

Concert Will Show Variety Of Design

Portland, Ore. — Portland's next Philharmonic concert will be characterized by its variety of design and color, emboldened with the powerful bass-baritone voice of Sigurd Nilssen, guest soloist. The program, drafted to appeal to the connoisseur as well as the general music lover by Conductor Charles Lautrup, will be Tuesday, January 22, beginning at 8:30 p.m. at the public auditorium.

Nilssen, one of the leading concert and opera singers of the United States, will sing Mozart's concert aria, "Per Questa Bella Mano," (I swear by This Beautiful Hand) and two well-known songs, "The Cor," (The Song) by Flegler, and "Gypsy Love Song" from the light opera "The Fortune Teller." "The Horn" is an exciting hunt ballad in which the orchestra's four French horns play an important role.

Beethoven's mighty "Eroica" symphony No. 3 originally was dedicated to Napoleon, whom the composer felt was a champion of human rights. However, when the conqueror proclaimed himself emperor, disappointed Beethoven changed the dedicatory page to read, "Heroic symphony, for the celebration of the memory of a great man."

Other orchestral numbers include the suite, "The Old," and Liszt's symphonic poem, "The Preludes." The suite is composed of six Spanish dance motifs full of fun and frolic. Lautrup declared Liszt originated the symphonic poem portraying "Man, a Mortal Being," "Happiness in Love," "The Storms of Life," "The Return to Nature," and "The Combat as Volunteer."

Concert tickets popularly priced go on sale Friday, January 24, at Sherman, Clay & Co., Portland.

Mehama Club to Buy Club House

Mehama — Mrs. Montie Morris and Mrs. Tex Kimsy entertained the Woman's club Wednesday afternoon at the community room.

Mrs. Roy Phillip, vice-president, moved into the president's seat as Mrs. Lucy Scroggins, president, went to eastern Oregon to live. The club voted in favor of buying a club house. Mrs. Reed, of Salem, talked on hot lunches in the school. Red Cross work was distributed to the members. Mrs. Floyd Monroe and Mrs. Chris McDonald were added to the membership of the club.

Bianche Wagner, Winnie Branch and Carmen McDonald were appointed on a committee to contact the parents on hot lunches in the school.

After a luncheon hour the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Ruth Langberg with Mrs. Ercil Wilson assisting February 7. Club day was changed to Friday.

Monmouth — "What Monmouth Means to Me" was the topic of Mrs. Dwight Howe's address given at the January meeting of the Civic club.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Paul Riley, Mrs. Howard Morlan and Mrs. Helen Blair. In the

Donald Black Named First Junior Citizen

Donald H. Black, assistant advertising manager of the Capital Journal, was last night named as the first junior citizen of Salem for 1940, at the annual founder's day banquet of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Marion hotel.

Black, who is president of the Salem junior chamber, was more surprised than anyone present when Secretary of State Earl Snell introduced him as the first junior citizen.

Since the beginnings of the junior chamber in Salem, Black has been one of the most active members. He was elected secretary of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce at the convention in Eugene last year. His activities have been unlimited and cover a wide field of civic enterprise and good citizenship. His handling of the Salem junior chamber has seen the addition of many new members, and the activities of the group have included the "safety in white" campaign that has cut down the accident rate in Salem to a very low point; the promotion and organization of the school boy patrol; entertaining the "Know-Mississippi-Better" train passengers; get-out-the-vote campaign for both the primary and general elections; hosts for the Salem Centennial, and a list of other achievements, directed by Black.

Canadian Leader Speaks
Leon J. Ladner, K.C. of Vancouver, B.C., for 10 years a member of the absence of the president, Mrs. Delmar Dewey, vice-president, filled the chair. Mrs. E. F. Barrows of the city library board stressed the need of larger quarters for the library. Discussion of the Simpson Memorial house which the club has under advisement as a clubhouse was held over for the next meeting. The names of two members were suggested for service on the park board and are, Mrs. Edna O'Rourke, one year; Mrs. Thomas Gentle, two years; and George Cooper, councillor, three years.

