RADIO Day by Day

Time Is Pacific Standard

New York, Oct. 21 (AP)—With election day drawing near, the three networks are in the throes of preparation for what they plan to do in the way of broadcasting about the returns the night of November 5.

In a nutshell, results will have the right of way on the air, sponsored and other programs being so arranged that they can be interrupted at will. Besides the actual returns, there will be plenty of commentators available to talk about trends and things. These voices will be backed by special staffs whose job it will be to assemble the data gathered by the Associated Press and other news services for condensation into broadcast material.

Also it is hoped to have the successful candidate on the air as soon as definite results are known. Besides the NBC, CBS and MBS chains, plans are in the making to short wave to the world important developments in the returns.

Among the commentators to be heard on NBC will be John B. Kennedy, H. V. Kaltenborn, Earl Godwin and Raymond Clapper and on CBS Elmer Davis, Albert Warner and Dr. Elmo Roper.

The short wave forecast as indicated for the new week reads: "Fairly good through Tuesday, then dropping to fair for the rest of the period."

On the air tonight: Europe—WEAF-NBC 4:15; CBS 5:55, 7:45 east; WJZ-NBC 6:30; MBS 7, 7:30, 9:30; NBC 9 p. m.

Politics—WJZ-NBC 6, republican, Sen. A. H. Vandenberg; WJZ-NBC 10, republican, Wendell Willkie; WJZ-NBC 7:45, communist, James W. Ford.

What to expect Tuesday: New York Herald Tribune forum, general theme "America's Second Fight for Freedom"—first session in two broadcasts: topic "State of Preparedness" WJZ-NBC 11 a. m. Mrs. Roosevelt and others and WJZ-NBC 1:15, Col. Frank Knox and others. Europe—NBC 3, 10:45 p. m.; CBS 3, 6 a. m., 3:45 p. m.; MBS 11 a. m.

Trio Held for Long List of Burglaries

Roseburg, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—Three young St. Louis, Mo., men were held in custody here today while state police examined a large store of loot allegedly procured in numerous burglaries in Washington, Oregon and California. Under arrest were William J. Landicina, 17, David H. Binner, 24, and Lloyd W. Hughes, 22. So Sergeant Paul Morgan of the state police reported he had been advised that two felony warrants for the three men are held at Vancouver, Wash. Part of the loot, Morgan said, had been identified as coming from Grants Pass, where a house burglary was reported Saturday.

The trio was taken into custody late Sunday by a patrolman engaged in routine check when the description on the operator's license failed to agree with that of the driver. The car in which the men were traveling, Morgan said, was registered to Herman Robert Gast, St. Louis, and contained registration papers, driver's license and credit cards which the men told the officers, Morgan said, they had used in traveling through 18 states since leaving St. Louis October 5.

A half dozen suitcases found in the car were crammed with rings, watches, and a wide variety of jewelry and clothing, Morgan reported.

Gill Named to Market Board

Roseburg, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—Announcement of the appointment of Ray W. Gill, Portland, master of the Oregon State Grange, to head a surplus agricultural products marketing committee for Oregon, was made in the Oregon Grange bulletin, official State Grange publication, here today. The appointment was made by Claude S. Wickard, secretary of agriculture, the report states.

Unable to go immediately to Washington, D. C. for a conference regarding his duties, Mr. Gill, the Grange bulletin reports, has appointed Morton Tompkins, Dayton, State Grange agricultural committee chairman, to attend the meeting as his representative.

"Preliminary plans indicate that the committee will work directly with the state and regional officials of the surplus marketing administration," the announcement says. "It will help to coordinate the efforts of the farm marketing cooperatives, food distributors and consumers in an orderly distribution of surplus fruit and truck crops to needy families and school children through a food stamp plan."

It is expected, the announcement says, the appointment of the full committee will be made within the next 30 days.

Turkish Press Defies Nazis, Raps Bulgaria

Istanbul, Turkey, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Turkish press reiterated today its previous challenges to Germany's ambitions in southeastern Europe and also commented bitterly on Bulgaria's attitude as allegedly reflected in Sofia newspapers.

