

Acreage Is Purchased for Park Site at Lebanon

South Santiam River Chosen; Build Houses

Lebanon—Purchase of a 20-acre tract bordering the South Santiam river for a park site was consummated by the city council in a meeting Tuesday night. Funds for the purchase had been allocated in the 1940 budget, but the deal was held in abeyance pending evidence that the acreage, owned by the Mountain States Power company, was clear of encumbrances. The price was $2000.

Closing of the deal will permit immediate development of the site by an NYA project, which has already started clearing work. Development plans will be drafted by classes in the NYA school in Eugene. The site is hailed by Chester Nelson of the state NYA office as offering the best possibilities for a park of any in Oregon.

Necessity of purchasing property for a new dumping ground was brought to the council's attention, and after deliberation, the matter was turned over to the public property committee.

The city recorder was instructed to secure descriptions of property benefitting in the paving program so that assessment notices may be mailed and data completed for sale of city bonds. The recorder will get the descriptions in the county assessor's office.

The council turned down a proposal to allow bowling on Sunday here.