The hostesses served tea at the close of the meeting.

Rebekahs Install Officers for Year

Butteville—Newly elected and appointive officers of St. Alexie Rebekah lodge No. 233 were installed Wednesday night with Mrs. Bessie Thompson, district deputy, as installing officer, and Mrs. Eleanor Hink of Kirk Rebekah lodge of Canby as marshal.

Others assisting included Mrs. Verna Martin, Mrs. Ida B. Knight, Mrs. Eva Daniel, Mrs. Vida Hamblett, Mrs. Grace Jones, Mrs. Ora Fisher and Mrs. Vernisha Newby. 1941 officers serving are Mrs. Matilda Albers, noble grand; Mrs. Ailene Quinn, vice grand; Fred Denton, secretary; Ed Johnson, treasurer.

Appointive officers installed were warden, Mrs. Neil Eppers; conductor, Mrs. Verna Bushman; chaplain, Mrs. Emma Donahue; musician, Mrs. Blanche Nesbitt; R.S.N.G., Mrs. Bessie Thompson; L.S.N.G., Mrs. Eva Daniel; R.S.V.G., Mrs. Irma Lindquist; L.S.V.G., Mrs. Alpha Pepper; inside guardian, Mrs. Josephine Groshong; outside guardian, Irwin Carter. Appointed on the finance committee were Mrs. Grace Jones and Mrs. Emma Donahue. Mrs. Alice Johnson was seated as past noble grand. Members of the refreshment committee were Mrs. Neil Eppers, Mrs. Bessie Thompson and Mrs. Emma Donahue.

Visitors were present from Porterville, Newberg and Canby. Mrs. Vernisha Newby, state president, was presented with a gift.

80th Birthday Is Celebrated

Hayesville—Mrs. Fred Stettler, Sr., was the honor guest at a party given on the occasion of her 80th birthday anniversary Friday evening at the family home and the home of Carl Stettler.

Mrs. Stettler was the recipient of many lovely gifts from friends and relatives who gathered to honor her. The evening hours were spent socially with a late supper being served by the hostess, Mrs. Carl Stettler. Mrs. Leonard Greig was also congratulated on the occasion of her birthday anniversary which fell on the same date.

Those present were Mrs. Fred Stettler, Sr., Mrs. Leonard Greig, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stettler, Jr., and family, Mrs. H. Cokerleaf, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Morlaty and family, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Stettler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stettler and family, John Stettler, Mrs. Bill Schafer, Miss Dorothy Hartzell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olson, Donna and Jimmy Greig and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stettler and family.

Shower Held at Cutsforth Home

North Howell — Twenty-four friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Donald Cutsforth for a shower honoring Mrs. Doris Rickard Leppley of Salem. Mrs. Leppley was assisted by Nada Fleming in opening her gifts.

Guests were Mrs. Sawyer and Mrs. Irene Cutsforth of Geravus, Mrs. Hannah Rickard, Mrs. Eva Powell of Salem, and Anna Hynes, Jesse Coomier, Diadema Cline, Josephine Stevens, Gladys Waltman, Helen Russ, Edna Patterson, Belle Kurre, Opal Schaap, Blanche McIlwain, Dorothy Pickens, Lucy Rickard, Beatrice Lapecoven and son, Grant, Ceila McClaughry, Ruth Jefferson, Molly Gelle, Mrs. August Weiske, Mrs. Ronald Stevens, Letta and Gordon, Mrs. C. ### 'Golgotha' Will Be Shown at Local Church

The First Presbyterian church announces that through special arrangement with George Lee Marks, the Oregon premiere of "Golgotha," the all-talking devout production of the "Passion Play" in motion pictures, will be presented at the church Sunday afternoon, February 2.