Turkey wants peace, said an editorial in Yeni Sabah, but a bitter struggle is preferred to "peace gained dishonorably."

The editorial criticized an editorial in the Sofia newspaper Mir which reportedly suggested that German victory is inevitable and urged that small nations capitulate without resistance.

"Mir suggests such a common, humble low course that it dishonors the Bulgarian pride and patriotism we have learned to know," Yeni Sabah continued. "There is no Turk who would not agree with Hitler that people who do not defend their country's independence with all vigor should be looked down upon.

"If Germany comes south she may find Bulgaria bowed before her, but when she arrives at the Turkish frontier she will meet her match, which is the reason she probably will not come here."

An editorial written for the newspaper Tan by Sadru Ertem, a deputy in the national assembly, stated:

"Germany has become Russia's greatest enemy. The tripartite pact aims openly at substituting the fascist world order for the Soviet world revolution as a world ideology."

2 Army Fliers Feared Crashed

Oakland, Calif., Oct. 21 (AP)—The army asked the coast guard today to dispatch boats to Monterey bay for a search of the waters, on the chance that a missing army plane crashed into the sea.

A search by air and land for the plane and two army reserve officers who disappeared Saturday had been fruitless.

Those missing were Lieut. Volney R. Stiles and Lieut. Natham H. Samuels.

They left Oakland Saturday morning on a routine training flight to Monterey.

Veri Howe reported today he saw a plane of the same type circle the capitol airport between 10:10 and 10:30 a.m. Saturday. It then headed over Monterey bay toward the city of Monterey. Shortly before, the ranger in the tower near Los Gatos reported sighting a similar ship. The plane carrying the two lieutenants should have been on a schedule coinciding with the time given by the two observers.

The swift, low-wing monoplane should have required less than 40 minutes for the Oakland-Monterey flight. It carried radio equipment.

Twenty-five pursuit and observation planes left Hamilton field today to join in the search.

Court News

Circuit Court

While circuit court rooms will be silent again this week, Judge Lewelling is scheduled to return Tuesday, October 29, for his regular motion day and will probably open a calendar of some length for equity court trials. No definite date has been set for resumption of business in the other department, Judge McMahan having been recuperating his health at a seaside resort.

Probate Court

J. W. Parrish has been named guardian of the estate of Edna L. Parrish and J. T. Jones, J. E. Vaughn and J. E. Parrish appraisers. The estate consists of $2600 interest in real property.

The semi-annual account of Carlisle B. Roberts as administrator of the estate of W. I. Staley shows approved claims of $1235.57 and two rejected claims, one of Frederick Hartman for $579.61 and the other of Israel Hartman for $713.09, both for services rendered. The report shows receipts of $7833.09 and disbursements of $5288.50, and balance of $2544.59. It states that the Staley orchard was held by the entirety so receipts from crop sales have been divided equally between the widow and the estate.

F. O. Johnson, widower, has been named administrator of the estate of Mae Johnson, just admitted to probate, and William Walton, Jacob Fuhrer and E. B. Millard appraisers. The estate is valued at $3800 all in personal property.

Woman Registered For Army Draft

Austin, Minn., Oct. 21 (AP)—Draft board supervisors scratched their heads over Reika Mary Schwanke, who registered for the draft and got a number.

The woman, saying she wanted to join the army "right away" and would do any work, "even peel potatoes," convinced another woman on a draft board that she would enlist.

When the draft board member expressed doubt that Miss Schwanke could register, the applicant declared she had heard on the radio that women could enlist. She got number 14. Board officials notified Governor Harold E. Stassen and said she probably would be exempted.

Teachers to Attend Meet

A number of Salem public school instructors are expected to attend the conference of the Willamette Valley Guidance group scheduled for the Memorial Union building on the Oregon State campus next Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Dinner will be served in the tea room followed by an open meeting for all teachers who are interested. Speakers will be Dr. Ballard, president of Oregon State; Rex Putnam, state superintendent of schools, and O. B. Badger of Portland.

The Salem public school extra curricular program for the week as released from the office of Superintendent Frank B. Bennett follows:

Monday: Bush school, meeting of central committee members. State curriculum committee will explain experimental program.

