B., and Sister M. Bernadette, O.S.B., will supervise the student teachers.

Salmon Dinner Served Lodge

Dallas—A salmon dinner was the feature of the regular meeting of members of Marmion lodge, No. 96, Knights of Pythias, recently when members of the St. Helens lodge, losers in a recent membership contest, furnished the salmon. Annual "guest night" was enjoyed, with seventeen guests being present from Dallas, besides eight from St. Helens and representatives from Portland, Baker and McMinnville. Bill Blackley acted as toastmaster during the dinner.

Walter Young was pleasantly surprised by Fred B. West, who presented him with a 25-year veterans' Jewel. Other presentations included membership certificates for those new members who were received during the past year and the presentation was made by Walter Gleason of Portland, grand keeper of records and seal. He also presented the lodge its certificate of membership in the supreme lodge Dons club, for lodges who initiate 12 or more candidates in a calendar year.