Representing an investment of nearly one million dollars, the film was produced by non-theatrical interests, under the supervision of eminent church authorities. It has received the widest acclaim of all religious motion pictures yet produced. The Film Daily, the motion picture industry's leading newspaper called "Golgotha" in its editorial columns "one of the greatest and most important productions since the birth of the motion picture. . . breath taking. . . all inspiring."

Although the Presbyterian church auditorium seats more than 700 persons, in order to accommodate most of those who will want to see this magnificent film, three showings on Sunday, February 2, have been arranged for. The first will be at 3:00 in the afternoon, the second at 5:00 and the last presentation at 7:30.

"Golgotha" contains a cast of thousands, although Harry Baur, who plays Herod, is the only name familiar to American audiences. The Christ, portrayed by an obscure actor, is superb, and was deliberately chosen for his obscurity so that the audience's conception of the Christ would not be confused with some well known actor's personality.

With the coming of the Lenten season, the First Presbyterian church believes the showing of the film on February 2 will be most timely.

Weinman Home Scene of Party

Lalish Center—The Kum-John social club was entertained at its January meeting recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weinman. Mrs. Tillie Isham of Salem was chairman of the hostess committee for the evening. Her assistants were Mrs. Willard Aker and Jack Power. Nine tables of games were in play during the evening with high scores received by Knowles Tombs and Mrs. Peter Russ, and low score, Mrs. Harry Boehm.

Officers elected to serve for the coming club year are: President, Noble Raglan; vice-president, Orville Klampe, and secretary, Mrs. Joe Renia.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Aker.

Present for the evening were special guests, Miss Ruth Fryor and LeRoy Isham of Salem. Members present were Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Boehm, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boehm, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lovre, Mr. and Mrs. Orrie McClaughry, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Will Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Renia, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Klampe, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Leedy, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bibby, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Aker, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Aker, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Raglan, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Russ, Miss Constance Weinman, Jack Power, Mrs. Tillie Isham and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weinman.

Mill City Girls' League Entertains

Mill City—Members of the Girls' league of the Mill City high school entertained in honor of the mothers of high school students with a tea in the recreation room from 2:30 until 4:00 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Miss Marian Allen, advisor for the group, was in charge.

The large serving table was attractively centered with tall, white tapers, other candles in water lily design floating in small bowls, and ivy. Presiding at the urns the early part of the afternoon were Mrs. C. E. Mason and Mrs. Frank W. Smith, followed by Mrs. Carl Kelly and Mrs. Charles Kelly.

During the tea hour, a violin section was played by Miss Cleo one Kaplinger, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lucille Corbin. White candelabra and ivy were effectively displayed on the piano and the fireplace mantel.

The receiving line for the affair included Nellie Hathaway, the president of the Girls' league; Ruby Downing, chairman of the senior group; Virginia Harris, chairman of the junior group; Lucille Corbin, secretary of the Girls' league; and Lila Needham, chairman of the freshman group.

Making up the serving committee were Cleo Mundt, Henrietta Lyons, Betty Jean Bodeker, Beth Stewart, Alice Roberts, Jane Chance and Norma Meglitsch. Additional committees contributing to the success of the event were as follows: Invitations, Verna Caraway, chairman; Lucille Spicer, Betty Daly and Dorothy Mason; reception, Dorothy Dean Mason, chairman, and Lois Wilson; arrangements, Anna May Dolzal, chairman, and Frances Caraway; refreshments, Jean Daves, chairman, Jane DAVIS and Cleone Kaplinger; entertainment, Martha Ruth Higdon, chairman, and Glenda Lyons.

According to definitely established rule, the bride's family pays for all floral decorations of the church and the house, and for the flowers carried by the bridesmaids. In many communities, they also buy the bride's bouquet. The groom always pays for the boutonnières of the men (usually including his own), and flowers for his bride to wear away on the wedding trip. But there is no definite rule about who furnishes the corsages for the two mothers to wear at the wedding.