Press Freedom Before Court

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Counsel for the Los Angeles Times argued today before the supreme court that a newspaper had the constitutional right to comment editorially on court cases prior to a final settlement.

The attorney, T. D. Cosgrove, urged the tribunal to reverse the conviction of the Times on a charge of contempt growing out of editorial comment on two labor cases and a woman politician.

The conviction, Cosgrove asserted, violated the right of freedom of the press.

He spoke after Allen W. Ashburn, Los Angeles attorney, had contended for the state that the right of freedom of the press was not "absolute" but was limited by "the conception of independent courts."

The Times' case was argued after Ashburn had urged the court in a separate case to uphold the conviction of Harry Bridges, west coast labor leader on a charge of contempt of court.

Ashburn asserted that the state had the right to determine what constitutes contempt and this is "not subject to federal control."

Bridges' conviction resulted from the sending to Secretary of Labor Perkins of a telegram, subsequently published, which criticized a decision by the Los Angeles superior court. Arguments were begun Friday.

614,000 Register For Oregon Vote

An all-time record total of about 614,000 persons will be eligible to vote in Oregon's general election, compared with 538,100 in the primary last May and 557,871 in the 1938 general election.

The republicans will hold a lead of 305,000 to 299,000, smallest margin in the history of the state, which always has been republican as far as registration totals are concerned.

Since the 1938 general election, republicans have gained 24,000, compared with a democratic increase of 31,000.

With reports complete from all counties except Grant, the republicans lead 302,751 to 197,852, the total being 609,227.

Grants Pass Man Fatally Injured

Grans Pass, Oct. 21 (AP)—Emmitt Jack Dix, about 32, of Grants Pass, was fatally crushed in the pile up of a tow car and his wrecked automobile yesterday, Coroner Virgil Hull reported.

Dix' automobile was being towed after striking a deer on the Redwood highway four miles southwest of here. On a downhill grade the damaged car weaved, overran the tow chain and piled into the tow car, in which Dix and his wife were riding, State Patrolman Lyle Harrell said. Donald H. Lowell was driver of the tow car.

Mrs. Dix suffered probable rib fractures.

Willkie Raps Third Term As Dangerous

by Willkie, who was traveling through Wisconsin today preparatory to a speech in Milwaukee this evening. The latter is expected to be addressed primarily to young voters.

Back to Chicago

The nominee will speak in Chicago tomorrow night, and then will head east for the remainder of the week. His last major address will be in Madison Square Garden, New York, on November 2. Before that time he will appear in Louisville, October 28, Charleston, W. Va., October. 29, and Camden, N. J., October 31. In addition, he will continue making brief talks from the platform of his private car.

From the lounge of his private car Willkie took part in a radio program for the mobilization for human needs. Declaring that "the spirit of sacrifice for others still lives," he said:

"We have had great opportunities in America, and we are engaged in a great struggle to preserve those opportunities against great forces of evil let loose in the world."

Mentioning his campaign trips across the United States "in what I believe to be a great cause," Willkie reported that he had found men and women everywhere concerned with the country's future.

Success of the League of Nations in reducing the narcotic evil and commercial vice, with establishment of health departments to stamp out vast epidemics is due to the fact that such experts in their respective lines were important chairmen of committees. Serum was standardized throughout the world and even accepted by Germany after its withdrawal from the league.

Problems faced by a peace conference are more economic than racial, he indicated, with mistakes of distribution along racial and population lines failing in the past because coal was placed in one state, factories in another and the fact that agriculturists and industrialists were unable to get their products to natural markets. The speaker used the word "state" in reference to various countries or nations. Commercial, economic and financial conditions should all be considered, he said.

Following the meeting Hambro met informally with state, county and city politicians and greeted personally as many of his great audience as could get into the reception rooms at the Chamber of Commerce. A reception with the Sons of Norway in charge will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock tonight to enable as many people of Norwegian descent to meet him as possible.

A reception will be held at the Leslie junior high school following his appearance there tonight when he will discuss the nazi invasion of his country while he was still there. Stereopticon slides will also be shown. Rev. James Koessler, of Mt. Angel college, will invoke the divine blessing at the opening of the meeting.