My advice, therefore, to one who asks this question, is that most often their own husbands buy their flowers. Least often, but not unheard of, the bride's family orders them when they order the wedding flowers. (This is very nice when the groom's mother is coming from out of town and arriving at the last minute.) Sometimes the bride buys flowers for her mother, and the groom for his. (This is never an obligation of the bride but a spontaneous expression of sentiment—a gesture of farewell, as it were.) Sometimes the groom orders these two corsages. This is more likely to be the case in communities where it is customary for the groom to buy his bride's bouquet than in those where the only flowers he gives her are those she is to wear away. In other words, these answers are all equally correct.

No Bread and Butter Plates
Dear Mrs. Post: At dinner at which no butter is served, are rolls buttered in the kitchen? And what kind of rolls are best?

Answer: Not only bread but butter plates but butter itself is out of place at a formal dinner. The one exception is the checker-board brown and white bread held together with frozen butter and served with clams or oysters. It is laid on the rim of the plate. All other dinner-party breads are laid on the tablecloth and for this reason may not be buttered. Typical dinner-party breads include melba toast and finger rolls, which are quite rich and taste good without butter. But the point to be made is that dinner-party food is supposed to be too good and too rich to have one's taste spoiled and appetite satisfied with bread and butter!

Father's Relatives
Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is in college near a town in which quite a few of my husband's relatives live. They have not made any attempt to get in touch with her although we know for a fact that they have been told she is there at school. My husband feels that she should do something anyway—either telephone or write them. She hasn't seen any of these people since she was very young and thinks her father unreasonable in his request. I am inclined to agree with her but I would like your opinion before I step in.

Answer: I have only your description to go by, but it seems to me that the family ties are not strong enough to encourage your daughter to make the first move. Isn't her father going to the college town to see her this winter? If he is, he and she together might go to see his relatives, and then the next move would depend upon how much they like her and see them. But if I were you, I would not urge her to go alone without a word from them—particularly if they are young. If they are old, that is another story, and she should go.

The discovery of Vitamin D has had a very important effect upon child health. Before its discovery, almost every child in northern countries was affected slightly or acutely with rickets. Crooked legs and round shoulders resulted. Today we find well developed, straight bodies common among children.

The improvement in physical condition is due largely to the everyday inclusion of vitamin D in the daily routine. This may be in the form of fish liver oil or a concentrate, or the necessary supply may come from a fortified milk to which vitamin D may have been added or which may have been irradiated.

Modern cod liver oil has been refined and flavored so that children who become accustomed to it do not dislike it. Infants are given vitamin D all the year round. Older children, dressed according to modern ideas and allowed to be in the sun long hours during the day, will absorb through the skin what they need in summer.

Vitamin D has as its special function the metabolism of calcium and phosphorus. For good bones we need these three essentials at the same time. Milk in its natural form provides the latter two, but does not contribute vitamin D in liberal enough amounts to insure protection.

Marrow on Toast
3-inch marrow bones
1/2 cup flour
2 tablespoons water
The marrow bones should be sawed by the meat dealer so that they can stand upright. Mix flour and water to a thick paste. Cover top and bottom of each bone with paste. The bones in floured cloth or bag. Stand upright on a rack in a large kettle of boiling water. Cover and boil two hours. Remove cloth and paste, strain out marrow with spoon and serve immediately on hot toast. Yield: Six servings.

Chocolate Chiffon Pie
1 tablespoon gelatin
2 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
2 squares of chocolate
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 baked pastry shell
Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup cold milk. Combine remaining 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/2 cup of sugar and chocolate cut in pieces in top of double boiler and cook over hot water until smooth, stirring constantly. Pour over slightly beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler and cook on minute longer. Remove from hot water, add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Stir in vanilla extract and cool. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into cooled baked pastry shell. Top with whipped cream. Yield: Nine-inch pie.

Note: The whipped cream may be folded into the mixture instead of being spread over the top of pie.