A novelty in connection with the reception will be bits of Norwegian pastry to be served as part of the refreshments. These are being provided by the Norwegian women of the Silverton community under the leadership of Mrs. Alf O. Nelson and made accordnig to Norwegian recipes that were brought from Norway many years ago.

Serving at the reception will be Mrs. Theodore G. Nelson, Mrs. Louis Ramus, Miss Thelma Strand, Miss Gladys Windedahl and Miss Barbara Moberg. Among the educators who will attend the reception are Dr. Bruce Baxter of Willamette university, Rev. James Koessler of Mt. Angel college, Dean U. G. Dubach of Oregon State college, Dr. A. S. Jensen of Oregon College of Education, Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction, Frank B. Bennett, superintendent of Salem public schools, and Lynn Gubser, superintendent of Yamhill county schools.

Portland, Oct. 21 (AP)—Germany lost approximately 67,000 men in the battle of Norway, including both land and sea actions, Carl Hambro, exiled president of the Norwegian parliament, said in a speech here last night.

"Thousands more were wounded," he added, indicating that Norwegians gave strong resistance in sections.

"Resistance would have been greater, but for the German trick of taking over the Oslo radio and announcing in Norwegian that the call for mobilization was a mistake," he declared. "The nazis obtained control of all mobilization centers."

Germany has "failed utterly" to establish a legal government in Norway, Hambro said, and "Norwegians at home are living in a state of revolution, loyal to the king, now operating the official government from headquarters in London."

Visitors in Lyons

Lyons — Mr. and Mrs. Steve Scham of Mill City visited Friday at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Melbourn Rambo. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Schwindt left the first of the week for Klamath Falls via the coast highway. Dell Westenhouse is driving the truck in his absence.

Tugboat Strike Closes Lumber Mills

Aberdeen, Oct. 21 (AP)—Two Grays Harbor lumber plants are down and others will be forced to close this week for lack of logs as tugboat workmen here start their second week of strike. The big Rayonier pulp plant is idle and the paper plant will be forced down within two days as its supply of pulp dwindles. Virtually all waterfront plants here are dependent upon tugs for logs and all tugs are tied up. Employes of the towboat firms are asking for an eight hour day, which operators say is not in accord with the two year contract signed in Seattle in July. Operators said they already pay more than either the Columbia river or Puget Sound districts and have asked that the Puget Sound working conditions contract be continued. Grays Harbor tugboat employes are members of the Puget Sound unions.

Farley Holds Election Close

Washington, Oct. 21 (U.P.)—Former Postmaster General James A. Farley was represented by friends today as believing the November 5 presidential election would be the closest in years and that President Roosevelt would probably win by a slim margin.

The master-manager of the 1932 and 1936 campaign believes 1,000,000 votes in big, battleground states are likely to make the difference between the winner and loser.

Farley hit the 1936 election bullseye with a prediction that Mr. Roosevelt would lose only Maine and Vermont. But that was strictly a beef-steak dinner and party headquarters pool estimate. Farley's private judgment expressed on the day he chose Maine and Vermont in the Biltmore hotel pool was that Alf. M. Landon, republican candidate, would get a few more states than that.

His political judgment is rated tops and new deal campaigners are wishing Farley would come out in the open with a Roosevelt election prediction even though he rejects all bids to make a Roosevelt-Wallace speech.

But Farley will refuse to speak in this campaign. He still maintains his opposition to a third term candidacy. It is expected, however, that Farley's dislike of a third term will not presuade him to bolt this year and that he will vote the ticket straight on November 5.

Mrs. C. D. Childs, 62, Dies at Residence

Mrs. C. D. Childs, 62, died at the home here Sunday after a six weeks' illness due to heart trouble.

Surviving are the widower, three daughters, Mrs. Lydia Isom of Brownsville, Isabel Childs of Salem and Mrs. Helen de Lespinasse of Arlan, Ore., and two sons, Thomas W. Childs of Portland and Frank Childs of Minneapolis, Minn.

Also still living are two sisters, Mrs. E. E. Reynolds of Elk River, Minn., and Mrs. Carl F. Miller of Vancouver, Wash., and one brother, William T. Gregg of Cleveland, Ohio. There are three grandchildren living.

The funeral will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. from the Clough-Barrick chapel.

Hunter's Bullet Kills Klamath Man

Klamath Falls, Oct. 21 (AP) — A wound from a hunter's bullet proved fatal Sunday for Ira J. Newell, 44. The source of the bullet was not determined.

Newell, Klamath Falls oil man, was hunting with his son, Marvin, 10, in the Strawberry flat area of the mule deer reserve area Sunday afternoon when a bullet ricocheted and struck him in the abdomen. The boy fired all the shells in his gun before attracting the two other members of the party, Cecil and Al Stuart.

The wounded man was brought to a hospital here but died an hour later after an emergency operation. His wife and two other children survive.

Nab Spud Pickers As Escaped Cons

Klamath Falls, Ore., Oct. 21 (U.P.)—Two potato pickers were identified from pictures and fingerprints Saturday night as Lyle and Rex Harkness, who escaped last January 20 from the Kitsap county jail at Port Orchard, Wash.

The men were in jail awaiting transfer to the state prison at Walla Walla to serve life sentences for being habitual criminals.

A rusty jail key secreted in the heel of one of the men's shoes was an important clue to the identification, Deputy Sheriff Jack Franey said. He first spotted the men at the potato pickers' camp on a tip that two men there answered descriptions printed in a detective story magazine.

Franey said both brothers were wearing "Van Dyck" beards in an effort to conceal their identities.

Deer Hunters Back

Waconda—Britt Aspinwall of Waconda, Charles LaFollette of Mission Bottom, and the Davenport brothers of Mt. Angel and Silverton have returned from a hunting trip in eastern Oregon. They brought home with them four deer and two antelope.

ing cities in north Italy for the first time since early September.

By daylight, nazi raiders swarmed across the channel to attack London, Liverpool and other sections of the island kingdom after the 44th consecutive overnight attack which Londoners characterized as "comparatively light."

An air ministry communique acknowledged "some killed and injured" in metropolitan London, where "damage was done to buildings including many dwellings."

A London hospital suffered a direct bomb hit, inflicting heavy damage on a children's ward. The British reported no serious casualties, however.

The intensified air duel which extended over the week-end from Tromsoe, Norway, to the Persian gulf came as Premier Benito Mussolini inspected his fascist troops near the Yugoslav border.

U-Boat Campaign

Authorized nazis protested that the night raid on Berlin was "an outright reign of terror against the Berlin population," asserting that no military objectives were hit and only residential sections were attacked.

Hitler's high command reported a devastating new U-boat campaign against British shipping, with 43 ships totaling 327,000 tons destroyed in two days.

The German figure is more than twice the tonnage the British admitted sunk in the week ending September 23, and nearly six times the average weekly shipping loss reported by the London admiralty.

British naval sources, commenting on the nazi claim, declared dryly:

"The Germans make these claims to annoy us. We ignore them."

In their far-ranging night forays, the RAF pounded hardest at nazi-held invasion bases along the channel, unloading 15,000 bombs in a two hour and 30-minute attack. The British coastal guns and possibly warships in the channel were believed to have joined in the bombardment.

Russo-Turkish Military Talks

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 21 (AP)—Reports that SovietRussian-Turkish military talks had been instituted and that Turkish military preparation was increasing along the strategic Dardanelles—gateway to the near east—were heard today in the Balkans.

At the same time, Rumania inaugurated a blackout for Bucharest and the nearby oil fields.

Travelers from Turkey said in Athens that railway lines to Adrianople, a Turkish city in territory wedged between the Bulgarian and Greek borders, were jammed with troop trains, while a half million Turkish troops were said to be already in the region of the Dardanelles.

A rumor that Soviet-Turkish military talks were underway in Adrianople was carried by the Budapest newspaper, Magyar Nemzet, while other unconfirmed reports said the Turks were building new fortifications and communications.

The Turkish press, predicting that the axis would attempt its next push in the near east, played up British maneuvers to counter such a drive.

Bucharest, the once gay capital of Rumania, and the rich Ploesti oil fields nearby were blacked out at midnight last night under new regulations.
